(d) If a member of the control agency shall be a party in interest to any dispute or complaint, or a representative of such party in interest, he shall, for the purpose of the consideration of such dispute or complaint, be disqualified as a member of the control agency. Such disqualification, however, shall not be deemed to create a vacancy in the control agency.

(e) The alternate for each member of the control agency shall have the power to act in the place and stead of such member in his absence or in the event of his removal, resignation, or disqualification until a successor for such member's unexpired term has been selected.

SEC. 7. Each handler to be assessed. Each contracting handler shall pay to the control agency, upon demand, such contracting handler's pro rata share, as may be approved by the Secretary, of such expenses as the Secretary may find will necessarily be incurred by the control agency, during any period specified by the Secretary, for the maintenance and functioning of the control agency, as set forth in this agreement.

SEC. 8. Shares of handlers. (a) The share of such expenses for each contracting handler who is a manufacturer shall be that amount which is paid to the control agency pursuant to paragraph (d), and such pro rata share is hereby approved by the Secretary. These assessments may be adjusted, from time to time, by the control agency, with the approval of the Secretary, in order to provide funds sufficient in amount to cover any later findings by the Secretary of estimated expenses or the actual expenses of the control agency during the said year.

(b) The share of such expenses for each contracting handler, other than manufacturers, who markets his products principally through veterinarians, shall be such handler's pro rata share (to be computed by the disinterested agency selected under the provisions of paragraph (d) and shall be based upon such handler's percentage of the total of serum marketed by such handlers during the preceding calendar year) of the total amount expended in defraying the expenses of the two members of the control agency who have been selected by the Secretary to represent such contracting handlers, pursuant to the provisions of section 2. Such pro rata share of expenses shall be subject to the approval of the Secretary. These assessments may be adjusted, from time to time, by the control agency, with the approval of the Secretary, in order to provide funds sufficient in amount to cover any later findings by the Secretary of estimated expenses or the actual expenses of the control agency during the said year.

(c) The share of such expenses for each contracting handler, other than manufacturers, who markets his products principally through other channels, shall be such handler's pro rata share (to be computed by the disinterested agency selected under the provisions of paragraph (d) and shall be based upon such handler's percentage of the total of serum marketed by such handlers during the preceding calendar year) of the total amount expended in defraying the expenses of the two members of the control agency who have been selected by the Secretary to represent such contracting handlers, pursuant to the provisions of section 2. Such pro rata share of expenses shall be subject to the approval of the Secretary. These assessments may be adjusted, from time to time, by the control agency, with the approval of the Secretary, in order to provide funds sufficient in amount to cover any later findings by the Secretary of estimated expenses or the actual expenses of the control agency during the said year.

(d) On January 15 of each year while this agreement is effective, each manufacturer who is a contracting handler shall furnish the Secretary, through a distinterested agency, to be selected by the control agency and approved by the Secretary, a report which shall be sworn to and which shall set forth the amount of hyperimmune blood which has been collected by such contracting handler during the preceding calendar year, and each contracting handler, other than manufacturers, shall furnish the Secretary, through such disinterested agency, a report which shall be sworn to and which shall set forth the amount of serum marketed by such contracting handler during the preceding calendar year. The control agency shall inform the disinterested agency concerning the total amount of expenses to be paid by contracting handlers who are manufacturers and by contracting handlers who are other than manufacturers. The pro rata share of expenses to be paid by each manufacturer who is a contracting handler shall be based upon such handler's percentage of the total amount of hyperimmune blood which has been collected by such contracting handlers during the preceding calendar year. Such payments shall become due in quarterly installments beginning January 1 of each year, and shall be made to the disinterested agency, which shall transmit the total amount received from all contracting handlers to the control agency without disclosing the amount of each payment made by individual contracting handlers. A quarterly report shall be made to the Secretary by such disinterested agency, setting forth the amount of the quarterly payment made by each contracting handler. Any funds derived from assessments or any other source which have not been expended by the control agency at the end of the calendar year shall be carried over by the control agency to be expended during the succeeding calendar year.

SEC. 9. Classes of buyers. Upon such evidence and basis as warrants a conclusion that such definitions and determination are neither unreasonable nor discriminatory, the control agency shall, subject to the disapproval of the Secretary, define all classes of buyers and handlers not defined in this agreement. The control agency, subject to the disapproval of the Secretary, shall determine in all cases on its own motion or upon request of any interested party and upon evidence reasonably sufficient to determine all essential facts relating thereto, whether any person, his employee or agent, who is a handler or about to become such comes within any class or buyers or handlers defined in this agreement or pursuant to this section, excepting consumers and dealers. Any such determination shall be reviewable from time to time as may be deemed necessary by the control agency. And, the control angency shall compile, subject to the disapproval of the Secretary, lists of persons comprising each class of buyers and handlers as defined herein or pursuant hereto, excepting consumers and dealers. Such lists with additions thereto or deletions therefrom shall be immediately filed with the Secretary and distributed to handlers. The control agency on its own motion or on request of any interested party shall determine, subject to the disapproval of the Secretary, whether in specific cases any person is a consumer or dealer as defined herein and shall immediately report such determination to the Secretary and to handlers.

SEC. 10. Open prices. (a) Each contracting handler shall file with the Secretary and the control agency, within 10 days after the effective date of this agreement, a list of his selling prices in the United States together with discounts and terms of sale, which list shall separately set forth his selling price, applicable to serum and virus produced under each different U. S. Veterinary License as handled by him, together with discounts and terms of sale (if only one such licensed product is handled or identical prices apply to different licensed products, one selling price shall be deemed applicable to all sales) to each class of buyers, except Volume Contract Purchasers, defined in this agreement or under the provisions hereof: Provided, That in lieu of a price list for Volume Contract Purchasers each selling handler shall file with the control agency and with the Secretary executed copies of all contracts entered into with handlers classified as Volume Contract Purchasers by the control agency within ten days after the execution thereof. No selling price lists shall be filed for any other class or classes of buyers than those defined in this agreement or under the provisions hereof. All such filed prices shall be on a delivered basis to purchasers and shall be based on unit of 100 cc. of serum and virus; each contracting handler's selling prices, discounts and terms of sale so filed, applicable to each licensed product as set forth herein, shall be uniform for all buyers in each of the various classes of buyers defined in this agreement or under the provisions thereof, except Volume Contract Purchasers.

(b) The price list for each class of buyers filed by a contracting handler may, subject to the limitations set forth in paragraph (c) of this section, be modified at any time by such handler by filing for any class of buyers a new or amended list of prices, including discounts and terms of sale, which shall only become effective when said new or amended list shall have been on file for three days in any office designated by the control agency: Provided, however, That in the event such list is mailed by registered letter or telegraphed to such office, it shall be deemed to have been filed either (1) at the time during usual business hours it is actually delivered in such office, or (2) at the time during usual business hours such communication would have been received, considering the usual time required for the means of communication used, in the absence of delays in transit, whichever time is the earlier.

(c) (1) Each contracting handler agrees that he will make no sales or offers or contracts to sell, other than with a Volume Contract Purchaser, unless he has on file with the Secretary and the control agency, in conformity with paragraph (a) an effective price list including discounts and terms of sale, and that after any such price list or amended price list becomes effective he will make no sales or offers or contracts to sell at prices, discounts or terms of sale different from those set forth in his latest effective list, and will file no new or amended price list until his most recently filed price list for any class of buyers becomes effective. No contracting handler shall withdraw any filed price list prior to the effective date of such list: Provided, No sale shall be made to Volume Contract Purchasers unless an executed copy of the contract under which said sale is being made is filed as is provided in paragraph (a) with the control agency and the Secretary and no sales shall be made to Volume Contract Purchasers at prices, discounts or terms of sale different from those stated in the so filed executed copy of the contract under which said sale is being made.

(2) Each contracting handler agrees that he will make no sales or shipments to any buyer or handler excepting consumers and dealers unless and until the status of the vendee as a member of a class of buyers has been determined by the control agency pursuant to section 9 of the agreement.

(3) Each contracting handler agrees to make no contract for sale or contract to sell serum and virus which provides for payment at prices, discounts, and terms of sale different from those set forth in his effective price list on file with the Secretary and control agency at the time of delivery or deliveries under any such contract: Provided, That contracts to sell to Volume Contract Purchasers may provide for deliveries over a period of not to exceed six months from date of contract, at prices fixed in executed copy of contract on file with the control agency and the Secretary.

(4) Each contracting handler agrees to issue an invoice and deliver same to purchaser covering each sale of serum and virus to each buyer within any class of buyers as defined herein or pursuant hereto, which invoice shall completely set forth the name and address of the purchaser, the separate quantities of serum and virus sold, the unit and total price of each such quantity, any discount allowed from invoiced prices, and the terms at which such sale was made.

(d) The control agency shall immediately upon receipt of any such new or amended list, conforming to the requirements of paragraph (c) (1), issue a copy thereof to each contracting handler, and to the Secretary. All such lists shall be immediately available to the daily and trade press and to the consuming public by means of communication at least as rapid as that used to notify handlers and the Secretary. Any such new or amended price lists which do not conform to the requirements of section 10 (a) shall not be an effective price list as required by said section and shall be returned by the secretary of the control agency to the handler filing the same, together with a statement of the reasons for non-conformity to the requirements of said section. A copy of any such price list so returned together with the statement of reasons for non-conformity shall be forwarded to the Secretary.

SEC. 11. Exceptions to filed prices. (a) The provisions of this agreement shall not apply to any sales made by any contracting handler for delivery outside the United States.

(b) If the Secretary has reason to believe, from economic data directly available to him or secured by him under the provisions of the act, that any price list, copy of contract filed hereunder, terms of sale or discount, in whole or in part, is inequitable to consumers or handlers by reason of the fact that it may cause immediate injury by impeding the carying out of this agreement or the effectuation of the declared policy of the act or by creating an abuse of the privilege of exemptions from the antitrust laws, he may suspend the effectiveness of such price list, copy of contract filed hereunder, term of sale or discount, in whole or in part, pending an investigation which shall be completed as soon as practicable, and he shall report such suspension to the control agency, who shall in turn immediately notify the handler whose price filing or copy of contract filed hereunder has been suspended. The Secretary may declare a filed price, contract (a copy of which has been filed hereunder), discount or term of sale, in whole or in part, to be ineffective if, after an investigation and an opportunity to be heard has been afforded the handler whose price filing or contract is questioned, the Secretary finds from the facts presented during such investigation that such price list, contract, term of sale or discount, in whole or in part, is inequitable as measured by the standards set up in this paragraph.

SEC. 12. Handlers other than buyers. (a) Each contracting handler agrees that he will market anti-hog-cholera serum and hog-cholera virus only to classes of buyers and through branch houses, as defined in this agreement or pursuant to the provisions hereof.

(b) Each contracting handler agrees that anti-hog-cholera serum and hog-cholera virus marketed through his branch houses shall be sold only at prices posted by such handler.

(c) Each contracting handler agrees to file with the control agency, within ten days after this agreement becomes effective, the name and location of each branch house operated by such handler, and the name of the agent or employee in charge of each branch house; and each contracting handler agrees to furnish the aforesaid information concerning each branch house subsequently established by such handler within 10 days after the establishment of each such branch house.

SEC. 13. Uniform sales invoices. The control agency, subject to the disapproval of the Secretary, may formulate and adopt uniform sales invoices for contracting handlers. After the adoption of such uniform sales invoices, all sales of serum or virus by contracting handlers to all classes of buyers shall be made in accordance with the terms of such invoices, and prices and terms of sale therein shall conform to the seller's filed prices and terms of sale, effective at the time of making sales covered by such invoices.

SEC. 14. Secret rebates. (a) The secret payment or allowance of rebates, refunds, commissions, or unearned discounts, or receiving such rebates, refunds, commissions or unearned discounts, whether in the form of money or otherwise, or secretly extending to certain purchasers special services or privileges, not extended to all purchasers under like terms and conditions, with the intent and with the effect of injuring a competitor, and where the effect may be to substantially lessen competition or tend to create a monopoly or unreasonably to restrain trade, is an unfair trade practice, and is prohibited.

SEC. 19. False invoicing. Withholding from or inserting in the invoice statements which make the invoice a false record, wholly or in part, of the transaction represented on the face thereof, is prohibited.

SEC. 20. Misleading advertising. (a) The making, causing, or permitting to be made, or publishing of any false, untrue, misleading, or deceptive statement, by way of advertisement or otherwise, concerning the grade, quality, quantity, character, nature, origin, preparation, or use of serum and virus is an unfair trade practice and is prohibited.

(b) The use by contracting handlers other than manufacturers of the words "Serum Company," "Serum Laboratories" or other equivalent words on letterheads, signs, advertising matter and otherwise where such practice tends to mislead and deceive purchasers and consumers into belief that such handler is a manufacturer, when in fact he is not, is prohibited.

SEC. 24. Effective time. This agreement shall become effective at such time as the Secretary may determine it has been executed by all the handlers of seventy-five per cent of the volume of serum and virus handled during the preceding marketing year and may declare above his signature attached hereto, and shall continue in force until terminated in one of the ways hereinafter specified.

SEC. 25. Termination. (a) The Secretary may at any time terminate or suspend this agreement, or any part hereof, as to all parties hereto by giving at least seven days' notice by means of a press release or in any other manner which the Secretary may determine to be appropriate.

(b) The Secretary shall terminate this agreement at the end of the then current marketing period (December 31) whenever he finds that such termination is favored by all the handlers of not less than 75 per cent of the volume of serum and virus handled during the preceding marketing period.

(c) This agreement shall in any event terminate whenever the provisions of the act authorizing it cease to be in effect.

(d) Upon the termination or suspension of this agreement or of any provision thereof, the members of the control agency then functioning, or such other persons as the Secretary may from time to time designate, shall, if so ordered by the Secretary, liquidate the business of the control agency under this agreement, and dispose of all funds and property then in the possession or under the control of the control agency, together with claims for any funds which are unpaid or property not delivered at the time of such termination. Any funds collected

SEC. 26. Duration of benefits, privileges, and immunities. The benefits, privileges and immunities conferred by virtue of this agreement shall not extend or be construed to extend further than is necessary for the purpose of carrying out the provisions of this agreement and shall cease upon its termination except with respect to acts done under and during the existence of this agreement, and benefits, privileges and immunities conferred by this agreement upon any party signatory hereto shall cease upon its termination as to such party, except with respect to acts done under and during the existence of this agreement.

SEC. 27. Counterparts. This agreement may be executed in multiple counterparts, and when one counterpart is signed by the Secretary, all such counterparts shall constitute, when taken together, one and the same instrument as if all such signatures were contained in one original.

OFFICE OF DEFENSE TRANSPORTATION.

COMMON CARRIERS

COORDINATED OPERATIONS BETWEEN ASHLAND, KY., AND CATLETTSBURG, KY.

Pursuant to the Act of May 31, 1941, as amended by the Second War Powers Act, 1942, Executive Orders 8989, as amended, and 9156, and War Production Board Directive 21; and in order to secure maximum use of existing transportation facilities; to conserve and providently utilize vital equipment, material, and supplies; to prevent possible traffic congestion, and to provide for the prompt and continuous movement of necessary traffic, the attainment of which purposes is essential to the successful prosecution of the war; and being satisfied that the fulfillment of requirements for the defense of the United States will result in a shortage of transportation materials and facilities for defense and for private account, It is hereby ordered, That:

(1) Ohio Valley Bus Company, Huntington, West Virginia, and C. E. Fannin, doing business as The Blue Ribbon Lines, Ashland, Kentucky (hereinafter called "carriers"), respectively, in the transportation of passengers on the routes served by them between Ashland, Kentucky, and Catlettsburg, Kentucky, as common carriers by motor vehicle shall:

(a) Honor each other's tickets and tokens, except interchange of transfers, between all points common to their lines where equal fares apply and divert to each other traffic routed between such points for the purpose of relieving overloads and reducing the operation of additional equipment in extra sections;

(b) Adjust and establish schedules to eliminate duplication of times of departure of the respective carriers and provide reasonable frequency of service throughout the day, as set forth in schedules submitted to the Office of Defense Transportation under date of August 9, 1944;

(c) Wherever practicable eliminate duplicate depot facilities and commission ticket agencies and, in lieu thereof, utilize joint depot facilities and joint commission ticket agencies. Contracts, agreements, and arrangements for any such joint facilities and agencies shall not extend beyond the effective period of this order. At such depot facilities and commission ticket agencies used jointly by the carriers, service, travel information, and ticket sales shall be impartial, without preference or discrimination for or against either of such carriers;

(2) The provisions of this order shall not be so construed or applied as to require either carrier to perform any service beyond its transportation capacity, or to permit either carrier to alter its legal liability to any passenger. In the event compliance with any term of this order would conflict with, or would not be authorized under, the existing interstate or intrastate operating authority of either carrier, such carrier shall apply forthwith to the appropriate regulatory body or bodies for the granting of such operating authority as may be requisite to compliance with the terms of this order, and shall prosecute such application with all possible diligence. The coordination of operations directed by this order shall be subject to the carriers' possessing or obtaining the requisite operating authority.

(3) Each of the carriers shall file a copy of this order forthwith with the appropriate regulatory body or bodies having jurisdiction over any operations affected by this order, and shall likewise file, and publish in accordance with law, and continue in effect until further order, tariffs or supplements to filed tariffs, setting forth any changes in rates, charges, operations, rules, regulations and practices of the carrier which may be necessary to accord with the provisions of this order; and forthwith shall apply to such regulatory body or bodies for special permission for such tariffs or supplements to become effective on one day's notice.

(4) The provisions of this order shall be subject to any special permit issued by the Division Director, Passenger Operations Division, Highway Transport Department, Office of Defense Transportation, to meet specific needs or special circumstances.

(5) Communications concerning this order should be addressed to the Highway Transport Department, Office of Defense Transportation, Washington 25, D. C., and should refer to "Special Order ODT B-58."

This Special Order ODT B-58 shall become effective September 22, 1944, and shall remain in full force and effect until the termination of the present war shall have been duly proclaimed, or until such earlier time as the Office of Defense Transportation by further order may designate.

Director,

[Supp. Order ODT 3, Rev. 831]

COMMON CARRIERS

COORDINATED OPERATIONS BETWEEN DENTON AND WHITESBORO, TEXAS

Upon consideration of a plan for joint action filed with the Office of Defense Transportation by the persons named in Appendix 1 hereof to facilitate compliance with the requirements and purposes of General Order ODT 3, Revised, as amended (7 F.R. 5445, 6689, 7694; 8 F.R. 4660, 14582; 9 F.R. 947, 2793, 3264, 3357, 6778), a copy of which plan is attached hereto as Appendix 2,[1] and

It appearing that the proposed coordination of operations is necessary in order to assure maximum utilization of the facilities, services, and equipment, and to conserve and providently utilize vital equipment, materials, and supplies, of the carriers, and to provide for the prompt and continuous movement of necessary traffic, the attainment of which purposes is essential to the successful prosecution of the war, It is hereby ordered, That:

1. The plan for joint action above referred to is hereby approved and the carriers are directed to put the plan in operation forthwith, subject to the following provisions, which shall supersede any provisions of such plan that are in conflict therewith.

2. Each of the carriers forthwith shall file a copy of this order with the appropriate regulatory body or bodies having jurisdiction over any operations affected by this order, and likewise shall file, and publish in accordance with law, and continue in effect until further order, tariffs or supplements to filed tariffs, setting forth any changes in rates, charges, operations, rules, regulations, and practices of the carrier which may be necessary to accord with the provisions of this order and of such plan; and forthwith shall apply to such regulatory body or bodies for special permission for such tariffs or supplements to become effective on the shortest notice lawfully permissible, but not prior to the effective date of this order.

3. Whenever transportation service is performed by one carrier in lieu of service by another carrier, by reason of a diversion, exchange, pooling, or similar act made or performed pursuant to the plan for joint action hereby approved, the rates, charges, rules, and regulations governing such service shall be those that would have applied except for such diversion, exchange, pooling, or other act.

4. The provisions of this order shall not be so construed or applied as to require any carrier subject hereto to perform any service beyond its transportation capacity, or to authorize or require any act or omission which is in violation of any law or regulation, or to permit any carrier to alter its legal liability to any shipper. In the event that compliance with any term of this order, or effectuation of any provision of such plan, would conflict with, or would not be authorized under, the existing interstate or intrastate operating authority of any carrier subject hereto, such carrier forthwith shall apply to the appropriate regulatory body or bodies for the granting of such operating authority as may be requisite to compliance with the terms of this order, and shall prosecute such application with all possible diligence. The coordination of operations directed by this order shall be subject to the carriers' possessing or obtaining the requisite operating authority.

5. All records of the carriers pertaining to any transportation performed pursuant to this order and to the provisions of such plan shall be kept available for examination and inspection at all reasonable times by accredited representatives of the Office of Defense Transportation.

6. Withdrawal of a carrier from participation in the plan for joint action hereby approved shall not be made without prior approval of the Office of Defense Transportation.

7. The provisions of this order shall be binding upon any successor in interest to any carrier named in this order. Upon a transfer of any operation involved in this order, the successor in interest and the other carriers named in this order forthwith shall notify, in writing, the Office of Defense Transportation of the transfer and, unless and until otherwise ordered, the successor in interest shall perform the functions of his predecessor in accordance with the provisions of this order.

8. The plan for joint action hereby approved and all contractual arrangements made by the carriers to effectuate the plan shall not continue in operation beyond the effective period of this order.

9. Communications concerning this order should refer to it by the supplementary order number which appears in the caption hereof, and, unless otherwise directed, should be addressed to the Highway Transport Department, Office of Defense Transportation, Washington 25, D. C.

This order shall become effective September 19, 1944, and shall remain in full force and effect until the termination of the present war shall have been duly proclaimed, or until such earlier time as the Office of Defense Transportation by further order may designate.

It shall not be interpreted as abrogating or invalidating any bona fide collective bargaining agreement, or contract of employment.[1]

SEC. 17. General referral policies. No provision in the program shall limit the authority of the United States Employment Service or any other governmental agency designated by the War Manpower Commission to make referrals in accordance with approved policies and instructions of the War Manpower Commission.

(b) Be re-employed by their home employer according to the seniority agreement or custom mentioned above providing they apply for re-employment within 40 days of either the date they terminate from the plant to which they first transferred or the date when the U. S. Government declares an end to the war emergency, whichever is sooner.

Workers transferred with statements of availability and later entering the armed forces under the Selective Service Act will have the same rights for re-employment with their home employer as provided in (a) and (b).

(c) A statement of availability shall be issued by the United States Employment Service to an individual upon his request, when it is found that he has received from a former employer with whom he has re-employment rights under an existing collective bargaining agreement a notice that he must return to his former employment in order to preserve his seniority status.

(a) The elimination of wasteful labor turnover in essential activities,

(b) The reduction of unnecessary labor migration,

(c) The direction of the flow of scarce labor where most needed in the war program,

(d) The maximum utilization of manpower resources.

SEC. 2. Definitions. As used in this employment stabilization program:

(a) "Portland Area" is comprised of the territory designated in Appendix A.

(b) "Agriculture" means those farm activities carried on by farm owners or tenants on farms in connection with the cultivation of the soil, the harvesting of crops, or the raising, feeding, or management of livestock, bees and poultry, and shall not include any packing, canning, processing, transportation or marketing of articles produced on farms unless performed or carried on as an incident to ordinary farming operations as distinguished from manufacturing or commercial operations.

(c) "State" includes Alaska, Hawaii, and the District of Columbia.

(d) "New employee" means any individual who has not been in the employment of the hiring employer at any time during the preceding 30-day period. For the purpose of this definition, employment of less than seven days' duration and employment which is supplemental to the employee's principal work shall be disregarded.

(e) "Critical occupation" means any occupation designated as a critical occupation by the Chairman of the War Manpower Commission. (See War Manpower List of Critical Occupations, 8 F.R. 11420).

(f) "Additional controlled occupation" means any occupation found by the Area Manpower Director for the Portland Area to be either:

(1) One of a category of occupations in an activity in which manpower shortages threaten critically needed production in such Area, or

(2) An occupation in which the demand for workers in such Area exceeds the available supply.

A list of the "additional controlled occupations" designated by the Area Manpower Director is attached to this program as Appendix B and may be amended from time to time by the Area Manpower Director.

(g) "Essential activity" means any activity included in the War Manpower Commission List of Essential Activities (9 F.R. 3439).

(h) "Locally needed activity" means any activity approved by the Regional Manpower Director as a locally needed activity.

(i) The terms "employment" and "work" as applied to an individual engaged in principal and supplementary employment means his principal employment.

SEC. 3. Control of hiring and solicitation of workers. All hiring and solicitation of workers in, or for work in, the Portland Area shall be conducted in accordance with this employment stabilization program.

This shall include any hiring or solicitation, whether conducted within or outside the area, if the work is to be performed within the area.

SEC. 4. Authority and responsibilities of Management-Labor Committee. The Area Management-Labor War Manpower Committee for the Portland Area is authorized to consider questions of policy, standards, and safeguards in connection with the administration of this employment stabilization program, and to make recommendations concerning the same to the Area Manpower Director.

It shall be the responsibility of this committee to hear and decide appeals or to delegate such responsibility to an Area Appeals Committee in accordance with regulations of the War Manpower Commission governing appeals.

SEC. 5. Encouragement of local initiative and use of existing hiring channels. The War Manpower Commission, all employers of labor, including the United States Civil Service Commission, and all labor organizations within the Portland Area, shall encourage local initiative and cooperative efforts to the end that the maximum use shall be made of existing hiring channels, such as private employers, labor organizations, professional organizations, schools, colleges, technical institutions and government agencies.

This section shall not be interpreted or deemed to be a waiver of any of the provisions of this program.

SEC. 6. General. A new employee, who during the preceding 60-day period was engaged in an essential or locally needed activity, may be hired only if such hiring would aid in the effective prosecution of the war. Such hiring shall be deemed to aid in the effective prosecution of the war only if:

(a) Such individual is hired for work in an essential or locally needed activity or for work to which he has been referred by the United States Employment Service, and

(b) Such individual presents a statement of availability from his last employment in an essential or locally needed activity, or is referred by the United States Employment Service of the War Manpower Commission, or is hired with its consent, as provided herein.

SEC. 7. Issuance of statement of availability by employers. An individual whose last employment is or was in an essential or locally needed activity shall receive a statement of availability from his employer if:

(a) He has been discharged, or his employment has been otherwise terminated by his employer, or

(b) He has been laid off for an indefinite period, or for a period of seven or more days, or

(c) Continuance in his employment would involve undue personal hardship, or

(d) Such employment is or was at a wage or salary or under working conditions below standards established by State or Federal law or regulation, or

(e) Such employment is or was at a wage or salary below a level established or approved by the National War Labor Board (or other agency authorized to adjust wages or approve adjustments thereof) as warranting adjustment, and the employer has failed to adjust the wage in accordance with such level or to apply to the appropriate agency for such adjustment or approval thereof.

SEC. 8. Issuance of statements of availability by United States Employment Service. (a) A statement of availability shall be issued promptly to an individual when any of the circumstances set forth in section 7 is found to exist in his case. If the employer fails or refuses to issue a statement of availability to an individual entitled to such statement, the United States Employment Service of the War Manpower Commission, upon finding that the individual is entitled thereto, shall issue a statement of availability to the individual. Pending such finding the United States Employment Service shall either request the worker to remain on his present job, or to return to it in instances where the worker has voluntarily terminated his employment.

When none of the circumstances set forth in section 7 is found to exist in an individual's case, the United States Employment Service shall attempt to persuade such individual to return to his former employment in an essential or locally needed activity providing the employer will re-employ the worker without prejudice.

(b) A statement of availability shall be issued by the United States Employment Service to any individual in the employ of an employer who the War Manpower Commission finds, after notice, hearing and final decision, has not complied with any War Manpower Commission Employment Stabilization Program, regulation, or policy, or has not made a reasonable effort to comply with a recommendation of a duly authorized representative of the War Manpower Commission with respect to the more effective utilization of labor and for so long as such employer continues his non-compliance after such finding.

An employer who continues to be in non-compliance after notice, hearing and final decision, may not hire any new employee, whether or not such person has a statement of availability.

(c) A statement of availability shall be issued by the United States Employment Service to an individual upon his request, when it is found that he has received from a former employer with whom he has reemployment rights under an existing collective bargaining agreement a notice that he must return to his former employment in order to preserve his seniority status.

(d) A temporary statement of availability, valid for a period not in excess of 60 days, may be issued by the United States Employment Service to an individual at his request, who because of seasonal or temporary lay-off is not employed at his customary work. In such cases, an employer may hire such a worker for the period designated in the temporary statement of availability and shall release such worker at the end of such period. Upon release of such a worker, the employer shall not issue a statement of availability to him but shall instruct him to return to his former employment.

A temporary statement of availability shall contain in addition to the provisions of the regular form the words: "The Employer hiring the above-named worker shall not retain such worker in his employ after ---------- and shall not issue a statement of availability to such worker upon his release."

SEC. 9. Referrals in case of under-utilization. If an individual is employed at less than full time or at a job which does not utilize his highest recognized skill for which there is a need in the war effort the United States Employment Service may, upon his request, refer him to other available employment in which it finds that the individual will be more fully utilized in the war effort.

SEC. 10. Workers who may be hired only upon referral by the United States Employment Service. Under the circumstances set forth below, a new employee may not be hired solely upon presentation of a statement of availability, but may be hired only upon referral by, or in accordance with arrangements with, the United States Employment Service:

(a) The new employee is to be hired for work in a critical occupation, or his statement of availability indicates that his last employment was in a critical occupation, or

(b) The new employee is to be hired for work in an additional controlled occupation (see Appendix B) or his statement of availability indicates that his last employment was in such an occupation, or

(c) The new employee has not lived or worked in the locality of the new employment throughout the preceding 30-day period (in such cases the local office of the United States Employment Service shall require that the worker obtain a statement of availability from the local office of the United States Employment Service, serving the locality where such worker was most recently employed, except that the latter local office may delegate authority to issue a statement of availability to such a worker in a specific case to the office where the referral is to made), or

(d) The new employee's last regular employment was in agriculture and he is to be hired for non-agricultural work: Provided, That no such individual shall be referred to non-agricultural work except after consultation with a designated representative of the War Food Administration: And provided further, That such an individual may be hired for non-agricultural work for a period of not to exceed six weeks without referral or presentation of a statement of availability.

SEC. 11. Hiring contrary to the program. An employer shall, upon written request of the United States Employment Service, promptly release from employment any worker hired,

(a) In violation of this program, or

(b) Upon referral by the United States Employment Service, if such referral resulted from any misrepresentation on the part of such worker when otherwise a referral would not have been made.

SEC. 12. Exclusions. No provision of this employment stabilization program shall be applicable to:

(a) The hiring of a new employee for agricultural employment, or

(b) The hiring of a new employee for work of less than seven days' duration, or for work which is supplementary to the employee's principal work; but such work shall not constitute the individual's "last employment" for the purposes of this program, unless the employee is customarily engaged in work of less than seven days' duration, or

(c) The hiring of an employee in any Territory or possession of the United States, except Alaska and Hawaii, or

(d) The hiring by a foreign, State, county or municipal government, or their political subdivisions or their agencies and instrumentalities, or to the hiring of any of their employees, unless such foreign, State, county, or municipal government or political subdivision or agency or instrumentality has indicated its willingness to conform, to the maximum extent practicable under the Constitution and laws applicable to it, with the program, or

(e) The hiring of a new employee for domestic service or to the hiring of a new employee whose last regular employment was in domestic service, or

(f) The hiring of a school teacher for vacation employment or the rehiring of a school teacher for teaching at the termination of the vacation period, or

(g) The transfer of workers between agencies and departments of the Federal Government.

SEC. 13. Appeals. Any worker or employer may appeal from any act or failure to act by the War Manpower Commission under this employment stabilization program in accordance with regulations and procedures of the War Manpower Commission.

SEC. 14. Statements of availability. A statement of availability issued to an individual pursuant to this program shall contain only the individual's name, address, social security account number, if any, the name and address of the issuing employer, or War Manpower Commission officer and office, the date of issuance, a statement as to whether or not the individual's last employment was in a critical occupation or in an additional controlled occupation, and such other information not prejudicial to the employee in seeking new employment as may be authorized or required by the War Manpower Commission.

Statements of availability received by any employer pursuant to this program shall be retained during the continuance of this program and for a reasonable time thereafter. They shall be made accessible to the Area Manpower Director or his representative upon request.

SEC. 15. Solicitation of workers. No employer shall advertise or otherwise solicit for the purpose of hiring any individual if the hiring of such an individual would be subject to restrictions under this employment stabilization program, except in a manner consistent with such restrictions.

SEC. 16. Hiring. The decision to hire or refer a worker shall be based on qualifications essential for performance of or suitability for the job, and shall be made without discrimination as to race, color, creed, sex, national origin, or except as required by law, citizenship.

The Federal Government shall be considered as a single essential employer for the purposes of this program, and all hiring for departments and agencies of the Federal Government subject to the Civil Service Act, rules and regulations, shall be conducted by the U. S. Civil Service Commission which shall recruit in accordance with the policies of the War Manpower Commission.

SEC. 17. Representation. Nothing contained in this program shall be construed to restrict any individual from seeking the advice and aid of, or from being represented by, the labor organization of which he is a member or any other representative freely chosen by him, at any step in the operation of the program.

SEC. 18. General referral policies. No provision in this program shall limit the authority of the United States Employment Service or any other governmental agency designated by the War Manpower Commission to make referrals in accordance with approved policies and instructions of the War Manpower Commission.

SEC. 19. Effective date. This program shall become effective as of October 11, 1943, and is in substitution for and supersedes the employment stabilization plan in effect prior to such date. It shall, subject to such amendments as the War Manpower Commission may promulgate, continue in effect for six months following the termination of the war, unless sooner terminated by the War Manpower Commission.

(4) Normal output. The term "normal output" means the average annual mineral units, or the average annual timber units, as the case may be, recovered in the taxable years beginning after December 31, 1935, and not beginning after December 31, 1939 (hereinafter called "base period"), of the person owning the mineral property or the timber block (whether or not the taxpayer). The term "normal output", in the case of a natural gas company, means the average annual natural gas units sold in the taxable years beginning after December 31, 1935, and not beginning after December 31, 1939 (hereinafter called "base period"), of the person owning the natural gas property (whether or not the taxpayer). The average annual mineral units, natural gas units, or timber units shall be computed by dividing the aggregate of such mineral units, natural gas units, or timber units for the base period by the number of months for which the mineral property, natural gas property, or timber block was in operation during the base period and by multiplying the amount so ascertained by twelve. In any case in which the taxpayer establishes, under regulations prescribed by the Commissioner with the approval of the Secretary, that the operation of any mineral property, natural gas property, or timber block is normally prevented for a specified period each year by physical events outside the control of the taxpayer, the number of months during which such mineral property, natural gas property, or timber block is regularly in operation during a taxable year shall be used in computing the average annual mineral units, natural gas units, or timber units, instead of twelve. Any mineral property, natural gas property, or timber block, which was in operation for less than six months during the base period, shall, for the purposes of this section, be deemed not to have been in operation during the base period.

(5) Natural gas property. The term "natural gas property" means the property of a natural gas company used for the withdrawal, storage, and transportation by pipe line, of natural gas, excluding any part of such property which is an emergency facility under section 124.

(2) Timber block. Section 735 (a) (9) (defining "timber block") is amended to read as follows:

(9) Timber block. The term "timber block" means an operation unit which includes all the taxpayer's timber which would logically go to a single given point of manufacture.

(3) Unit net income. Section 735 (a) (12) (defining "unit net income") is amended by inserting after the period at the end thereof the following: "In respect of a natural gas property, the term 'unit net income' means the amount ascertained by dividing the net income, computed in accordance with regulations prescribed by the Commissioner with the approval of the Secretary from such property during the taxable year by the number of natural gas units sold in such year."

(4) Coal and iron mines and timber properties not in operation during base period. For any taxable year, the nontaxable income from exempt excess output of a coal mining or iron mining property or a timber block, which was not in operation during the base period, shall be an amount equal to one-sixth of the net income for such taxable year (computed with the allowance for depletion) from the coal mining or iron mining property or from the timber block, as the case may be.

(5) Natural gas companies. In the case of a natural gas company any of the natural gas property of which was in operation during the base period, the nontaxable income from exempt excess output for any taxable year shall be an amount equal to the excess output for such year multiplied by one-half of the unit net income for such year.

(f) Taxable years to which certain amendments applicable. The amendments made by this section with respect to lessors of mineral properties which were in operation during the base period, and with respect to lessors of timber blocks, as defined without regard to the amendments made by this section, which were in operation during the base period, and with respect to natural gas companies, shall be applicable with respect to taxable years beginning after December 31, 1941.

SEC. 201. Taxable years to which amendments applicable. (Revenue Act of 1943, Title II.)

Except as otherwise expressly provided, the amendments made by this title shall be applicable only with respect to taxable years beginning after December 31, 1943.

PAR. 2. Section 35.735–1 is amended to read as follows:

§ 35.735–1 General rule. Section 735, as amended by Public Law 172 (78th Cong., 1st Sess.) and by section 208 of the Revenue Act of 1943, provides specific rules for the computation of nontaxable income from exempt excess output which is excluded in the computation of excess profits net income of (a) a producer of minerals, (b) a producer of logs or lumber from a timber block, (c) a lessor of a mineral property, a coal or iron mining property, or a timber block, or (d) a natural gas company. It also provides specific rules for the computation of nontaxable bonus income of a producer of minerals, or a producer of logs or lumber from a timber block, as defined in such section. The exclusion of nontaxable income from exempt excess output in the case of a producer of minerals from a coal mining or iron mining property which was not in operation during the base period, or in the case of a lessor of such property applies only with respect to taxable years beginning after December 31, 1943. The exclusion of nontaxable income from exempt excess output in the case of a producer of logs or lumber from a timber block which was not an operation unit existing as of December 31, 1941, or which was not in operation during the base period, or in the case of a lessor of such property applies only with respect to taxable years beginning after December 31, 1943.

PAR. 3. Section 35.735–2 (a) as amended by Treasury Decision 5361, approved April 20, 1944, is further amended as follows:

(A) By striking out the heading and inserting in lieu thereof the following: "(a) Producer; lessor; natural gas company—(1) Producer."

(B) By adding at the end the following new subparagraphs:

(2) Lessor. The term "lessor" means a corporation which owns an economic interest, as described in paragraph (1) of this subparagraph, in a mineral property, in a coal or iron mining property, or in a timber block, and is paid in accordance with the number of mineral units or timber units recovered from the mineral property, coal or iron mining property, or timber block by the person to which such property is leased. A corporation which leases a mineral property, coal or iron mining property, or a timber block in consideration for the payment, annual or otherwise, of an amount which is not based upon the number of mineral units or timber units recovered from the property or block is not a lessor within the meaning of section 735 (a) (1). However, the fact that the leasehold agreement contains a provision for minimum royalties will not of itself prevent the corporation from being a lessor within the meaning of section 735 (a) (1). Nor does the fact that the corporation which leases a mineral property, coal or iron mining property, or timber block is paid by one who is not a "producer" within the meaning of this section, e. g. an individual to whom such property or block is leased or a lessee which in turn leases the property or block to a sublessee, preclude such corporation from being a lessor within the provisions of section 735 (a) (1), providing it otherwise satisfies the provisions of such section. Likewise, the fact that a corporation which is a lessor within the meaning of section 735 (a) (1) is also a lessee paying rents or royalties to a supervening holder of an economic interest does not prevent such lessor from satisfying the provisions of section 735 (a) (1).

(3) Natural gas company. The term "natural gas company" means a corporation which is engaged in the withdrawal of natural gas or the transportation of natural gas by pipe line. It does not include a corporation which is engaged solely in the storage of natural gas or solely in the distribution of natural gas. For the purpose of this subparagraph, distribution means the piping of natural gas, which has been received by the distribution facilities either at the end of the pipe line or at some intermediate point along the line, to the ultimate consumers of such gas. A natural gas company need not own an economic interest in the property from which the natural gas is extracted.

PAR. 4. Section 35.735–2 (b) is amended as follows:

(A) By striking out the heading and inserting in lieu thereof the following: "(b) Mineral unit, natural gas unit, and timber unit—(1) Mineral unit."

(B) By inserting at the end the following new subparagraph:

(2) Natural gas unit. The term "natural gas unit" means a unit of natural gas sold by a natural gas company. A natural gas unit does not mean a unit of natural gas as extracted or stored but means a unit as sold. A unit is any designation of quantity, such as 1,000 cubic feet, etc., customarily used by the taxpayer as a standard of measurement of sale.

PAR. 5. Paragraph (c) of § 35.735–2 is renumbered as subparagraph (3) of § 35.735–2 (b).

PAR. 6. Paragraph (d) of § 35.735–2 is amended as follows:

(A) By renumbering such paragraph as paragraph (c).

(B) By changing the first sentence to read as follows: "The term 'excess output' means the excess of the mineral units, the natural gas units, or the timber units for the taxable year over the normal output."

(C) By striking out the last paragraph and inserting in lieu thereof the following:

The timber units for an excess profits tax taxable year shall be the number of units of timber felled during the year, which is used in the computation of the depletion allowance for the purposes of Chapter I, but shall not include any timber cut by the taxpayer which owns, or has a contract right to cut, such timber and which has elected pursuant to the provisions of section 117 (k) (1) to treat such cutting as a sale or exchange of the timber as cut. As to the computation of the allowance for depletion, see § 29.23 (m)–21 of Regulations III. However, no timber acquired after December 31, 1941, shall be considered in determining the number of timber units for any taxable year beginning prior to January 1, 1944.

The number of natural gas units sold during the excess profits tax taxable year shall be the aggregate number of units sold by the natural gas company, whether as a result of withdrawal, of release from storage, or of transportation by pipe line, and regardless of whether different portions of the natural gas property were used in the withdrawal or the transportation of the natural gas sold. Natural gas withdrawn and stored, or transported by pipe line and stored, during the excess profits tax taxable year but not sold during such year shall not be included in the computation of the number of natural gas units for such taxable year for the purpose of the computation of excess output for such year.

The excess output of a lessor shall be computed in the same manner as the excess output of a producer, that is as the excess of the mineral units or the timber units for the taxable year over the normal output of the mineral property or timber block. The mineral units or timber units of a lessor for the excess profits tax taxable year shall be computed in the same manners as in the case of a producer, except that in the case of a lessor of a timber block there shall not be included in the timber units for such year any timber which has been disposed of by the lessor and which is considered to have been sold under the provisions of section 117 (k) (2). If the disposal of timber by the lessor is not considered a sale of such timber under the provisions of section 117 (k) (2), the number of timber units of the lessor for the excess profits tax taxable year shall not be affected by the fact that the producer of such timber has elected to consider the cutting of such timber as a sale or exchange of such timber cut under section 117 (k) (1).

PAR. 7. Former paragraph (e) of § 35.735–2 is amended by changing such paragraph to read as follows:

(d) Normal output. The term "normal output" means the average annual mineral units or the average annual timber units recovered, or the average annual natural gas units sold, in the taxable years beginning after December 31, 1935, and not beginning after December 31, 1939 (referred to in §§ 35.735–1 through 35.735–5 as the base period) of the person owning the mineral property, timber block, or natural gas property, whether or not such person is the taxpayer claiming relief under section 711 (a). (1) (I) or section 711 (a) (2) (K), and section 735. A person includes an individual, a trust, estate, partnership, company, or corporation. See section 3797. If the mineral property or timber block was not owned by the taxpayer for the entire base period, the taxpayer should, in its first excess profits tax return in which the benefits of section 711 (a) (1) (I) or section 711 (a) (2) (K), and section 735 are claimed, state the name and address of each person owning the mineral property or timber block during the base period and submit evidence establishing the mineral units or the timber units recovered from the mineral property or timber block by such other person during the period of its ownership, and the number of months in such period. If all or a portion of the natural gas property owned by the natural gas company during the taxable year was not owned by it during the entire base period, the taxpayer should, in its first excess profits tax return in which the benefits of section 711 (a) (1) (I) or section 711 (a) (2) (K), and section 735 are claimed, state the name and address of each person owning such natural gas property, or any portion thereof, during the base period and submit evidence establishing the natural gas units withdrawn, transported by pipe line, and sold by such other person during the period of its ownership, and the number of months in such period.

In any case in which two or more metals, coal, or nonmetallic substances are contained in the minerals recovered from a mineral property, a normal output shall be computed with respect to each type of metal, coal, or nonmetallic substance in such minerals.

In any case in which a natural gas company withdraws and sells natural gas at the mouth of the well, and in addition transports by pipe line and sells natural gas after such transportation, the normal output shall be computed as the aggregate of the sales prior to and subsequent to transportation.

The average annual mineral units or timber units shall be computed by dividing the aggregate of the mineral units of each type of metal, coal, or nonmetallic substance, or the aggregate of the timber units for the base period by the number of months for which the mineral property or timber block was in operation during the base period and by multiplying the amount so ascertained by twelve. The average annual natural gas units shall be computed by dividing the aggregate of the natural gas units for the base period by the number of months for which the natural gas property was in operation during the base period and multiplying the amount so ascertained by twelve. In any case in which the taxpayer establishes that the operation of a mineral property, a timber block, or a natural gas property is normally prevented for a specified period each year by physical events outside the control of the taxpayer, the number of months during which such mineral property, timber block, or natural gas property is regularly in operation during a taxable year shall be used in computing the average annual mineral units, or timber units, or natural gas units, instead of twelve. If any excess profits tax taxable year for which excess output is computed for the purposes of section 735 is a taxable year of less than twelve months, the number of months in such year, in lieu of twelve and in lieu of the number of months specified in the preceding sentence (if less than such number of months), shall be used in computing the average annual mineral units, timber units, or natural gas units.

The mineral units for a taxable year in the base period shall be the number of units of each type of metal, coal, or nonmetallic substance in the minerals recovered from a mineral property during the taxable year, which would be used in computing the depletion allowance for the purposes of Chapter I if the depletion of the mineral property were computed without regard to discovery value or percentage depletion. See § 29.23 (m)–2 of Regulations 111. The timber units for a taxable year shall be the number of units of timber felled during the year used in the computation of the depletion allowance for the purposes of Chapter I. See § 29.23 (m)–21 of Regulations 111. The natural gas units for a taxable year in the base period shall be the aggregate of the number of natural gas units withdrawn from, stored in, or transported by, the natural gas property, and sold during such year by the person owning or operating the natural gas property. Natural gas withdrawn and stored, or transported by pipe line and stored, during a taxable year in the base period but not sold during such year shall not be included in the computation of the number of natural gas units for such year for the purpose of the computation of normal output.

A mineral property, or a timber block, or a natural gas property which was in operation for less than six months during the base period shall, for the purposes of section 735, be deemed not to have been in operation during the base period. Such months need not be consecutive months.

The normal output of a lessor shall be computed in the same manner as the normal output of a producer, that is as the annual average mineral units or the average annual timber units recovered during the base period of the person owning the mineral property or the timber block. A mineral property or timber block which is owned by a lessor and which was in operation for less than six months during the base period shall be deemed not to have been in operation during the base period. Such months need not be consecutive months.

PAR. 8. There is inserted immediately preceding § 35.735–2 (f) the following new paragraph:

(e) Natural gas property. The term "natural gas property" means the entire property of a natural gas company which is used for the withdrawal, storage, and transportation by pipe line of natural gas but does not include any part of such property which is an emergency facility within the provisions of section 124. As to what constitutes an emergency facility, see section 124 (e) and § 29.124–0 (b) of Regulations 111.

PAR. 9. Section 35.735–2 (f) is amended by inserting at the end thereof the following:

The mineral property of a lessor need not necessarily be coextensive with the mineral property of the producer, but will be determined solely in the light of the economic interest owned by the lessor. For example, a lessor which owns a mineral property as described in this paragraph may have leased one-half of such property to one lessee-producer, and the other half to another lessee-producer. The mineral property of each lessee would be limited to that portion of the property leased to it. The mineral property of the lessor would constitute the aggregate of the mineral property leased, unaffected by its subdivision for the purpose of the leasehold agreements. Similarly, an owner of a mineral property may have joined with another owner of an adjacent mineral property in a lease with a lessee in such manner that the lessee acquires a single mineral property. Nevertheless, insofar as the lessors are concerned, each is the owner of a separate mineral property.

PAR. 10. Section 35.735–2 (h) is amended as follows:

(A) By striking out the first sentence and inserting in lieu thereof the following:

With respect to a taxable year beginning prior to January 1, 1944, the term "timber block" means an operation unit existing as of December 31, 1941, which includes all the taxpayer's timber which would logically go to a single given point of manufacture, but shall not include any operation unit acquired after December 31, 1941. With respect to a taxable year beginning after December 31, 1943, the term "timber block" means an operation unit which includes all the timber owned by the taxpayer during each year which would logically go to a single given point of manufacture.

(B) By adding the following new paragraph at the end thereof:

The timber block of a lessor need not necessarily be coextensive with the timber block of the producer, but will be determined solely in the light of the economic interest owned by the lessor in the same manner as in the case of a lessor of a mineral property. See § 35.735–2 (f).

PAR. 11. Section 35.735–2 (i) (2) is amended as follows:

(A) By striking out the first two paragraphs and inserting in lieu thereof the following:

(2) Gross income from the property. For the purposes of section 735, the term "gross income from the property" for any year in the base period means the gross income from mining. The term "mining" as used herein includes not only the extraction of ores or minerals from the ground but also the ordinary treatment processes which are normally applied by the mine owners or operators to the crude mineral product after extraction in order to obtain the commercially marketable mineral product or products.

If the taxpayer sells the crude mineral product of the property in the immediate vicinity of the mine, "gross income from the property" means the amount for which such product was sold, but, if the product is transported or processed (other than by the ordinary treatment processes described below) before sale, "gross income from the property" means the representative market or field price (as of the date of sale) of a mineral product of like kind and grade as beneficiated by the ordinary treatment processes actually applied, before transportation of such product. If there is no such representative market or field price (as of the date of sale), then there shall be used in lieu thereof the representative market or field price of the first marketable product resulting from any process or processes (or, if the product in its crude mineral state is merely transported, the price for which sold) minus the costs and proportionate profits attributable to the transportation and the processes beyond the ordinary treatment processes.

The term "ordinary treatment processes", as used herein, shall include the following:

(i) In the case of coal—cleaning, breaking, sizing and loading for shipment;

(ii) In the case of sulphur—pumping to vats, cooling, breaking, and loading for shipment;

(iii) In the case of iron ore, bauxite, ball and sagger clay, rock asphalt, and minerals which are customarily sold in the form of a crude mineral product—sorting, concentrating, and sintering to bring to shipping grade and form, and loading for shipment;

(iv) In the case of lead, zinc, copper, gold, silver or fluorspar ores, potash, and ores which are not customarily sold in the form of the crude mineral product—crushing, grinding, and beneficiation by concentration (gravity, flotation, amalgamation, electrostatic, or magnetic), cyanidation, leaching, crystallization, precipitation, or by substantially equivalent processes or combination of processes used in the separation or extraction of the product or products from the ore. The furnacing of quicksilver ores is included in the term "ordinary treatment processes". The following processes are not included in the term "ordinary treatment processes": electrolytic deposition, roasting, thermal or electric smelting, refining, or substantially equivalent processes.

In case any of the ordinary treatment processes are not applied in the immediate vicinity of the mining district in which the mine is located, costs incurred for transportation to the processing location and, if transported by the taxpayer, the proportionate profits attributable to transportation, should be subtracted from the sale price of the product to determine "gross income from the property".

(B) By changing the last sentence in the last paragraph to read as follows:

If the gross income from the property is determined by excluding the costs and proportionate profits attributable to transportation and to processes other than the ordinary treatment processes listed above, or if such gross income is an amount different from the gross proceeds received from the sale of the minerals, the gross income attributable to each type of metal, coal, or nonmetallic substance shall be an amount which bears the same ratio to the gross income from the property which the gross proceeds received from the sale of such type of metal, coal, or nonmetallic substance in the minerals bears to the total gross proceeds received from the sales of all such types.

In the case of a lessor, the computation of normal unit profit shall be made in a manner similar to that in the case of a producer except that the number of mineral units to be used in the computation of normal unit profit shall be the aggregate of the number of mineral units which were paid for during the base period. If the lessor's economic interest in the mineral property during the excess profits tax taxable year for which the benefits of section 735 are claimed is different from what it was during the base period, the gross income of the lessor from the property during the base period shall be recomputed as if the lessor's economic interest which existed during the excess profits tax taxable year likewise existed in full force and effect during the base period.

PAR. 12. Section 35.735–2 (l) is amended as follows:

(A) By inserting at the end of the first paragraph the following:

With respect to a natural gas company, the term "unit net income" means the amount of net income per natural gas unit for any excess profits tax taxable year for which the benefits of section 735 are claimed. It is ascertained by dividing the net income from the natural gas property during such taxable year by the number of natural gas units sold in such year.

(B) By inserting at the end of the second paragraph the following:

In the case of a lessor, the term "coal mining property" refers to the tract or parcel of land containing coal deposits in which an economic interest is owned by the lessor, and need not necessarily be coextensive with the "coal mining property" in the case of the producer.

(C) By inserting at the end of the third paragraph the following:

In the case of a lessor, the term "iron mining property" refers to the tract or parcel of land containing iron ore deposits in which an economic interest is owned by the lessor, and need not necessarily be coextensive with the "iron mining property" in the case of the producer.

(D) By changing the second sentence in the fifth paragraph to read as follows:

With respect to taxable years beginning prior to January 1, 1944, net income from a timber block includes only income which is attributable to that portion of the operation unit which was in existence and was owned by the taxpayer on December 31, 1941; net income attributable to any standing timber which is acquired after December 31, 1941, and which after such date has become a part of the timber block existing on December 31, 1941, can be included in net income from a timber block only for years beginning after December 31, 1943.

(E) By inserting at the end the following:

The determination of net income from the natural gas property must be made with respect to the entire natural gas property of the taxpayer as a single property and cannot be made separately with respect to portions of such property. If the natural gas company is engaged in other activities in addition to the withdrawal, storage, and transportation by pipe line of natural gas, the net income from the natural gas company shall not include the income attributable to such other activities. For example, if a natural gas company is engaged in the distribution of natural gas, in addition to the withdrawal, storage, and transportation by pipe line of such gas, that portion of the net income from the sales of the natural gas which is attributable to the distribution of such gas shall not be included in the net income from the natural gas property. For the purposes of this paragraph, distribution means the piping of gas, which has been received by the distribution facilities either at the end of a pipe line or at some intermediate point along the line, to the ultimate consumer of such gas. Likewise, the net income from the natural gas property does not include any net income attributable to any portion of the property of the taxpayer which is an emergency facility. So also, income derived from leasing storage facilities to other taxpayers engaged in the withdrawal, or transportation by pipe line, of natural gas shall not be included in the determination of net income from the natural gas property. If the taxpayer derives income from activities other than the withdrawal of natural gas and the transportation of natural gas by pipe line, or is engaged in such withdrawal and transportation by using, in part, property which is not included in the natural gas property, as, for example, an emergency facility, the net income from the natural gas property shall be computed as follows:

Net income from a natural gas property means the gross income from such property as defined in this subsection less the allowable deductions attributable to such property, including overhead and operating expenses, development costs properly charged to expense, depreciation, taxes, losses sustained, and including the allowance for depletion, if any. Any allowance for depletion shall be that used in computing net income for the purposes of Chapter I for the taxable year. Deductions for depreciation and amortization of operating equipment can be charged directly to natural gas property and other property. Taxes, general expense, and overhead, which cannot be directly attributed to the natural gas property or to other property shall be fairly apportioned between (1) the natural gas property, and (2) the other property of the taxpayer, taking into account the ratio which the operating expenses directly attributable to the property constituting the natural gas property bears to the operating expenses directly attributable to the other property of the taxpayer.

Gross income from the natural gas property means the aggregate of the gross income received from the sale of natural gas at the mouth of the well or from storage plants in which the natural gas was stored, and from the sale of natural gas at the end of, or at any intermediate point along, the pipe line. It does not include any income derived from the distribution of natural gas after its transportation by pipe line. In the case of a natural gas company which transports natural gas by pipe line to a city and then distributes such gas within the city, the city gate shall be considered the end of the process of transportation by pipe line, and shall be considered the point at which distribution begins. In such a case, the market price at the city gate for the natural gas transported to that point, and subsequently sold, shall be considered to be the gross income from transportation by pipe line of such natural gas. If there is no market price at the city gate or if there is no city gate, the gross income from the natural gas property shall be determined by deducting from the gross income from the sale of such gas the costs and proportionate profits attributable to the local distribution within the city.

If any emergency facilities were used in the withdrawal, storage, or transportation of the natural gas, the gross income from the natural gas property shall be the gross income less the costs and proportionate profits attributable to the emergency facilities. Such proportionate profits shall be computed in the same manner as proportionate profits attributable to distribution facilities.

In all cases there shal be excluded in determining gross income from the natural gas property an amount equal to any rents or royalties which were paid or incurred by the taxpayer in respect of the nautral gas property and are not otherwise excluded from the gross income or deducted in computing the net income from the natural gas property. The treatment of royalties in the form of bonus payments or advanced royalties in respect to the natural gas property shall be the same as in the case of such royalties with respect to mineral properties. See § 35.735–2 (i).

The net income from the coal or iron ore from the coal or iron mining property, or from the timber block, or from the natural gas property shall be computed with the deduction of any net opeating loss deduction attributable to the coal or iron ore from the coal or iron mining property, to the timber block, or to the natural gas property. Such net operating loss deduction shall be determined by computing the net operating loss for any taxable year under section 122 (a), the net operating loss carry-overs and carry-backs under section 122 (b), and the adjustment under section 122 (c), as adjusted by section 711 (a) (1) (J) and (a) (2) (L), in accordance with the principles of determining net income from the coal or iron ore from the coal or iron mining property, from the timber block, or from the natural gas property set forth in this subsection.

In the case of a lessor of a coal or iron mining property or a timber block, the computation of unit net income shall be made in a manner similar to that in the case of a producer except that the number of mineral units or timber units to be used in the computation of unit net income shall be the number of mineral units or timber units which were paid for during the taxable year.

PAR. 13. Section 35.735–3 is amended as follows:

(A) By changing the phrase "§ 35.735–2 (d)" in the last sentence of the third paragraph of paragraph (a) to read "§ 35.735–2 (c)".

(B) By changing the phrase "§ 35.735–2 (e)" in the sentence immediately preceding the third paragraph of paragraph (b) to read "§ 35.735–2 (d)".

(C) By changing the phrase "§ 35.735–2 (d)" in the first paragraph of paragraph (c) to read "§ 35.735–2 (c)".

PAR. 14. Section 35.735–4 as amended by Treasury Decision 5361 and § 35.735–5 are renumbered §§ 35.735–6 and 35.735–7, respectively.

PAR. 15. There is inserted immediately preceding § 35.735–6, as renumbered by this Treasury decision, the following new sections:

§ 35.735–4 Coal and iron mines and timber properties not in operation during base period. In the case of a coal mining property, an iron mining property, or a timber block which was not in operation during the base period nontaxable income from exempt excess output is excluded under section 711 (a) (1) (I), if the taxpayer uses the excess profits credit based on income, or under section 711 (a) (2) (K), if the taxpayer uses the excess profits credit based on invested capital, in the computation of excess profits net income for taxable years beginning after December 31, 1943. Such nontaxable income from exempt excess output shall be an amount equal to one-sixth of the net income for such taxable year, computed with the allowance for depletion, from the coal mining property, iron mining property, or timber block, as the case may be. Such net income shall be determined in accordance with the provisions of § 35.735–3 (l), relating to unit net income.

§ 35.735–5 Natural gas companies. In the case of a natural gas company, as defined in section 735 (a) (1) and § 35.735–2 (a) (3), any portion of the natural gas property of which, as defined in § 35.735–2 (c), was in operation for six months or more during the base period regardless of whether such portion of such property is in operation during the taxable year, nontaxable income from exempt excess output is excluded in the computation of excess profits net income for any taxable year under section 711 (a) (1) (I) or section 711 (a) (2) (K). Such nontaxable income from exempt excess output shall be an amount equal to the excess output of such natural gas property for such year determined under § 35.735–2 (c) multiplied by one-half of the unit net income from such natural gas property for such year determined under § 35.735–2 (1).

TITLE 29—LABOR

Chapter VI—National War Labor Board

WAGE AND SALARY SCHEDULES

The following sections of General Order No. 31 have been amended to read as follows:

§ 803.31 Schedules. • • •

II. • • •

C. • • •

2. Promotions or reclassifications involve individual adjustments which result from moving an employee into a different job classification. Promotions and reclassifications may be made between jobs which bear single rates as well as between jobs which bear rate ranges. When promoted or reclassified to a higher-rated job, an employee (subject to National War Labor Board jurisdiction) may receive a rate not in excess of 15 percent above his rate on his former job or the minimum rate for the new job, whichever is higher; Provided, however, That where an employee has special ability and experience, he may be paid a rate within the appropriate range corresponding to such ability and experience; And provided further, That a promoted or reclassified employee shall not receive a rate lower than the single rate or than the minimum of the rate range applicable to the job classification to which the employee has been promoted or reclassified. If, before the effective date of this amendment (Sept. 7, 1944) an employer has had a plan properly in existence (as defined in this general order) which provides for the payments to a promoted or reclassified employee of a rate lower than the single rate or the minimum of the range during a probationary period, such provision may be continued in effect.

• • • • •

F. Restrictions on hiring employees at rates in excess of the minimum rate of the properly established rate range for a given job classification.

1. Existing establishments. An employer shall hire employees at the minimum of the properly established rate range for a given job classification: Provided, however, That an employee who has special ability and experience may be hired at a rate within the range corresponding to such ability and experience. But an employer may not, within a given year (which shall be the same year as the one used by the employer in calculating the average amount of merit or length of service increases given under Section II–C–1 of this general order), hire more than 25% of all the employees hired in his establishment for job classifications for which rate ranges have been established, at rates in excess of the minima of such rate ranges for such job classifications. In any establishment in which fewer than four employees are hired within the year, for such job classifications, one employee who has special ability and experience may be hired at a rate in excess of the minimum rate of the properly established rate range. If, before the effective date of this amendment, an employer has had a plan properly in existence (as defined in this General Order) which provides that some percentage of employees in excess of 25 percent may be hired at rates above the appropriate minimum rates, such provision may be continued in effect. All other employers are subject to the restrictions of this or the following sub-section (II–F–1 or II–F–2).

2. New establishments or new departments in existing establishments. An employer shall hire employees at the minimum of the properly established rate range for a given job classification: Provided, however, That an employee who has special ability and experience may be hired at a rate within the range corresponding to such ability and experience. But an employer may not within the first year of operation hire more than 50 percent of all the employees hired in his establishment, for job classifications for which rate ranges have been established, at rates in excess of the minima of such rate ranges for such job classifications. During all subsequent years of operation, no more than 25 percent of all the employees hired in his establishment for such job classifications may be hired at rates in excess of the minima of such rate ranges for such job classifications. In any establishment in which fewer than four employees are hired within the year, for such job classifications, one employee who has special ability and experience may be hired at a rate in excess of the minimum rate of the properly established rate range.

PART 903—DELEGATIONS OF AUTHORITY

[Directive 38]

DISTRIBUTION OF AVIATION GASOLINE OF 73 AND 80 OCTANE RATINGS FOR CIVILIAN AVIATION PURPOSES AIRCRAFT OR AIRCRAFT ENGINES

Pursuant to the authority vested in me by Executive Order 9024 of January 16, 1942, Executive Order 9040 of January 24, 1942, and Executive Order 9126 of April 7, 1942, and in order to facilitate the efficient distribution and use of aviation gasoline as hereinafter defined, it is ordered:

§ 903.52 Directive No. 38. (a) The Administrator of Civil Aeronautics shall perform the functions and exercise the power, authority and discretion conferred upon the President by section 2 (a) of the Act of June 28, 1940 (Pub. No. 671, 76th Congress, 54 Stat. 676) as amended by the Act of May 31, 1941 (Pub. No. 89, 77th Congress, 55 Stat. 236) and as further amended by Title III of the Second War Powers Act, March 27, 1942 (Pub. No. 507, 77th Congress, 56 Stat. 176), with respect to the exercise of control over:

(1) The use of aviation gasoline by any consumer in aircraft or aircraft engines; and

(2) The sale, transfer, delivery or other disposition of aviation gasoline by any person to any consumer, and

(3) The sale, transfer, delivery or other disposition of aviation gasoline by any person to any person other than a consumer to the extent of requiring the delivery of such certificates or other evidence as the Administrator of Civil Aeronautics may prescribe as a condition to such sale, transfer, delivery, or disposition.

The Office of Price Administration shall retain the power, co-extensive with the Administrator of Civil Aeronautics (i) to exercise control until November 1, 1944, over the use of aviation gasoline by any consumer and over the sale, transfer, delivery or other disposal of aviation gasoline by any person to any consumer, or to any person other than a consumer to the extent of requiring the delivery of such coupons, certificates or other evidence as the Office of Price Administration may prescribe as a condition to such sale, transfer, delivery or disposition, and (ii) on and after November 1, 1944, to exercise control over the use of aviation gasoline by any consumer otherwise than in aircraft or aircraft engines and over the sale, transfer, delivery or other disposition of aviation gasoline by any person to any consumer for use otherwise than in aircraft or aircraft engines.

(f) Nothing herein shall be construed to limit or modify any regulation, order or directive heretofore issued by or under the authority of the Chairman of the War Production Board and now outstanding except as specifically set forth in paragraph (h) below, nor to terminate nor limit the power of the Chairman of the War Production Board to issue further directives, regulations or orders regulating the delivery or use of aviation gasoline nor to affect the authority vested in the Chairman of the War Production Board pursuant to Executive Orders 9024, 9040, and 9125 to determine the relative importance of deliveries or uses and certify as to the preferential treatment to be accorded them with respect to the delivery or use of aviation gasoline.

(g) The Administrator of Civil Aeronautics will, from time to time, advise the Petroleum Administration for War as to the amount of aviation gasoline required for essential civilian aviation purposes and may receive from the Petroleum Administration for War allocations of aviation gasoline to meet such purposes.

PART 1010—SUSPENSION ORDERS

PHILIP KAPLAN

Philip Kaplan of 1541 Pingree Avenue, Detroit, Michigan, is engaged in the business of general contracting and construction. Between January 1, and May 15, 1944, he did construction work on premises at 5636 Michigan Avenue, Detroit, Michigan, owned by Doris Lachman Jospey, to the extent of $10,000. Philip Kaplan knew of Conservation Order L–41 and that it limited such construction to $200 unless specially authorized by the War Production Board, and he knew that a special authorization had been given by the War Production Board and that it limited construction at these premises to $3,500. His doing this construction constituted a wilful violation of Conservation Order L–41.

This violation of Conservation Order L–41 has diverted critical materials and facilities to uses not authorized by the War Production Board, and has hampered and impeded the war effort of the United States of America. In view of the foregoing, it is hereby ordered, that:

§ 1010.617 Suspension Order No. S–617. (a) Deliveries of material to Philip Kaplan, his successors or assigns, shall not be accorded priority over deliveries under any other contract or order and no preference rating shall be assigned, applied or extended to such deliveries by means of preference rating certificates, preference rating orders, general preference orders or any other order or regulation of the War Production Board, unless hereafter specifically authorized in writing by the War Production Board.

(b) Nothing contained in this order shall be deemed to relieve Philip Kaplan, his successors or assigns, from any restriction, prohibition or provision contained in any other order or regulation of the War Production Board, except insofar as the same may be inconsistent with the provisions hereof.

(c) This order shall take effect on September 15, 1944 and shall expire on December 15, 1944.

Issued this 8th day of September 1944.

WAR PRODUCTION BOARD,
By J. JOSEPH WHELAN,
Recording Secretary.

PART 1109—MICA

[Conservation Order M–101, As Amended September 16, 1944]

The fulfillment of requirements for the defense of the United States has created a shortage in the supply of mica for defense, for private account and for export; and the following order is deemed necessary and appropriate in the public interest and to promote the national defense.

§ 1109.1 Conservation Order M–101—(a) Definitions. (1) "Strategic mica" means:

(i) Muscovite block and film mica of heavy stained quality or better, but excluding (a) block mica smaller than grade #6 (or grade 1" x 1"); (b) scrap mica; (c) muscovite splittings used in making built-up mica.

(ii) Phlogopite (amber) block mica, including amber bookform splittings in grades (sizes) larger than #5, but excluding (a) block mica smaller than grade #6 (or grade 1" x 1"); (b) scrap mica; (c) other forms of amber splittings used in making built-up mica.

(iii) The remaining portion or remnant of muscovite block or film mica or phlogopite block mica resulting from fabrication if such remnant contains a usable area equivalent to grade #6 or larger.

(2) "Remnant mica" means mica having a usable area equivalent to Grade 6 or larger, resulting from fabrication of strategic muscovite mica, block or film, or strategic phlogopite block mica. The term does not include film obtained from splitting strategic block mica, or sorted from film.

NOTE: Subparagraphs (3) through (6), formerly (2) through (5), redesignated Sept. 16, 1944.

(3) "Scrap mica" means:

(i) That part of strategic mica remaining after a piece has been fabricated, if such remainder or remnant contains no piece or pieces equivalent to grade #6 or larger;

(ii) Mine waste, provided no grade #6 or larger pieces can be trimmed therefrom.

(4) "To fabricate" means to cut, stamp, punch or split to predetermined shape or dimensions or to change in any manner the form, shape or size of strategic mica, unless such fabricating is for the purpose of making emergency repairs or emergency replacements to prevent a threatened breakdown.

(5) "Product containing strategic mica" means a product into which fabricated strategic mica is assembled or inserted, such as a spark plug, condenser, or radio tube.

(6) "End-product" means a finished article, such as an airplane motor or radio set, of which the product containing strategic mica is a component part.

(b) Restrictions on fabrication and causing fabrication of strategic mica. No person shall fabricate or cause another to fabricate any strategic mica without receiving specific authorization to do so from the War Production Board. However, there are three exceptions to this general rule:

(1) Fabrication of mica for Schedule A products. Any person may, without authorization from the War Production Board, fabricate or cause another to fabricate strategic mica of the particular type, quality and grade appearing in Schedule A for the manufacture of the products appearing opposite it, and any person may, without authorization from the War Production Board, use such fabricated strategic mica for the manufacture of those particular products.

(2) Small order exemption from restrictions on fabrication. Any person may, without authorization from the War Production Board, fabricate and deliver, or cause another to fabricate and deliver, strategic mica on any purchase order for which the fabricator will receive $100 or less. However, no person shall fill more than two such purchase orders in any month for delivery to the same customer. The fabrication and use of all strategic mica acquired under this small order exemption shall be subject to the provisions of paragraph (c) of this order.

(3) Fabrication of remnant mica. Any person may without authorization of the War Production Board fabricate remnant mica regardless of size or quality for the manufacture of any products listed in Schedule A.

(c) Additional restrictions on fabrication. (1) No manufacturer of a product or end product containing strategic mica shall fabricate or cause another to fabricate strategic mica:

(i) Of a quality better than is necessary for the particular purpose to which the strategic mica will be put, unless otherwise authorized by the War Production Board.

(ii) For use where a substitution of non-strategic mica or other material is practicable, unless otherwise authorized by the War Production Board.

(2) No person shall, without authorization from the War Production Board, fabricate strategic mica of a grade (size) larger than is required to yield the desired pattern. This restriction does not apply to the fabricator of remnant mica (described in paragraph (b) (3) of this order) or to the fabrication of stained and heavy stained strategic mica for use in capacitors as explained in Schedule A, Note (4).

(d) Application for authorization to fabricate strategic mica. The manufacturer of the product containing strategic mica and the person, if any, who will fabricate strategic mica for such manufacturer, shall apply to the War Production Board by submitting an original and two copies of Form WPB–1085, properly filled out by the above-mentioned person or persons. If approval is granted, it will permit the person or persons named in the application to fabricate strategic mica and use such mica for the product described in the application.

(e) Required demonstration of economic use of mica. The War Production Board may at any time require satisfactory evidence from the manufacturer of any end product into which the product containing strategic mica is to be assembled or inserted, or from the manufacturer of the product containing strategic mica, that a lesser quantity or a lower quality of strategic mica could not be or could not have been used than the quantity or quality applied for, or that non-strategic mica or other materials could not be or could not have been used as a substitute for strategic mica.

(f) Restrictions on delivery of unfabricated strategic mica. No person (other than Metals Reserve Company or its agents) shall deliver any unfabricated strategic mica to any person (other than Colonial Mica Corporation, as agent of Metals Reserve Company), unless specifically authorized to do so by the War Production Board. No person other than Metals Reserve Company or its agents shall accept delivery of any unfabricated strategic mica unless specifically authorized to do so by War Production Board. This paragraph does not apply to any delivery of unfabricated strategic mica on any purchase order for which the seller will receive $50 or less. No person shall fill more than two such purchase orders in any month for delivery to the same customer.

(g) Applications for authorization to accept delivery of unfabricated strategic mica. Application to the War Production Board for specific authorization to accept delivery of unfabricated strategic mica shall be made by letter, which need only state the source, quantity, grade (size) and quality of the unfabricated strategic mica which the applicant seeks permission to acquire. If the application is granted, the original authorization will be sent by the War Production Board to the person from whom delivery is requested and a copy of the authorization will be sent to the applicant. Authorization to deliver and accept delivery of unfabricated strategic mica must be obtained not only when delivery is to be made by one person to another person, including an affiliate or subsidiary, but also when delivery is to be made from one branch, division, or section of a single person to another branch, division or section of the same or any other person under common ownership or control, such as from a rifting shop or department to a fabricating shop or department owned by the same person.

(h) Reports. The following information should be furnished to War Production Board on Form WPB–3464:

(1) Any person fabricating 10 pounds or more of any block or film mica (strategic or non-strategic) in any one month, or who on the last day of any month possesses 100 pounds or more of such mica or of the value of $100 or more, shall file the above form on or before the 15th day of the month following, stating his inventory, receipts and consumption of all such mica.

(2) Any person fabricating 10 pounds or more of any block or film mica (strategic or non-strategic) in any one month for use in more than one product shall on or before the 15th of the following month file the above form, stating the quantity of each grade and quality fabricated for each product.

(i) Miscellaneous provisions—(1) Applicability of regulations. This order and all transactions affected thereby are subject to all applicable regulations of the War Production Board, as amended from time to time.

(2) Applicability of order. The prohibitions and restrictions contained in this order shall apply to fabricating or causing another to fabricate strategic mica irrespective of whether such articles are manufactured pursuant to a contract made prior or subsequent to the date of this order. In so far as any other War Production Board order may have the effect of limiting or curtailing the fabrication of strategic mica to a greater extent than herein provided, the limitations of such order shall be observed.

(3) Communications to War Production Board. All reports required to be filed hereunder, and all other communications concerning this order, shall, unless otherwise directed, be addressed to: War Production Board, Mica-Graphite Division, Washington 25, D. C., Reference: M–101.

(4) Violations. Any person who wilfully violates any provision of this order, or who, in connection with this order, wilfully conceals a material fact or furnishes false information to any department or agency of the United States, is guilty of a crime, and upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment. In addition, any such person may be prohibited from making or obtaining further deliveries of or from processing or using material under priority control and may be deprived of priorities assistance.

NOTE: The reporting provisions of this order have been approved by the Bureau of the Budget in accordance with the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

Issued this 16th day of September 1944.

WAR PRODUCTION BOARD,
By J. JOSEPH WHELAN,
Recording Secretary.

The following direction is issued pursuant to CMP Reg. 1:

(a) "Special tooling" for purposes of this direction means any jig, die, mold, fixture or other tooling of a type which has only one special use, is not a standard product and is not produced for general sale by the manufacturer of the tooling.

(b) A person who has the right to buy controlled material for MRO (maintenance, repair and operating supplies) under any regulation or order of the War Production Board, such as CMP Regulation No. 5 or orders in the "P" or "U" series, may use the allotment number or symbol assigned by the regulation or order to buy controlled material needed to make special tooling for his own use as MRO.[1] He may also use the allotment number or symbol assigned to him for MRO to buy the controlled material needed to make the tooling and turn it over to the toolmaker or he may order it for direct shipment to the toolmaker.

(c) Even though tooling needed for MRO is a B product the toolmaker may accept controlled material from his customer to manufacture special tooling for him.

(d) This direction is a special exception to the general rule stated in paragraph (g) (3) of CMP Regulation No. 1 (as explained in Interpretation No. 16) which prohibits a customer from furnishing material to the manufacturer of a B product and prohibits a manufacturer of a B product from accepting it from his customer.

[1] The term "his own use as MRO" means the use of special tooling in the person's manufacturing operations, even if the special tooling will belong to his customer.

(e) Any person who buys special tooling under this direction must charge the cost of the controlled material to his expenditures for MRO for the purpose of complying with the quantity restrictions imposed by the regulation or order under which he is operating (as, for example, paragraph (f) of CMP Regulation No. 5). Where a manufacturer buys tooling, or material for tooling, and the tooling will belong to his customer, the manufacturer need not charge his MRO quota, but the customer must charge his.

(f) In those cases where a regulation or order permits a person operating under it to use the allotment number or symbol assigned to deliveries of MRO in buying minor capital additions (as, for example, paragraph (b) (3) of CMP Regulation No. 5), the above procedure may be used in acquiring special tooling which will be treated as minor capital items.

(g) A manufacturer of special tooling need not charge his allotment account with the quantity of controlled materials delivered to him by his customers under this direction.

(h) This direction does not supersede or change the provisions of Direction No. 1 to CMP Regulation No. 5 which explains how to obtain aluminum for patterns.

Issued this 16th day of September 1944.

PART 3268—PLUMBING AND HEATING EQUIPMENT

[Limitation Order L–23–c, as Amended Sept. 16, 1944]

DOMESTIC COOKING APPLIANCES AND DOMESTIC HEATING STOVES

The fulfillment of requirements for the defense of the United States has created a shortage of materials used in the manufacture of domestic cooking appliances and domestic heating stoves for defense, for private account, and for export; and the following order is deemed necessary and appropriate in the public interest and to promote the national defense:

§ 3268.66 Limitation Order L–23–c—(a) Definitions. For the purpose of this order:

(1) "Domestic cooking appliances" means the following non-electric appliances: Gas ranges, cook stoves and hot plates for household use; coal and wood ranges and cook stoves for household use; fuel oil ranges, cook stoves, table stoves and hot plates for household use; combination ranges (including dual oven types, ranges with built-in kitchen heaters, and bungalow types) for household use; camp and trailer stoves for cooking purposes; fuel oil conversion range burners; and drum and portable ovens.

(2) "Domestic heating stoves" means any device (except electric) for the direct heating of the space in and adjacent to that in which the device is located, designed for use without heat distribution pipes or ducts as integral parts of such heating devices, and includes but is not limited to circulating, radiant and portable heaters; trailer and caboose stoves; and laundry stoves (except water jacketed and permanently built-in coil types). Domestic heating stoves shall not include floor or wall furnaces.

(3) "Stove" means any domestic cooking appliance or domestic heating stove.

(4) "Accessories" means aprons, high closets, high shelves, clocks, lights, timers, broilers not using the oven burner (except for combination ranges), broiler pans other than iron, steel or aluminum, cover-alls and any other instruments, attachments, or appurtenances (except top-burner lighters, thermostats, thermometers, top work space and storage compartments) for domestic cooking appliances not essential to any of the following three major cooking operations: Top burner cooking, oven baking and oven broiling.

(5) "Steel coal or wood range or cook stove" means a coal or wood range or cook stove in which the total weight of steel is 20% or more of the total weight of metal in the unit.

(6) "Base period" means the twelve month period from July 1, 1940 to June 30, 1941.

(b) General restrictions on production. (1) [Deleted Aug. 29, 1944.]

(2) No person shall manufacture, fabricate or assemble any stove except to the extent authorized by the War Production Board on Form GA–1850. (Application for authorization should be made in accordance with paragraph (b) (3)). The War Production Board will authorize limited production quotas so that the aggregate production of each type of stove will not exceed the percentage of the base period production specified in Schedule A. Production will not be authorized in any plant where such production, or labor requirements therefor, will interfere with war production in that plant, or in any other plant located in the same area.

(3) A person wishing to make stoves under paragraph (b) (2), should apply for authorization by letter addressed to the War Production Board, Plumbing and Heating Division, Washington 25, D. C., reference L–23–c. This letter should state the proposed production in units of each model per quarter. Where the applicant will need controlled materials in order to produce the equipment, the letter requesting authorization should be accompanied by an application on form CMP–4B for the controlled materials.

(c) Special restrictions on production. In addition to the restrictions contained in paragraph (b), all of the following special restrictions must also be complied with:

(1) [Deleted Aug. 29, 1944.]

(2) No person shall manufacture, fabricate or assemble any accessories or incorporate them into any stove except that those non-electric accessories, not including cover-alls, which were in his stock in a completely assembled and finished condition on June 7, 1944, may be used in the production of stoves.

(3) No thermostats for use with stoves shall be produced.

(4) [Deleted Aug. 29, 1944.]

(5) No person shall use any "bright work", "bright finish", metal finish or trim containing copper, nickel or chrome in the production of stoves.

(d) Exceptions. (1) The restrictions of this order do not apply to the production of repair and replacement parts. However, no person shall produce repair or replacement parts in excess of the quantity required to maintain a practicable minimum working inventory.

(2) [Deleted Aug. 29, 1944.]

(3) [Deleted Aug. 29, 1944.]

(e) Reports. Manufacturers of stoves shall report on or before the tenth day of each month on Form WPB–3249. This reporting requirement has been approved by the Bureau of the Budget in accordance with the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

(f) Applicability of regulations. All persons and transactions affected by this order are subject to all applicable provisions of the regulations of the War Production Board, as amended from time to time.

(g) Applicability of other orders. Insofar as any other orders heretofore or hereafter issued by the War Production Board limit the use of any material in the production of stoves to a greater extent than the restrictions imposed by this order, the restrictions of such other order shall govern, unless otherwise specified therein.

(h) Exceptions and appeals—(1) Production under Priorities Regulation 25. Any person who wants to manufacture, fabricate or assemble more stoves than he has been authorized to make on Form GA–1850 (including a person who has no authorization) may apply for permission to do so under Priorities Regulation 25. He may still, of course, apply for authorization under paragraph (b) (3) if he desires. Application may also be made under Priorities Regulation 25 by any person for permission to manufacture, fabricate or assemble any accessories or to produce thermostats for use with stoves. Accessories made under Priorities Regulation 25 authorization may be assembled or incorporated into stoves.

(2) Appeals. Any appeal from the provisions of this order, other than the restrictions of paragraphs (b) (2), (c) (2) or (c) (3), should be filed on Form WPB–1477 with the field office of the War Production Board for the district in which is located the plant or branch of the appellant to which the appeal relates. No appeals should be filed from the restrictions of paragraphs (b) (2), (c) (2) or (c) (3).

(i) Communications. All communications concerning this order, except appeals, shall unless otherwise directed, be addressed to the War Production Board, Plumbing and Heating Division, Washington 25, D. C., reference L–23–c.

(j) Violations. Any person who willfully violates any provision of this order, or who, in connection with this order willfully conceals a material fact or furnishes false information to any department or agency of the United States is guilty of a crime, and upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment. In addition, any such person may be prohibited from making or obtaining further deliveries of, or from processing or using, material under priority control and may be deprived of priorities assistance.

RELEASE OF CERTAIN SCHEDULE B RESTRICTIONS DURING OCTOBER, 1944

The following direction is issued pursuant to General Conservation Order M–310:

During October 1944, sole cutters shall not be bound by Blocks IIA and IIB of Schedule B of General Conservation Order M–310 in cutting bends, to the extent of one-third of the total number of bends cut by them during the months of June, July and August, 1944.

PART 3290—TEXTILE, CLOTHING AND LEATHER

[General Conservation Order M–385, Interpretation 2]

The following interpretation is issued with respect to General Conservation Order M–385:

1. Q. Are aprons, pinafores, smocks and similar garments included within the term "dresses" in Groups 1 and 2 of the preference rating schedule of Supplement II?

A. No.

2. Q. Are sport shirts included within the term "shirts: business men's" in Groups 11 and 12 of the preference rating Schedule of Supplement II?

A. No. Only shirts with neckband, with or without collar, and with long sleeves are included within the term. The rating may not be used to get material to make sport shirts or short sleeved shirts.

3. Q. Under the provisions of paragraph (c) as to equitable distribution, is a 1943 customer entitled to a pro rata share of the manufacturer's production of items other than items which the customer bought in 1943?

A. Yes. Any person who purchased from the manufacturer in 1943, regardless of what he purchased, is entitled to a pro rata share of the Manufacturer's total production of each item for which the rating is used. (See question 12, Interpretation No. 1.) For example, even though a retailer in 1943 purchased from the manufacturer only shirts, he is entitled to a pro rata share of pajamas produced by the manufacturer, if the manufacturer uses the rating assigned by this order to get material to make pajamas. The retailer is entitled to his pro rata share of each quarter's production calculated on the basis of the percentage that the retailer's total purchases from the manufacturer in the corresponding quarter of 1943 is of the manufacturer's total sales during that quarter of 1943.

§ 3293.1051 Schedule 51 to General Allocation Order M-300—(a) Definitions. (1) "Cellulose plastics" means plasticized cellulose ester flake, as such flake is defined in Schedule M-300-50, in the following forms:

(i) First grade rod and tube (unfabricated) produced by the wet extrusion process, but not including rod and tube produced by extrusion from molding powder.

(ii) First grade cake sheet (unfabricated), not including pieces having an area of less than two square feet, produced as a by-product of normal slicing, polishing or fabricating operations.

(iii) First grade continuous sheeting (unfabricated), not including butt rolls having less than 1 inch of material on the core, and not including trim rolls less than 4 inches in width, produced as a by-product of normal slitting or trimming operation.

(b) General provisions. (1) Cellulose plastics are subject to the provisions of General Allocation Order M-300 as Appendix B materials. § 3286.51 Conservation Order M-199—(a) Definitions. For the purposes of this order:

(1) "Silver" means silver bullion, semi-fabricated forms of silver, silver scrap and other secondary forms of silver, and any alloy, compound, salt, or mixture containing more than one-half of one percent of silver by weight. The term does not include alloyed gold produced in accordance with U. S. Commercial Standards CS 51-35 and CS 67-38. The term includes, however, all metal combinations, such as rolled gold plate or gold filled stock, containing more than one-half of one per cent of silver by weight exclusive of the silver content of the karat gold, if any. The term does not include finished silver products except where such products after processing are to be used in a form or style or for a purpose different from that for which they were originally designed or intended. For example, a finished piece of silverware, or jewelry, or a silver coin may be delivered, accepted, and used without further processing for the purpose for which originally designed or intended without restriction under this order. However, if such articles are to be melted down or otherwise processed for different uses, then they must be treated for the purposes of this order as "silver" (as distinguished from finished products) of the particular kind (foreign, domestic, or Treasury) from which the product was originally made. Articles containing silver which have been discarded from the use for which they were originally designed or intended because of obsolescence, defects, or other reasons shall be deemed to be scrap or secondary silver and not finished silver products. Silver findings, including chain, are considered finished silver products. The following items, as well as all other primary and semi-fabricated forms and partially fabricated parts, containing more than ½ of 1 per cent of silver by weight, are not considered finished silver products but are considered silver: ingots, bars, rods, shot, grain, leaf, powder, sheet, wire, strip, tubing, circles, anodes, salts, compounds, mixtures, brazing alloys, and solders. Silver salts, compounds, or mixtures, which are prepared for sale at retail for the personal use of the purchaser and not for use in the manufacture of a product or in a process for commercial sale, are considered finished silver products.

(2) "Domestic silver" means any silver which has been produced since July 1, 1939, from mines situated inside of the territorial limits of the United States, its territories and possessions.

(3) "Treasury silver" means any silver which has been held or owned by the United States and has been sold pursuant to the provisions of Public Law 137, approved July 12, 1943.

(4) "Foreign silver" means any silver except that which is either domestic silver or Treasury silver. Scrap generated by manufacturers from the processing of domestic silver or Treasury silver shall also be considered to be foreign silver if it does not remain in the ownership of the manufacturer whose processing operations produced it: Provided, however, That domestic silver scrap or Treasury silver scrap produced by suppliers in semi-fabricating operations may be sold by such suppliers to manufacturers as domestic silver casting metal or Treasury silver casting metal.

(5) "Inventory" of a person includes the inventory of affiliates and subsidiaries of such person, and the inventory of others where such inventory is under the control of or under common control with or available for the use of such person.

(6) "Manufacturer" means any person who uses silver by incorporating it physically in the finished products or parts thereof which he manufactures or who uses or consumes silver in any manufacturing, testing, laboratory, educational, therapeutic, plating, or repairing process. The term shall include any person who furnishes silver to a manufacturer under toll agreement to be processed and returned in semi-processed or finished form.

(7) "Supplier" means any person regularly engaged in the business of importing, smelting, or refining silver, or in the business of selling silver to manufacturers and other suppliers. The term includes any person who may import, smelt, or refine silver for his own use as a manufacturer.

(8) "Put into process" means the first change by the manufacturer in the form of the material from that form in which it was received by him. Putting into process does not include minor initial operations such as marking and does not include any alloying, shearing, cutting, trimming, or other operation unless such initial operations are part of a continuous fabricating or assembling operation. Nor does it include operations such as inspection and testing, nor segregation or earmarking for a specific job or operation. The term also does not include the reclaiming and reforming of scrap.

(9) "Process" means cut, draw, machine, stamp, melt, mix, compound, cast, forge, roll, turn, spin, or otherwise shape or change in form or chemical composition. It also means assemble. The term does not include sand-bobbing, buffing, or polishing an assembled article.

(10) The term "assemble" shall not be deemed to include the putting together of an article after delivery to a sales outlet or consumer in knock-down form pursuant to an established custom. The term "assemble" shall also not be deemed to include adding finished parts to an otherwise finished article when the placing of one or more finished parts or the size or type of one or more finished parts is determined by the use to which the ultimate consumer is to put the article. In all other cases, the term "assemble" shall be deemed to include adding parts, whether of silver or of any other material, to an article of silver, where such article is not deemed complete and ready for immediate sale or use until such parts have been added, including adding gems, stones, or glass jewels or beads to articles or parts of silver, and adding brushes, combs, knives, forks, or other utensils to backs or handles of silver.

(11) The term "deliver" shall not be deemed to include a redelivery of silver to the owner thereof, who is a manufacturer, by a person to whom such owner delivered such silver to be alloyed or processed and returned to such owner for further processing; nor does it include the delivery under the same circumstances by the owner to the person who alloys or processes the silver for the owner.

(12) The term "accept delivery" shall not be deemed to include acceptance of delivery of silver by the owner thereof, who is a manufacturer, from a person to whom such owner delivered such silver to be alloyed or processed and returned to such owner for further processing; nor does it include acceptance of delivery under the same circumstances from the owner by the person who alloys or processes the silver for the owner.

(b) Restrictions upon sale or delivery of silver by suppliers. (1) No supplier shall sell or deliver any kind of silver (foreign, Treasury, or domestic) except to

(i) Another supplier; or
(ii) A manufacturer; or
(iii) The United States; or
(iv) Metals Reserve Company or any other corporation organized under section (5) (d) of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation Act as amended.

(2) No supplier shall sell or deliver foreign silver to a manufacturer except to fill orders for uses on List A.

(3) No supplier shall sell or deliver Treasury silver to a manufacturer except to fill orders for uses on List C.

(4) No supplier shall sell or deliver any kind of silver (foreign, Treasury, or domestic) to any person if he knows or has reason to believe such silver is to be received or used in violation of the terms of this order.

(c) Restrictions upon sale or delivery of silver by manufacturers. No manufacturer shall sell or deliver any kind of silver (foreign, Treasury, or domestic) except to:

(1) A supplier; or
(2) The United States; or
(3) Metals Reserve Company or any other corporation organized under section (5) (d) of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation Act as amended.

(d) Restrictions upon purchase, acceptance of delivery, and processing of foreign silver by manufacturers—(1) Uses on List A. On and after July 29, 1943, no manufacturer shall purchase, accept delivery of, put into process, or process any foreign silver for any use other than a use on List A.

(2) Temporary exception. Notwithstanding the foregoing provisions of this paragraph (d), a manufacturer may continue the processing of any foreign silver which on July 29, 1943, he had already put into process for any use on List B to fill orders rated A-1-a or higher; also, a manufacturer may put into process and process to completion for a List C use any foreign silver owned by him on July 29, 1943, and he may complete the processing of any foreign silver already put into process by him on such date for any such use: Provided, That on and after September 6, 1943, no manufacturer may put into process any foreign silver in the manufacture of brazing alloys or solders, but he may complete the processing of any foreign silver already put into process by him on September 6, 1943, for any such use: Provided, further, That on and after May 15, 1944, no manufacturer may put into process any foreign silver owned by him on July 29, 1943, in the manufacture of official articles (item 2, List C) except to fill specific approved orders or contracts received and accepted by him prior to May 15, 1944, which call for delivery of a specified number of articles at a fixed price.

(3) Temporary exception for List D uses. Notwithstanding the limitations of paragraph (d) (1), a manufacturer may continue the processing of any foreign silver which on May 15, 1944, he had already put into process for any use on List D to fill orders rated AA-5 or higher; and he may purchase, accept delivery of, put into process, and process to completion for any use on List D any foreign silver required to fill specific orders rated AA-5 or higher received and accepted by him prior to May 15, 1944, which call for delivery of a specified number of articles at a fixed price.

(e) Restrictions upon purchase, acceptance of delivery, and processing of Treasury silver by manufacturers. No manufacturer shall purchase, accept delivery of, put into process, or process Treasury silver except for a use on List C.

(f) Authorization to purchase Treasury silver from the United States. Purchases of Treasury silver from the United States pursuant to Public Law 137, approved July 12, 1943, shall be made only upon specific authorization of the War Production Board. Any supplier or manufacturer desiring such authorization may apply by letter to the War Production Board, Miscellaneous Minerals Division, Washington 25, D. C., Reference: M-199, not later than the 15th day of the month preceding the month in which delivery of the Treasury silver is desired. In such letter the applicant, in addition to other pertinent information, shall state the nature of his business and the intended use of the silver in terms of the uses specified on List C.

(g) (1) Restrictions upon the purchase, acceptance of delivery, and processing of domestic silver for List B uses. In any calendar quarter after July 1, 1943, until further notice, no manufacturer shall purchase, accept delivery of, or put into process domestic silver for uses on List B in excess of ⅛ of the aggregate amount by weight of all silver (foreign and domestic), computed on the basis of the fine silver content thereof in troy ounces, put into process by such manufacturer for List B uses and for item 2 of List C uses (official articles) during the calendar year 1941 or the calendar year 1942, whichever year is the greater: Provided, however, That such manufacturer, in computing his quota of domestic silver under the foregoing provision, shall deduct from the said aggregate amount put into process by him for List B uses and for item 2 of List C uses (official articles) for the year 1941 or 1942, as the case may be, the aggregate amount by weight of silver (fine silver content, troy ounces) put into process by him in such year for List B uses and for item 2 of List C uses (official articles) to fill orders rated A-3 or higher, and the aggregate amount by weight (fine silver content, troy ounces) of sales made by him in such year of silver scrap or silver waste material resulting from the processing of silver for List B uses and for item 2 of List C uses (official articles), exclusive of orders rated A-3 or higher.

(2) Quota restrictions under toll agreements. In any case where prior to January 1, 1943, a manufacturer furnished silver to another manufacturer under toll agreement to be processed and returned in semi-processed or finished form, the manufacturer who furnished the silver, and not the manufacturer who did the processing under toll agreement, shall be considered, for the purpose of computation of domestic silver quotas under the provisions of paragraph (g) (1), as having put into process the silver involved. On and after November 10, 1943, where one person furnishes silver to another under toll agreement to be processed and returned, the same considerations shall apply in determining whose quota should be charged as between the person who furnishes the silver and the one who processes it: that is, the quota of the person who furnishes the silver shall be charged and not that of the toll processor.

(3) Assignability of quotas. Domestic silver quotas may not be assigned except as provided in § 944.28, Priorities Regulation No. 7A.

(4) No quota restrictions on domestic silver for other than List B uses. A manufacturer may purchase, accept delivery of, put into process, and process domestic silver without regard to the quota limitations of paragraph (g) (1) for any use on List A, any use on List C, any use on List D or any unlisted use.

(h) Special exceptions as to domestic silver. The restrictions of this order as to the purchase, acceptance of delivery, and processing of domestic silver for List B uses do not apply to any manufacturer who qualifies under either subparagraph (1) or (2) below; that is, a manufacturer:

(1) Who meets each and all of the following requirements:

(i) His gross sales of all repair services and products sold by him, whether or not manufactured by him, did not exceed $35,000 in the preceding calendar year.

(ii) He does not purchase, accept delivery of, or put into process in excess of 500 troy ounces, fine silver content, of domestic silver for List B uses during the period between July 1, 1944 and October 1, 1944, or in any calendar quarter thereafter.

(iii) He performs all the processing operations (except as provided in paragraph (h) (1) (v) below) from the form of silver as received from silver suppliers to the finished products, in his own plant, using his own equipment.

(iv) He does not process silver for others under toll agreement.

(v) He does not have any of the manufacturing operations on his own products performed for him by others under toll agreement, except that he may furnish silver and have findings, including chain, made for him by others under toll agreement, if (a) the aggregate weight (troy ounces, fine silver content) of such articles does not exceed, in any calendar quarter, 25% by weight of the total amount of silver (troy ounces, fine silver content) purchased by him for List B uses in the same calendar quarter, and (b) such findings, including chain, are to be incorporated in his own products; or

(2) Who meets each and all of the following requirements:

(i) He was engaged in the silver manufacturing business throughout the year 1941;

(ii) His gross receipts in the year 1941 from the sale of silver products did not exceed $25,000;

(iii) He continues to engage in the silver manufacturing business, and to have at all times not more than five persons at one time, excluding all clerical employees, working in such business, each of which persons is either over the age of 50 years or is physically incapacitated from performing ordinary factory labor; and

(iv) His gross sales of silver products for the calendar year 1943 and for each calendar year thereafter do not exceed $35,000 per year, Provided, however, That in no event shall he purchase, accept delivery of, or put into process domestic silver for List B uses in any calendar quarter under this exception (h) (2) in excess of 25 per cent of the aggregate amount by weight of all silver (foreign and domestic), computed on the basis of the fine silver content thereof in troy ounces, put into process by him for List B uses during the calendar year 1941.

(v) For a manufacturer to be engaged in the "silver manufacturing business" as the term is used in paragraph (h) (2), at least 75% of the gross receipts of such manufacturer in the year 1941 and succeeding years from products of all kinds sold by him (including products sold but not manufactured by him) shall have been derived from the sale of silver products manufactured by him. A silver product is one in which silver is physically incorporated and in which the amount of contained silver is greater either in weight or in value than any other single material, excluding precious or semi-precious stones, contained in such products.

(3) The exceptions set forth in paragraphs (h) (1) and (h) (2) are intended for the benefit only of manufacturers who operate on a small scale. No manufacturer shall be entitled to operate under either of these exceptions and at the same time to purchase, accept delivery of, and put into process silver under the quota provided in paragraph (g) (1). Moreover, these exceptions are mutually exclusive: a manufacturer who purchases and uses silver under paragraph (h) (1) cannot also purchase and use silver under paragraph (h) (2), and conversely, a manufacturer who purchases and uses silver under paragraph (h) (2) cannot purchase and use silver under paragraph (h) (1).

(4) Manufacturers who are owned or controlled by the same person shall be deemed to be a single manufacturer under this paragraph (h).

(i) Special directions as to distribution of foreign, Treasury, and domestic silver. From time to time the War Production Board may issue special directions to individual suppliers and manufacturers, specifying the sources, destinations, and amounts of silver (foreign, Treasury, or domestic) to be delivered or acquired by them.

(j) Restrictions on holding of scrap silver. (1) No manufacturer shall purchase or accept delivery of silver of any kind (foreign, domestic, or Treasury) if he has on hand more than a thirty days' accumulation of scrap silver, exclusive of wastes, such as mirror wastes, polishings, and sweepings, whether foreign, Treasury, or domestic, or any combination thereof, unless such accumulation aggregates less than 1,000 ounces, fine silver content.

(2) No manufacturer shall have scrap melted, reformed, and redelivered to him under toll agreement if by such redelivery his inventory of silver will be in excess of a minimum practicable working inventory, taking into consideration the orders on his books requiring use of silver and the limitations placed upon the use of silver by this order.

(k) Fungibility of silver stocks recognized. Although this order deals with three kinds of silver (foreign, Treasury, and domestic) which are separately defined, and imposes restrictions which vary in their application as among these kinds of silver, it is recognized that all three kinds of silver are physically identical. Accordingly, nothing in this order shall be deemed to require any person holding two or more kinds of silver to keep the various kinds physically segregated. It is also understood that a person who holds only one kind of silver at a particular moment may be called upon to deliver or to use another kind of silver. In such cases, the person holding the one kind of silver may change part or all of his stock of such silver to silver of another kind simply by selling part of his stock to a supplier, ordering an equivalent amount, silver content, of the different kind of silver required for his purposes and paying or receiving the difference in price. For the purposes of this order, physical delivery to the supplier of the silver being sold and physical delivery by the supplier of the different kind of silver being purchased are not required in order to change the character of the silver involved from the kind in stock to the kind being purchased. The form of the silver can also be disregarded. For example, a manufacturer with partially processed stocks of foreign silver which he cannot finish for List B uses under the restrictions of the order, can purchase domestic silver bars having a silver content equal to the silver content of the partially processed silver, sell those same bars back to the supplier as foreign silver, pay the difference in price, and then consider that the partially processed silver is domestic silver and may be further processed for List B uses as permitted by the order. Any purchasing or processing of domestic silver under the provisions of this paragraph for uses on List B must, however, be within the quota limitations of paragraph (g) hereof. Furthermore, at no time shall any person sell silver of any kind in excess of the amount of silver of that kind, fine silver content, owned by him. For the purposes of this order, silver owned by a person shall be deemed to include, in the case of suppliers only, silver which such supplier has contracted to purchase under a firm written contract calling for the delivery of a specific amount of silver of a specific kind within a specific period, not exceeding five months from the date of the contract.

(l) Use certificate. No supplier shall deliver any silver (foreign, Treasury, or domestic) to any manufacturer, and no manufacturer shall accept delivery of any silver from any supplier, unless the manufacturer shall have furnished the supplier with a certificate specifying the end use of such silver in terms of the uses specified on List A, List B, List C, and List D. Such certificate may be placed on or attached to the purchase order, and shall be in substantially the following form, signed manually or as provided in Priorities Regulation No. 7:

Pursuant to Conservation Order M-199, the undersigned hereby certifies to the supplier and the War Production Board that the silver covered by the accompanying order (and all silver purchased from the supplier under orders placed in the future) shall be used solely for the following purposes: _____

(Name of purchaser)

Date_____ By_____
(Signature and title of duly authorized officer)

In appropriate cases one certificate may cover the use of silver to be delivered under orders to be placed with such supplier in the future. Such certificate shall constitute a representation to, but shall not be filed with, the War Production Board. The supplier shall be entitled to rely on such representation, unless he knows or has reason to believe it to be false.

(m) Exceptions—(1) United States Government. None of the restrictions in this order as to sale, purchase, delivery, acceptance of delivery, or use of silver shall be applicable to the United States Government or any of its departments or agencies: Provided, however, This exception shall not be deemed to extend to a manufacturer who manufactures items for delivery to or for the account of the United States Government or any of its departments or agencies. An item is not deemed removed from the list of restricted uses simply because it is to be manufactured for delivery to or for the account of the United States Government or any of its departments or agencies.

(2) Repair. The restrictions of this order as to the putting into process and the processing of foreign, Treasury, or domestic silver shall not apply to a person repairing a used article on or off the premises of the owner, if the person making the repair does not use silver weighing in the aggregate more than 3 ounces and if any putting into process or processing done by such person is for the purpose of making the specific repair. The term "repair" as used in this paragraph shall include the replating of used articles, provided the article was originally made of silver or silver-plated material.

(n) Limitations of inventories. No manufacturer shall accept delivery of silver, in the form of raw materials, semi-processed materials, finished parts, or sub-assemblies, nor shall he put into process any raw material, in quantities which in either case shall result in an inventory of raw, semi-processed, or finished material in excess of a minimum practicable working inventory, taking into consideration the limitations placed upon the use of silver by this order.

(o) Restrictions on sale and purchase of manufactured products— (1) General. No person whether manufacturer, wholesaler, jobber, distributor, dealer, retailer, or consumer, shall sell, purchase, deliver, or accept delivery of any article made in whole or in part of silver if he knows or has reason to believe that it was made, assembled, or delivered contrary to the restrictions contained in this order.

(2) Official articles. Notwithstanding § 944.11 of Priorities Regulation No. 1, no manufacturer shall sell or deliver official articles except to the person from whom the manufacturer received the order or contract on which the articles were manufactured. However, if any manufacturer holds any official articles which he is unable to deliver to such person, because of cancellation or cut-back of the order or contract, or because of over-run, or rejection, such manufacturer, if he has a domestic silver quota under paragraph (g) (1), following the procedure described in paragraph (k), may convert the identity of the silver content of the articles into domestic silver within the limitations of such quota, and thereafter dispose of them without restriction as List B items.

(p) Reports. Each supplier and each manufacturer and every other person affected by this order shall file such reports as may be requested from time to time by the War Production Board, subject to the approval of the Bureau of the Budget, pursuant to the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

(q) Miscellaneous provisions—(1) Appeals. Any appeal from the provisions of this order shall be made by filing a letter in triplicate, referring to the particular provisions appealed from, and stating fully the grounds of the appeal.

(2) [Deleted May 15, 1944]

(3) Applicability of regulations. This order and all transactions affected hereby are subject to all applicable provisions of War Production Board regulations as amended from time to time.

(4) Communications to War Production Board. All reports required to be filed hereunder, and all communications concerning this order, shall, unless otherwise directed, be addressed to: War Production Board, Miscellaneous Minerals Division, Washington 25, D. C. Ref: M-199.

(5) Violations. Any person who wilfully violates any provision of this order, or who, in connection with this order, wilfully conceals a material fact or furnishes false information to any department or agency of the United States is guilty of a crime, and upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment. In addition, any such person may be prohibited from making or obtaining further deliveries of, or from processing or using, material under priority control and may be deprived of priorities assistance.

Issued this 18th day of September, 1944.

WAR PRODUCTION BOARD,
By J. JOSEPH WHELAN,
Recording Secretary.

4. Manufacture of solders.

5. Use of brazing alloys or solders manufactured of Treasury silver for any purpose except a use on List B.

6. [Deleted Nov. 10, 1943]

7. Manufacture of Desalination Kits.

8. Manufacture of products or use in processes pursuant to Army, Navy, or Air Corps contracts to which serial code numbers with the prefix "TAG" have been assigned by the procuring agency.

LIST D: Ex-quota uses of domestic silver under Conservation Order M-199—regardless of rated orders, only domestic silver is permitted for these uses but the quota limitations of paragraph (g) (1) do not apply; foreign silver, except on a temporary basis (paragraph (d) (3)), and Treasury silver are not permitted at all for these uses:

1. Manufacture of mirrors.

2. Manufacture of glass liners or fillers for vacuum jugs and bottles.

3. Manufacture of push-pins for wrist watches.

4. Manufacture of nibs, interior tubes, filling mechanisms, clips, reinforcing caprings or bands of fountain pens and tips, interior operating mechanisms, clips, and reinforcing bands of mechanical pencils.

5. Manufacture of strings for musical instruments.

6. Manufacture of watch crowns and bows.

7. Educational purposes. This includes the use of silver for occupational, educational, and recreational therapy as well as use by art and trade schools and classes. The production of articles with this use of silver must clearly be of secondary importance to the educational or therapeutic purposes accomplished through such use. In the event that articles produced with this use of silver fall within the description of articles restricted under List B, such articles may be sold or commercially distributed by the school, class, student, or patient only to the extent of a gross sales value of $300 per student or patient per calendar quarter and may not exceed a total weight in finished form of 100 troy ounces, fine silver content, per student or patient per calendar quarter.

INTERPRETATION 1

Conservation Order M-199 imposes certain quota limitations upon the amount of domestic silver which a manufacturer may put into process for List B uses. In many silver manufacturing processes, a manufacturer starts with a certain amount of silver in primary shapes and ends the operation with a large part of such silver in the form of scrap. It is customary for the manufacturer in these cases to have this scrap melted, rolled, or otherwise processed so as to return it to a primary shape in which it can again be subjected to manufacturing processes. This reforming of the silver scrap in some instances is done by the manufacturer himself, in other instances the work is done by others under toll agreement. The question has been presented under these quota limitations as to whether the processing of this reformed scrap must be considered as coming within this meaning of the term "put into process" or whether such processing of reformed scrap shall be considered as only the continuation of a processing operation which began when the manufacturer processed for the first time in any form for a List B use the specific amount of silver from which such scrap was produced.

It is hereby determined that for the purposes of the quota limitations of Order M-199, the term "put into process" shall be deemed to cover only the manufacturer's first processing for a List B use of a given amount of silver. It shall not be deemed to cover the subsequent processing of reformed scrap produced therefrom, whether such reforming is done by the manufacturer himself or by others for him under toll agreement. The term shall be deemed to cover, however, the first processing for a List B use of reformed scrap which was produced from putting silver into process for a use which is not on List B.

This interpretation supersedes Interpretation 1 of Conservation Order M-199 issued September 1, 1942. (Issued Nov. 10, 1943.)

INTERPRETATION 2

(a) It is customary for many silver manufacturers to ship the scrap they produce to a supplier under toll agreement for reforming and return. As suppliers and manufacturers are bound by the restrictions of the order as to the amount of silver, foreign, domestic, and Treasury, they may sell, purchase, deliver, and accept delivery of, for the various uses listed in the order, and as these toll transactions are in effect excepted from such restrictions, it is important that the amount of silver shipped by the supplier, which purports to be the return of silver reclaimed from the scrap, have a real relation to the amount of scrap sent in by the manufacturer. However, much time would be lost if the supplier were required to wait until he has reclaimed, refined, and reformed the scrap before returning anything to the manufacturer.

Accordingly, it is hereby determined that a supplier may ship the estimated silver content of the scrap to a manufacturer immediately upon his receipt of the scrap, without waiting for the scrap to be reclaimed, refined, and reformed. Furthermore, it is recognised that in cases where a manufacturer makes frequent shipments of scrap to a supplier, it is impossible as a practical matter for the supplier to know at all times that he has not shipped to that manufacturer more silver than the silver content of the scrap the manufacturer has shipped to him. In such cases it will be sufficient if the supplier will check his accounts at least once every 30 days and make sure that his total shipments of silver to any such manufacturer against scrap received have not exceeded the silver content of the scrap received from such manufacturer.

(b) Under the provisions of paragraph (m) (1), the United States Government, its departments and agencies are excepted from the restrictions of the order as to the sale, purchase, delivery, acceptance of delivery, and use of silver. This exception applies to the requirements of paragraph (1) dealing with the "use certificate." Such certificate is not required in the case of silver deliveries by a supplier to the United States Government or one of its departments or agencies.

In this same connection, a question has been raised as to whether or not this exception will permit brazing alloys and solders ordered by the Government or one of its departments or agencies to be made out of foreign silver contrary to the restrictions of paragraph (d). This exception is designed to relieve only the Government from the restrictions of the order—not the persons who manufacture items for delivery to the Government. Hence manufacturers of brazing alloys and solders are not relieved from the restrictions of paragraph (d) even though such alloys and solders are to be delivered to the Government. (Issued Nov. 10, 1943.)

PART 3286—MISCELLANEOUS MINERALS

[Conservation Order M-199, Direction 2 as Amended Sept. 18, 1944]

MANUFACTURE OF ROLLED GOLD PLATE AND GOLD FILLED STOCK CONTAINING MORE THAN ½ OF 1% OF SILVER BY WEIGHT, EXCLUSIVE OF THE SILVER CONTENT OF THE KARAT GOLD, IF ANY

The following amended direction is issued pursuant to Conservation Order M-199:

This direction tells how rolled gold plate and gold filled stock, which come within the definition of "silver" under Conservation Order M-199, may be made. It places restrictions upon the use of copper and copper base alloy in such manufacturing.

(a) Definitions. For the purposes of this direction:

(1) "Rolled gold plate and gold-filled stock" include only materials of that description which contain more than ½ of 1% of silver by weight exclusive of the silver content of the karat gold, if any.

(2) "Karat gold" means alloyed gold produced in accordance with U. S. Commercial Standard CS67-38 (issued by the National Bureau of Standards).

(3) "Copper" means unalloyed copper.

(4) "Copper base alloy" means any alloy metal in the composition of which the percentage of copper metal by weight equals or exceeds 40% of the total weight of the alloy. It shall include metal alloy made from scrap. Copper base alloy does not include "karat gold."

(5) "Inter-liner" means any copper or copper base alloy used between karat gold and silver or other metal in the manufacture of gold filled stock and rolled gold plate.

(b) Restrictions covering rolled gold plate and gold filled stock. After August 7, 1944, no person shall make, sell, accept delivery of, or use rolled gold plate or gold filled stock, in which the base metal is copper or copper base alloy or in which the copper or copper base alloy inter-liner or inter-liners equals or exceeds 10% of the total weight of the finished rolled gold plate or gold filled stock, for any purpose for which the use, delivery or acceptance of delivery of copper is prohibited by Orders M-9-c, M-9-c-2, or any other War Production Board order. Rolled gold plate or gold filled stock in which the base is not copper or copper base alloy, and in which the total weight of the inter-liner or inter-liners is less than 10% of the total weight of the finished rolled gold plate or gold filled stock, shall not be considered a copper material and hence shall not be subject to Orders M-9-c, or M-9-c-2, or other War Production Board orders relating to copper or copper base alloy, but the use of copper base alloy containing tin for such inter-liner is prohibited in any event.

(c) Purchase of copper for inter-liners. Any person who wants to buy copper or copper base alloys for use as inter-liner as permitted by this Direction may place an order by the use of the symbol S-4 and the standard certification prescribed in Priorities Regulation 7. Such an order is an authorized controlled material order for the purpose of all CMP Regulations.

NOTE: Paragraph (d), formerly paragraph (c) redesignated Sept. 18, 1944.

(d) Application of other orders. After August 7, 1944, the provisions of this Direction with respect to rolled gold plate and gold filled stock shall govern in any case where they are inconsistent with the provisions of Order M-9-c, M-9-c-2, or any other order of the War Production Board restricting the use of copper or copper base alloy. In all other respects, any more restrictive provisions of an order of the War Production Board shall prevail. No provision of this direction shall be deemed to relieve any person from complying with any of the restrictions of Order M-199.

Issued this 18th day of September 1944.

§ 3290.271 Conservation Order M-70—(a) Control and allocation. No processor shall make or accept delivery of, or use or put into process raw or scrap jute, jute products or scrap jute manufactured products in violation of directions of the War Production Board issued pursuant to this paragraph. The War Production Board may from time to time allocate the supply of raw and scrap jute, jute products and scrap jute manufactured products, and specifically direct the time, manner and quantities in which deliveries to or by particular processors shall be made or withheld. It may also direct or prohibit particular uses of raw and scrap jute, jute products and scrap jute manufactured products.

(b) Restrictions on processing, sale and use. (1) (i) No person shall use or put into process any raw jute, except for the manufacture of the products listed in List A.

(ii) No person shall use any product listed in List A, except for the uses there specified.

(iii) No person shall use any imported jute product listed in List C, except for the uses there specified.

(iv) Where restrictions on sale are listed in List A or C, no person shall sell any product covered by such restrictions, except in conformity with those restrictions.

(2) No processor shall put into process in any calendar month more raw jute than is necessary to meet his required deliveries of jute products and to maintain a practicable minimum working inventory. The term "practicable minimum working inventory" is to be strictly construed as meaning the minimum inventory which will permit of economical operation of plant and will depend, in each case, upon the practicability of changing a spinning system from the manufacture of one product to another.

(3) Whether he uses jute or any other fiber, no person shall use any soft fiber carding, drawing, roving or spinning machinery in the manufacture of any products other than products specifically permitted in this order, or in any other conservation order of the War Production Board specifically regulating the end uses for which fiber may be processed. This subparagraph does not apply to machinery normally used for processing scrap jute.

(c) Restrictions on delivery. No person shall sell or deliver any product controlled by this order if he knows or has reason to believe that the person who is buying or accepting delivery of the product will use it in a manner which this order, including Lists A and C, does not permit. He should satisfy himself as to this in some reasonable manner before making delivery. He may, but need not, require a statement in writing showing the specific purpose or use for which the item is ordered.

(d) Importations. The importation of jute and jute products shall be made in conformity with the provisions of General Imports Order M-63, as amended from time to time.

(e) Restrictions on the use of damaged jute and damaged jute products. Any processor, person or dealer who has in his possession damaged jute defined in paragraph (f) (13), or jute products defined in paragraph (f) (3) that are damaged, shall report to the War Production Board the nature of the damage and the quantity not suitable for the manufacture of the products, or for the end uses, permitted by this order. The report shall be by letter setting forth all pertinent facts, including a statement of the portion of each bale or package actually damaged. After making that report and receiving from the War Production Board an acknowledgement which does not object to his claim of damage, he may then use or dispose of the portion of each bale or package, actually damaged and so reported, free from the restrictions of this order excepting the restrictions in paragraph (b) (3).

(2) Upon the basis of requirements submitted by each claimant agency the War Production Board will allot on or before the 15th day of the second month preceding the quarter to be covered by the allotment, to each claimant a quantity of tires by groups and sub-groups for the following quarterly period and shall also make tentative allotments to each claimant for the following three quarterly periods.

(3) Within 5 days after receipt of its allotment, each claimant agency shall furnish to the War Production Board a statement showing the break-down of its allotment by group and sub-group between original equipment and replacement.

(e) Issuance of production directives to producers. Not later than 10 days after the time prescribed in the preceding paragraph for the issuance of allotments to the claimant agencies, War Production Board will issue to each producer a directive for the period covered by the allotments, prescribing the percentage of the producer's facilities by groups and sub-groups allocated to the production of the following classes of orders:

(1) Original equipment; (2) replacement by military claimants; (3) indirect military replacement.

"Indirect Military" refers to claimants not designated as military claimants in paragraph (b) (4).

(f) [Deleted May 31, 1944]

Original Equipment

(g) Vehicle manufacturer's authorization. (1) Each manufacturer of vehicles or equipment listed in Table I must file his application for original equipment tires on Form WPB–3663 with the appropriate industry division of the War Production Board in accordance with instructions accompanying the form, unless he is specifically excused from filing. A manufacturer of vehicles or equipment not listed in Table I need not file Form WPB–3663, unless he is specifically instructed to do so.

(2) On or before the first day of the month preceding each quarter, manufacturers of vehicles and equipment listed in Table I for which tires have been allotted, will be authorized by the War Production Board on Form GA–1733 to accept delivery of a specified number of tires by group and sub-group. In the case of tire mounted vehicles or equipment not listed in Table I, similar authorizations will be issued to vehicle manufacturers by the appropriate claimant agency.

(3) No manufacturer may accept delivery of tires for his production of vehicles or equipment (including tire mounted components of vehicles or equipment) unless he has been specifically authorized to accept such delivery under this order.

(h) Vehicle manufacturer's certification to his supplier. (1) In order to receive tires for original equipment, each vehicle manufacturer authorized under the preceding paragraph must certify to his supplier not later than the 15th day of the month preceding the first month of the quarter in which shipments are to be made, in substantially the following form signed by an authorized official:

Agency identification number or symbol _____ The undersigned certifies, subject to the criminal penalties for misrepresentation contained in section 35 (A) of the United States Criminal Code, that he is authorized to accept delivery of the following tires for his production during the quarterly period commencing _____, 1944; that the monthly deliveries specified will not result at any time in an inventory exceeding 10 days' supply based upon his total authorized monthly production:

Size Ply Type Quantity

The identification number shall consist of the appropriate symbol followed by the major program number (see Table I, unless authorization is issued by claimant agency).

No certification other than the above is required. The standard form of certification provided in Priorities Regulation 7 may not be substituted.

(2) By using the above certification, a vehicle manufacturer who buys tire mounted components for his production may authorize the manufacturer of the components to accept delivery of tires. On the basis of the certification received from his customer, the manufacturer of the tire mounted components shall use the same certification in placing his orders for tires with a producer. He must place his certified orders within the time prescribed for vehicle manufacturers.

(3) A vehicle manufacturer's authorization for tires may be reduced or cancelled at any time by the War Production Board or claimant agency issuing the same. A manufacturer who is notified that his authorization has been reduced or cancelled must immediately reduce or cancel delivery orders which he has placed under his authorization to the extent necessary to bring scheduled deliveries within the authorized amount.

(4) A vehicle manufacturer's authorization for tires may be increased by the War Production Board or claimant agency issuing the same at any time during the quarter covered by the authorization.

In placing orders under an increase in authorization, a vehicle manufacturer must certify to the producer that he does so under "Increase dated _____," and in addition, must use the above certification for vehicle manufacturers signed by an authorized official. This may be done by preceding the certification with "Increase dated _____" (inserting date of increase). If the vehicle manufacturer is unable to place his certified order for additional tires, it may be referred to the War Production Board, for placement.

The procedure described in (2) above may be followed in authorizing a manufacturer of tire mounted components to receive tires under the increase, but the increase must be identified by date in the certification.

(5) No manufacturer shall certify an order for original equipment tires until he has received his authorization under this order.

Replacement

(i) Replacement by procuring claimant agency. In order to receive tires for replacement purposes under its allotment for any quarter, a claimant agency which purchases tires must certify to its supplier on or before the 15th day of the month preceding the quarter in substantially the following form signed by an authorized official:

Agency identification symbol _____ The undersigned certifies that the claimant agency identified by the above symbol is authorized to procure the following tires for replacement during the quarter commencing _____, 1944 and that the tires have been charged against its allotment for that period:

Size Ply Type Quantity

Open Capacity and Unplaced Orders

(j) Placement against open capacity. Unplaced certified orders may be referred to the War Production Board, for placement on the basis of open capacity reports received from producers. Unplaced orders must be received by the War Production Board on or before the 20th day of the month preceding the first month of the quarter for which the orders are certified.

(k) Report by producer of his open capacity. Each producer shall report to the War Production Board, by letter not later than the 20th day of the month preceding the first month of the quarter, the open capacity he has available for the production of tires in each group and sub-group, after making provision for the scheduling of all orders placed with him as of the last day for placement of orders for production during the quarter. This report shall be based upon the percentage allocation of his production facilities made by directive issued to him under paragraph (e).

Producer's Acceptance and Shipment of Orders

(l) General restrictions on acceptance. Unless otherwise directed under the provisions of this order, no producer shall accept or fill any orders for tires except: (1) Orders certified under paragraphs (h) or (i) and presented to him within the prescribed time for placement; (2) orders for indirect military replacement.

Orders certified under paragraphs (h) or (i) must be presented not later than the 15th day of the month preceding the first month of the quarter in which shipments are to be made, except certified orders based upon an increase in a vehicle manufacturer's authorization, which may be presented at any time during the quarter.

(m) Acceptance or fulfillment of orders in excess of authorized production. No producer shall accept or fill any orders for tires to be delivered in any quarter in excess of the percentage allocation of his facilities for the particular class of order established by his production directive issued under paragraph (e), unless otherwise directed under the provisions of this order. No producer shall accept orders in excess of 100% of his expected production for the quarter.

(n) Limitation on size of shipments. No producer may ship in any calendar month to a vehicle manufacturer or claimant agency more than 40% of the tires in any size or type scheduled by him for shipment during the quarter to the particular manufacturer or agency under certified orders unless he can do so without interfering with other certified orders on his schedule. Shipments for indirect military replacement may be made only to the extent that the shipments do not interfere with the producer's frozen schedule under paragraph (p).

Scheduling Provisions

(o) Directions by claimant agency. A claimant agency which purchases tires may issue the following written directions to a producer: (1) Diverting a particular shipment of tires scheduled for its account by the producer; (2) changing tire sizes to be produced for its account within a particular sub-group but only if the production capacity required and the total number of tires scheduled for its account are not increased by the change.

(p) Frozen production schedule. On the first day of the quarter, each producer's production schedule shall become a frozen schedule within the meaning of Priorities Regulation 18 for the quarterly period, and may not be altered except as provided in that regulation. A producer may, however, accept certified orders based upon an increase in a vehicle manufacturer's authorization unless the production or shipment of any such orders will interfere with his frozen schedule. In addition, written directions may be issued by a claimant agency under paragraph (o).

The following orders shall automatically become part of a producer's frozen schedule:

(1) Orders for original equipment tires which have been certified under paragraph (h) and which the producer has accepted and agreed to ship during the quarter.

(2) Orders placed with him by the War Production Board on the basis of his open capacity report for the quarterly period.

(3) Orders for replacement tires which he has accepted and agreed to fill during the quarterly period.

(q) Other scheduling provisions. With respect to the production or shipment of tires, the War Production Board may notwithstanding any other order, preference rating, directive, rule, or regulation (except Priorities Regulation No. 18) of the War Production Board or other Governmental agency:

(1) Direct the return or cancellation of any purchase order on the books of a producer.

(2) Direct changes in the production or shipping schedule of a producer.

(3) Cancel purchase orders placed with one producer and direct that they be placed with another producer.

Miscellaneous Provisions

(r) Effect of preference ratings. Within the limits established by his production directive, a producer shall accept orders certified under paragraphs (h) and (i) in the order in which they are received by him without regard to preference ratings.

(s) Status of unfilled orders at end of quarter. Unless authorized in writing by the War Production Board, no producer shall carry over any order which he has accepted for delivery during a particular quarter and which he has been unable to produce and ship during that quarter to the following quarter.

(t) Duplication of orders. No purchaser of tires shall duplicate an order for tires in any group or sub-group even though he intends to cancel or reduce his orders to the authorized or allotted amount prior to delivery.

(u) Use of producer's interchangeable facilities. A producer shall use his interchangeable facilities in accordance with List 6, Appendix II, Rubber Order R-1 as amended.

(v) [Deleted May 31, 1944.]

(w) Applicability of regulations. Except as otherwise provided, this order and all transactions affected thereby are subject to all applicable provisions of the regulations of the War Production Board as amended from time to time.

(x) Appeals. Any appeal from the provisions of this order shall be made in writing to the Rubber Bureau, War Production Board, referring to the particular provision appealed from and stating fully the grounds of the appeal.

(y) Communications. All reports required to be filed under this order and all communications concerning this order shall, unless otherwise directed, be addressed to the Production and Priorities Department, Rubber Bureau, War Production Board, Washington 25, D. C., Reference: Order R-1.

Issued this 16th day of September 1944.

WAR PRODUCTION BOARD,
By J. JOSEPH WHELAN,
Recording Secretary.

Chapter XI—Office of Price Administration

PART 1381—SOFTWOOD LUMBER

[2d Rev. MPR 19,[1] incl. Amdts. 1–4]

SOUTHERN PINE LUMBER

This compilation of 2d Revised Maximum Price Regulation 19 includes Amendment 4, effective September 19, 1944. The amended portions are indicated by underscoring or notes.

In the judgment of the Price Administrator, the maximum prices established by this regulation are and will be generally fair and equitable and will effectuate the purposes of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, and Executive Orders Nos. 9250 and 9328. The standards and specifications used in this regulation were, prior to such use, in general use in the Southern pine lumber industry. A statement of the considerations involved in the issuance of this regulation, issued simultaneously herewith, has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.[2]

[2] Statements of consideration are also issued simultaneously with amendments. Copies may be obtained from the Office of Price Administration.

AUTHORITY: Secs. 1 to 22, inclusive (§ 1381.201), issued under 56 Stat. 23, 765; 57 Stat. 566; Pub. Law 383, 78th Cong.; E.O. 9250, 7 F.R. 7871 and E.O. 9328, 8 F.R. 4681.

ARTICLE I—SCOPE OF THE REGULATION

SECTION 1. Prices higher than ceiling prohibited. (a) On and after February 4, 1944, regardless of any contract or other obligation, no person shall sell or deliver, and no person shall buy or receive any Southern pine lumber for direct-mill shipment at prices higher than the ceiling prices fixed by this regulation, and no person shall agree, offer or attempt to do any of these things.

(b) Prices lower than the ceiling prices may, of course, be charged and paid.

SEC. 2. What transactions are covered. (a) This regulation covers, under the name of "sales for direct-mill shipment" all sales of Southern pine lumber, no matter who the seller is, and regardless of the quantity involved, except sales of Southern pine lumber which was part of the regular stock of a distribution yard at the time the sale was made.

Moreover, sales of shortleaf Southern pine boards, dimension, and timbers up to 8 x 8 inches, sold by sawmills which do not have planing mills or which customarily sell their lumber in rough green form, and which cut 4,000,000 feet or less of Southern pine lumber in 1943, are not subject to this regulation, but are subject to Maximum Price Regulation 19A,[3] Log-Run Southern Pine Lumber. Any sawmill subject to this Second Revised Maximum Price Regulation 19 may on special application to the Lumber Branch, Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C., be granted permission to price all his sales of Southern pine lumber under the log-run prices in Maximum Price Regulation 19A.

[Paragraph (a) amended by Am. 2, 9 F.R. 2915, effective 3–16–44]

(b) How to tell a mill from a distribution yard. The term "mill" as used here, covers what are known in the trade as sawmills, planing mills and concentration yards. Three types of establishments are described below: the first, (1) a typical sawmill or planing mill; the second (2) a typical concentration yard; and the third, (3), a typical distribution yard. An establishment which resembles (1) or (2) more than it does (3) is considered a mill; and one which resembles (3) more than it does (1) or (2) is considered a distribution yard.

(1) "A typical sawmill or planing mill" is an establishment which is chiefly engaged in manufacturing lumber from logs or rough lumber by sawing or planing; which is located in or near a lumber producing area; which makes and sells chiefly Southern pine and associated species of lumber;

(2) "A typical concentration yard" is an establishment which concentrates and prepares lumber for commercial shipment, which keeps in stock mostly Southern pine and associated species of lumber, which has its lumber brought in chiefly in rough green form by truck from small local sawmills and sells chiefly for rail and/or full truck-load shipment and which has been located at its particular site to be near the lumber producing area;

(3) "A typical distribution yard" is a wholesale or retail lumber yard which gets lumber from mills or other yards; unloads, sorts, and resells or redistributes it; which regularly maintains a varied stock of lumber from different regions; which gets its lumber, except for local species, mostly by rail and sells mostly for truck shipment; which is equipped to make quick deliveries of many different items of lumber; and which had been located at its particular site in order to be near a lumber consuming area.

(c) New yards or changed status. In order to prevent violation of this regulation by unnecessary routing through yards, the Office of Price Administration will not recognize distribution yards, either new or resulting from a change in operations, set up after May 24, 1943, unless the yard writes to the Lumber Branch of the Office of Price Administration, Washington 25, D. C., and proves that it satisfies the requirements of the definition and that the purpose is not to get around this regulation by means of unnecessary yard business. Until approval is received, the new yard cannot consider itself a distribution yard for the purpose of this regulation.

SEC. 3. What products are covered. This regulation covers all items of Southern pine lumber, whether the item is specifically named in the price tables or not (except switch ties and cross ties, which are subject to Second Revised Maximum Price Regulation 216[4]—Railroad Ties).

This means all lumber of the species included in the following definitions of shortleaf and longleaf yellow pine (the term lumber as used in this regulation includes mouldings):

[Above paragraph amended by Am. 3, 9 F.R. 6232, effective 6–12–44]

(a) "Shortleaf yellow pine" means the species of shortleaf pine (Pinus echinata), loblolly pine (Pinus taeda), slash pine (Pinus caribaea), such longleaf pine (Pinus palustris) as contains less than six annual rings per inch and less than one-third summerwood, or any other pinus species, (except longleaf yellow pine, as defined in paragraph (b) of this section) known commercially as "Southern pine."

(b) "Longleaf yellow pine" means the botanical species of Pinus palustris which contains not less than six annual rings per inch and not less than one-third summerwood.

SEC. 4. What persons are covered. Any person who makes the kind of sale or purchase described above, for himself or others, is subject to this regulation. The term "person" includes an individual, corporation, partnership, association or any other organized group, their legal successors and representatives, the United States or any government or any of their political subdivisions or any agency of any of the foregoing.

ARTICLE II—MAXIMUM PRICES AND TERMS OF SALE

SEC. 5. Basic prices and cash discount—(a) Basic prices. The maximum f. o. b. mill prices for shortleaf Southern pine lumber are set forth in Article IV and for longleaf Southern pine lumber in Article V.

"F. o. b. mill" means loaded on cars if any part of delivery is by rail, or loaded on trucks if delivery is entirely by truck.

[Paragraph (a) amended by Am. 2, 9 F.R. 2915, effective 3–16–44]

(b) Cash. If cash is paid the maximum price must be reduced by the seller's August 1941 cash discount. When a seller was not in business in August 1941, 2% cash discount for payment in 10 days shall be allowed. On specific written allocations issued by the Office of Chief of Engineers, War Department, the terms 30 days net may be used by the seller regardless of his established practice.

(c) Shortleaf Southern pine lumber produced in Virginia. For shortleaf Southern pine lumber produced in the State of Virginia add $2.50 per M'BM to the f. o. b. mill prices set forth in Article IV, except that no addition may be made to the prices in Tables 3A, 9, 9A, 9B, 10, 11, 12 and O. G. Batts in Table 4. This addition shall not be made, however, for the purpose of computing maximum prices under Second Revised Maximum Price Regulation 215,[5] Distribution Yard Sales of Softwood, except by yards located in Virginia.

[Paragraph (c) amended by Am. 2, 9 F.R. 2915, effective 3–16–44]

(d) Combination grades. (1) Lumber sold in a combination of grades may not be sold above the maximum price for the lowest-priced grade actually named in the combination except as noted below in subparagraph (2) for the grade "No. 2 Common and better." For example, the maximum price for lumber sold as No. 1 Common and better is the maximum price fixed for No. 1 Common lumber. But it is permissible to sell a combination of grades where the exact quantity of each grade shipped is separately shown on the invoice and segregated in the car by strips (except timbers) or otherwise made easily identifiable to the purchaser and separately tallied (tally card to be included in car), in which case the appropriate ceiling price for the quantity of each grade shipped may be charged.

(2) Any mill may sell dressed dry Southern pine lumber on a combination grade of No. 2 Common and better containing up to 15% of No. 3 Common at not more than the prices established in Tables 1 and 2 for No. 2 Common. This combination grade must contain all of the upper grades which are the product of the log and no mill electing to sell on this combination grade may sell any lumber at prices in excess of the No. 2 Common prices specified in Tables 1 and 2 during the period for which it is authorized to sell on the combination grade. It may, however, during this period sell grades lower than No. 2 Common at the grade prices specified in the Tables 1 and 2.

Any mill electing to sell on the combination grade No. 2 Common and better must apply for authorization to the Lumber Branch, Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C. before May 1, 1944 to obtain an authorization number which must thereafter appear on all of its invoices for all its sales of Southern pine lumber. Any mill granted authorization to sell on this combination grade of No. 2 Common and better must give notice of at least ninety days to the Lumber Branch, Office of Price Administration, before it may return to the practice of selling on the regular grades.

The Lumber Branch shall deny the privilege of returning to the practice of selling upon the regular grades unless evidence is presented (1) that the mill has inspectors who are qualified to grade, (2) that the operation is so set up that a good grading job can be done, and (3) that the return to the practice of selling on grade is not for the purpose of selling an accumulation of upper grades withheld from combination grade sales in the past.

[Paragraph (d) amended by Am. 2, 9 F.R. 2915, effective 3–16–44]

(e) Inspection certificates required on sales of certain grades. Any shipment of Southern pine lumber priced in Tables 1, 2, 3A, 7, 14, 15, 16A and 21 which does not bear the grade mark of a qualified inspection agency as provided in Federal Specification MM–L–751c (May 20, 1942), must either be accompanied by a certificate of inspection by inspection agency, which has been accepted as satisfactory by any Federal purchasing organization, or be inspected by an inspector from the Federal organization making the purchase, if the shipment contains either (1) 30% No. 1 common and higher grades, or (2) 15% C and higher grades, or (3) 10% B and better. The certificate of inspection must cover all lumber in the shipment. In the absence of such a certificate, where the lumber is not grade marked as specified above lumber invoiced as No. 1 Common and higher grades in any such shipment may not be sold at prices higher than the prices provided in such tables for No. 2 Common.

Federal Standard Stock Catalog, section IV, (Part 5) "Federal Specification For Lumber and Timber; Softwood", MM–L–751c, reads in part as follows:

E. Detail requirements.

E–1. Softwood lumber shall conform to the grading rules of the various lumber associations in effect at the date of invitation for bids where such grading rules are approved by the Central Committee on Lumber Standards as in conformance with "American Lumber Standards" • • •

F. Method of inspection.

F–1. A Federal organization buying softwood lumber shall either require the firm or individual furnishing the lumber to meet the provisions of one of the following three methods of inspection procedure or may leave to the firm or individual furnishing the lumber the choice of any one of the three methods:

(1) The order may specify that each piece of lumber in the shipment must be grade-marked and also marked with the registered trade-mark of either the association or bureau of the association under whose rules it is graded or of another inspection agency satisfactory to the Federal organization making the purchase.

(2) The order may specify that the shipment must be accompanied by a certificate of inspection issued either by the association or bureau of the association under whose rules it is graded or by another inspection agency satisfactory to the Federal organization making the purchase.

(3) The order may specify that inspection will be made by an inspector from the Federal organization making the purchase.

[Paragraph (e) amended by Am. 2, 9 F.R. 2915, effective 3–16–44]

(f) Tally card requirement. Every person selling any Southern pine lumber for direct-mill shipment shall post within the freight car, truck, or other means of transport, a tally card showing the point of origin of the shipment and a complete description of the lumber contained in the shipment including the species, condition, working and the number of pieces of each grade, size and length. Any working, specification or extra which affects the maximum f. o. b. mill prices must be mentioned in the description.

[Paragraph (f) added by Am. 3, 9 F.R. 6232, effective 6–12–44]

[Parenthetical paragraph added by Am. 2, 9 F.R. 2915, effective 3–16–44; deleted by Am. 4, effective 9–19–44]

(a) Prices—(1) Wholesale-type sales. On direct-mill sales of Southern pine lumber by a direct-mill distributor, there may be added to the regular f. o. b. mill prices established in this regulation 6 percent (but not more than $3.00 per M'BM). The distributor's addition must be evened out to the nearest quarter-dollar per M'BM or in the case of plastering or fence lath to the nearest 5 cents per 1,000 pieces. For example, if the maximum price for a particular item is $30.00 the ceiling price on a wholesale-type sale is $31.75. This mark-up applies only to carload quantities if shipped by rail, or to quantities of 5 M'BM or more if shipped by truck or water.

(2) Commission-type sales. On commission-type direct-mill sales of Southern pine lumber made through a direct-mill distributor the ceiling price is 4 percent (but not more than $2.00 per M'BM) higher than the regular f. o. b. mill prices established in this regulation. The distributor's commission must be evened out to the nearest quarter-dollar per M'BM or in the case of plastering or fence lath to the nearest 5 cents per 1,000 pieces. The mill must allow the direct-mill distributor a commission at least equal to the excess over the standard f. o. b. mill price. For example, if the maximum price for a particular item is $30.00, the mill ceiling on a commission-type sale made through a direct-mill distributor is $31.25 and the mill must allow the distributor at least $1.25. This mark-up applies only to carload quantities if shipped by rail, or to quantities of 5 M'BM or more if shipped by truck or water.

(3) Distribution yard sales. On direct-mill sales of Southern pine lumber made by wholesale or retail distribution yards, a mark-up of 6 percent (but not more than $3.00 per M'BM) may be made to the regular f. o. b. mill prices established in the regulation. The distributor's addition must be evened out to the nearest quarter-dollar per M'BM or in the case of plastering or fence lath to the nearest 5 cents per 1,000 pieces. This mark-up applies only to carload quantities if shipped by rail, or to quantities of 5 M'BM or more if shipped by truck or water. (As to smaller quantities, see section 7 below.)

[Subparagraphs (1), (2), and (3) amended by Am. 2, 9 F.R. 2915, effective 3-16-44]

(4) Mill's price or realization. This section 6 increases maximum prices only on sales by direct-mill distributors, or yards. The mill's price, or realization after deducting the 4 percent commission, may never be higher than the regular prices established in this regulation. The mill, of course, may sell at a price at which it will realize less than its regular ceiling.

(5) Pyramiding prohibited. The price additions permitted in this section 6 may not be made more than once to the regular f. o. b. mill price, regardless of the number of persons participating in the transaction. For example: If direct-mill distributor making a "commission-type" sale sells a car of $30.00 lumber to a yard which, in turn, sells to a consumer for direct-mill shipment, the mill's ceiling price on the sale through the distributor is $31.25 (4 percent addition) and the yard's ceiling price to the consumer is $31.75 (6 percent addition). Note that the yard cannot add its 6 percent either to the $31.25 on a purchase through a direct-mill distributor making a commission-type sale or to $31.75 if the purchase was from a direct-mill distributor making a "wholesale-type" sale. In both cases, the 6 percent may be added only to the regular f. o. b. mill price of $30.00.

Moreover, none of the additions in this section may be applied above the addition for direct-mill retail sales in section 7 below.

(6) Exceptions. No commission or addition, as provided in this section, may be charged, paid or collected in connection with any sale of lumber manufactured or concentrated by a mill or concentration yard controlled by the distributor, controlling the distributor or under common control with the distributor.

A direct-mill distributor who sells through another direct-mill distributor lumber from mills or concentration yards which he owns or controls, may not charge any mark-up, commission or addition provided in paragraphs (1), (2) and (3) above on sales of lumber produced by such mills or concentration yards or produced by any other person. Such practice interposes unnecessary middlemen in the distribution of lumber and is a device to get the effect of higher-than-ceiling prices in violation of this section and of section 14(a).

"Control" as used in this section includes all circumstances of common ownership or beneficial interest, profit or loss sharing arrangements, or control based on close family relationships.

[Subparagraph (6) amended by Am. 4, effective 9-19-44]

(b) Definitions—(1) Direct-mill distributor. A direct-mill distributor is (i) a person whose volume of wholesale-type and commission-type sales of lumber from March 1, 1943 to and including August 31, 1943 was at least 75 percent of his total volume of lumber sales during that period, or whose volume of wholesale-type and commission-type sales of lumber during that period was at least 5,000,000 board feet, (persons who were in the armed services or employed by CPA between these dates may use the six months' period immediately preceding their military induction or employment by CPA); or

[Subparagraph (i) amended by Am. 4, effective 9-19-44]

(ii) A person who has been granted special permission by the Office of Price Administration to sell as a "direct-mill distributor" as provided in paragraph (c) of this section 6.

(2) "Wholesale-type" sale. A "wholesale-type" sale is a sale in which the seller buys lumber in carload quantities from a mill or concentration yard, and takes title to and delivers the lumber to the buyer in substantially the same form.

(3) Commission-type sale. A "commission-type" sale is a sale through a direct-mill distributor, acting as a commission-man. For purposes of this section, a commission-man is a person who customarily represents and sells lumber in carload quantities for two or more mills or concentration yards, receives his compensation in the form of commissions based on the amount of the lumber sold, and is independent of both buyer and seller.

(c) New distributors. Any person who cannot meet the requirements of a "direct-mill distributor", as defined in paragraph (b) (1) (ii) of this section 6, may make special application to the Lumber Branch, Office of Price Administration, Washington 25, D. C. He may be given permission to qualify as a "direct-mill distributor", if he meets the following tests: He must provide evidence from banks or others, showing adequate financial responsibility. He must also fill orders with the Central Procuring Agency totaling at least 1,000,000 feet of Southern pine lumber for delivery within six months, to be shipped from mills which in 1942 produced less than 5,000,000 board feet of Southern pine lumber. In the case of mills which were not operating during substantially the entire year of 1942, shipment must be made from mills whose capacity as rated by the Forest Service is less than 25,000 board feet per day. Final authorization will not be granted until the entire 1,000,000 feet of lumber has been successfully delivered within the six months period. Until final authorization is granted, the 6 percent or 4 percent addition to the maximum price, as the case may be, must be held in escrow by a bank or other third party, on all sales of lumber made by the distributor, and if the quantity is not successfully delivered within the six months, the 6 percent or 4 percent addition must be returned to the buyers.

The authorization will not be granted if it appears that the purpose of the application is to evade the regulation by interposing an unnecessary middleman in the distribution of lumber, who will not in fact render the services characteristically rendered by the type of distributor in question.

(d) Licenses. Authorized distributors are licensed under section 20. This means that if, for example, they ship lumber that is not up to grade, specification and tally, they may, subject to the appropriate license suspension proceedings, lose their right not only to charge the price additions but even to continue in business.

(e) Registration. Any person qualifying as a "direct-mill distributor" under subparagraphs (b) (i) and (ii) of this section 6 must file a letter with the Lumber Branch, Office of Price Administration, Washington 25, D. C., before March 1, 1944, stating that he meets such requirements. On and after April 1, 1944, no person may make the additions permitted in this section 6 unless he has received a registration number from the Office of Price Administration. This registration number must, after April 1, 1944, be shown on all invoices covering distributors' direct-mill sales carrying the direct-mill distributors' addition.

This registration provision does not apply to distribution yards.

[Paragraph (c) amended by Am. 2, 9 F.R. 2915, effective 3-16-44; Am. 3, 9 F.R. 6232, effective 6-12-44]

SEC. 7. Addition for direct-mill retail sale. (a) An addition of $3.50 per M'BM (but no charge for delivery) may be made by a mill or concentration yard on a sale of 5 M' BM or less only within a radius of 25 miles from the seller's establishment to any consumer or buyer (except a box or container manufacturer) who does not purchase for resale, where the shipment originates at a mill.

[Paragraph (a) amended by Am. 3, 9 F.R. 6232, effective 6-12-44]

(b) An addition of $3.50 per M'BM may be made by any distribution yard on sales of less than carload quantities if shipped by rail, or less than 18 M'BM if shipped by truck or water to any consumer or buyer within a radius of twenty-five miles from the distribution yard who does not purchase for resale where the shipment originates at a mill and delivery is made directly to the buyer or a site specified by him, and the seller:

(1) Delivers the lumber to the job site, if required by the buyer, at such time and in such manner as the buyer specifies;

(2) Gives the buyer the privilege of exchanging lumber and returning unused material;

(3) Agrees to make good any shortage promptly from stocks kept on hand for this purpose.

(4) Where the addition of $3.50 per M'BM is applied on sales under this paragraph the additions for direct-mill distributor's sales provided for in section 6 are not applicable.

[Subparagraph (4) added by Am. 2, 9 F.R. 2915, effective 3-16-44]

(c) For the purpose of this and other provisions contained in this regulation the size of the sale is determined by the total quantity involved in the transaction without regard to whether it is broken up into smaller orders or deliveries. The amount delivered at a particular time does not determine the quantity. For example, if the buyer and seller at the time the sale is negotiated know that the quantity to be bought for a particular job will run to 20 M'BM the sale is one for 20 M'BM even though it may be split into 5 orders of 4 M'BM each or requisitioned in quantities of 4 M'BM. And this is true regardless of whether 5 different deliveries, in loads of 4 M'BM each are made on different days.

SEC. 8. Transportation charges—(a) Rail charges. (1) Only two methods of selling are recognized by this regulation. Any other method is prohibited, as a device to evade the ceiling by manipulation of freight.

The two permitted methods are: on a delivered basis using the estimated weights in Article VI, or on an f. o. b. mill basis with actual freight (figured, of course, on actual weights) to be paid by the purchaser.

The two methods may not be combined in a single transaction; that is, a seller may not sell on a basis which gives him the benefit of favorable estimated weights but requires the use of actual weights on items where estimated weights would be unfavorable to him. Note that sales described as "ceiling delivered", or as f. o. b. mill with freight allowed or included to a given destination, are to be treated as sales on a delivered basis. In such cases, the given estimated weights must be used.

(2) The estimated green weights may be used only when green lumber is actually specified and shipped.

(3) The transportation charge, when estimated weights are used, must be evened out to the nearest quarter-dollar per M'BM (or nearest 5 cents per 1,000 pieces of lath).

(b) Common or contract carrier (other than rail). Where transportation is by common or contract carrier (other than rail) the only rule is that actual cost of transportation may be added to f. o. b. mill ceiling.

(c) Private truck. When shipment is by truck owned or controlled by the seller, the following amounts may be added for transportation: For distances up to and including 10 miles, $1.50 per M'BM, over 10 and up to and including 20 miles, $2.00 per M'BM and over 20 and up to and including 30 miles, $2.50 per M'BM. Where the distance is greater than 30 miles, the seller may charge the amount of the railroad charge at the carload rate for the most similar haul or $3.00 per M'BM, whichever is greater. Distance, as used in this paragraph, means the distance from the mill to the point of destination as measured by the speedometer. No addition may be made for the return trip.

(d) Trucking to rail or water shipping point. When a truck haul precedes a rail or water shipment, as when a mill located away from a railhead hauls lumber by truck to the railroad, no addition may be made for the truck haul. However, in the following two cases a mill may apply for special permission to make an addition:

(1) Where the mill was located away from rail connections because it specialized in water-borne lumber, and where shortage of shipping has forced it to operate by rail;

(2) Where a mill's rail connection has been abandoned since September 5, 1941, and it has no comparable rail shipping point.

The application should be made by letter to the Lumber Branch of the Office of Price Administration, Washington 25, D. C., and may be acted upon by letter or telegram. The addition may not be made on quotations or sales until permission has been received.

(e) Truck delivery after rail haul. When truck delivery to yard or job site follows a rail haul, and is specified in the order, the actual cost of truck delivery may be added. This may include the actual cost of handling and reloading involved in transfer from rail cars to trucks.

(f) All-truck haul. When an all-truck haul ends in delivery to the job site, no special addition may be made above the charges provided in paragraphs (b) and (c) of this section.

SEC. 9. Grade marking and anti-stain—(a) Additions for grade marking. An addition of $1.00 per M'BM may be charged for lumber that bears the grade mark of an inspection agency qualified in accordance with "Federal Specification For Lumber And Timber; Softwood", MM-L-751c (May 20, 1942), except lumber priced in Tables 10 and 23 (Standard Plastering Lath and Fence Lath); Table 11 (Byrkit Lath); Tables 12 and 24 (Bed Slats); and O. G. Batts in Tables 4 and 17.

[Paragraph (a) added, former (a) deleted by Am. 2, 9 F.R. 2915, effective 3-16-44]

(b) Anti-stain. For chemical anti-stain treatment, an addition of 50 cents per M feet board measure may be made to the price of air dried or green lumber (but not of kiln dried lumber). For lumber 3 x 3" to 10 x 10" or 2 x 14" and wider, the permissible addition is $1.00 per M; 3 x 11" and larger, $2.00. This addition may be made only on lumber shipped from mills which have equipment for proper and thorough chemical anti-stain treatment, and only on lumber which has been chemically treated by dipping in a vat containing a chemical solution. Treatment by spraying (except of timbers) does not entitle the seller to the addition.

Since it is difficult to prove by examination of a piece of lumber after dressing whether it has been chemically anti-stain treated, it will be considered a violation of this regulation to add the anti-stain addition if the mill did not have, at the time the lumber was manufactured, a chemical dipping vat filled with a chemical solution through which its lumber moves as a part of its routine method of manufacture. Also, the addition will be considered a violation unless the mill can show invoices for the purchase of anti-stain chemicals in sufficient quantity to account for the amount of lumber produced by the mill. If it is shown that the mill does not have this kind of anti-stain equipment, or cannot show evidence of having purchased anti-stain chemicals in a volume consistent with the amount of lumber produced, the seller automatically will be considered guilty of over-charging on all lumber which has been invoiced with the anti-stain addition, without reference to individual inspection of the actual lumber shipped. In addition to liability for treble damages for this over-charge on all lumber shipped, the seller may also, under certain circumstances, be subject to fine and imprisonment and, after warning, the possible revocation of his license to sell lumber.

[Paragraph (b) amended by Am. 1, 9 F.R. 2026, effective 2-26-44]

SEC. 10. Special rule on averaging out freight. When a single order, for which a single flat delivered price was quoted and accepted, is shipped from two or more mills to a single destination on varying freight rates, the seller may average-out the transportation charges. For example, if a wholesaler bids per M'BM $34.75 (including 6 percent mark-up) on a single order of a hundred M'BM of lumber, the mill ceiling price being $30.00 per M'BM and the estimated freight $3.00, he can ship half of it on a rate resulting in a $2.00 freight charge and half on a rate resulting in a $4.00 freight charge.

Where this practice is adopted, the seller must observe all of the following conditions:

(a) Each invoice must state that the particular shipment is part of a larger order and identify the order. It must also show the individual rates for each shipment or delivery.

(b) The transportation charges which may be made and collected for each shipment or delivery, on account, must not exceed the average transportation charge figured on the entire order or the actual transportation charge for the particular shipment based upon the permitted estimated weights, whichever is the lower.

(c) Upon completion of the order the seller must render a final invoice showing the individual f. o. b. mill prices separately, the amount shipped from each mill, the freight charge for each shipment, and a reconciliation of the total amount so computed with the agreed delivered selling prices and also with the maximum prices permitted by this regulation. Final payment and all necessary adjustments between buyer and seller are to be made upon the final reconciliation.

SEC. 11. Special pricing rules. (a) Where the buyer specifies restricted lengths and the shipment or orders fail to conform, the entire shipment must be priced at the random length price (unless the agreed price is lower).

(b) Where the buyer orders a random length shipment, and the given percentages of lengths as specified in footnotes to some of the price tables are not met because there is too large a percentage of shorts, the excess shorts must be priced at the separate prices for the short lengths.

(c) Where random length shipments required to average a specified length (e. g., 12' in the Board Table) fall short of this average, the price may not exceed that of the nearest even length below the average length actually shipped.

(d) Where the order does not specify whether longleaf or shortleaf is required, the seller may only charge shortleaf prices.

(e) Where the order fails to specify the grade required, the seller may only ship and charge for No. 2 Common, unless otherwise agreed.

(f) Where the invoice does not specify the grade shipped or delivered, the price of the lowest grade in the shipment shall apply to the whole order.

(g) Where moisture content requirements are waived by the purchaser the maximum price for the whole order, shipment or delivery shall be the price herein established for green lumber. However, if the waiver applies to a specified part of the order, green lumber prices shall apply only to such part. For example, if a buyer orders 100,000 feet BM of Southern pine and the order specifies 60,000 feet dry lumber and 40,000 feet MCW, the green lumber prices apply only to the 40,000 feet. In any event where a "moisture content waived" sale is made on a delivered basis, the seller may only use the given estimated weights for dry lumber in computing transportation costs.

SEC. 12. F. A. S. sales. On all F. A. S. sales of lumber to be shipped outside of continental United States one addition of $3.50 per M'BM may be made. This addition may be made only if the seller, at the request of the buyer, bears the expense of so many of the following services as are actually to be performed: marking, bundling, assembling, switching, unloading, tallying, painting the ends, dock insurance and other services required for the proper dispatch of offshore cargo. In other words, if the buyer actually bears the expense of any of these services because of the seller's failure to perform such service or services, the addition may not be made. However, if the buyer's requirements do not include or permit unloading and any dock services which may be incidental thereto, but all other required services are performed, the addition shall be reduced to $2.25.

SEC. 13. What the invoice must contain—(a) Price. All invoices must contain a sufficiently complete description of the lumber to show whether the price is proper or not. Any working, specification, or extra which affects the maximum f. o. b. mill or delivered prices must be mentioned in the description. The amount added for these does not have to be separately shown.

(b) Charges for transportation. In all delivered sales, the invoice must contain the:

(1) Point of origin of shipment;
(2) Destination;
(3) Rail rate, if estimated weights are used; otherwise the actual amount added for transportation;
(4) The words "direct-mill shipment".

(c) Delivery and related charges. Any separate charge which the seller is permitted to make for truck delivery after rail haul, or for trucking to railhead, must be separately shown on the invoice.

(d) Distributors' direct-mill sales. The invoice on any distributor's direct-mill sale must be plainly marked "wholesaler's direct-mill sale", or "commissionman's direct-mill sale" or "yard's direct-mill sale", as the case may be, and must show the name of the direct-mill distributor.

(e) Direct-mill retail sale. If the "direct-mill retail sale" mark-up is permissible and is added, this must be separately indicated in the invoice.

SEC. 14. Prohibited practices—(a) General. Any practice which is a device to get the effect of a higher-than-ceiling price without actually raising the dollar-and-cents price is as much a violation of this regulation as an outright over-ceiling price. This applies to changes in credit practices and cash discounts and to devices making use of commissions, services, transportation arrangements, premiums, special privileges, tying-agreements, trade understandings and the like.

(b) Specific practices. The following are some of the specific practices prohibited:

(1) Getting the effect of a higher price by changing credit or cash discount practices from what they were in August 1941. This includes decreasing credit periods or making greater charges for extension of credit.

(2) Refusing to ship except in higher grades or in specified or restricted random lengths, or in mixed cars, or under other circumstances which bring the seller an extra return.

(3) Selling as specified lengths or widths a specific lot or shipment of lumber which is substantially equivalent to random lengths or widths, or reselling intact as specified lengths or widths a specific lot or shipment bought by the seller as standard or random lengths or widths, unless specifically permitted in this regulation. This prohibition shall not apply to shipments or deliveries which have been sorted out as to widths and lengths and then resold.

[Subparagraph (3) added by Am. 2, 9 F.R. 6232, effective 6-12-44; former (3) revoked by Am. 2, 9 F.R. 2915, effective 3-16-44]

(4) Grading as a special grade lumber which can be graded as a standard grade; or wrongly or falsely grading or invoicing lumber.

(5) Making additions for special specifications, services, or other extras which are not specifically permitted.

(6) Refusing to sell on an f. o. b. mill basis, and insisting on selling on a delivered basis.

(7) Failing to invoice properly and in accordance with the requirements of this regulation.

(8) Unnecessarily routing lumber through a distribution yard.

(9) Quoting a gross price above the maximum price, even if accompanied by a discount the effect of which is to bring the net price below the maximum.

(10) Making additions contained in the footnotes to the tables in Articles IV and V unless the order expressly requires the working, grade, condition, service, treatment, specification, size, or length for which the addition is permitted.

(11) Getting a higher price by charging the buyer for ripping or resawing, or charging on the basis of an original size larger than the item actually delivered; (for example: charging the price of 4 x 4 ripped to 2 x 4 on a sale and delivery of 2x4's), except where the items ordered and delivered are nonstandard sizes not specifically priced in the tables. This prohibition has no application where the buyer specified the larger size to be ripped or resawn into items of smaller size and the resulting items are priced higher in the tables than the original larger size; for example, the buyer may order 1 x 4 x 12' No. 2 Common Shortleaf, priced at $38.00 per M'BM ripped to 1 x 2 x 12'. By buying the larger size ripped the price to the buyer is lower ($39.00) than it would have been had he ordered the 1 x 2 as such ($41.00). In this example the maximum price is $39.00.

[Subparagraph (11) amended by Am. 3, 9 F.R. 6232, effective 6-12-44]

(12) Making the buyer take something he does not want in order to get what he does want; for example, making a buyer who orders No. 2 Common take all the upper grades that develop.

(13) Breaking up an order or apportioning deliveries in order to get the $3.50 direct-mill retail sale addition.

(c) Adding commission to ceiling prohibited. It is unlawful for any person to charge, receive or pay a commission for the service of procuring (including buying, selling, or locating lumber, or for any related service such as "expediting") which does not involve actual physical handling of lumber, if the commission plus the purchase price results in a total payment by the buyer of lumber which is higher than the maximum price of the lumber. For purposes of this regulation, a commission is any compensation, however designated, which is paid for the procurement of lumber. This prohibition has no application to section 6, Distributors' direct-mill sales, or to the case of a bona fide employer-employee relationship where the employee serves only one employer, in so far as lumber procurement is concerned, and where the compensation paid by the employer is a fixed salary and is not based directly or indirectly on the quantity, price or value of the lumber in connection with which the service is rendered.

SEC. 15. Adjustable pricing. Any person may agree to sell at a price which can be increased up to the maximum price in effect at the time of shipment, but no person may deliver or agree to deliver at prices to be adjusted upward in accordance with action taken by the Office of Price Administration after shipment.

SEC. 16. Sales for export. The maximum price at which a person may export any Southern pine lumber shall be determined in accordance with the provisions of the Second Revised Maximum Export Price Regulation [6] issued by the Office of Price Administration.

ARTICLE III—MISCELLANEOUS

SEC. 17. Applications for adjustment and petitions for amendment—(a) See Procedural Regulation No. 6 [7] for adjustment provisions on certain government contracts and subcontracts.

[Paragraph (a) amended by Am. 8, 9 F.R. 6232, effective 6-12-44]

(b) Petition for amendment. (1) Any person seeking an amendment of any provision of this regulation may file a petition for amendment in accordance with the provisions of Revised Procedural Regulation No. 1 [8] issued by the Office of Price Administration.

(2) In treating with petitions for amendment or adjustment, consideration will not be given to log and bolt costs which are higher than the applicable maximum purchase prices for logs and bolts established in Maximum Price Regulation 348 (Logs and Bolts),[9] or any revision or amendment of that regulation. This rule shall be followed regardless of whether the petitioner gets logs and bolts by purchasing them, logging his own standing timber, contracting for the logging of his own standing timber, or any other means. All petitions in any way based on the cost of logs or bolts must show the actual cost to the petitioner of logs and bolts received at his plant during the three months immediately prior to filing the petition, and the cost which would have been incurred by the petitioner if all of these logs and bolts had been purchased by him at ceiling prices. To figure these ceiling prices the petitioner should refer to Maximum Price Regulation 348, as amended, which fixes the maximum prices for purchases and sales of the kinds of logs and bolts received at his plant.

[NOTE: Supplementary Order No. 28 (7 F.R. 9619) provides for the filing of applications for adjustment or petitions for amendment based on a pending wage or salary increase requiring the approval of the National War Labor Board.]

SEC. 18. What records must be kept. All sellers of Southern pine lumber must keep records which will show a complete description of the items of lumber sold (i. e., grade, condition of dressing, quantity, etc.), the name and address of the buyer, the date of the sale and the price, for a period of two years. Buyers must keep similar records, including the name and address of the seller. Failure to comply with this provision shall constitute a violation of this regulation. Persons violating are subject to all penalties, actions and proceedings provided for by the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942 as amended, including a fine of not more than $5,000 or imprisonment for not more than two years, or both.

SEC. 19. Enforcement. (a) Persons violating any provision of this regulation are subject to the criminal penalties, civil enforcement actions, suits for treble damages, and proceedings for suspension of licenses provided for by the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended.

(b) War procurement agencies and their contracting or paying finance officers are not subject to any liability, civil or criminal imposed by this regulation. Persons who make sales covered by this regulation to war procurement agencies and buyers to whom lumber has been allocated by any such agencies are, however, subject to all the liabilities imposed by this regulation. "War procurement agencies" include the War Department, the Navy Department, the United States Maritime Commission and the Lend-Lease Section in the Procurement Division of the Treasury Department, or any of their agencies.

SEC. 20. Licensing. The provisions of Licensing Order No. 1 [10] licensing all persons who make sales under price control, are applicable to all sellers subject to this regulation. A seller's license may be suspended for violations of the license or of one or more applicable price schedules or regulations. A person whose license is suspended may not, during the period of suspension, make any sale for which his license has been suspended.

[NOTE: Supplementary Order No. 42 (8 F.R. 4968) provides that no price regulation of the Office of Price Administration shall apply to sales or deliveries of any commodity or service made to Government agencies pursuant to secret contracts or subcontracts.]

SEC. 21. Grades. The grades and terms in this regulation are based on the 1939 standard specifications for Southern pine lumber of the Southern Pine Inspection Bureau, the 1923 Gulf Coast Classification, issued by the Southern Pine Inspection Bureau, and the 1934 standard specifications for grades of Southern pine lumber for freight cars and locomotives in accordance with the Association of American Railroads' recommended practice, issued by the Southern Pine Inspection Bureau.

[Sec. 21 amended by Am. 8, 9 F.R. 6232, effective 6-12-44]

SEC. 22. Grades, services or extras not listed. (a) If a seller wishes to sell a grade which is not specifically priced in the price tables, or wishes to make an addition for special workings, specifications, services, or other extras for which additions are not specifically permitted, he must apply to the Lumber Branch, Office of Price Administration, Washington 25, D. C. for a maximum price. He must provide the following information:

(1) The requested price;

(2) A complete description of the item to be priced;

(3) The price differential between it and the most comparable item in the price tables, between January 1 and August 1, 1941, from the seller's own records or if that is impossible, from the experience of the trade. If no established price differential existed, a detailed analysis of comparative value should be furnished.

(4) A true copy of the order or of customer's inquiry on the basis of which the application has been submitted.

(5) A statement by the purchaser that none of the grades specifically priced in the regulation will serve the purpose for which the stock is intended to be used, which purpose is to be stated; and that it has been his custom to purchase lumber on such special specifications.

(b) In each case where a special price is approved, an authorization number will be assigned which must appear on all final invoices covering shipments at such special price. Quotations and deliveries may not be made at the requested price until the price has been approved. Action on the request may be by letter or telegram.

(c) In all cases where special prices have been approved by the Lumber Branch of the Office of Price Administration under § 1381.212, paragraphs (f), (g) and (h) of Maximum Price Regulation 19, or section 20 of Revised Maximum Price Regulation 19, these special prices shall no longer apply if specific prices for the items are established by this regulation; but if no specific prices are established in the price tables, the price approved under the earlier regulation shall continue in effect. However, within ninety days after the issuance of this regulation, the Lumber Branch will assign authorization numbers for each special price previously approved and thereafter such authorization numbers must appear on all invoices covering shipments at such special prices. In all cases where a special price authorization has already been assigned a number by the Lumber Branch, no new number will be issued. Special prices are subject to cancellation by letter or telegram at any time.

[Paragraph (c) amended by Am. 2, 9 F.R. 2915, effective 3-16-44]

ARTICLE IV—APPENDIX A: SHORT LEAF YELLOW PINE LUMBER

The maximum prices for Shortleaf Yellow Pine Lumber, in straight or mixed carlots, f. o. b. mill, per M'BM, shall be as follows:

Additions and deductions per M'BM. [See section 14 (b) (10).]

For working:
1. Rough, deduct $4.50.
2. End-matching, add $2.
3. For any other matcher dressing not otherwise provided for (except V-Joint, ECB18 or ECB28), add $2. Patterns requiring moulder work, add $6.50.
4. Ripping, add $1 for each cut; resawing, add $2 for each cut, both applicable only where machine run product is shipped.

For grade:
5. No. 1 common 85 or 90% Heart Facial Area, add $8; 85% Heart Cubical Content, add $6.
6. For grade marking in accordance with the provisions of Section 9 (a), add $1 per M'BM.
7. For combination grade No. 2 common and better as defined in section 5 (d), use No. 2 common prices.

For condition:
8. Kiln dried, add $1.
9. Green, deduct $3.50.

For lengths:
10. Random lengths must average at least 12' (with a tolerance of 3'), and must take the 12' price.
11. For precision cutting to a specified exact length, with tolerance of not more than ¼" allowed, add $1.50. No addition is permitted for customary double end trimming.
12. Odd or fractional lengths over 4', not listed, shall be counted and priced as next longer even length.
13. For any length shorter than 4', cut to a specified exact length, charge the price of the nearest multiple length up to 12'. If there is no even multiple length 12' or shorter, charge the 12' price. In either case, add $1.50 per M'BM for each necessary cross cut, but the addition for precision cutting permitted in footnote 11 may not also be charged, and no total charge for such service may be greater than $6 per M'BM. If length breaks on even one-half foot compute footage on actual length, otherwise compute on six inch breaks on the next break above.

For size:
14. Stock thinner than ¾", deduct $1" from the ¾" price for each 1/12" thinner than ¾", except when dressed both sides use ¾" price. However, sizes that can be resawn from boards or strips 1" in nominal thickness shall take the 1" price, plus the resawing addition permitted.
15. 13" and wider, add $2.50 per inch or fraction thereof to 12" price and compute footage on nominal size.
16. Extra standard thickness, thicker than American Lumber Standards (for yard stock), add $1 where stock is dressed clean, or will permit slight skips as defined in paragraph 48, 1939 Standard Specifications for Southern Pine Lumber.

Sub-footnote:
1. Edge widths are random widths including odd, even or fractional widths. Measurement shall be according to Paragraph 136, S. P. I. B. Rules.

7. No. 1 Common 85% Heart Facial Area, Add $12.00; No. 1 Common 85% Heart Cubical Content, add $8.00.

For condition:
8. Kiln dried, add $1.00.

6. 85 percent Heart cubical content (add to grade specified)	8	10	12

7. For grade marking in accordance with section 9 (a), add $1 per M'BM.

For lengths:

	3 x 3 to 8 x 8	3 x 9 to 10 x 10	3 x 11 and larger
8. For longer lengths add to above prices, all grades:
18' and 20'	$4

9. For lengths over 40', add $6 per lineal foot to 40' price.
10. Odd or fractional lengths over 8' shall be counted and priced as next longer even length.
11. For lengths shorter than 8' use nearest multiple length price plus a total of $2 per M'BM for crosscutting.
12. For any average length, charge the price for the specified length corresponding to the average length required and shipped.
13. For precision cutting to a specified exact length, with tolerance of not more than 1/12" allowed, add $2. No addition is permitted for customary double end trimming.

For condition:
14. Air dried, 23% moisture content, 3 x 3 and larger, and 2 x 14 and 2 x 16, add $4.
15. Kiln dried, 20% moisture content, 40 square inches of end area and less, add $5; end area greater than 40 square inches, add $8.
16. Kiln dried, 20% moisture content, 2 x 14 and 3 x 16, add $6.

For size:
17. In No. 1 common and grades above, for each 1" in width above 20 x 20, add $5 to the 20 x 20 price.
18. Fractional thickness, add $3 to nearest listed greater thickness, and compute footage on nominal size.
19. Fractional widths, add $3 to nearest listed wider width, and compute footage on nominal size.
20. 2 x 14 and 2 x 16, add $3 to comparable 3" price.
21. For any average size, charge the price for the average size required and shipped.
22. For a specified cubic average, the price shall be that of the length in 13 x 13 required to equal the specified cubic average.

In either case, add $1.50 per M'BM for each necessary cross cut, but the addition for precision cutting permitted in footnote 16 may not also be charged, and no total charge for such service may be greater than $3.00 per M'BM. If length be over one-half foot compute footage on actual length, otherwise compute on 12 inch basis on the next break above.

3. For any other matcher dressing not otherwise provided for (except V-joint, ECB18, ECB28), add $2.00. Patterns requiring moulder work, add $6.50.
4. Ripping, add $1.00 for each cut; resawing, add $2.00 for each cut, both applicable only when machine run product is shipped.

For grade:
5. For grade marking in accordance with provisions of section 9 (a), add $1.00 per M'BM.
6. No. 1 Common 85 or 90% Heart facial area, add $20.00.
7. No. 2 Common 85 or 90% Heart facial area, add $12.00.

For condition:
8. Kiln dried, add $1.00.
9. Green, deduct, $3.50.

For length:
10. For precision cutting to a specified exact length, with tolerance of not more than ¼ inch allowed, add $1.50. No addition is permitted for customary double end trimming.
11. Odd or fractional lengths over 4 feet, not listed, shall be counted and priced as next longer even length.
12. For any length shorter than 4 feet, cut to a specified exact length, charge the price of the nearest even multiple length up to 12 feet. If there is no even multiple length 12 feet or shorter, charge the 12-foot price. In either case, add $1.50 per M'BM for each necessary cross cut, but the addition for precision cutting permitted in footnote 10 may not also be charged, and no total charge for such service may be greater than $6.00 per M'BM. If length breaks on even one-half foot compute footage on actual length, otherwise compute on 6-inch breaks on the next break above.
13. Random lengths must average at least 12 feet (with a tolerance of 3 inches), and must take the 12-foot price.

For size:
14. Stock thinner than ¾ inch, deduct $1.00 from the ⅜ inch price for each ⅛ inch thinner than ⅜ inch, except when dressed both sides use ¾-inch price. However, sizes that can be resawn from boards or strips 1 inch in nominal thickness shall take the 1-inch price, plus the resawing addition permitted.
15. 12-inch and wider, add $3.00 per inch or fraction thereof to 12-inch price and compute footage on nominal size.
16. Extra standard thickness, thicker than American Lumber Standards (for yard stock), add $1.00 where stock is dressed clean or will permit slight skips as defined in paragraph 48, of 1939 Standard Specifications for Southern Pine Lumber.

5. Casing, base, jambs, apron, pulley stiles or any other pattern requiring moulder work (not including mouldings), add $7.00 for 1" stock, $10.00 for 5/4 and thicker.
6. Nosed stepping, add $3.00.
7. Sanding one face, add $3.00.
8. Wrapping, add $5.00.

15. [Deleted by Am. 4, effective 9-19-44.]

For length:
16. For precision cutting to a specified exact length, with tolerance of not more than 1/4" allowed, add $1.50. No addition is permitted for customary double end trimming.
17. Odd or fractional lengths over 6', not listed, shall be counted and priced as next longer even length.
18. For any length shorter than 6', cut to a specified exact length, charge the price of the nearest even multiple length up to 12'. If there is no even multiple length 12' or shorter, charge the 12' price. In either case, add $1.00 per M'BM for each necessary cross cut, but the addition for precision cutting permitted in footnote 16 may not also be charged, and no total charge for such service may be greater than $6.00 per M'BM. If length breaks on even one-half foot compute footage on actual length, otherwise compute on six-inch breaks on the next break above.

[1] Standard lengths are 8' to 20' inclusive, and in shipments of standard lengths, 4% of 8 foot in C and Better grades shall be permitted.

Any producer of Long Leaf Yellow Pine in the State of Florida whose lumber is consistently heavier than the weights in the above table, may submit to the Lumber Branch of the Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C., for approval a list of the estimated weights used by him during the first eight months of 1941 together with a statement that he believes them to be the nearest possible estimate to the present average actual weights. After an order has been published in the Federal Register, listing the producer's name, any seller of the producer's lumber may use the approved estimated weights in computing transportation charges.

The following producers have qualified under this provision up to the day of issuance of this revised regulation. The permitted estimated weights are on file with the Federal Register and may there be examined by any interested person:

Brooks-Scanlon Corporation, Foley, Fla.
Dowling and Camp, Inc., Slater, Fla.
Peavy-Wilson Lumber Co., Holopaw, Fla.

Effective date. The regulation shall become effective February 4, 1944, except that:

(a) If lumber has been received before February 4, 1944, by a carrier other than one owned or controlled by the seller, for shipment to a buyer, that shipment is not subject to this second revised regulation. It remains subject to the terms of the earlier regulation, Revised Maximum Price Regulation No. 19.

(b) If this regulation lowers any maximum price below that fixed in the earlier regulation, contracts that were in existence prior to the issuance of this second revised regulation at lawful prices may be completed according to their terms with respect to deliveries made on or before March 1, 1944.

(NOTE: The mere fact that this second revised regulation increases some maximum prices does not of itself allow any seller to apply the higher prices to existing uncompleted contracts without the consent of the buyer. The regulation permits the making of certain adjustable pricing agreements to cover such situations. Apart from that increasing prices in existing uncompleted contracts to the level of increased maximum prices in the regulation is purely a matter of agreement between buyer and seller.)

NOTE: All reporting and record-keeping requirements of this regulation have been approved by the Bureau of the Budget in accordance with the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

Issued this 14th day of September 1944.

CHESTER BOWLES,
Administrator.

Section 1347.58a of Revised Price Schedule 32 is amended to read as follows:

AUTHORITY: Secs. 1.1 to 3.7, inclusive, (§ 1351.396) issued under 56 Stat. 23, 765; 57 Stat. 566; Pub. Law 383, 78th Cong.; E.O. 9250, 7 F.R. 7871; E.O. 9328, 8 F.R. 4681.

Explanation of the regulation. The purpose of this regulation is to gather into a single document the provisions most commonly used in fixing maximum prices for sales by all persons of certain feeds and feed ingredients.

Taken by itself, the regulation names no maximum prices. These are printed in separate documents which are issued as "supplements" to the regulation. For example, the basic maximum prices for sales of cottonseed meal are set forth in a separate supplement which contains the provisions which apply only to cottonseed products. It is only the more general provisions applicable to a number of commodities which are collected here. Compliance with maximum prices, it is expected, will be made easier by this standardization of generally applicable provisions and by including them in a single document rather than in many separate regulations.

Moreover, the provisions of this regulation apply to particular feeds and feed ingredients only as they become parts of these supplements. Thus, for example, whether or not section 1.7 (definition of "car door seller") becomes a part of a particular supplement depends upon whether section 1.7 is stated in that supplement to be a part of it. Not all of the sections of this regulation will apply to every supplement, and when particular sections are not listed in a supplement they are to be disregarded for the purposes of that supplement.

SEC. 2.2 Emergency purchases. The provisions of the applicable supplement shall have no application to any purchase by the United States or any of its agencies under such circumstances of emergency as to make immediate delivery imperative, and as to render it impossible to secure or unfair to require immediate delivery at the maximum price which would otherwise be applicable, if such purchases and deliveries are made pursuant to the provisions of section 4.3 (f) of Revised Supplementary Regulation No. 1 to the General Maximum Price Regulation as amended: Provided, however, That the Administrator may, by order, waive the reporting of any part of the information required by section 4.3 (f) in connection with a particular purchase or group of purchases upon determining that such information may not reasonably be required under all the circumstances, and he may, in lieu thereof, require the reporting of other information more suited to the circumstances.

SEC. 2.3 Adjustable pricing. Any person may agree to sell at a price which can be increased up to the maximum price in effect at the time of delivery; but no person may, unless authorized by the Office of Price Administration, deliver or agree to deliver at prices to be adjusted upward in accordance with action taken by the Office of Price Administration after delivery. Such authorization may be given when a request for a change in the applicable maximum price is pending, but only if the authorization is necessary to promote distribution or production and if it will not interfere with the purposes of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended. The authorization may be given by an order of the Administrator or of any official of the Office of Price Administration having authority to act upon the pending request for a change in price or to give the authorization.

SEC. 2.4 Evasion. No person shall evade the maximum prices established by an applicable supplement directly or indirectly, whether by commission, service, transportation or other charge or discount, premium or other privilege; by tying requirement or other trade understanding; by changing a previous business practice, or in any other way.

SEC. 2.5 Enforcement. Persons violating any provision of the applicable supplement are subject to the license revocation and suspension provisions, civil enforcement actions, suits for damages and criminal penalties as provided in the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended.

SEC. 2.6 Licensing. The provisions of Licensing Order No. 1, licensing all persons who make sales under price control, are applicable to all sellers subject to the applicable supplement. A seller's license may be suspended for violation of the license or of one or more applicable price schedules or regulations. A person whose license is suspended may not, during the period of suspension, make any sales for which his license has been suspended.

SEC. 2.7 Documents, records and reports. Every seller, and every purchaser in the course of trade or business, shall keep for inspection by the Office of Price Administration for so long as the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, remains in effect, complete and accurate records of every sale and purchase covered by the applicable supplement.

(a) Records and documents of sales. (1) Every person making a sale covered by the applicable supplement, to anyone other than a feeder, shall, for each such sale, make a record thereof on an invoice or bill of sale prepared in duplicate. Every person making a sale to a feeder must prepare and keep some record of such sale, not necessarily in the form of an invoice or bill of sale. In each case, the invoice, bill of sale, or other record must state the name and address of the buyer and seller, the date of sale and delivery, the kind and grade of commodity and quantity sold, and the sale price. Every such record (except that of a person making a sale of less than 5,000 pounds to a feeder) must also indicate the guaranteed protein content, if any, of the commodity, and the seller's maximum price. Every such record (except that of a person making a sale of less than 5,000 pounds to a feeder and that of a wholesaler for a sale of less than 10 tons) must indicate the point of production of the commodity (if the seller knows it), and the buyer's receiving point; it must also indicate separately any charges included in the maximum price for sacks or containers, for sacking, and for transportation (in excess of those charges for transportation, if any, included in the base price), and any markups included in the maximum price but not included in the base price.

(2) Every seller, other than one selling to a feeder, must keep one copy of the bill of sale or invoice for his files and give one copy to his customer. Every person making a sale to a feeder need give his customer a copy of the record he is required to keep only upon demand of the purchaser.

(b) Records of purchases. Every person making a purchase in the course of trade or business must keep in his files any document his supplier is required to give him under the provisions of the applicable supplement.

(c) Submission of records. Upon demand every such person shall submit such records and files, and any other required records or files, to the Office of Price Administration and keep such further records as the Office of Price Administration may from time to time require, subject to the approval of the Bureau of the Budget.

SEC. 2.8 Interpretations, protests and petitions for amendment. Any person seeking an interpretation or an amendment of, or desiring to file a protest against, any provisions of this regulation or of an applicable supplement, may do so in accordance with Revised Procedural Regulation No. 1 as amended, issued by the Office of Price Administration.

ARTICLE III—GENERAL PRICING PROVISIONS APPLICABLE TO VARIOUS SELLERS

SEC. 3.1 Maximum pricing method for processors. If you are a processor, you figure your maximum per ton price, bulk, for all sales, by adding to the appropriate base price, the applicable maximum markup, if any, and your transportation cost, if any.

SEC. 3.2 Maximum pricing method for trucker-merchants. (The special statement of information that is required in connection with the use of this method of pricing, must be prepared and furnished to customers in addition to the normal records and documents required by section 2.7, unless the seller includes on the special statement the additional information required to make it conform with the requirements of section 2.7.)

(a) Pricing method. If you are a trucker-merchant, you figure your maximum per ton price, bulk, for the sale of any commodity, by adding to "your supplier's maximum price on the sale to you", the "hauling allowance" from the point where you received delivery from your supplier to the point at which you deliver to your customer.

(b) Statement of information. Every trucker-merchant shall, with respect to every lot transported by him, procure or prepare a statement setting forth the name and address of the seller and of his supplier, the date of purchase, the grade and quality of the commodity, its guaranteed protein content, if any, and the maximum price of his supplier. After the trucker-merchant delivers the lot, he must add the hauling allowance he charges his customer and sign the statement. Every trucker-merchant must give a copy of this statement of information to each customer. Both the trucker-merchant and each customer must retain such copies in their files.

(c) Enforcement requirements. For enforcement purposes, it is necessary that both the shipments themselves and the statements of the trucker-merchant covering such shipments be inspected while in transit. Failure of a trucker-merchant to stop for inspection in response to instructions on a sign conspicuously posted at roadsides or upon signal of an Office of Price Administration enforcement officer, shall be a violation of this supplement, subject to all penalties of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, and the Stabilization Act of 1942, as amended.

SEC. 3.3 Maximum pricing method for jobbers and car door sellers. If you are a jobber or a car door seller, you figure your maximum per ton price, bulk, for the sale of a commodity, by adding to "your supplier's maximum price on the sale to you", your transportation cost, if any, and the appropriate maximum markup.

SEC. 3.4 Maximum pricing method for wholesalers and retailers. If you are a wholesaler or a retailer, you figure your maximum per ton price for the sale of a commodity, by adding to your base price the appropriate maximum markup, and your transportation cost, if any, from your warehouse or store.

SEC. 3.5 Base prices for wholesalers and retailers. Set forth in this section are various methods that you may use in arriving at a base price for use in connection with Section 3.4 of Food Products Regulation No. 3. In each case, the paragraph indicates whether the method is for use by wholesalers, retailers, or both and also the conditions, if any, for the use of each method. Further, in connection with each method, there is an indication of the additional documents and records that may be necessary.

(a) First method; cost of the lot. (This method may be used both by wholesalers and retailers.)

(1) If you maintain the identity of any receipt, on the sale of such a receipt you may use as your base price for all your sales of that receipt "your supplier's maximum price on the sale to you", plus your transportation cost, if any, to your warehouse or store. You may use this method of figuring a base price even though simultaneously you are figuring a maximum price for resale of other receipts of the same commodity by reference to any other method provided in this section.

(2) Posting. If you use this method, you must post your maximum price conspicuously in your warehouse or store, or at any other point from which you may be selling the commodity.

(b) Second method; weekly selling price. (This method may be used both by wholesalers and retailers in connection with the resale of any two or more receipts. In using it, you may not include in your calculations any receipt whose identity is maintained and for which you figure a base price under paragraph (a) above.)

(1) Under this method, you calculate a base price for each commodity for which you use this method, once each week. You select a day for calculation and recalculate on that day each week thereafter (except that when that day falls on a legal holiday, you recalculate on the next business day). Your base price is a weighted average of the maximum prices you could have paid your suppliers for your more recent purchases of a commodity. You compute that average as follows:

(i) Whenever you begin to use this method, you determine, as to your last receipt of the commodity and as to all your receipts of the commodity for the 28 days preceding such last receipt, "your supplier's maximum price on the sale to you" for each such sale and add to each maximum price your transportation cost to your warehouse or store if you incurred any on such sale to you.

(ii) If all such receipts were delivered to you sacked, or if all were delivered to you bulk, you then multiply each sum of price plus transportation cost by the number of tons purchased, add the results, and divide by the total number of tons in these receipts.

(b) If your receipts of a commodity which you use in figuring a base price, were delivered to you, some bulk and some sacked, before taking an average of the maximum price plus transportation cost, you must adjust your supplier's maximum price to you so that all such prices will reflect either a sacked or a bulk price. You do this either by adding to your supplier's maximum price on a sale to you the reasonable market value at the time of sale (not exceeding the lawful maximum price) of the sacks or packages in which you will deliver the commodity to your purchaser, or by subtracting from the maximum price the amount included in such price for the sacks or packages, if you know the amount, or, if you do not, the reasonable market value of the sacks or packages at the time of the sale. You then proceed as indicated in (a) above to determine your weighted average price.

(ii) The weighted average per ton price thus determined is your base price, bulk or sacked, as the case may be, for the first week for all your sales of the commodity (except, of course, for the sales you elect to price under paragraph (a) hereof).

(iii) Upon the next and all succeeding calculation days, you refigure your base price in the same manner, referring, however, only to your last receipt and all receipts of the commodity during the 14 day period preceding such last receipt.

(iv) In determining your base price for sales as a wholesaler, you may, when you recalculate (i. e. when establishing a price for the second week and each week thereafter), elect to use your last receipt prior to your last recalculation day, and the receipts for the 14 days preceding such receipt. Once you elect to use this alternative for recalculating under this method, you must continue to recalculate in the same way so long as you continue to use this method.

(2) If you wish to discontinue using this weekly selling price method, you may do so only, if on the next recalculation day, you take an inventory of the commodity. You may then treat the amount in inventory as a receipt on which "your supplier's maximum price on the sale to you" is the base price you would compute for the succeeding week.

(3) Posting and records. If you use this method, you must post your maximum price conspicuously in your warehouse, store, or other point from which you may be selling the commodity. You must, in addition to the other records required by the applicable supplement, retain a permanent record in your files of your maximum and selling prices for the week, and the basis upon which such price was determined.

SEC. 3.6 Increases for sacks. If you package any lot in your own sacks or packages prior to sale by you, you may add to your maximum price the reasonable market value (not to exceed the lawful maximum price) of the sacks or packages at the time of delivery of the commodity, except when your maximum price for the commodity is a sacked price determined in accordance with the provisions of section 3.5 (b) of Food Products Regulation No. 3.

SEC. 3.7 Charges for sacking. If you package any lot in your customer's sacks or packages, you may add to your maximum price the appropriate one of the following additions:

	Per ton
If your customer supplies new or re-cleaned sacks	$0.50
If he supplies any other sack	1.00

This regulation shall become effective September 21, 1944.

ARTICLE II—PRICING PROVISIONS

SEC. 6. Base per ton prices for cottonseed products. Base prices for all cottonseed products are set forth below. In the case of all products, except cottonseed hulls and hull bran, these prices depend upon the giving and fulfilling of a guarantee of minimum protein content. "Standard protein content" is 41 percent for cottonseed oil meal, oil cake, sized cake and pellets, and 35 percent for whole pressed cottonseed, oil meal, oil cake, sized cake and pellets.

In the case of all products, except cottonseed hulls and hull bran, the following base prices are for sales or deliveries of 60,000 pounds or more, for carload shipments or pool carlots, and for sales and deliveries to cotton ginners. In the event you deliver a less than carload lot of any cottonseed products, other than cottonseed hulls or hull bran, to any person other than a cotton ginner, you may add $1.00 per ton to the price listed below in arriving at your base price.

(a) Cottonseed oil meal, oil cake, sized cake, pellets and whole pressed cottonseed oil meal, oil cake, sized cake and pellets. (1) If at the time of sale you guarantee that the lot will contain, at a minimum, the standard protein content for the commodity, and you fulfill such guarantee by delivering a lot with at least such standard protein content, base price per ton prices are as follows:

(i) For the following points of production:

[1] If oil meal, sized cake or pellets are produced by the processor from slab cake which he purchased, the base price is increased by 50 cents per ton.
[2] East Arkansas consists of the following counties in Arkansas: Arkansas, Clay, Craighead, Crittenden, Jackson, Lawrence, Lee, Mississippi, Monroe, Phillips, Poinsett, Randolph, St. Francis, and Woodruff.
[3] West Arkansas consists of all points in Arkansas not included in East Arkansas.

(ii) For cottonseed products produced at any other point in the United States, the base per ton price shall be the price named in (i) above for the point nearest to the actual point of production.

(2) If at the time of sale you guarantee that the lot will contain any specified protein content less than the standard for the commodity and you fulfill such guarantee by delivering a lot with at least the minimum protein content you guaranteed, you determine the base per ton price by deducting from the appropriate price in subparagraph (1) above, 75 cents per ton for each unit of protein or fraction thereof by which the actual protein content of the lot is under the standard for the commodity.

(3) If at the time of sale you guarantee that a lot of cottonseed oil meal, oil cake, sized cake or pellets will contain at a minimum 43 per cent protein and you fulfill such guarantee by delivering a lot with at least 43 per cent protein, you determine the base per ton price by adding $2.00 per ton to the appropriate price set forth in subparagraph (1) above for a sale and delivery of the same commodity guaranteed to be of standard protein content.

(4) If at the time of sale you guarantee any minimum protein content and you do not fulfill such guarantee on delivery, you determine your base per ton price by dividing the base price that would be applicable if the guarantee had been fulfilled by the number of units guaranteed, and multiplying that result by the number of full units in the lot, but not by more than 41.

(5) If at the time of sale you do not guarantee any protein content, you figure your base price by multiplying the actual number of full units of protein in the lot by $1.30, if whole pressed cottonseed, or $1.05 in all other cases, except that in no case may your base price under this provision exceed the base price set forth in subparagraph (1) hereof for the sale and delivery of the same commodity with the standard protein content.

(b) Cottonseed hulls and hull bran. (1) The base price for cottonseed hulls is $13.00 per ton.

(2) The base price for cottonseed hull bran is $17.00 per ton, plus the transportation cost, if any, from the point of production of the cottonseed hull to the point of production of the cottonseed hull bran.

(c) Base prices for importers. The base per ton price for an importer depends upon the location of the point of entry of the commodity.

(1) If the point of entry is in the state of Washington or Oregon, you figure your base per ton price as follows: Determine the base price for the domestic commodity sold and delivered under the same circumstances and produced in California; add thereto the lowest carload freight rate on oil meal from San Francisco, California, to the rail point nearest your purchaser's place of business; and subtract from this total your transportation cost or your purchaser's transportation cost, as the case may be, from the point of entry to your purchaser's place of business.

(2) If point of entry is any Atlantic Coast port north of North Carolina, you determine your base per ton price as provided in (1) above substituting Tennessee for California, and Memphis, Tennessee for San Francisco.

(3) If the point of entry is located at any other point, the base per ton price is the appropriate price set out in paragraph (a) or (b) above for the domestic commodity sold and delivered under the same circumstances and produced at the point of entry.

SEC. 7. Maximum prices for sales by processors. Section 3.1 of Food Products Regulation No. 3, which provides a pricing method for processors, is applicable to this supplement.

(a) Base prices. The base price referred to in section 3.1 is the appropriate base price found in section 6 of this supplement. (Note that if you are the importer as well as the processor of the lot, you determine your base price under section 6 (c) of this supplement.)

(b) Maximum markup. As a processor you are not permitted to add a maximum markup in figuring the maximum price for a sale of any lot unless, with respect to that lot, you meet either of the following conditions:

(1) You have unloaded that lot into a place of business operated by you as a separate place of business not located at the production plant where the lot was produced; or

(2) You are selling in quantities of 2,000 pounds or less.

If you comply with either of these requirements, you may add the appropriate one of the following markups (except on sales to cotton ginners):

	Cottonseed hulls or hull bran	All other cottonseed products
		Per ton
If you sell to a feeder from a store not located at any production plant.	$4.00 per ton	$4.50
In all other cases if you sell from a separate place of business not located at the production plant:
To feeders	No markup	2.00
To anyone else	No markup	1.50
If you sell to anyone from the production plant in quantities of 2,000 lbs. or less.	No markup	2.00

SEC. 8. Maximum prices for sales by trucker-merchants, other than growers. Section 3.2 of Food Products Regulation No. 3, which provides a pricing method for trucker-merchants, is applicable to this supplement. If you are a trucker-merchant and not a "grower", you figure your maximum price under this Section.

(a) Your supplier's maximum price. Section 3.2 refers to "your supplier's maximum price on the sale to you". It is defined in section 1.14 of Food Products Regulation No. 3.

(b) Hauling allowances. Section 3.2 of Food Products Regulation No. 3 also refers to "hauling allowance". That term is defined in section 1.21 of Food Products Regulation No. 3.

SEC. 9. Maximum prices for sales by jobbers and car door sellers, other than growers. Section 3.3 of Food Products Regulation No. 3, which provides a pricing method for jobbers and car door sellers, is applicable to this supplement. If you are a jobber, or a car door seller and not a "grower", you figure your maximum price under this Section.

(a) Your supplier's maximum price. Section 3.3 refers to "your supplier's maximum price on the sale to you". It is defined in section 1.14 of Food Products Regulation No. 3.

(b) Maximum markup—(1) Jobbers. If you are a jobber, the size of your markup depends upon whether you are a ginner, as defined herein. If no other jobber has already handled the same lot, you may add one of the following maximum markups:

	Cottonseed hulls and hull bran	All other cottonseed products
Jobbers who are also "ginners":
For sales and deliveries of 2,000 lbs. or less	$0.75	$2.00
For carload shipments or deliveries in pool car lots	(1)	(1)
For deliveries of l. c. l. lots	.75	1.00
Jobbers who are not also "ginners":
For deliveries of pool car lots	1.00	1.00
For all other deliveries	.75	.75

[1] No markup.

(2) Car door sellers. If you are a car door seller, you may add a maximum markup of $2.00 per ton for sales or deliveries of cottonseed hulls and hull bran or $3.50 per ton for sales or deliveries of all other cottonseed products.

SEC. 10. Maximum prices for sales by wholesalers and retailers other than growers. Section 3.4 of Food Products Regulation No. 3 which provides a pricing method for wholesalers and retailers, and section 3.5 of Food Products Regulation No. 3 which provides base prices for wholesalers and retailers, are applicable to this supplement. If you are a retailer or a wholesaler and not a "grower", you figure your maximum price under this section.

(a) Base prices. Base prices referred to in section 3.4 are the base prices set out in section 3.5 of Food Products Regulation No. 3.

(b) Maximum markups. If you are a wholesaler, your maximum markup depends upon whether you are a "ginner", as defined herein. If you qualify as a retailer, the fact that you are also a ginner does not affect your maximum markup.

In any event, you may add the appropriate one of the following markups only if no other seller of the same class as yours has already handled the same lot.

	Cottonseed hulls and hull bran	All other cottonseed products
Wholesalers who are also ginners:
For sales and deliveries of 2,000 lbs. or less	$2	$2.00
For all other sales or deliveries	2	1.00
Wholesalers who are not also ginners	2	3.50
All retailers	4	5.00

SEC. 11. Maximum prices for sales by all growers. If you are a grower, you establish your maximum price under this section even though you qualify as a trucker-merchant, jobber, car door seller, wholesaler, or retailer. Your maximum price for any lot is the maximum price the processor of the lot could charge your customer if he were making the sale and delivery to your customer from his plant.

SEC. 12. Maximum prices for sales by government agencies, including the Commodity Credit Corporation. The maximum price any government agency, including the Commodity Credit Corporation, may charge is the same price the processor of the lot could charge if he were making the same sale or delivery from his plant.

SEC. 13. Charge for sacks and sacking. (a) Section 3.6 of Food Products Regulation No. 3, dealing with increases for sacks and packages, and section 3.7 of Food Products Regulation No. 3, dealing with charges for sacking, are applicable to this supplement.

(b) If you sack or package cottonseed hulls or hull bran, prior to sale by you, in your own sacks or packages, you may add not only the addition permitted under paragraph (a) hereof, but also $.75 per ton.

This supplement shall become effective on the 21st day of September 1944.

NOTE: The record-keeping provisions of this regulation have been approved by the Bureau of the Budget, in accordance with the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

Issued this 16th day of September 1944.

SECTION 1. Explanation of the relation of this supplement to Food Products Regulation No. 3. Not all of the provisions affecting maximum prices for sales of the listed meal products are stated in this supplement. ARTICLE II—PRICING PROVISIONS

SEC. 6. Base per ton prices for listed meal products. Base prices for all listed meal products are set forth below. In all cases, these prices depend upon the location of the production plant and the giving and fulfilling, or failure to give, a guarantee of minimum protein content.

The following base prices are for sales or deliveries of 60,000 pounds or more, and for carload shipments or pool car lots. In the event you deliver a less than carload lot of any listed meal product, you may add $1.00 per ton to the prices listed below in arriving at your base price.

(a) Commodities produced in the United States at a point of entry. (1) If, at the time of sale, you guarantee that the lot will contain, at a minimum, the standard protein content listed below for the commodity, and you fulfill that guarantee by delivering a lot with at least such standard protein content, base per ton prices are as follows:

	Protein guarantee	Base price
		Oil cake or oil meal	Sized cake or pellets
Copra products	20% or more protein	$45.50	$47.00
Babassu products	22% or more protein	45.50	47.00
Ouricuri products	20% or more protein	45.50	47.00
Palm Kernel products	15% or more protein	45.50	47.00
Sesame products	40% or more protein	72.50	74.00

Product:	Base price per unit of protein
Babassu products	2.05
Ouricuri products	1.60
Palm kernel products	2.50
Sesame products	1.80

(b) Commodities produced in the United States at any point other than a point of entry. For commodities produced in the United States at any point other than a point of entry, your base per ton price shall be the appropriate price named in paragraph (a) above for the same commodity sold and delivered under the same circumstances and produced at a point of entry, plus a freight allowance equal to the lowest per ton all rail carload freight rate in the listed meal product to the production plan from the point of entry of the raw material.

(c) Base prices for importers. (Commodities produced outside the United States). The base per ton price of an importer is the appropriate price set out in paragraph (a) above for the domestic commodity sold and delivered under the same circumstances and produced at a point of entry.

SEC. 7. Maximum prices for sales by processors. Section 3.1 of Food Products Regulation No. 3, which provides a pricing method for processors, is applicable to this supplement.

(a) Base prices. The base price referred to in section 3.1 is the appropriate base price found in section 6 of this supplement. (Note that if you are the importer as well as the processor of the lot, you determine your base price under section 6 (c) of this supplement).

(b) Maximum markup. As a processor you are not permitted to add a maximum markup in figuring the maximum price for the sale of any lot unless you have unloaded such lot into a warehouse or store operated by you as a separate place of business not located at the production plant, and you sell from such warehouse or store. If, as to any lot, you comply with this requirement, you may add the appropriate one of the following markups:

	Per ton
If you sell to a feeder from a store	$4.50
In all other cases	1.50

SEC. 8. Maximum prices for sales by trucker-merchants. Section 3.2 of Food Products Regulation No. 3, which provides a pricing method for trucker-merchants, is applicable to this supplement.

(a) Your supplier's maximum price. Section 3.2 refers to "your supplier's maximum price on the sale to you". It is defined in section 1.14 of Food Products Regulation No. 3.

(b) Hauling allowance. Section 3.2 of Food Products Regulation No. 3 also refers to "hauling allowance". That term is defined in section 1.21 of Food Products Regulation No. 3.

SEC. 9. Maximum prices for sales by jobbers and car door sellers. Section 3.3 of Food Products Regulation No. 3, which provides a pricing method for jobbers and car door sellers, is applicable to this supplement.

(a) Your supplier's maximum price. Section 3.3 refers to "your supplier's maximum price on the sale to you." It is defined in section 1.14 of Food Products Regulation No. 3.

(b) Maximum markup—(1) Jobbers. If you are a jobber and no other jobber has already handled the same lot, you may add one of the following maximum markups:

	Per ton
For deliveries in pool car lots	$1.00
For all other deliveries	.75

*Copies may be obtained from the Office of Price Administration.

(2) Car door sellers. If you are a car door seller, you may add a maximum markup of $3.50 per ton for sales or deliveries of all listed meal products.

SEC. 10. Maximum prices for sales by wholesalers and retailers. Section 3.4 of Food Products Regulation No. 3, which provides a pricing method for wholesalers and retailers, and section 3.5 of Food Products Regulation No. 3, which provides base prices for wholesalers and retailers, are applicable to this supplement.

(a) Base prices. Base prices referred to in section 3.4 are the base prices set out in section 3.5 of Food Products Regulation No. 3.

(b) Maximum markups. This regulation aims to prevent the inclusion in any maximum price of more than one markup for any class of seller. As a retailer you can always add a retailer's maximum markup, since a seller can qualify as a retailer only when he is selling a particular lot to a person who will use the lot and will not resell it. It is therefore impossible for two retailers to handle the same lot. As a wholesaler, however, you are permitted to add the maximum markup set out below in figuring the maximum price for the sale of any lot, only if no other wholesaler has already handled the lot. On this condition the following maximum markups may be added:

Wholesaler	$2.50
Retailer	3.50

SEC. 11. Charges for sacks. Section 3.6 of Food Products Regulation No. 3, dealing with increases for sacks, is applicable to this supplement.

This supplement shall become effective on the 21st day of September 1944.

NOTE: The record keeping provisions of this regulation have been approved by the Bureau of the Budget in accordance with the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

Insofar as this revised regulation uses specifications and standards which were not, prior to such use, in general use in the trade or industry affected, or insofar as their use was not lawfully required by another government agency, the Price Administrator has determined with respect to such standardization that no practical alternative exists for securing effective price control with respect to the commodities subject to this revised regulation.

EXPLANATION OF THE REGULATION

This regulation establishes weekly zone prices for all grades of eggs when sold to all classes of buyers except household consumers who buy from a retail store. The zones are set out in section 3.18.

The delivered prices for each zone, for grades in the most common use, sold to certain types of buyers, are given in the base Table A.

Prices for other grades are calculated according to instructions in Table A–1, by referring to the base Table A.

Prices for sales by certain types of sellers to certain types of buyers are calculated according to Table A–2, by referring to the base Table A and to Table A–1.

In reading the tables, careful attention must be paid to the footnotes which qualify the prices in certain respects or set additional prices.

All eggs sold as being of a certain grade must conform to the requirements for that grade as set out in United States Department of Agriculture Tentative U. S. Standards for the particular grade, and must meet additional standards set out in this regulation. The grades must be standardized according to the United States Department of Agriculture "Specifications for Official U. S. Standards for Individual Shell Eggs."

The terms used in this regulation are, generally, those in common usage understood by the trade. However, section 3.2 defines some words that are used with special meanings.

Prices for egg products are set out in Article II of the regulation. Generally speaking, these products are priced in the same way as they were in Maximum Price Regulation 333.

ARTICLE I—MAXIMUM PRICES FOR EGGS

SECTION 1.1 What this regulation does; eggs. This Article I establishes maximum wholesale prices for delivered and f. o. b. sales of eggs of the domestic or barnyard hen. This section 1 sets out particularly what eggs are excluded, what standards must be met, and what kinds of buyers are covered by this regulation.

SEC. 1.2 What eggs are excluded. The following sales of eggs are exempt from the provisions of this regulation.

(a) Hatching eggs. All sales of eggs bought for the sole purpose of hatching are exempt from this regulation. If, however, after partial incubation such eggs are found to be unsuitable for hatching purposes, they may be sold for industrial use under Maximum Price Regulation No. 280.

(b) Inedible eggs. Eggs that are unfit for human consumption and are sold for industrial use are exempt from this regulation. They may be sold under the provisions of Maximum Price Regulation No. 280.

(c) Eggs of other poultry. The only eggs covered by this regulation are eggs of the domestic or barnyard hen. Eggs of other poultry are exempt.

(d) Eggs sold at retail. Eggs sold at retail under the provisions of Maximum Price Regulations Nos. 422 and 423 are exempt from this regulation.

SEC. 1.3 Standards, specifications and grades. (a) All eggs covered by this regulation shall be sold in one of the grades named herein. For the purpose of this regulation the terms "grades" and "wholesale grades" include ungraded, and current receipts.

(b) Eggs that are sold at the price named for a particular grade must meet the standards for that grade as set out in the Department of Agriculture's publications listed in paragraph (c) immediately following, in addition to other standards established by this regulation.

(c) Grade standards. Consumer grades must meet the standards set out in "Tentative U. S. Standards and Weight Classes for Consumer Grades for Shell Eggs".

Wholesale grades, except ungraded or current receipts, must meet the standards set out in "Tentative U. S. Standards and Weights for Wholesale Grades of Shell Eggs." The terms "ungraded" and "current receipts" means eggs the grade, size, and weight of which have not yet been determined.

Procurement grades must meet the standards set out in "Tentative U. S. Standards for Procurement Grades of Shell Eggs."

All grades except ungraded or current receipts must meet the standards set out in "Specifications for Official U. S. Standards for Quality of Individual Shell Eggs".

(d) The standards and specifications of the United States Department of Agriculture named in the above paragraph (c) are published and in effect on September 25, 1944 and are to be controlling during the effective life of this regulation. Any modifications or repeal thereof by the Department of Agriculture shall not modify or repeal the effectiveness of such standards and specifications for the purposes of this regulation.

(e) In addition to the standards set out in paragraph (c) above, all eggs except procurement grades and ungraded or current receipts must meet weight requirements as follows:

CONSUMER GRADES

Size	Minimum net weight per dozen	Minimum net weight per 30 dozen	Minimum weight for individual eggs at rate per dozen
	Ounces	Pounds	Ounces
Extra large	28	52.5	35

Medium	21	40	30

WHOLESALE GRADES

Medium	40	39	20	18
Small	No average or minimum weight requirements

These weight specifications apply to all wholesale grades except U. S. Dirties and U. S. Checks for which there are no weight requirements.

(f) "Light dirty" eggs must meet the special requirements set out in section 3.3 and may be sold at the price named for them in Table A–1 only upon compliance with all of the conditions of section 3.3.

(g) The prices named in this regulation are for eggs that meet the standards of the grade at the time of delivery to the buyer. Failure to meet such standards is a violation of this regulation.

SEC. 1.4 Kinds of buyers. This regulation establishes maximum prices for sales to each kind of buyer except a household consumer who buys from a retail store that is covered by Maximum Price Regulation 427 and 423. The kinds of buyers are described in terms that are in general usage in the trade but in some instances they are particularly defined in section 3.2. No sale shall be made at a price higher than the maximum price set out in this regulation for the type of buyer to whom the sale is made.

SEC. 1.5 Pricing provisions. The maximum prices in this section are established with reference to the following:

(a) Grades and sizes of eggs—(b) Place of delivery. Except as otherwise set out in the paragraphs preceding the tables, the prices are delivered prices at any place within one of the zones. The geographic locations of the zones are set out in section 3.18.

(c) Date of delivery. The price to be used is the price given in the table for the week in which the eggs are delivered to the buyer, as set out in Table A. The weeks start with the first Thursday in January and are numbered consecutively thereafter.

(d) Kinds of buyers and sellers. The prices differ on sales to different kinds of buyers by different kinds of sellers, as set out in Table A–2.

(e) Other conditions. Other qualifying conditions, and additions to or deductions from maximum prices, are set out in the following paragraphs.

SEC. 1.6 F. O. B. sales. F. o. b. sales may be made only under the conditions set out in the two following paragraphs:

(a) Within 200 miles. If the buyer's customary receiving point is located within 200 miles of the place of business from which the seller makes the sale, eggs intended for local consumption within such 200-mile area may be sold f. o. b. the seller's place of business and the maximum price is the price for the zone in which the eggs are sold, less ten cents per case (30 dozen). If such f. o. b. sale is made to a large retailer, the ten cents shall be deducted from the price for delivery to such large retailer's warehouse and not from the price for delivery to the retailer's individual store.

(b) Sales to a United States Government agency. On sales to a United States Government agency the eggs may be sold f. o. b. the seller's shipping point and the maximum price is the price for the zone in which the eggs are sold.

SEC. 1.7 Sales by War Shipping Administration and by licensed ship suppliers. For purposes of this regulation, sales by War Shipping Administration to ship suppliers licensed by War Food Administration and sales by such ship suppliers to operators of ships under the jurisdiction of War Shipping Administration are included as sales to a U. S. Government agency.

SEC. 1.8 Eggs treated for preservation—(a) Sales to a United States Government agency. When eggs of wholesale grades Specials or Extras, procurement grades I, II, or III or consumer grades A or AA have been treated for purposes of preservation by being completely coated with mineral oil, and are sold to a United States Government agency, one cent per dozen may be added to the maximum prices.

(b) Sales to other buyers. During the months of March, April, May, June, July, and August, only, one cent per dozen may be added on sales (to buyers other than United States Government agencies) of wholesale grades Specials or Extras that have been treated for purposes of preservation by being completely coated with mineral oil.

(c) No additions to maximum prices on account of oil treatment are permitted except as specifically set out in these paragraphs (a) and (b).

SEC. 1.9 Egg cases and cartons—(a) Retail egg cartons. When consumer grades of eggs are packed in retail cartons supplied by the seller, two cents may be added to the maximum price for each packed carton of one dozen eggs, and one cent may be added to the maximum price for each packed carton of one-half dozen eggs. This allowance is not to be added until the complete calculation of the delivered price has been made.

(b) Egg cases. Except as provided in paragraph (a) above, no additions to maximum prices are permitted for egg cases or cartons. If a complete and suitable case or other container is not furnished by the seller, or is returned by the buyer to the seller, or to another person, at the seller's request, deductions shall be made from the maximum prices for each 30 dozen eggs as follows:

Case or separate part	If eggs were delivered to buyer— East of Mississippi	If eggs were delivered to buyer— West of Mississippi
	Cents	Cents
Cases complete with flats, fillers and covers (each)	19	22
Shells (each)	10	13
Flats (per 12)	4	4
Fillers (per 10)	4	4
Covers (each)	1	1

"East of the Mississippi" means the area located east of the Mississippi River, including the entire state of Wisconsin. "West of the Mississippi" means the area located west of the Mississippi River, including the entire states of Minnesota and Louisiana.

SEC. 1.10 Calculations. Fractions or decimals of a cent remaining after the total price for the quantity sold has been calculated shall be dropped if less than ½ cent and increased to the next higher cent if ½ cent or more.

SEC. 1.11 Maximum delivered prices for large eggs and current receipts; certain consumer grades sold to independent retailers etc.; certain wholesale grades sold to first receivers; and procurement grades sold to U. S. Government agencies. This section establishes maximum prices for delivered sales, of current receipts to a first receiver; and for the following grades of large eggs sold and delivered to the type of buyer named:

(a) Consumer grades A, B, and C, sold to an independent retailer, an independent retail route seller, a large retailer at his individual store, or an institutional user; (These four types of buyers are included within the term "independent retailers" in the headings to Table A.)

*Copies may be obtained from the Office of Price Administration.

(b) Wholesale grades Extras 1 and 2, and Standards 1 and 2, sold to a first receiver; and

(c) Procurement grades I, II, and III, sold to a U. S. Government agency.

These prices are for each week of the year (starting with the first Thursday in January), for each zone in the country.

These maximum delivered prices are set out in Table A below. Additions to or deductions from these prices for other grades and sizes of eggs, sold by certain types of sellers to certain types of buyers, are set out in Tables A–1 and A–2 which follow Table A.

Procurement grades may be sold only to U. S. Government agencies.

ARTICLE II—EGG PRODUCTS

SEC. 2.1 What this regulation does; egg products. Article II of this regulation establishes maximum wholesale prices for delivered and f. o. b. sales of egg products in frozen, liquid, and dried form, and for mixtures and emulsions of egg products. Base prices are given for each product, for each month of the year, for certain named basing point cities, and the maximum price for the product is to be calculated according to the method described. For pricing frozen and liquid egg products the country is divided into Eastern and Western areas and these are defined in section 3.2. For dried egg products the prices are calculated from either New York or Seattle without regard to any area.

SEC. 2.2 Standards. Except for permitted sales of certain dried egg products to a procurement agency of the United States Army Quartermaster Corps, the prices named in this article are for egg products that meet the standards defined in section 3.2 and that comply with the requirements of the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act.

SEC. 2.3 Maximum delivered prices for frozen egg products; more than 30,000 pounds. Maximum prices for frozen egg products (that is, frozen whole eggs, frozen reconstituted eggs, frozen whites, frozen 45% yolks, and frozen sugared or salted yolks) delivered in quantities of more than 30,000 pounds to a buyer at the refrigerated warehouse that is his customary receiving point, are established in this section.

(a) Maximum delivered prices in the basing point cities of New York, Seattle, Portland (Oregon), San Francisco, Los Angeles, San Diego, Phoenix, and Tucson, for the months named, are as follows:

TABLE B (WESTERN AREA)

	Jan.	Feb.	Mar.	Apr.	May	June	July	Aug.	Sept.	Oct.	Nov.	Dec.
Frozen:
Whole or reconstituted	33.4	34.8	32.0	32.0	32.0	32.0	32.0	32.4	32.8	34.2	34.6	35.0

For the basing point city of Miami, Florida, the maximum prices are one-half cent per pound more than those stated in Table B above.

To find the maximum delivered prices for any other point, except Kansas City, in the "Western Area" (which is defined in section 3.2), make the following calculation:

(1) Take the price for the particular product, for the month in which delivered, from Table B above. (The Miami price is to be used only in computing prices for delivery at points for which Miami is the basing point city.)

(2) Find the basing point city that has the lowest carlot freight rate per pound from the place of delivery. (The freight rate from the place of delivery to the basing point city must be used, not the rate for the opposite direction.) If there is no actual carlot freight rate between these places, find the lowest rate for other means of transportation.

(3) Multiply this rate by 1.16. (The result is called the "transportation factor".)

(4) Subtract the "transportation factor" (subparagraph (3)) from the Table B price (subparagraph (1)).

(5) The result is the maximum price at the place of delivery.

(b) Maximum prices in the basing point city of Kansas City, Missouri, for the months named, are as follows:

TABLE C (EASTERN AREA)

	Jan.	Feb.	Mar.	Apr.	May	June	July	Aug.	Sept.	Oct.	Nov.	Dec.
Frozen:
Whole or reconstituted	34.0	33.9	30.6	30.6	30.6	30.6	31.6	32.0	32.4	32.8	33.2	33.6

Sugared or salted yolks	42.3	43.1	38.8	38.8	38.8	38.8	38.8	40.2	40.6	41.0	41.4	41.8

To find the maximum prices for any point in the "Eastern area" (which is defined in section 3.2), other than New York City and Miami, Florida, make the following calculation:

(1) Take the price for the product, for the month in which delivered, from Table C above.

(2) Find the actual carlot freight rate per pound from Kansas City, Missouri to the place of delivery in the "Eastern area." (The rate from Kansas City to the place of delivery must be used, not the rate for the opposite direction.) If there is no actual carlot freight rate between these places, find the lowest rate for other means of transportation.

(3) Multiply this rate by 1.16. (The result is called the "transportation factor".)

(4) Add the "transportation factor" (subparagraph (3)) to the Table C price (subparagraph (1)).

(5) The result is the maximum price at the place of delivery.

SEC. 2.4 Maximum delivered prices for liquid egg products; more than 30,000 pounds. Maximum base prices for the sale of liquid egg products (liquid whole eggs, liquid reconstituted eggs, liquid whites, liquid 45% yolks, and liquid sugared or salted yolks) delivered to any buyer in quantities of more than 30,000 pounds during the months of July, August, September, October, November, December and January, shall be the same as the prices per pound for the corresponding frozen egg products for the same months as set out in the above section 2.3. During the months of February, March, April, May, and June, the prices for liquid egg products shall be ½ cent per pound less than the maximum prices per pound for the corresponding frozen egg products for the same month.

SEC. 2.5 Variations in percentage of solids; frozen or liquid yolk products. The prices set out in sections 2.3 and 2.4 for frozen and liquid yolk products are for those products that meet the standards of the definition in section 3.2. For variations in percentage of solids in frozen or liquid yolk products the following additions to and deductions from maximum prices shall be made:

(a) For each whole 1 percent in excess of 45 percent in solids of frozen or liquid yolks not containing sugar or salt, the seller may add 85/100 cent ($0.0085) per pound to the prices in sections 2.3 and 2.4 above.

(b) For each 1 percent or fraction of 1 percent less than 45 percent in solids of frozen or liquid yolks not containing sugar or salt, the seller shall deduct 85/100 cent ($0.0085) per pound from the prices in sections 2.3 and 2.4 above.

(c) For each whole 1 percent in excess of 43 percent in solids of frozen or liquid yolks containing sugar or salt, the seller may add ¾ cent ($0.0075) per pound to the prices in sections 2.3 and 2.4 above.

SEC. 2.6 Maximum prices for frozen and liquid egg products; 30,000 pounds or less. Maximum prices for frozen and liquid egg products in quantities of 30,000 pounds or less are the prices in the three next preceding sections plus certain increases set out in the following subparagraphs. The applicable maximum base price for such sales is the price at the seller's manufacturing plant or refrigerated warehouse from which actual delivery is made, calculated according to the same method as that used for determining the delivered price at such place in section 2.3 above.

(a) Increases for deliveries of 30,000 pounds or less. On deliveries from one seller to one buyer of frozen and liquid egg products that average 30,000 pounds or less per calendar week, an increase may be added to maximum prices named in the three next preceding sections 2.3, 2.4, and 2.5 as set out in the table below.

Weekly average of deliveries from the seller to one buyer:	Permitted increase (cents per pound)
30,001 to 90,000 pounds inclusive	½
1,501 to 3,000 pounds inclusive	1
501 to 1,500 pounds inclusive	2
500 pounds or less	3

In computing the average weekly deliveries, all f. o. b. sales and all actual deliveries of all frozen and liquid egg products from the seller to any one buyer shall be included, whether or not covered by one or more separate contracts.

(b) The weekly average is to be computed as follows—(1) On contract sales. The total quantity of frozen and liquid egg products contracted to be bought by the buyer, for each delivery point, shall be divided by the number of weeks during which deliveries are to be made. The quotient shall be considered the average weekly delivery. The seller shall keep records showing actual deliveries of all frozen and liquid egg products. As of the first Monday in January and the first Monday in July of each year, the seller shall compute the total of all deliveries to each delivery point of each buyer for the preceding six months' period, and divide the total number of pounds by the total number of weeks covered by the contract. If the resulting average is found to entitle the buyer to a lower price than he has paid, the seller shall refund the difference to the buyer within six weeks.

(2) Open market and spot business. If no written contract is made between seller and buyer, the buyer shall indicate in writing to the seller his opinion of the total quantity of frozen and liquid egg products he will buy per week at a given delivery point. The seller may then quote on that basis, making the provision, however, in his quotation, that if the buyer lowers the quantity of his requirements so that actual deliveries fail to average the quantity indicated by the buyer, the buyer may be billed for any difference to which the seller is entitled, according to the table in paragraph (a) above. As in the case of contract sales, the seller shall maintain records of sales at each delivery point and within six weeks of the first Monday in January and the first Monday in July, make refunds in the instances where actual average deliveries warranted lower prices.

(c) Delivery charges. For delivery of frozen and liquid egg products in quantities of 30,000 pounds or less per week, the following increases in maximum prices may be made in addition to those permitted by paragraph (a) above.

(1) Within 25 miles. For delivery within 25 miles of the seller's manufacturing plant or refrigerated warehouse, an increase of ¼ cent per pound may be added to paragraph (a) increases. But see paragraph (3) below for quantities under 200 pounds.

(2) Over 25 miles. For deliveries to a buyer whose place of business is more than 25 miles from the seller's manufacturing plant or refrigerated warehouse, the actual freight cost, at the lowest applicable l.c.l. refrigerated rail or truck rate, may be added to paragraph (a) increases. But see subparagraph (3) below for quantities under 200 pounds.

(3) Under 200 pounds. For any quantity under 200 pounds, a flat charge of not more than 50 cents for the total delivery may be made in lieu of the increase permitted in subparagraphs (1) or (2) above and in addition to paragraph (a) increases.

SEC. 2.7 Maximum prices for sales and deliveries of dried egg products; more than 3,000 pounds. The maximum prices fixed in this section are for sales and deliveries of dried egg products (that is, dried whole eggs, dried egg yolks, flake-dried albumen, and spray-dried or powdered albumen) that meet the standards set out in the definitions in section 3.2 Maximum prices of these dried egg products in quantities of more than 3,000 pounds, for the month in which delivered, are set out below.

(a) Maximum prices per pound for sales and deliveries in the cities of New York and Seattle, for the months named, are as follows:

(b) To find the maximum prices for sales and deliveries at any other place, make the following calculation:

(1) Take the price for the particular product, for the month in which delivered, from Table D above.

(2) Find out which city, New York or Seattle, has the lowest carlot freight rate per pound from the place of delivery. (The freight rate from the place of delivery to New York or Seattle must be used, not the rate for the opposite direction.) If there is no actual carlot freight rate between these places, find the lowest rate for other means of transportation.

(3) Multiply this rate by 1.14. (The result is called the "transportation factor".)

(4) Subtract the "transportation factor" (subparagraph (3)) from the Table D price (subparagraph (1)).

(5) The result is the maximum price at the place of delivery.

SEC. 2.8 Maximum prices for sales and deliveries of dried egg products; 3,000 pounds or less. The following increases may be added to the maximum base prices for dried egg products when sold and delivered in quantities of 3,000 pounds or less per calendar week by one seller to any one particular buyer other than a United States Government agency:

Q. D. No. 117, 28 January 1944, superseding C. Q. D. No. 117 4 March 1943" as now promulgated, or as amended from time to time, when sold to a procurement agency of the United States Army Quartermaster Corps, are exempt from price control until further order of the Administrator.

SEC. 2.11 Blends or emulsions. The maximum prices for mixtures, blends, or emulsions of two or more egg products (whether frozen, liquid, or dried) shall be the total of the maximum prices for the separate egg products, plus the actual cost of all other ingredients.

If a suitable container or package is not furnished by the seller, or is returned by the buyer to the seller or to another person at the seller's direction, deduction shall be made from the maximum prices for the egg products in the amount of the maximum price of such containers or the current market price if there is no fixed maximum price.

SEC. 3.3 Adjustment of maximum prices for eggs and egg products. (a) The Office of Price Administration, or any duly authorized representative thereof, may adjust any maximum price established under this regulation for egg items in the case of any seller or group of sellers where it appears:

(1) That there exists or threatens to exist in a particular locality a shortage in the supply of such egg items; and

(2) That such local shortage will be substantially reduced or eliminated by adjusting the maximum prices of such seller and of like sellers for such egg items; and

(3) That such adjustment will not create or tend to create a shortage, or a need for increase in prices, in another locality, and will effectuate the purposes of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended.

(b) Applications for adjustment under this section shall be filed in accordance with Revised Procedural Regulation No. 1.

(c) Each Regional Administrator is authorized to make adjustments or act upon applications for adjustment under this section.

(d) In addition to the foregoing provisions each Regional Administrator is authorized to make adjustments in the maximum prices for shell eggs provided in this revised regulation not exceeding two-tenths of one cent per dozen in amount, by appropriate order issued by him: Provided, That such order shall be made applicable to areas within his region that are defined in such order and provided that paragraph (a) (3) of this section is complied with.

(e) Each Regional Administrator is further authorized to issue an order authorizing the sale and delivery of "light dirty eggs" as defined in this revised regulation, upon the following conditions:

(1) The order of the Regional Administrator must define the area within which such eggs may be sold and delivered.

(2) The Regional Administrator must determine that "light dirty eggs" as defined in this regulation have been sold customarily within the area defined prior to the time his order is issued. The maximum prices for light dirty eggs established by the order of the Regional Administrator, whether of consumer grade A or AA quality, shall be 1 cent less per dozen than the maximum price for consumer grade A eggs.

(3) The order of the Regional Administrator shall provide that light dirty eggs shall be sold only in sealed cartons or other sealed containers bearing upon the seal the certificate of the U. S. Department of Agriculture certifying that the eggs are of an interior quality of consumer grade A or better. The order shall further provide that, upon the effective date thereof, light dirty eggs as defined in this regulation shall become a consumer grade of eggs within the area defined in such order.

SEC. 3.4 Emergency purchases by a United States Government agency. A United States Government agency may purchase egg items at more than ceiling prices provided the following conditions are complied with:

(a) That the egg items are urgently needed for immediate consumption and use in a particular locality.

(b) That the egg items are not being purchased for storage purposes.

(c) That the egg items necessary to supply the urgent need are not available from supplies currently held by the purchasing agency.

(d) That due solely to the conditions of emergency the necessary supply of the particular egg item or items in the individual case cannot be obtained unless the seller incurs expense or performs or furnishes material in addition to that normally required in the sale and delivery of such egg items at the maximum prices herein provided.

(e) That the price paid or agreed to be paid has not been increased except for such additional expense actually incurred and the actual value of any additional labor so performed or material so furnished.

(f) That within 10 days after such emergency purchase is made, an officer or representative of the purchasing agency designated by it reports to the Administrator in writing the fact showing full compliance with the foregoing conditions.

SEC. 3.5. Licensing. The provisions of Licensing Order No. 1, licensing all persons who make sales under price control, are applicable to all sellers subject to this regulation. A seller's license may be suspended for violations of the license or of one or more applicable price schedules or regulations. A person whose license is suspended may not, during the period of suspension, make any sale for which his license has been suspended.

SEC. 3.6 Prohibition against selling or buying at higher than maximum prices. On and after September 25, 1944, regardless of any contract, agreement, or other obligation, no person shall sell or deliver any of the eggs or egg products covered in this regulation, and no person in the course of trade or business, shall buy or receive such eggs or egg products, at a price higher than the maximum prices permitted by this regulation and no person shall agree, offer, solicit, or attempt to do any of the foregoing.

SEC. 3.7 Geographical applicability. The provisions of this Revised Maximum Price Regulation 333 shall be applicable only to the 48 states of the United States and the District of Columbia.

SEC. 3.8 Calculations. Fractions of a cent remaining after the total price for the quantity sold has been calculated shall be dropped if less than ½ cent and increased to the next higher cent if ½ cent or more.

SEC. 3.9 Records. Every seller and buyer subject to this regulation, making sales or deliveries or purchases of eggs or egg products to the value of $200 or more in any one month, shall keep for inspection of the Office of Price Administration for so long as the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, remains in effect, a complete and accurate record of each sale or delivery or purchase of eggs or egg products, showing all of the following information that is applicable to the transaction: names and addresses of buyer and seller; date of delivery or acceptance; quantities bought or sold; prices at which bought or sold; name of the egg product; and size or weight, and grade, of the eggs.

SEC. 3.10 Export sales. The maximum prices at which a person may export any eggs or egg products shall be determined in accordance with the Revised Maximum Export Price Regulation.

SEC. 3.11 Adjustable pricing. Any person may agree to sell at a price which can be increased up to the maximum price in effect at the time of delivery, but no person may, unless authorized by the Office of Price Administration, deliver or agree to deliver at prices to be adjusted upward in accordance with action taken by the Office of Price Administration after delivery. Such authorization may be given when a request for a change in the applicable maximum price is pending, but only if the authorization is necessary to promote distribution or production and if it will not interfere with the purposes of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended. The authorization may be given by the Administrator or by any official of the Office of Price Administration having authority to act upon the pending request for a change in price or to give the authorization.

The authorization will be given by order, except that it may be given by letter or telegram when the contemplated revision will be the granting of an individual application for adjustment.

SEC. 3.12 Taxes. If any statute of the United States or ordinance of any state or subdivision of any state imposes a tax upon the sale or delivery of any eggs or egg products covered by this regulation and does not prohibit the seller from stating and collecting the tax separately from the purchase price, the seller may collect, in addition to the maximum price, the amount of the tax actually paid by him or an amount equal to the amount of the tax paid by any prior vendor and separately stated and collected by the vendor from whom he purchased such eggs or egg products, Provided, however, That:

(a) The seller states and collects the tax separately from the purchase price; and

(b) If the tax was in effect prior to the effective date of this regulation, the seller's customary business practice was to state and to collect the tax separately from the purchase price of the eggs or egg products; and

(c) Appropriate records are kept indicating the amount of the tax, by which governmental authority the tax was imposed, to whom the tax was paid (the prior vendor or the government), to what specific egg items the tax applies, and to whom they were sold.

In no other case may the amount of a tax be added to the maximum prices established by this regulation.

SEC. 3.13 Transfers of business or stock in trade. If the business or stock in trade of a person covered by this regulation is sold or otherwise transferred on or after December 30, 1942, and the transferee continues the business, the maximum prices of the transferee shall be the same as those which the transferor would have been subject to if no transfer had taken place, and his obligation to keep records sufficient to verify these prices shall be the same. The transferor shall either preserve and make available, or shall turn over to the transferee all records of transactions prior to the transfer which are necessary to enable the transferee to comply with the record provisions contained in this regulation.

SEC. 3.14 Evasion. The price limitations set forth in this regulation shall not be evaded, either by direct or indirect methods, in connection with an offer, solicitation, agreement, sale, delivery, purchase, or receipt, of or relating to any eggs or egg products, alone or in conjunction with any other commodity, or by way of any commission, service, transportation, or other charge or discount, premium, or other privilege, or by tying-agreement or other trade understanding, or otherwise.

Eggs or egg products shall not be exchanged, traded, or bartered for anything having a value or maximum price greater than the maximum price established for such eggs or egg items.

Except insofar as this regulation permits f. o. b. pricing, the maximum prices established by this regulation shall not be evaded or circumvented by selling eggs or egg products at a price f. o. b. the seller's shipping point.

SEC. 3.15 Enforcement. Persons violating any provisions of this regulation are subject to the penalties provided for by the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended.

SEC. 3.16 Petitions for amendment. Any person seeking an amendment of any provision of this Revised Maximum Price Regulation 333 may file a petition for amendment in accordance with the provisions of Revised Procedural Regulation No. 1 issued by the Office of Price Administration.

SEC. 3.17 Applicability of certain provisions of supplementary regulations and orders. (a) The following provisions of the following supplementary regulations and orders shall be applicable to all agreements, sales, and deliveries covered by this Revised Maximum Price Regulation 333 unless otherwise provided in this regulation.

Revised Supplementary Regulation No. 1,[1] section 4.4 (Developmental contracts).

Supplementary Order No. 42, Amendment 1,[2] § 1307.57 (Secret contracts).

POWER LAUNDRIES AND DRY CLEANERS IN COLUMBIA, S. C., AREA

A statement of the considerations involved in the issuance of this Supplementary Service Regulation No. 36 has been filed with the division of the Federal Register. For the reasons set forth in that statement, and under the authority vested in the Price Administrator by the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, Executive Order No. 9250 and Executive Order No. 9328, Supplementary Service Regulation No. 36 is hereby issued. The specifications and standards set forth in this Supplementary Service Regulation are those which, prior to the issuance of the regulation, were in general use by the trade in the affected area.

§ 1499.2271 Power laundries and dry cleaners in the Columbia, South Carolina area. (a) Dollars-and-cents maximum prices established for services sold by power laundries and dry cleaners, located in the Columbia, South Carolina area.

(1) Maximum prices. The maximum prices established by Revised Maximum Price Regulation No. 165—Services—for the retail laundry services specified in Appendices A and B, and for the retail dry cleaning services specified in Appendix C, are modified as hereinafter provided. The maximum prices for the retail laundry services specified in Appendices A and B, when sold in the Columbia, South Carolina area by power laundries, shall be the prices set forth therein. The maximum prices for the retail dry cleaning services specified in Appendix C, when sold in the Columbia, South Carolina area, shall be the prices set forth therein.

The maximum price of any bundle type retail laundry service which does not conform exactly to the description of one of the bundle type services listed in Appendix A shall be that of the highest priced listed service in Appendix A, all of whose specifications are met by the unlisted service.

(2) Definitions. As used in this Supplementary Service Regulation No. 36 the term:

(i) "Retail laundry service" means all laundry services except those supplied on a commercial or institutional basis.

(ii) "Power laundry" means any establishment in the Columbia, South Carolina area offering laundry services for sale, with the exception of those laundries which do all ironing by hand.

(iii) "Columbia, South Carolina area" means the counties of Richland and Lexington, South Carolina.

(iv) "Family finished bundle" means a mixed bundle of wearing apparel and flat work which is washed and returned finished, ready for use. Any power laundry covered by this order may require that a bundle contain at least 50% flat work by weight in order to qualify for the "family finished bundle" rate.

PACKED FRUITS, BERRIES AND VEGETABLES OF THE 1944 AND LATER PACKS

A statement of the considerations involved in the issuance of this amendment has been issued and filed with the Division of the Federal Register.*

Supplement 7 to Food Products Regulation No. 1 is amended in the following respects:

1. The table in section 1 (a) is amended by adding item 10 to read as follows:

Column 1	Column 2	Column 3	Column 4
Item No.	Product	Section	Section	Appendix
10	Corn	5	15	F

2. In the first undesignated paragraph of section 5, the list of packed vegetables is amended by deleting the word "sweet" appearing in parenthesis after the word "Corn."

3. In section 15, Appendix F is added to read as follows:

APPENDIX F—CORN

Explanation of how maximum prices for packed corn are figured. In making conversions for grade, for variety, for style of pack and for container type and size under subparagraph (2), (3), or (4) of section 5 (a) of this supplement the conversions are to be made in the same order and in the same manner as those for packed peas. The explanation at the beginning of Appendix C applies to this appendix for that purpose, except that for packed sweet corn conversions are made for variety and style of pack instead of for variety and sieve size. (Step 3.) This conversion from one variety and style of pack to another variety or style of pack (for example from golden cream style sweet corn to whole grain or from golden cream style sweet corn to evergreen cream style sweet corn) must be made in the same manner as conversions from one variety and sieve size of packed peas to another is made under Appendix C.

This appendix covers the pricing of packed corn. However, the tables in the appendix apply only to the pricing of sweet corn and if any field corn or mixtures of field and sweet corn are packed by the processors he must apply for an individual authorization of a maximum price in accordance with section 10 (d).

In each case in figuring prices based on grade differentials, if the processor has base prices for both a higher and lower grade than the item being priced, he shall use the differential between the item being priced and the lower grade, except that substandard shall not be used as the lower grade. (For example, if the processor has base prices for both fancy and standard grades and now wishes to price extra standard he takes the difference between extra standard and standard)

The application shall be made on OPA Form R-315, to the board or district office with which he is registered, and must estimate the number of pounds of such vegetables or juices separately for each item (as listed on the Official Table of Point Values—effective September 17, 1944) which he used during the fourth quarter of his base period. The board or district office may grant the application if it finds that the industrial user, during the fourth quarter of his base period, used canned or bottled vegetables or vegetable juices which have a point value (other than zero) on September 17, 1944. The amount of his allotment shall be computed in the following way:

(2) The resulting figures are added together and multiplied by 0.55.

(Section 6.6 (d) applies in determining whether an industrial user who receives an allotment under this paragraph is entitled to a certificate, and in determining the amount of the certificate.)

ment, issued simultaneously herewith, has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.*

Section 1384.14 of Maximum Price Regulation 176 is amended to read as follows:

§ 1384.14 Overtime operations—(a) General. Any manufacturer of southern rotary cut box grade veneer who operates his plant 48 hours or more during a week may reflect the increased cost of his overtime operations on the basis of the board feet produced during that week or the succeeding week, whichever is the smaller, by adding to the basic maximum f. o. b. factory price as follows: (1) $1.75 per thousand feet for 8 to 14 hours' operation over 40 hours per week; (2) $2.50 per thousand for 14 to 20 hours' operation over 40 hours per week; (3) $3.25 per thousand for 20 hours or more over 40 hours per week.

The amount of the overtime addition is to be calculated in the following manner:

(1) Divide the total number of man hours compensated for at regular rates during the week (based on a 40 hour week) in the entire box veneer plant operation into the number of man hours compensated for at overtime rates during the same week in the entire box veneer plant operation to establish a percentage;

(2) Apply the percentage obtained as outlined above to 40 hours to determine the average overtime hours over 40 hours for which the specified additions may be made.

Example: In a given week a plant operates a total of 4200 man hours on regular time and 960 man hours on overtime. The ratio of regular hours to overtime hours is 22.9 (960÷4200). Applying 22.9% to 40 hours, the result is 9.2 hours. If average overtime falls between 8 and 14 hours, as it does in this case, an addition of $1.75 per thousand feet may be made to the basic maximum f. o. b. factory price. If average overtime is 9.2 hours, and the plant produces 100,000 feet during the week, it is entitled to add $1.75 per M to the selling price of 100,000 feet of its output during the following week, unless the following week's output falls below 100,000 feet in which case the addition is restricted to the week's actual output.

(b) Report. On or before the 10th day of October, November, December of 1944 and January of 1945 any manufacturer who makes additions for overtime operations under paragraph (a) of this section must file a report with the Lumber Branch, Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C., showing the number of hours compensated for at regular and overtime rates, the footage of veneer produced and sold and the overtime additions for each week of the preceding month. No manufacturer who fails to file the foregoing report by the 10th day of the month may make further additions under this section without first obtaining written authorization from the Lumber Branch, Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C.

Issued this 18th day of September 1944.

SEC. 2a. Individual authorization of maximum prices in certain cases—(a) Sales covered. This section applies to sales of items made to members of the armed forces of the United States by any person through Post Exchanges, Ship's Stores and similar agencies, where delivery is to be made in the continental United States to a person designated by the buyer. The maximum prices otherwise established by this regulation do not apply to these sales. Until a maximum price is established pursuant to this section, the seller may deliver the item but may not charge or receive payment for it.

(b) Application for maximum prices. For sales of an item covered by this section the seller shall apply to the Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C., for a maximum price. The application in each case shall be in writing and show the following:

(1) The name and address of the seller;

(2) The classification into which he normally falls under this regulation;

(3) A description of the item (as for example: kind of fruit, container type and size, weight of contents, etc.);

(4) The figure to which he would add any markup in determining a maximum price for the item under any other section of this regulation, but not including transportation charges or allowances for protective services;

(5) The point or points from which deliveries will be made, the estimated number of deliveries to each general freight zone in the United States, and the estimated freight charge for each such delivery; and

(6) The proposed maximum price for the item and a statement showing how the requested price was figured.

(c) Establishment of maximum prices. In appropriate cases the Administrator will, by order, establish a uniform maximum price for sales of the item delivered at any place in the continental United States.

2. Section 5 is amended to read as follows:

SEC. 5. Exempt sales. This regulation does not apply to the following sales:

(a) Sales at retail.

(b) Sales of mixed packages of fresh fruits to ultimate consumers, subject to the following conditions:

(1) The sale is made by the packer of the package and delivery is made either to the buyer in person or to him or his designee by mail or express;

(2) Each package contains not more than 28 pounds net weight, of which not more than 20% by weight may consist of commodities other than fresh fruits, such as, for example, dried fruit, glaced fruit, nuts, jellies, preserves, etc.;

(3) Not more than five mixed packages of fresh fruits covered by the sale are delivered in one lot to any one ultimate consumer, whether it be to the buyer or to his designee;

(4) Within five days after purchasing any fresh fruit which is to be sold in mixed packages of fresh fruits, the packer shall file an affidavit with the regional office of the Office of Price Administration for the region in which he is located, showing his name and address, the name and address of the person from whom he purchased the fruit, the date of the purchase, the quantity and a description of the fruit, and containing a statement that the fruit was purchased or received for sale in mixed packages of fresh fruits.

(c) Sales, by growers or country shippers, to packers of mixed packages of fresh fruits if the particular fresh fruit sold is to be used and sold under paragraph (b), as above.

3. Section 8 (a) (4) is amended to read as follows:

(4) "Retailer" means a person the larger volume of whose food business is the purchase and resale of food products, without materially changing their form, to ultimate consumers.

This amendment shall become effective September 23, 1944.

TITLE 46—SHIPPING

Chapter I—Coast Guard: Inspection and Navigation

Subchapter C—Ocean and Coastwise: General Rules and Regulations

PART 92—PARTITIONS BETWEEN TOILETS IN TOILET ROOMS AND NUMBER OF TOILETS TO BE PROVIDED FOR MEMBERS OF THE CREW ON EC-2-S-C1 CARGO VESSELS

Vessels engaged in business connected with the conduct of the war.

The Acting Secretary of the Navy having by order dated 1 October 1942 (7 F.R. 7979), waived compliance with the Navigation and Vessel Inspection laws administered by the United States Coast Guard, in the case of any vessel engaged in business connected with the conduct of the war to the extent and in the manner that the Commandant, U. S. Coast Guard, shall find to be necessary in the conduct of the war; and

The United States Maritime Commission having indicated that the efficient prosecution of the war would be impeded by the application to certain ocean and coastwise cargo vessels of certain inspection regulations requiring partitions between toilets in toilet rooms and an increased number of toilets;

Now, therefore, upon request of the United States Maritime Commission, I hereby find it to be necessary in the conduct of the war that there be waived compliance with the vessel inspection regulations administered by the U. S. Coast Guard, 46 C. F. R. 63.18, to the extent necessary to permit the omission of partitions between toilets and to permit the omission of a toilet in the deck department toilet room on the starboard side of the midship house on EC-2-S-C1 Cargo vessels.

(3) J. G. Oliver, Chief Inspector, Transcontinental Freight Bureau, Weighing and Inspection Department, is hereby appointed to designate which trainload, after it has left the quarry, shall be weighed, and to determine the day of the week on which such weighing shall be performed;

(4) When the train selected includes less than ten (10) cars of any type rock, the weights of all cars of that type rock obtained the previous week shall be added to compute the average weight per car of that particular type of rock;

[Region IV Order G-24 Under RMPR 122]

SOLID FUELS IN GAINESVILLE, GA.

For the reasons set forth in an opinion issued simultaneously herewith, and under the authority vested in the Regional Administrator, Region IV, Office of Price Administration, by § 1340.260 of Revised Maximum Price Regulation No. 122, it is hereby ordered:

(a) What this order does. (1) This order establishes maximum prices for sales of specified solid fuels when the delivery is made to any point in the area set out in paragraph (c) hereinafter.

(2) Paragraph (2) of this order contains a price schedule applicable to sales of the solid fuels named therein. Special charges and discounts applicable to such sales are likewise found in that paragraph.

(b) What this order prohibits. Regardless of any contract, agreement, or other obligation, no person shall:

(1) Sell, or, in the course of trade or business, buy solid fuels at prices higher than the maximum prices set by this order, but less than maximum prices may, at any time, be charged, paid or offered; or

(2) Obtain a higher than maximum price by:

(i) Charging for a service which is not expressly requested by the buyer or which is not specifically authorized by this order;

(ii) Using any tying agreement by making any requirement that anything other than the fuel requested by the buyer be purchased by him; or

(iii) Using any other device by which a higher than maximum price is obtained, directly or indirectly.

(c) Price schedule; consumer sales. (1) This price schedule sets forth maximum prices for sales of specified solid fuels when delivery is made within the corporate limits of the City of Gainesville, Georgia. Extra charges are specified for deliveries beyond the corporate limits of said city. (i) "Direct delivery or domestic" basis:

HIGH VOLATILE BITUMINOUS COAL FROM DISTRICT NO. 8

Size	Per ton 2,000 lbs.	Per ½ ton 1,000 lbs.	Per ¼ ton 500 lbs.
Block (Size Groups No. 1 and 2—price classification A–J)	$8.75	$5.12	$2.69
Egg (Size Groups No. 5 and 6—price classifications A–K)	8.50	5.00	2.44
Stoker. (Size Group No. 10—price classifications A–E)	8.00	4.75	2.50
Yard slack	7.00	3.75	2.00

(2) Maximum authorized service charges—(a) Sacked coal at the yard. Dealer may charge not more than 50¢ for 80 lbs. of coal sold in sacks at the yard. This price does not include sack, for which no charge in excess of the applicable maximum price may be made.

(ii) Treated coals. If a dealer's supplier has subjected the coal to oil or calcium chloride treatment to allay dust or to prevent freezing and makes a charge therefor, the dealer selling such coal may add to the applicable maximum price set by this order the amount of such charge, not to exceed 10¢ per net ton. Any such treatment charge shall be stated separately from all other charges on the invoice.

(iii) Delivery zone. The dealer may make no extra charge for delivery within the corporate limits of Gainesville, Georgia. For deliveries beyond the free delivery zone thus described, the dealer may add not more than 10¢ per ton per mile and may make a minimum charge of 50¢ for such delivery. Such delivery charge, if added, must be stated separately from all other charges on the invoice.

(iv) Credit. No additional charge in excess of the prices listed in this schedule may be made for the extension of credit.

(d) Ex parte 148 Freight rate increase; transportation tax—(1) The freight rate increase. Since the ex parte 148 freight rate increase has been rescinded by the Interstate Commerce Commission, the dealer's freight rates are the same as those of December 1941; therefore, no dealer may increase any price specified herein on account of freight rates.

(2) The transportation tax. Only the transportation tax imposed by Section 620 of the Revenue Act of 1942 may be collected, in addition to the maximum prices set by this order. It may be collected only if the dealer states such tax separately from the price of the coal on the invoice. (The tax need not be stated separately on sales to the United States or any agency thereof—see Amendment 12 to Revised Maximum Price Regulation No. 122.) No part of this tax may be collected in addition to the maximum prices specified on sales of one-quarter ton or lesser amounts of coal, or on sales of any quantity of bagged coal.

(e) Addition of increases in supplier's prices prohibited. The maximum prices set by this order may not be increased by a dealer to reflect increases in his purchase cost or in his supplier's maximum prices occurring after the effective date hereof, but increases in the maximum prices set hereby, to reflect such increases are within the discretion of the Administrator or of the Regional Administrator of Region IV.

(f) Power to amend or revoke. This order, or any provision thereof, may be revoked, amended, or corrected at any time by the Administrator or by the Regional Administrator of Region IV.

(g) Petitions for Amendment. Any person seeking an amendment of this order may file a petition for amendment with the Administrator in accordance with the provisions of Revised Procedural Regulation No. 1, or in the alternative, may file such petition with the Regional Administrator, Region IV, Office of Price Administration, Candler Building, Atlanta 3, Georgia. If such petition is filed with the Regional Administrator, action thereon shall be taken by him. When such a petition is filed with the Regional Administrator, all requirements of Revised Procedural Regulation No. 1, relative to the filing of such petitions, are applicable except the place of filing specified therein.

(h) Applicability of other regulations—(1) Licensing and registration. Every dealer subject to this order is subject to the licensing and registration provisions of sections 15 and 16 of the General Maximum Price Regulation. These sections provide, in brief, that a license is required of all persons selling, at retail, commodities for which maximum prices are established. A license is automatically granted. It is not necessary to apply for a license, but a dealer may later be required to register. A license may be suspended for violations in connection with the sale of any commodity for which maximum prices are established. If a dealer's license is suspended, he may not sell any such commodity during the period of suspension.

(2) Effect of this order on Revised Maximum Price Regulation No. 122. To the extent applicable, the provisions of this order supersede the provisions of Revised Maximum Price Regulation No. 122.

(i) Records and reports. Every person making sales of solid fuels for which maximum prices are established by this order shall keep a record thereof showing the date, the name and address of the buyer, if known, the per net ton price charged, and the solid fuel sold. The solid fuel shall be identified in the manner in which it is described in this order. This record shall also separately state each service rendered and the charge made therefor.

(a) It is not necessary that these records or your maximum prices be filed with the War Price and Rationing Board.

(j) Posting of maximum prices; sales slips and receipts. (1) Each dealer subject to this order shall post all the maximum prices set hereby for all of his types of sales. He shall post his prices in his place of business in a manner plainly visible to, and understandable by, the purchasing public. He shall also keep a copy of this order available for examination by any person inquiring as to his prices for solid fuels.

(2) Every dealer selling solid fuels for the sale of which a maximum price is set by this order shall, within 30 days after the date of delivery of the fuel, give to the buyer a statement showing: the date of the sale, the name and address of the dealer and of the buyer, the kind, size, and quantity of the solid fuel sold, the price charged, and separately stating any item which is required to be separately stated by this order. This paragraph (j) (2) shall not apply to sales of quantities of less than one-quarter ton or to sales of bagged coal unless the dealer customarily gave such a statement on such sales.

(3) In the case of all other sales, every dealer who during December, 1941 customarily gave buyers sales slips or receipts shall continue to do so. If a buyer requests of a seller a receipt showing the name and address of the dealer, the kind, size, and quantity of the solid fuel sold to him, or the price charged, the dealer shall comply with the buyer's request as made by him.

(k) Enforcement. (1) Persons violating any provisions of this order are subject to the civil and criminal penalties, including suits for treble damages, provided for by the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended.

(2) Persons who have any evidence of any violations of this order are urged to communicate with the nearest District Office of the Office of Price Administration.

(l) Definitions and explanations. When used in this order the term:

(1) "Person" includes an individual, corporation, partnership, association, or any other organized group of persons or legal successor or representative of any of the foregoing, and includes the United States, any other government, or any agency or subdivision of any of the foregoing.

(2) "Sell" includes sell, supply, dispose, barter, exchange, lease, transfer, and deliver, and contracts and offers to do any of the foregoing. The terms "sale", "selling", "sold", "seller", "buy", "purchase", and "purchaser" shall be construed accordingly.

(4) "Direct delivery" means dumping or chuting the fuel from the seller's truck directly into the buyer's bin or storage space; but, if this is physically impossible, the term means discharging the fuel directly from the seller's truck at a point where this can be done and at the point nearest and most accessible to the buyer's bin or storage space.

(5) "Carry" and "wheel" refer to movement of fuel to the buyer's bin or storage space by wheel barrow, barrel, sack, or otherwise from the seller's truck or from the point of discharge therefrom when made in the course of "direct delivery".

(6) "Yard sales" means deliveries made by the dealer in his customary manner, at his yard, or at any place other than his truck.

(7) "District No." refers to the geographical bituminous coal producing districts as delineated and numbered by the Bituminous Coal Act of 1937, as amended, as they have been modified by the Bituminous Coal Division and as in effect at midnight, August 23, 1943.

KOCH AUTO PARTS CO., ET AL.

ADJUSTMENT OF MAXIMUM PRICES

Pursuant to the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, and § 1499.3 (e) (1) and (2) of the General Maximum Price Regulation, and for the reasons set forth in the accompanying opinion, this order is issued.

All provisions of this order and their effect upon business practices, cost practices or methods, or means or aids to distribution in the industry or industries affected have been carefully considered. No provisions which might have the effect of requiring a change in such practices, means, aids or methods established in the industry or industries affected, have been included in the order unless such provisions have been found necessary to achieve effective price control and to prevent circumvention or evasion of the order or of the act. To the extent that the provisions of this order compel or may operate to compel changes in business practices, cost practices or methods, or means or aids to distribution established in the industry or industries affected, such provisions are necessary to prevent circumvention or evasion of this order or of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended.

(a) Geographical applicability. This order shall apply only to sales made in Region VII of the Office of Price Administration, which is comprised of the States of New Mexico, Colorado, Wyoming, Montana, Utah, and all that part of the State of Idaho lying south of the northern boundary of Idaho County, and the County of Malheur of the State of Oregon, and all that part of the Counties of Mohave and Coconino in the State of Arizona lying north of the Colorado River.

(b) Prohibition. On and after the effective date of this order, neither the Koch Auto Parts Company of Lakewood, Colorado, nor any other person shall sell or offer for sale to any ultimate consumer any rebuilt and reconditioned used motorcycle, as defined in paragraph (e) hereof, at a price higher than $481.32, f. o. b. seller's place of business, when sold with the accompanying Warranty executed by the Koch Auto Parts Company:

WARRANTY

The motorcycle described below is hereby warranted to be in good operating condition, and to remain in such condition under normal use and service for a period of 30 days after delivery, or 1,000 miles, whichever may occur first.

We agree, if said car is delivered during the above period to our place of business, to make with reasonable promptness any repairs or replacements, which may be necessary to its good operating condition in accordance with normal use and service, at a cost to the purchaser named below of not more than 50% of the normal charge for such repairs and replacements. Our normal charge is not in excess of OPA ceilings.

This warranty does not extend to tires, tubes, paint, glass, upholstery, or to any repairs or replacements made necessary by misuse, negligence or accident.

The maximum retail price of $481.32 shall be the maximum retail price for any and all ultimate consumers. The Koch Auto Parts Company may upon wholesale sales or sales to other retailers allow a discount of 10% or more from the established maximum retail price.

(c) Tagging provision. No person shall sell or offer to sell to any ultimate consumer a rebuilt and reconditioned used motorcycle as herein described unless the appropriate tag described below is attached. This tag shall not be removed except by the ultimate consumer. The first person offering a rebuilt and reconditioned used motorcycle, as herein defined, for sale shall fasten securely to such motorcycle a durable label or tag stating, "OPA Ceiling Price, Rebuilt and Guaranteed, $481.32".

(d) Taxes. Any sales tax or other excise tax incident to the sale of rebuilt and reconditioned used motorcycles imposed or required by statute or ordinance which does not prohibit the seller from stating and collecting such tax separately from the selling price may be collected by the seller in addition to the maximum price established by this order if he states such tax separately on his invoice, sales slip, or other written memorandum of the transaction.

(e) Definition. (1) "Rebuilt and reconditioned Used Harley-Davidson Motorcycle", as used in this order, means any Harley-Davidson Experimental Model X-A manufactured exclusively for the Army, the date of manufacture being prior to August 12, 1943, by the Harley-Davidson Motorcycle Company, Milwaukee, Wisconsin.

(2) "Ultimate consumer" means any person who purchases for his own ultimate consumption and use, other than a commercial, industrial, or institutional user. All other purchasers are persons other than ultimate consumers, user purchasers, or consumer purchasers.

(f) Evasion. It shall be a violation of this order to charge a price above the applicable maximum price in connection with any sale of a rebuilt and reconditioned used Harley-Davidson Motorcycle, either alone or in conjunction with any other consideration even though the price increase appears only indirectly. Specifically, the seller is not permitted to require the purchaser, as a condition of the sale or transfer of such motorcycle, to make payment over a period of time; to require him to finance the purchase through any particular lending agency; to require him to purchase any equipment, accessories, repairs, parts or services so as to increase the total compensation above the maximum price; to require him to purchase any other commodity or service; or to require him to make payment in whole or in part by exchanging or transferring or trading in any other vehicle or other product or commodity, or where there is an exchange, transfer or trade-in, to require him to accept an allowance for the vehicle, product or commodity exchanged, transferred or traded in which is below its reasonable value. Furthermore, the seller is prohibited from providing for purchase of the rebuilt and reconditioned used motorcycle by a lessee under a rental contract at an agreed valuation which together with the amount paid for the rental is higher than the applicable maximum price at the time the rental contract is entered into, and from making the terms and conditions of sale more onerous to purchasers than they have customarily been except to the extent allowed by this order. However, the Office of Price Administration may upon written request grant written permission to any dealer subject to this order to change his credit terms, where such change is necessitated by orders issued by, or at the request of, the United States.

(g) Licensing. The provisions of Licensing Order No. 1, licensing all persons who make sales under price control, are applicable to all sellers subject to this regulation or schedule. A seller's license may be suspended for violations of the license or of one or more applicable price schedules or regulations. A person whose license is suspended may not, during the period of suspension, make any sale for which his license has been suspended.

(h) Enforcement. Any person violating a provision of this order will be subject to the criminal penalties, civil enforcement actions, suits for triple damages, and proceedings for suspension of license provided by the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended.

(i) Right to revoke or amend. This order may be revoked, modified, or amended at any time by the Price Administrator or the Regional Administrator.

(j) Effective date. This Order No. G–2 shall become effective on the 5th day of September 1944.

Each copy must be clear and legible, dated and signed by the owner or manager of your establishment, with the name and address of the establishment following the signature.

In the matter of Community Gas and Power Company, American Gas and Power Company, File No. 54-68; Community Gas and Power Company, American Gas and Power Company, and the subsidiary companies thereof, File No. 59-55; Respondents.

At a regular session of the Securities and Exchange Commission held at its office in the City of Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, on the 15th day of September A. D. 1944.

Notice is hereby given that Community Gas and Power Company ("Community"), a registered holding company, and American Gas and Power Company ("American"), a registered holding company and a subsidiary company of Community, have filed with this Commission Amendment No. 10 to their amended plan heretofore filed pursuant to section 11 (e) of the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935 ("Act") for the purpose of effecting compliance with section 11 (b) of the act.

All interested persons are referred to said Amendment No. 10, which is on file in the office of this Commission for a statement of the transaction therein proposed, which is summarized as follows:

American has contracted to sell, pursuant to the terms and provisions of a contract of sale dated September 13, 1944, all its interest in Bangor Gas Company ("Bangor"), consisting of 6,000 shares of common stock of the par value of $80 each (including five directors' qualifying shares), to Esther M. Kane, Benjamin N. Kane, Howard Kane, Irwin E. Kane and Sidney A. Kane, all of Providence, Rhode Island, doing business under the name and style of Benjamin N. Kane Investment Co., a partnership, for the sum of $122,500. American is also to receive the net earnings of Bangor from August 31, 1944, to the date of closing. The proceeds to be derived from the sale by American will be deposited with The New York Trust Company, as successor trustee under American's Debenture Agreement, dated as of May 1, 1928, as supplemented and amended.

American was directed to dispose of its interest in Bangor by this Commission's order dated July 2, 1943 (entered in File No. 59-55 proceedings) pursuant to section 11 (b) (1) of the act. The amended plan of American pending before the Commission under section 11 (e) of the act provides for the sale of American's interest in Bangor.

American requests, in order that it may have the exemption afforded by section 1808 (f) of the Internal Revenue Code, that the Commission approve the transaction as necessary or appropriate to effectuate the provisions of section 11 (b) of the act, and specify and itemize the transfer of securities.

It appearing to this Commission that it is appropriate in the public interest and in the interests of investors and consumers that a hearing be held with respect to said Amendment No. 10 to the amended plan of Community and American;

It is ordered, That a hearing on such matters under the applicable provisions of the act and rules of this Commission thereunder be held on September 29, 1944, at 10:00 a. m., e. w. t., at the offices of this Commission, 18th and Locust Streets, Philadelphia 3, Pennsylvania. On such day the hearing room clerk in room 318 will advise as to the room where such hearing will be held. At such hearing cause shall be shown why such Amendment No. 10 shall be approved.

It is further ordered, That Willis E. Monty, or any officer or officers of the Commission designated by it for that purpose, shall preside at the hearings on such matters. The officer so designated to preside at any such hearing is hereby authorized to exercise all powers granted to the Commission under section 18 of the act and to a trial examiner under the Commission's rules of practice.

It is further ordered, That without limiting the scope of the issues presented in the consolidated proceedings, particular attention will be directed at the hearings to the following matters and questions:

1. Whether the proposed transaction is fair and equitable to the persons interested and is necessary to effectuate the provisions of section 11 (b).

2. Whether and to what extent it is necessary or appropriate in the public interest or for the protection of investors or consumers to impose terms or conditions in regard to the proposed sale, having particular regard for the consideration to be received for such sale, maintenance of competitive conditions, fees and commissions, accounts, disclosure of interest, and similar matters.

3. Generally, whether the proposed transaction is in all respects in the public interest and in the interests of investors and consumers and consistent with all applicable requirements of the Act and the rules thereunder and if not, what modifications should be required to be made therein and what terms and conditions should be imposed to satisfy the statutory standards.

It is further ordered, That notice of the aforesaid hearing be given to Community and American and to the Public Utilities Commission of the State of Maine by registered mail and to all other persons by general release of this Commission, which shall be distributed to the press and mailed to the mailing list for releases issued under the Act and by publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

It is requested that any person desiring to be heard in these proceedings shall file with the Secretary of this Commission on or before September 25, 1944, an appropriate request or application to be heard, as provided by Rule XVII of the Commission's rules of practice.

THE LAKE SHORE GAS CO., AND ASSOCIATED ELECTRIC CO.

SUPPLEMENTAL ORDER GRANTING AND PERMITTING AMENDED APPLICATION-DECLARATION TO BECOME EFFECTIVE

At a regular session of the Securities and Exchange Commission, held at its office in the City of Philadelphia, Pa., on the 15th day of September, 1944.

Associated Electric Company, having filed an application-declaration, pursuant to sections 9 (a), 10, 12 (d), and 12 (f) of the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935, regarding the proposed sale of its entire interest in The Lake Shore Gas Company, the proposed acquisition by Associated Electric Company of certain assets of The Lake Shore Gas Company, and resulted matters; and

The Commission having, on August 11, 1944, made and filed its findings and opinion and issued its order reserving jurisdiction to consider further any amendments to said application-declaration respecting the treatment of an item of $370,674.09 on the books of The Lake Shore Gas Company now carried in the account for plant and other physical property, and to enter such further orders as shall appear appropriate; and

An amendment to said application-declaration having been filed, proposing that in respect of said item of $370,674.09 the caption "Fixed Capital—Plant and other Physical Property", appearing on the face of the balance sheet of The Lake Shore Gas Company, be revised so that the same shall read as follows:

Fixed Capital—Plant and Other Physical Property (including an amount of $370,674.09 [1] representing the estimated remaining excess of the amount at which certain property, acquired in 1926 from an affiliated company, was stated (based on securities issued) over the net carrying value on the books of such company as more fully set forth in Note 1).

It being further proposed in said amendment to add as part of Note 1 to the balance sheet of The Lake Shore Gas Company an explanation of said item of $370,674.09 so that the footnote shall read as follows:

(1) Fixed Capital:

The amount at which fixed capital is stated represents the cost in securities of property acquired from an affiliated company in 1926 plus subsequent additions at cost (principally cash) less retirements.

This Company was organized in 1925 for the purpose of acquiring and did acquire the net assets of The Ashtabula Gas Company (another subsidiary of the then parent of this Company) issuing therefor securities of a par or stated value of $690,691.35 in accordance with authorizations and approvals of The Public Utilities Commission of Ohio. Said Commission in its order dated July 29, 1926 authorizing the acquisition of the properties of Ashtabula by this Company found "that for the purchase and sale purposes, the value of all the property, rights and other assets of said The Ashtabula Gas Company, including a working capital and stock of materials and supplies of the value of $26,800.00 (which said property is now held subject to the lien of $599,000.00 outstanding First Mortgage Bonds) is not less than the sum of $1,157,743.00."

This Company recorded said property on its books at $1,219,686.11 which was $88,443 greater than the minimum value so found by The Public Utilities Commission of Ohio and $296,182.09 in excess of the gross value and $442,674.09 in excess of the net value (after deducting the related retirement reserve) at which such property was carried on the books of The Ashtabula Gas Company. It is estimated that since the acquisition of such properties by this Company, $72,000.00 of such excess has been eliminated from the fixed capital account by charges to the reserve for retirements in respect of property retired from service. Thus, it is estimated that as at September 30, 1943, there remained in the fixed capital account of this Company, $370,674.09 of such excess of the amount at which said property was stated on the books of this Company (based on securities issued) over the net value at which it was formerly carried on the books of The Ashtabula Gas Company.

No determination has ever been made of the original cost (the cost to the person first devoting the property to public service) of the properties acquired from The Ashtabula Gas Company. It is therefore impossible at this time to estimate to what extent, if any, the book value placed on the said properties at the time of acquisition by this Company exceeded the original cost of such properties.

The Commission having considered the matter and finding that it is appropriate in the public interest and the interest of investors and consumers that said application-declaration, as amended, be granted and permitted to become effective forthwith and that the jurisdiction reserved in our order of August 11, 1944, be released:

It is ordered, That said application-declaration, as amended, be, and hereby is, granted and permitted to become effective forthwith, subject to the terms and conditions prescribed in Rule U-24 of the general rules and regulations.

It is further ordered, That the jurisdiction reserved in the order of August 11, 1944, in the above matter be, and hereby is, released.

By the Commission.

The purpose of the program is to eliminate wasteful labor turn-over, to reduce unnecessary migration by encouraging the full use of local labor, and to obtain the maximum utilization of manpower resources under standards protecting the rights of all concerned.

SEC. 2. Basic hiring procedures. (a) No employer shall hire any individual in, or for work in, the Baltimore area except upon referral by, with the consent of, or in accordance with arrangements with, the United States Employment Service of the War Manpower Commission.

(b) The Area Director of the War Manpower Commission, after consultation with the Area Management-Labor Committee, may issue regulations, in accordance with the provisions of this program, governing hiring procedures, the referral of workers to jobs, the priority of their referral, and the establishment of employment ceilings fixing the upper level of employment beyond which an individual employer may not hire.

SEC. 3. Statements of availability. (a) Statements of availability may be granted only by employers engaged in essential or locally needed activities, or by an office of the United States Employment Service.

(b) Circumstances under which statements of availability shall be granted

(1) By the employer:

(i) If the employee has been discharged, or his employment has been otherwise terminated by his employer;

(ii) If the employee has been laid off for an indefinite period or for a period of 7 or more days;

(iii) If continuance of employment would involve undue personal hardship;

(iv) If the employment is or was at a wage or salary or under working conditions below standards established by State or Federal law or regulation;

(v) If the employment is or was at a wage or salary below a level established or approved by the National War Labor Board (or other agency authorized to adjust wages or approve adjustments thereof) as warranting adjustment, and the employer has failed to adjust the wage in accordance with such level or to apply to the appropriate agency for such adjustment or approval thereof.

(2) By the United States Employment Service of the War Manpower Commission:

(i) If the employer fails or refuses to issue a statement of availability promptly to an individual when any of the circumstances set forth in section 3 (b) (1) exists;

(ii) If the individual is in the employ of an employer who the War Manpower Commission finds, after notice, hearing, and final decision, has not complied with any War Manpower Commission employment stabilization program, regulation, or policy, and for so long as such employer continues his noncompliance after such finding.

(c) A statement of availability shall contain only the individual's name, address, social security number, if any, the name and address of the issuing employer or War Manpower Commission officer and office, the date of issuance, a statement as to whether or not the individual's last employment was in a critical occupation, and such other information not prejudicial to the employee in seeking new employment as may be authorized or required by the War Manpower Commission.

(d) A worker seeking a statement of availability or a referral to employment under any circumstances except where he has been laid off or discharged from his last employment by his employer, shall be requested to remain on his job until the statement is issued, unless remaining on the job would subject him to undue personal hardship.

(e) A statement of availability authorizes new employment only upon referral by, with the consent of, or in accordance with arrangements with, the United States Employment Service.

SEC. 4. Certificate of prior employment. (a) Every employer shall give every employee who is separated for any reason whatsoever from his employment in an activity other than an essential or locally needed activity, a Certificate of Prior Employment in substantially the following form:

CERTIFICATE OF PRIOR EMPLOYMENT

Name _____
S. S. No. _____
Occupation _____
Entered our employ on_____ and was separated from our pay roll on_____ 194__
Company _____
Address _____
By _____

(b) No employer in an activity other than an essential or locally needed activity shall refuse, when requested, to issue a certificate of prior employment to any such employee.

(c) No employer shall place on a certificate of prior employment any information not required by the above form.

(d) A certificate of prior employment shall not be issued to an individual separated from employment in an essential or locally needed activity.

(e) A certificate of prior employment authorizes new employment only upon referral by, with the consent of, or in accordance with arrangements with, the United States Employment Service.

SEC. 5. Employment authorizations. (a) The local office of the United States Employment Service will issue employment authorizations, or referral cards to available employment, to individuals under the following circumstances:

(1) When the applicant has not previously been employed;

(2) When the applicant is unable to secure a certificate of prior employment and has established to the satisfaction of the United States Employment Service that he was not at any time during the preceding 60-day period engaged in an essential or locally needed activity.

SEC. 6. Disposition of forms. (a) Each person who is employed shall give his new employer the referral card, certificate of prior employment, or employment authorization which has authorized his employment. The employer shall retain it as part of the personnel record of the employee as evidence that such employment is not in violation of the stabilization program, and shall make it available for inspection, upon request to a representative of the War Manpower Commission.

(b) An individual who has received a statement of availability or a certificate of prior employment as provided herein, and who desires referral to other employment, shall present the statement or certificate to the United States Employment Service as evidence of his eligibility for referral to such other employment.

SEC. 7. Special referral provisions. (a) If an individual is employed at less than full time or at a job which does not utilize his highest recognized skill for which there is a need in the war effort, the United States Employment Service may, upon his request, refer him to other available employment in which it finds that the individual will be more fully utilized in the war effort.

(b) No individual whose last regular employment was in agriculture shall be referred to nonagricultural work except after consultation with a designated representative of the War Food Administration.

SEC. 8. Restrictions on employment of persons for less than 48 hours per week. (a) Notwithstanding any other provisions of this program, no employer shall employ any person for a scheduled workweek of fewer hours than the individual worked for his most recent employer unless such employment is authorized by the local office of the United States Employment Service.

(b) Employment for a scheduled workweek of 48 hours or of 45 hours in a plant operating on a 3-shift basis shall not be considered "fewer hours" even though the applicant has previously worked more than 48 hours.

(c) The Employment Service may authorize the employment of an applicant for "fewer hours" than those worked for his most recent employer if the individual presents a compelling personal reason to warrant a reduction in his hours of work.

SEC. 9. Restrictions on hiring by employers granted exemption from the 48-hour workweek. The area director may prohibit the hiring without special permission of additional persons, in any category, by an employer to whom exemption has been granted from the provision of Executive Order No. 9301 establishing a minimum wartime workweek of 48 hours.

SEC. 10. Utilization of existing hiring channels. To the maximum degree consistent with the regulations of the War Manpower Commission and with the objectives of this employment stabilization program, local initiative and cooperative efforts will be encouraged and utilized and maximum use made of existing hiring channels such as private employers, labor organizations, professional organizations, schools, colleges, technical institutions, and government agencies.

SEC. 11. Exclusions. No provisions of this employment stabilization program shall be applicable to:

(a) The hiring of an employee for agricultural employment;

(b) The hiring of an employee for work of less than 7 days' duration or for work which is supplementary to the employee's principal work; but such work shall not constitute the individual's "last employment" for the purpose of the program unless the individual is customarily engaged in work of less than 7 days' duration;

(c) The hiring by a foreign, state, county, or municipal government, or their political subdivisions, or their agencies and instrumentalities, or to the hiring of any of their employees unless such foreign, state, county or municipal government, or political subdivision, or agency or instrumentality has indicated its willingness to conform, to the maximum extent practicable under the constitution and laws applicable to it, with the program;

SEC. 12. Appeals. Any worker or employer may appeal from any act or failure to act by the War Manpower Commission under this program, in accordance with regulations and procedures of the War Manpower Commission. The granting or denial of a statement of availability by the United States Employment Service of the War Manpower Commission may be appealed by an employer or an employee provided an appeal is filed with the United States Employment Service local office within 5 days from the date of the notice of such determination.

SEC. 13. Solicitation of workers. No employer shall advertise or otherwise solicit for the purpose of hiring any individual if the hiring of such an individual would be subject to restrictions under this employment stabilization program, except in a manner consistent with such restrictions.

SEC. 14. Hiring. The decision to hire or refer a worker shall be based on qualifications essential for performance of or suitability for the job, and shall be made without discrimination as to race, color, creed, sex, national origin, or except as required by law, citizenship.

SEC. 15. Representation. Nothing contained in this program shall be construed to restrict any individual from seeking the advice and aid of, or from being represented by, the labor organization of which he is a member or any other representative freely chosen by him, at any step in the operation of the program.

STABILIZATION OF BONUS PAYMENTS AMONG STOCK EXCHANGE FIRMS

On September 9, 1944, pursuant to § 803.10 Bonus payments not subject to approval by Board (General Order 10), the National War Labor Board passed the following resolution:

Be it resolved that stock exchange firms which have paid year-end bonuses for 1943 in excess of the bonus payments made during the preceding year, pursuant to approval of the Board, shall not be permitted to use such payments as the basis for making similar payments in 1944 under the provisions of General Order 10. This action is taken for the purpose of securing stabilization of bonus payments among stock exchange firms, following the policies laid down by the Board in its ruling of August 10, 1944 in the Merrill-Lynch et al. cases. Stock exchange firms which desire to make bonus payments in excess of those permissible under General Order 10, excluding the 1943 payments from consideration, must secure approval of the Board through the customary Form 10 procedure.

L. H. PAULEY AND PAULEY LUMBER CO.

Pauley Lumber Company is a Nebraska corporation with its principal office in Lincoln, Nebraska. L. H. Pauley is president of the corporation and resides in Lincoln, Nebraska. On January 14, 1944, L. H. Pauley, acting for Pauley Lumber Company, applied preference ratings of AA-3 and AA-4 to a purchase order for two carloads of ponderosa pine lumber, without authorization from the War Production Board. On that day both Pauley Lumber Company and L. H. Pauley were subject to War Production Board Suspension Order S-431 which denied both the corporation and L. H. Pauley the right to apply or extend preference ratings until January 20, 1944. The application of these preference ratings by L. H. Pauley and Pauley Lumber Company on January 14, 1944, was a violation of War Production Board Suspension Order S-431 and Priorities Regulation No. 3. Pauley Lumber Company and L. H. Pauley were aware of the provisions of War Production Board Suspension Order S-431 and Priorities Regulation No. 3, and their actions constituted grossly negligent violations of these orders.

These violations have diverted critical material to uses not authorized by the War Production Board and have hampered and impeded the war effort of the United States. In view of the foregoing, it is hereby ordered, that:

§ 1010.619 Suspension Order No. S–619. (a) Pauley Lumber Company and L. H. Pauley shall not for thirty days from the effective date of this order apply or extend any preference ratings, regardless of the delivery date named in any purchase order to which such ratings may be applied or extended.

(b) The restrictions and prohibitions contained herein shall apply to Pauley Lumber Company and L. H. Pauley, its and his successors and assigns or persons acting on its or his behalf. Prohibitions against the taking of any action include the taking indirectly as well as directly of any such action.

(c) Nothing contained in this order shall be deemed to relieve L. H. Pauley, individually, or otherwise, his successors or assigns, or the Pauley Lumber Company, its successors or assigns, from any restriction, prohibition or provision contained in any other order or regulation of the War Production Board, except insofar as the same may be inconsistent with the provisions hereof.

(d) This order shall take effect on September 18, 1944.

NAT SILVERSTONE

Nat Silverstone of 2425 Broadway, Oakland, California, is a dealer in commercial refrigeration equipment. In December, 1943, he delivered a refrigerator on an order which was not an authorized or approved order, in wilful violation of Limitation Order L–38. In October and November, 1943, he applied preference ratings assigned for maintenance, repair and operating supplies to orders for refrigerator condenser units and blower coils and used the material so obtained to construct and install new refrigeration systems, in violation of Priorities Regulation No. 1, and between April 10, 1943, and November 20, 1943, he delivered refrigerator parts for uses unauthorized by Limitation Order L–38 and in violation of that order; these violations of Priorities Regulation No. 1 and Limitation Order L–38 were caused by his gross negligence. He also was grossly negligent in failing to keep proper records, as required by Priorities Regulation No. 1.

These violations of War Production Board Regulations have diverted critical materials to uses not authorized by the War Production Board and have interfered with the controls established by the War Production Board for the allocation of critical materials, and have hampered and impeded the war effort of the United States of America. In view of the foregoing, it is hereby ordered, that:

§ 1010.620 Suspension Order No. S–620. (a) Nat Silverstone, his successors and assigns, shall not make any deliveries of any new system or new parts of commercial refrigeration equipment as defined in Limitation Order L–38 (as amended from time to time) except upon orders for direct use by the Army, Navy, Maritime Commission or War Shipping Administration or unless specifically authorized in writing by the Regional Director of the San Francisco, California, Regional Office of the War Production Board, and specific authority to act on applications for authorization is hereby delegated to the Regional Director of the San Francisco, California, Regional Office of the War Production Board.

(b) Nothing contained in this order shall be deemed to relieve Nat Silverstone, his successors or assigns, from any restriction, prohibition, or provision contained in any other order or regulation of the War Production Board, except insofar as the same may be inconsistent with the provision hereof.

[Portland Order G-9 Under 16 (c)]

LIN BOWMAN CO.

ADJUSTMENT OF MAXIMUM PRICES

For the reasons set forth in an opinion issued simultaneously herewith, and under the authority vested in the district director of the Office of Price Administration by § 1499.18 (c), as amended, of the General Maximum Price Regulation, It is hereby ordered:

(a) The maximum prices as established by sections 2 and 3 of the General Maximum Price Regulation or by any previous order issued pursuant to such regulation, or to any supplementary regulation thereto, for the sale and delivery of the types of firewood specified below in the Portland-Vancouver area, are hereby adjusted so that the maximum prices therefor shall be as follows:

(1) The maximum prices for sales of wood fuel shipped in by rail by the Lin Bowman Company, Portland, Oregon, as the operator of the Portland Fuel Pool, to retail dealers located in the Portland-Vancouver area shall be:

	Per cord
Green fir slabwood (4 foot)	$5.50
Green fir slabwood (16 inch)	6.00
Green fir blockwood (16 inch)	6.50
Dry fir slabwood (4 foot)	7.50
Dry fir slabwood (16 inch)	8.00
	Per unit
Sawdust	$4.00

(2) The maximum prices for resale to ultimate consumers by retail dealers located in the Portland-Vancouver area for wood fuel purchased from the Lin Bowman Company at the wholesale prices set forth in paragraph (1) shall be:

	Per cord
Green fir slabwood (4 foot)	$10.00
Green fir slabwood (16 inch)	10.50
Green fir blockwood (16 inch)	11.00
Dry fir slabwood (4 foot)	12.00
Dry fir slabwood (16 inch)	12.50
	Per unit
Sawdust	$8.50

(b) The maximum prices set forth in subparagraphs (a) (1) and (a) (2) above apply under the following terms and conditions:

(1) Remuneration to pool operator. The Lin Bowman Company of Portland, Oregon, as operator of the Portland Fuel Pool, shall receive as remuneration for carrying out the operations of the pool the sum of fifty cents (50¢) for each cord of wood or unit of sawdust sold through the pool.

(2) Surplus monies. Surplus monies shall include all revenue in excess of fifty cents (50¢) per cord or unit derived by the Lin Bowman Company on sales under this Order G-9, less any amounts expended or withdrawn in the operation of the Portland Fuel Pool in accordance with paragraph 4 below.

(3) Surplus account and accumulated monies. On or about the 15th day of each month, Lin Bowman Company, as the operator, shall deposit, in any chosen one of the several established banks of Portland, Oregon, the surplus monies which accrue in the operation of the Portland Fuel Pool from operations of the previous calendar month. The operator shall authorize the bank in which the surplus account has been established to send to the district director a monthly statement of the amount in said account, as of the day on which statements are usually rendered by said bank.

To the extent that the former pool operator, the Commercial Coal Sales Company, shall upon direction of the district director of the Office of Price Administration make payment of the former pool surplus to the Lin Bowman Company, the latter shall deposit such amount in the surplus account for disposition in accordance with the provisions of this order.

In the event that the district director finds that an independent audit is necessary, the operator shall make available all books and records concerning the Portland Fuel Pool's operation to accountants of the Office of Price Administration.

(4) Use of surplus monies. It is the primary purpose of this order that surplus monies shall be used to maintain needed supplies rather than be accumulated. Surplus monies may be used by the operator in the following specific circumstances:

(a) To recoup deficits incurred on purchases of wool fuel where the gross margin available to Lin Bowman Company on resale at applicable maximum prices, after payment of the mill price (not to exceed the applicable mill ceiling) and freight, is less than fifty cents (50¢) per cord or unit: Providing, however, That surplus monies shall not be used to recoup losses resulting from sales to retail dealers at less than maximum prices.

(b) For payment of its gross margin of fifty cents (50¢) per cord on sales of firewood or per unit on sales of sawdust to retail dealers for stockpiling under contract with the Defense Supplies Corporation.

(c) For actual expenditures required for the re-racking or conditioning of railroad cars.

(d) For actual expenditures required for such other purposes as may be deemed necessary by the Office of Price Administration to further the general purposes and objectives of this order. No expenditures may be made under this sub-paragraph however except upon written authorization of the district director setting forth specifically the amount of money to be expended and the purpose for which it is to be used. The Office of Price Administration may require the expenditure of any and all surplus monies at any time. If a written authorization from the Office of Price Administration under this subparagraph requires the Lin Bowman Company to enter into a contract involving the use of surplus monies as a result of which Lin Bowman Company is subjected to loss or damage, such loss or damage shall be charged against the fund of surplus monies but no expenditures or losses shall be required to be incurred in excess of the amount of surplus monies then accrued or realizable during the term of the contract.

(e) For payment of federal and state income taxes in amounts equal to additional taxes required to be paid because of the inclusion of said surplus monies in its income.

(5) Reports. Lin Bowman Company shall file each month with the Portland District Office a report showing: (a) the amount of surplus monies at the beginning of the preceding month, (b) the amount of surplus monies at the end of the preceding month, (including a brief statement detailing credits and charges), (c) total number of cords (or units) of firewood sold during the preceding month together with a list of names of the dealers to whom sales were made and the amount of the sales, and a list of mills from which purchases were made and the amount of the purchases, (d) total cost f. o. b. mill, (e) total return on resale, and (f) amount spent, if any, for the reracking and conditioning of cars.

(c) Definitions. "Portland-Vancouver Area" as herein used, means the city of Portland, Oregon, including an area within an eight mile radius of the city limits and the city of Vancouver, Washington, including an area within a three mile radius of the city limits but extending as far east as to include the city of Camas, Washington.

(d) Record-keeping provisions. Every retail dealer selling fuel purchased from the Portland Fuel Pool and thus making a sale of wood fuel for which a maximum price is set by this order shall give the purchaser or his agent at the time of the sale an invoice or other memorandum of sale, which shall show:

(1) The date of sale.

(2) The name and address of the buyer and seller.

(3) The quantity of firewood sold.

(4) Description of firewood sold, in the same manner as it is described in this order. (This shall include the kind of wood, i. e. wet or dry, and length of pieces of wood).

(5) Place of sale. (If the price is dependent on place of delivery, then the place of delivery shall be stated).

(6) The total price of the wood.

On the invoice or memorandum, a separate statement shall be made of any discounts and of each service rendered, such as delivery, carrying and stacking, and the charge made for each such service.

The seller shall keep an exact copy of such invoice or memorandum for a period of two years and such copy shall be made available for inspection by the Office of Price Administration. Each invoice or memorandum covering fuel purchased through the Portland Fuel Pool and sold by a retail dealer shall be marked as follows: "Portland Pool Fuel—OPA Order G-9."

(e) Drying slabwood. If a retail dealer purchases green slabwood from the Portland Fuel Pool and dries it (and cuts it to 16" lengths if purchased in 4' lengths), the maximum retail price shall be the maximum price set forth in paragraph (a) (2) for the same size dry slabwood. Similar maximum prices may be charged for wood being dried by dealers who purchased the green slabwood through the former pool arrangement when operated by the Commercial Coal Sales Company.

(f) This order may be amended, revoked, or corrected by the Office of Price Administration at any time. Failure by the operator to comply with any of the terms or conditions of the order will be cause for revocation. Upon revocation for any cause the surplus monies, if any, less federal and state income taxes, if any, shall be disposed of by the purchase and sale of a specified amount of firewood at specific prices such as will result in the complete dissipation of said surplus monies or as otherwise directed by the Office of Price Administration. The record-keeping provisions of this Order G-9 have been approved by the Bureau of the Budget in accordance with the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

This order shall become effective August 28, 1944.

WAR PRODUCTION BOARD.

[C-210]

ELZEAR QUESNEL

Elzear Quesnel, Burlington, Vermont, in April, 1944, began construction on premises on the southeast corner of Clark and Grant Streets, Burlington, Vermont, without authorization from the War Production Board. The work consisted of remodelling a thirty-two room rooming house and the conversion of the same into fourteen apartments at an estimated cost substantially in excess of the $1,000 limitation imposed by Conservation Order L-41. Mr. Elzear Quesnel admits this violation but denies that it was wilful and does not care to contest the issue of wilfulness and has consented to the issuance of this order.

Wherefore, upon the agreement and consent of Elzear Quesnel, the Regional Compliance Chief and the Regional Attorney, and upon the approval of the Compliance Commissioner, It is hereby ordered, That:

(a) Neither Elzear Quesnel, his successors and assigns, nor any other person shall do any construction on the premises on the southeast corner of Clark and Grant Streets, Burlington, Vermont, including putting up or altering the structure, except as has been approved by the Federal Housing Administration in reference to the apartments on Grant Street or unless hereafter specifically authorized in writing by the War Production Board.

(b) Nothing contained in this order shall be deemed to relieve Elzear Quesnel, his successors or assigns, from any restriction, prohibition, or provision contained in any other order or regulation of the War Production Board, except insofar as the same may be inconsistent with the provisions hereof.

(c) This order shall take effect on the date of issuance.

The President

EXECUTIVE ORDER 9483

AUTHORIZING THE SECRETARY OF THE INTERIOR TO TAKE POSSESSION OF AND OPERATE CERTAIN MINES, COLLIERIES, AND PREPARATION FACILITIES

WHEREAS after investigation I find and proclaim that there are interruptions of the operations of the mines, collieries, and preparation facilities designated in the list attached hereto and made a part hereof, as a result of existing and threatened strikes and other labor disturbances; that the effective prosecution of the war will be unduly impeded or delayed by such interruptions; and that the exercise, as herein specified, of the powers vested in me is necessary to insure, in the interest of the war effort, the operation of these mines, collieries, and facilities;

NOW, THEREFORE, by virtue of the power and authority vested in me by the Constitution and laws of the United States, including section 9 of the Selective Training and Service Act of 1940 (54 Stat. 892), as amended by the War Labor Disputes Act (57 Stat. 163), as President of the United States and Commander in Chief of the Army and Navy of the United States, it is hereby ordered as follows:

1. The Secretary of the Interior is authorized and directed to take possession of the mines, collieries, and preparation facilities designated in the list attached hereto and made a part hereof, and of any real or personal property, and other assets, used in connection with the operation thereof; to operate or arrange for the operation of such mines, collieries, and facilities in such manner as he deems necessary for the successful prosecution of the war; and to do all things necessary for, or incidental to, the production, sale and distribution of the coal produced, prepared, or handled by the said mines, collieries, and facilities.

2. The Secretary of the Interior shall operate the said mines, collieries, and facilities in accordance with the terms and conditions of employment which are in effect at the time possession thereof is taken, subject to the provisions of section 8 of the War Labor Disputes Act. He shall provide such protection of the employees as may be necessary to maintain production, and shall take such appropriate disciplinary action, not inconsistent with law, as may be necessary to effectuate the purposes of this order.

3. In carrying out this order, the Secretary of the Interior shall act through or with the aid of such public or private instrumentalities or persons as he may designate. All Federal agencies, including but not limited to the War Manpower Commission, the National Selective Service System, the War Department, and the Department of Justice, are directed to cooperate with the Secretary of the Interior to the fullest extent possible in carrying out the purposes of this order.

4. The Secretary of the Interior shall permit the managements of the mines, collieries, and facilities taken under the provisions of this order to continue with their managerial functions to the maximum degree possible, consistent with the aims of this order.

5. Possession of the mines, collieries, and facilities taken under this order shall be terminated by the Secretary of the Interior within sixty days after he determines that the productive efficiency of the mines, collieries, and facilities has been restored to that prevailing prior to the interruption of production referred to in the recitals of this order.

(Sec. 2 (a), 49 Stat. 1526; 15 U.S.C., sec. 13 (a)) [Cease and desist order, Caradine Hat Company, Docket 5151, August 16, 1944]

By selling such products to some purchasers at prices which are lower than the prices charged other purchasers competing with such favored purchasers in the sale and distribution of such products. (For purposes of comparison, the term "price" as used in this order takes into account discounts, allowances, and other terms and conditions of sale.)

C., Reference: M-300-17. File a separate set of applications for each plant and for each different grade or type of acrylic monomer or acrylic resin as set forth in paragraph (a) (2) above. An aggregate quantity may be requested, without specifying customers' names, for delivery on uncertified small orders. Purchase orders or releases against purchase orders for aircraft glazing sheet shall not be listed individually, but totals shall be listed. Fill in Table II.

(f) Military emergency shipments. A supplier may make application on Form WPB-2947 for authorization to expedite shipments against anticipated emergency war orders from the Armed Services or their contractors. Column 1 shall read "Emergency shipments against Government contracts". Column 4 shall show the aggregate quantity of the proposed shipments. From the quantity allocated on this application the supplier may make such shipments without further authorization. Subsequently, on the first WPB-2947 form filed after the end of the month, the supplier shall report his emergency shipments by listing in the usual manner the customers, end uses and quantities. An entry shall be made in Column 7 for each such customer to show that the material was expedited and that shipment was made in the preceding month, as, for example, "Expedited—May". In the case of emergency shipments to contractors, suppliers must obtain written or telegraphic certification from the Armed Service involved, stating that an emergency exists. Any unused material in the "emergency pool" at the end of the month shall be returned to inventory.

(g) Certified uses with purchase orders. Each person placing purchase orders for delivery of more than the small order exemption quantity shall furnish each supplier with a certified statement of proposed use, in the form prescribed in Appendix D of General Allocation Order M-300. Examples of and uses are: "Aircraft radio lens", "industrial steamgauge lens", "military denture-base material" of "Civilian denture-base material". Military items are those which are being produced against a prime or sub-contract for the Armed Services. Confidential end uses may be described in general terms but the prime contract number must be specified.

(h) Surplus stocks. (1) Surplus and excess stocks of cast sheet (unfabricated) in sizes and thicknesses listed in the manufacturer's price list when the stock is sold, may be sold by the holder under Priorities Regulation 13 to any supplier (whose use or redelivery is subject to this order) or to any aircraft manufacturer, who may use the sheet for aircraft purposes without application or further authorization. A sale to any other purchaser must be authorized upon application by the holder on Form WPB-1161, and the authorized purchaser may use the sheet sold under the authorization without further application or authorization.

(2) Surplus and excess stocks of cast sheet (unfabricated) in sizes and thicknesses not listed in the manufacturer's price list when the stock is sold, may be freely sold and delivered by the holder under Priorities Regulation 13, and thereafter shall not be subject to restriction under this order.

(3) Surplus and excess stocks of acrylic monomer or resin in forms other than cast sheet may be sold under Priorities Regulation 13 without application or specific authorization, but the purchaser must apply to the War Production Board, Chemicals Bureau, Washington 25, D. C., Ref: M-300-17, on Form WPB-2945 or by letter (three copies), for authorization to use this material.

(4) Instead of disposing of surplus and excess stocks in accordance with paragraphs (h) (1), (2) and (3) above, the holder may elect to treat himself as a supplier and to file application for authorization to deliver under paragraph (e) of this schedule, based on use certificates from his customers filed under paragraph (g) of this schedule.

(i) Budget Bureau approval. The above reporting requirements have been approved by the Bureau of the Budget in accordance with the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

(j) Communications to the War Production Board. Communications concerning this schedule shall, unless otherwise directed, be addressed to War Production Board, Chemicals Bureau, Washington 25, D. C., Reference: M-300-17.

Issued this 20th day of September 1944.

PART 3293—CHEMICALS

[General Allocation Order M-300, Schedule 45 as Amended Sept. 20, 1944]

SODIUM CYANIDE

§ 3293.1045 Schedule 45 to General Allocation Order M-300—(a) Definition. "Sodium cyanide" means all grades and mixtures of sodium cyanide and solutions of sodium cyanide which contain 20% or more sodium cyanide by weight, except 25% mixture with crude calcium cyanide and except 90-91% mining grade sodium cyanide produced from calcium cyanide.

(b) General restrictions. Sodium cyanide is subject to allocation under General Allocation Order M-300 as an Appendix A material. The initial allocation date is February 1, 1944, when sodium cyanide was first put under allocation by Order M-366 (revoked). The allocation period is the calendar month. The small order exemption prior to October 1, 1944 is 1,000 pounds (computed on 96% basis) per person per month; on and after October 1, 1944 the small order exemption is 400 pounds (computed on 96% basis) per person per month.

(c) Special interim provisions. Use, delivery and acceptance of delivery prior to October 1, 1944, will be authorized on the basis of application filed in the form heretofore prescribed in Order M-366 (revoked).

(d) Suppliers' applications on WPB-2946. Each supplier seeking authorization to deliver shall file application on Form WPB-2946 (formerly PD-601). Filing date is the 20th day of the month before the requested allocation month. A consolidated set of forms may be filed for all plants and warehouses of the applicant. Send three copies (one certified) to the War Production Board, Chemicals Bureau, Washington 25, D. C., Ref: M-300-45. The unit of measure is pounds (specify per cent sodium cyanide contained in the material, such as 96%, 35%, etc.). An aggregate quantity may be requested, without specifying customers' names, for delivery on exempt small orders. In Column 7 report total small order shipments for latest month for which figure is available and specify the month. In Table II, producers shall fill in Columns 8 through 14, and resellers, Columns 8, 10, 12 and 13.

(e) Customers' applications on Form WPB-2945. Each person seeking authorization to use or accept delivery shall file application on Form WPB-2945 (formerly PD-600). Filing date is the 15th day of the month before the requested allocation month. Send three copies (one certified) to the War Production Board, Chemicals Bureau, Washington 25, D. C., Ref.: M-300-45, and one copy (reverse side blank) to the supplier. The unit of measure is pounds (specify per cent sodium cyanide contained in the material, such as 96%, 35%, etc.). In Column 1 specify what grade, mixture or solution of sodium cyanide is sought and in Column 2 specify pounds requested for each use specified in Columns 3 and 4 of the application.

Do not request quantities in excess of actual requirements for the month for which allocation is requested. Fill in Column 3 in terms of the following:

Barbiturates
Floting
Case hardening
Flotation reagents
Plating
Other primary product (specify)
Export (as sodium cyanide)
Inventory (as sodium cyanide)
Resale (as sodium cyanide)

Specify end use in Column 4 as required by paragraph (11-a) of Appendix E of Order M-300 (indicate as far as possible whether for direct or indirect Army, Navy or Lend-Lease orders, but do not specify contract numbers).

Fill in Tables II and III, as indicated. Leave Tables IV and V blank.

(f) Budget Bureau approval. The above reporting requirements have been approved by the Bureau of the Budget in accordance with the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

(g) Communications to War Production Board. Communications concerning this schedule shall be addressed to War Production Board, Chemicals Bureau, Washington 25, D. C., Ref: M-300-45.

Issued this 20th day of September 1944.

PART 3296—SAFETY AND TECHNICAL EQUIPMENT

[Preference Rating Order P-43, Interpretation 2]

TOOLS AND TOOLING NEEDED TO MAKE EXPERIMENTAL MODELS

The following interpretation is issued with respect to Preference Rating Order P-43:

(a) Purpose of this interpretation. The purpose of this interpretation is to explain the extent to which the priorities assistance provided by Order P–43 may be used to get tools and tooling needed to make experimental models.

(b) Definition of the term "tools and tooling". For the purposes of this interpretation, "tools and tooling" means dies, molds, jigs, fixtures, patterns and other tools and equipment used in making experimental models of articles.

(c) Use of P–43 priorities assistance to get tools and tooling to make experimental models permitted under existing orders and regulations. Anyone who wants to make experimental models which are permitted to be made under existing orders and regulations without taking advantage of the provisions of Priorities Regulation 23 (Experimental Models), may use the priorities assistance provided by Order P–43 to get any tools and tooling that he needs to make such models. This is true regardless of whether he carries the tools and tooling as operating supplies or capital additions.

(d) Use of P–43 priorities assistance to get tools and tooling to make experimental models of the types which could not be made but for Priorities Regulation 23. Anyone who wants to make experimental models of the types which could not be made but for Priorities Regulation 23 may use the priorities assistance provided by Order P–43 to get any tools and tooling needed to make the models, unless the tools and tooling are carried as capital additions. This limitation appears in paragraph (d–1) (2) of Order P–43 and in paragraph (g) of Priorities Regulation 23, which prohibit the use of the P–43 priorities assistance to get any facilities for making experimental models of the types which could not be made but for Priorities Regulation 23, if such facilities would be capital additions. The question of whether a particular tool or item of tooling would be a capital addition is determined by the purchaser's established accounting practice. If it would be a capital addition under his established accounting practice, the purchaser should get his priorities assistance for it in accordance with the standard procedures for getting tools and tooling. It would, of course, be improper for a person to change his established accounting practice for the purpose of enabling himself to use the P–43 priorities assistance. It should also be pointed out that the cost of any tools and tooling which are obtained to make experimental models of the types which could not be made but for Priorities Regulation 23 must be included in determining the cost of the models under paragraph (d) of Priorities Regulation 23.

(e) Preference Ratings assigned by Order P–43. Under paragraph (d–1) (1) of Order P–43, only an AA–3 rating may be used to get tools and tooling for making experimental models of products designed primarily for civilian markets. An AA–2 rating (or AA–1 in the case of a serial-numbered laboratory) may be used to get tools and tooling for making experimental models of products designed for military use. In no case, of course, may the rating be used to get more than the minimum amount of tools and tooling needed to make the experimental models.

(f) Materials for making tools and tooling. In any case where a person is permitted under this interpretation to use the P–43 priorities assistance to get tools and tooling for making experimental models, he may also use the priorities assistance to get materials needed to make the tools and tooling himself.

Issued this 20th day of September 1944.

PART 1364—FRESH, CURED AND CANNED MEAT AND FISH PRODUCTS

[MPR 550,[1] Amdt. 1]

CURED AND SMOKED FISH

A statement of the considerations involved in the issuance of this amendment has been issued simultaneously herewith and filed with the Division of the Federal Register.*

1. Section 1.10 is amended to read as follows:

SEC. 1.10 Notification to wholesalers and retailers. With the first delivery after August 21, 1944, of any item of cured or smoked fish (except smoked mild-cured salmon) covered by this regulation and with the first delivery after September 19, 1944, of any smoked mild-cured salmon, the processor shall supply each wholesaler and retailer who purchases from him with the following written notice:

NOTICE TO WHOLESALERS AND RETAILERS

Our OPA ceiling price for (describe item) has been changed under the provisions of Maximum Price Regulation No. 550. We are authorized to inform you that if you are a wholesaler or retailer pricing this item under Maximum Price Regulation No. 421, 422 or 423, and if we are your customary type of supplier, you must refigure your ceiling price for the item in accordance with the applicable pricing provisions of those regulations (see Section 6 in each case). You must refigure your ceiling price on the first delivery of this item to you on and after August 21, 1944 unless this item is smoked mild-cured salmon (lox) in which case you must refigure your ceiling price on the first delivery of smoked mild-cured salmon to you on and after September 19, 1944.

For a period of 90 days after August 21, 1944 in the case of any item of cured or smoked fish (except smoked mild-cured salmon) and for a period of 90 days after September 19, 1944, in the case of smoked mild-cured salmon, and with the first shipment after the 90 day period to each person who has not made a purchase within this time, the processor shall include in each box, carton or case containing the item, the written notice set forth above.

2. Section 1.17 is amended to read as follows:

SEC. 1.17 General pricing instructions—(a) Fractions. If the maximum price for an item of smoked fish computed in accordance with the rules provided in this regulation results in a fraction of a cent, the result will be rounded out to the nearest cent. (Note that this rule does not apply to mild-cured salmon.)

(b) Freight rate. In computing the "freight rate" or freight charge under other provisions of this regulation the processor shall use as the per pound common carrier charge, rail carload freight rate, or common carrier rate, the total transportation charge (customarily made by the railroad or common carrier for the shipment of the type and quantity designated by the regulation) divided by the number of pounds net weight of fish received in that shipment.

3. Section 2.1 (a) is amended to read as follows:

(a) Maximum prices. The maximum price at which any person may sell selected mild-cured salmon is:

(1) 34½ cents per pound ex plant or warehouse located in the United States except Alaska or f. o. b. shipping point nearest such plant or warehouse plus the per pound rail carload freight charge for mild-cured salmon from Seattle, Washington to such point.

(2) 34½ cents per pounds ex plant or warehouse located in Alaska or f. o. b. shipping point nearest such plant or warehouse minus the per pound common carrier freight charge for mild-cured salmon from such Alaskan point to Seattle, Washington.

4. Section 2.1 (b) is amended to read as follows:

(b) The maximum price at which any person may sell mild-cured salmon packed in such a manner that the pack fails to meet the requirements for selected mild-cured salmon shall be the price fixed in paragraph (a) (1) or paragraph (a) (2), whichever is applicable, minus 6½ cents per pound.

5. Section 3.1 (a) is amended to read as follows:

(a) The maximum price for sales by a processor of smoked mild-cured salmon (lox) is 49 cents per pound ex processor's plant or warehouse or f. o. b. shipping point nearest processor's plant or warehouse, plus the "freight rate" as explained in section 3.2, plus the container allowance in section 3.5 where applicable.

This amendment shall become effective September 19, 1944.

CHESTER BOWLES,
Administrator.

PART 1421—IRON AND STEEL FOUNDRY PRODUCTS

MALLEABLE IRON CASTINGS

A statement of the considerations involved in the issuance of this amendment, issued simultaneously herewith, has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.*

1. Section 1421.110 (b) of Maximum Price Regulation No. 241 is amended to read as follows:

(b) Each person making a sale of malleable iron castings on or after October 21, 1942, shall keep for inspection by the Office of Price Administration for a period of not less than two years, or as long as the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, remains in effect, whichever period is shorter, complete and accurate records of each such sale, showing (1) the date thereof, (2) the name and address of the buyer and seller, (3) the list price or prices, if any, on the date of sale, (4) net price or prices after adjustment for discounts or other allowances, and (5) where the sale is made pursuant to a contract or agreement entered into on or after October 21, 1942, and the total selling price exceeds fifty dollars, records substantiating the maximum prices if the castings are priced under paragraph (a) or (d) of Appendix A (§ 1421.116) or summary of the calculations made in computing the maximum prices if the castings are priced under paragraph (b) of Appendix A. The data specified in (1), (2), (3) and (4) of this paragraph shall be kept for inspection by the Office of Price Administration for the same period by each person making a purchase of malleable iron castings in the course of trade or business.

2. Section 1421.114 (a) (5) (i) is amended by deleting the word "and" which precedes clause (c) of said subdivision (i) and by adding the following clause after the last word in said subdivision: "and (d) malleable iron castings sold as parts or subassemblies of the types listed in Appendix A or B of Maximum Price Regulation 136, as the same may from time to time be amended, by a 'regular reseller', that is, a purchaser of malleable iron castings for resale who customarily represents himself in the trade as a source of supply of such parts or subassemblies through the issuance of catalogues, price lists or other advertising matter circulated generally to the trade in which such parts or subassemblies are designated by name."

3. A new paragraph (f) is added to § 1421.116 to read as follows:

(f) Computation of maximum prices for malleable iron castings where price adjustments have been granted. In any case in which a seller has been granted or is granted an adjustment in his maximum prices for some or all of the malleable iron castings he produces pursuant to § 1421.107 (a) of this regulation and subsequent to the date of issuance of the order or authorization granting him such price adjustment (hereinafter referred to as the "relief order") an amendment to the regulation is issued increasing the maximum prices for sellers generally, which amendment would otherwise apply to the castings which are the subject of the relief order, the seller shall not be permitted to compute his maximum prices for the castings which are the subject of the relief order by adding the increase granted by such order in addition to the increase granted by such amendment to the regulation. He may, however, apply to the Office of Price Administration for permission to add these two increases in maximum prices by a relief application pursuant to the provisions of § 1421.107 (a), in which event the criteria for granting price adjustments under that section shall be used by the Office of Price Administration in determining whether such permission shall be granted. The seller may, however, without authorization from the Office of Price Administration, compute his maximum prices for the castings which are the subject of the relief order by either adding the increase granted by such order in accordance with the provisions thereof, or adding to his maximum prices for such castings prior to the issuance of the relief order the increase granted by the amendment of the regulation in accordance with the terms of such amendment.

This amendment shall become effective September 25, 1944.

NOTE: All reporting and record-keeping requirements of this amendment have been approved by the Bureau of the Budget in accordance with the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

Issued this 20th day of September 1944.

Maximum Price Regulation No. 244 is amended in the following respects:

1. Section 1421.160 (b) of Maximum Price Regulation No. 244 is amended to read as follows:

(b) Each person making a sale of gray iron castings on or after October 26, 1942, shall keep for inspection by the Office of Price Administration for a period of not less than two years, or as long as the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, remains in effect, whichever period is shorter, complete and accurate records of each such sale, showing (1) the date thereof, (2) the name and address of the buyer and seller, (3) the list price or prices, if any, on the date of sale, (4) net price or prices after adjustments for discounts or other allowances, and (5) where the sale is made pursuant to a contract or agreement entered into on or after October 26, 1942, and the total selling price exceeds fifty dollars, records substantiating the maximum prices if the castings are priced under paragraph (a), (e), or (g) of Appendix A (§ 1421.166) or summary of the calculations made in computing the maximum prices if the castings are priced under paragraph (b) of Appendix A. The data specified in (1), (2), (3) and (4) of this paragraph shall be kept for inspection by the Office of Price Administration for the same period by each person making a purchase of gray iron castings in the course of trade or business.

2. Section 1421.164(a)(3)(i) is amended by deleting the word "and" which precedes clause (d) of said subdivision (i) and by adding the following clause after the last word in said subdivision: "and (e) gray iron castings sold as parts or subassemblies of the types listed in Appendix A or B of Maximum Price Regulation 136, as the same may from time to time be amended, by a 'regular reseller', that is, a purchaser of gray iron castings for resale who customarily represents himself in the trade as a source of supply of such parts or subassemblies through the issuance of catalogues, price lists or other advertising matter circulated generally to the trade in which such parts or subassemblies are designated by name."

3. A new paragraph (h) is added to § 1421.166 to read as follows:

(h) Computation of maximum prices for gray iron castings where price adjustments have been granted. In any case in which a seller has been granted or is granted an adjustment in his maximum prices for some or all of the gray iron castings he produces pursuant to § 1421.157 (a) of this regulation and subsequent to the date of issuance of the order or authorization granting him such price adjustment (hereinafter referred to as the "relief order") an amendment to the regulation is issued increasing the maximum prices for sellers generally, which amendment would otherwise apply to the castings which are the subject of the relief order, the seller shall not be permitted to compute his maximum prices for the castings which are the subject of the relief order by adding the increase granted by such order in addition to the increase granted by such amendment to the regulation. He may, however, apply to the Office of Price Administration for permission to add these two increases in maximum prices by a relief application pursuant to the provisions of § 1421.157 (a), in which event the criteria for granting price adjustments under that section shall be used by the Office of Price Administration in determining whether such permission shall be granted. The seller may, however, without authorization from the Office of Price Administration, compute his maximum prices for the castings which are the subject of the relief order by either adding the increase granted by such order in accordance with the provisions thereof, or adding to his maximum prices for such castings prior to the issuance of the relief order the increase granted by the amendment of the regulation in accordance with the terms of such amendment.

This amendment shall become effective September 25, 1944.

JAMES GALLO

James Gallo, Hartford, Connecticut, in October, 1943 began construction on premises at 228 Pitkin Street, East Hartford, Connecticut, without authorization from the War Production Board. The work consisted of partial construction of a five room brick residence at an estimated cost of $2200.00 which was substantially in excess of the $200. limitation imposed by Conservation Order L-41. James Gallo admits this violation but denies that it was wilful and does not care to contest the issue of wilfulness and has consented to the issuance of this order.

Wherefore, upon the agreement and consent of James Gallo, the Regional Compliance Chief and the Regional Attorney, and upon the approval of the Compliance Commissioner, It is hereby ordered, That:

(a) Neither James Gallo, his successors and assigns, nor any other person shall do any construction on the premises at 228 Pitkin Street, East Hartford, Connecticut, unless hereafter specifically authorized in writing by the Federal Housing Administration.

Pursuant to authority contained in the Selective Training and Service Act of 1940, as amended, Selective Service Regulations, Second Edition, are hereby amended in the following respect:

1. Amend § 626.2 to read as follows:

§ 626.2 When registrant's classification may be reopened and considered anew. (a) The local board may reopen and consider anew the classification of a registrant (1) upon the written request of the registrant, the government appeal agent, any person who claims to be a dependent of the registrant, or any interested party in a case involving occupational deferment, if such request is accompanied by written information presenting facts not considered when the registrant was classified which, if true, would justify a change in the registrant's classification; or (2) upon its own motion if such action is based upon facts not considered when the registrant was classified which, if true, would justify a change in the registrant's classification; Provided, In either event, the classification of a registrant shall not be reopened after the local board has mailed to such registrant an Order to Report for Induction (Form 150) or an Order to Report for Work of National Importance (Form 50) unless the local board first specifically finds there has been a change in the registrant's status resulting from circumstances over which the registrant had no control.

(b) At any time before the induction of a registrant, the local board shall reopen and consider anew such registrant's classification upon the written request of the State Director of Selective Service or the Director of Selective Service; Provided, That after a registrant has left the local board for delivery pursuant to an Order to Report for Work of National Importance (Form 50) the local board shall reopen and consider anew the classification of such registrant only upon the written request of the Director of Selective Service.

The foregoing amendments to the Selective Service Regulations shall be effective within the continental United States immediately upon the filing hereof with the Division of the Federal Register and shall be effective outside the continental limits of the United States on the 30th day after the date of filing hereof with the Division of the Federal Register.

PART 653—WORK OF NATIONAL IMPORTANCE UNDER CIVILIAN DIRECTION

RELEASE FOR INDUCTION INTO LAND OR NAVAL FORCES

Pursuant to authority contained in the Selective Training and Service Act of 1940, as amended, Selective Service Regulations, Second Edition, are hereby amended in the following respect:

1. Amend § 653.15 to read as follows:

§ 653.15 Release for induction into the land or naval forces. (a) The Director of Selective Service may release an assignee from active participation in work of national importance under civilian direction prior to the completion of his period of service for the purpose of permitting him to be inducted into the land or naval forces.

(b) When an assignee makes an application to the Director of Selective Service to volunteer for induction into the land or naval forces for either combatant service or noncombatant service, the local board, upon the written request of the Director of Selective Service, without changing the classification of the assignee, shall (1) mail to such assignee an Order to Report—Preinduction Physical Examination (Form 215), or (2) accomplish the transfer for preinduction physical examination of the assignee to a local board designated by the Director of Selective Service in accordance with § 629.12. The Director of Selective Service will make arrangements for such assignee to be delivered to his local board or to a local board designated by the Director of Selective Service for preinduction physical examination.

(c) When an assignee has been given a preinduction physical examination pursuant to paragraph (b) of this section and has been found acceptable for general military service, the local board, upon the written request of the Director of Selective Service, shall reopen the classification of such assignee and classify him anew in accordance with the provisions of § 623.21.

(d) If an assignee is classified in Class I–A or Class I–A–O pursuant to the provisions of paragraph (c) of this section, the local board shall (1) mail to such assignee an Order to Report for Induction (Form 150), or (2) accomplish the transfer for induction of the assignee to a local board designated by the Director of Selective Service in accordance with § 633.12. The Director of Selective Service will make arrangements for such assignee to be delivered to his local board or to a local board designated by the Director of Selective Service for induction into the land or naval forces.

(e) Whenever an assignee is ordered to report for preinduction physical examination or for induction in accordance with the foregoing paragraphs of this section, he shall retain his status as an assignee until released by the Director of Selective Service and shall remain in camp except as otherwise directed by proper authority. Such assignee shall be furnished necessary Government Requests for Transportation (Standard Form No. 1030) and Government Request for Meals or Lodgings for Civilian Registrants (Form 256) for travel between camp and his local board or the local board to which he is transferred for preinduction physical examination or for induction. Provision for transportation and meals of such assignee between the local board and the induction station shall be made in the usual manner.

(f) An assignee's application to volunteer for induction into the land or naval forces either for combatant or noncombatant service shall be submitted to the Director of Selective Service through his camp director. Such application need not be in any particular form but shall contain the following information: The assignee's name, his residence address at the time of assignment, the name of the camp to which he is assigned, his order number, the number and location of his local board, a request for immediate induction, and a statement that he desires induction into the land or naval forces for combatant service or for noncombatant service, specifying which type of service he desires. The camp director is not required to approve or disapprove such request but, if he sees fit, he may submit a report concerning the assignee to the Director of Selective Service.

The foregoing amendments to the Selective Service Regulations shall be effective within the continental United States immediately upon the filing hereof with the Division of the Federal Register and shall be effective outside the continental limits of the United States on the 30th day after the date of filing hereof with the Division of the Federal Register.

Chapter IX—War Production Board

Subchapter B—Executive Vice-Chairman

PART 944—REGULATIONS APPLICABLE TO THE OPERATION OF THE PRIORITIES SYSTEM

EFFECT OF CANCELLATION OF A PURCHASE ORDER ON DIRECTIVE REQUIRING ITS IMMEDIATE PRODUCTION

The following interpretation is issued with respect to Priorities Regulation 1:

In many instances, both under the Controlled Materials Plan and otherwise, the War Production Board has issued directives to producers and manufacturers requiring them to produce particular orders ahead of their normal place on the producers' or manufacturers' schedules. Typical of such directives are directives requiring them to produce certain orders by a given date, regardless of the effect of doing so on the production of other orders. If and when the particular orders are cancelled, the directives lose all effect. This is so since the reason for issuing the directives, namely, the urgent need for a particular product, no longer exists when the order for the product has been cancelled.

Issued this 21st day of September 1944.

PART 944—REGULATIONS APPLICABLE TO THE OPERATION OF THE PRIORITIES SYSTEM

PRIORITIES ASSISTANCE FOR THE FOREIGN PETROLEUM INDUSTRY

Section 944.30 Priorities Regulation 9 is hereby amended to read as follows:

§ 944.30 Priorities Regulation 9—(a) Scope of this regulation. This regulation tells how an operator in the petroleum industry may obtain and use priorities assistance for the delivery of material which is to be exported. The forms which are prescribed by this regulation to secure that assistance may be filed by an operator or in his name by any person desiring the export of the material involved. Any such person will be known in this regulation as the applicant. This term shall also include any agency authorized to place delivery orders for such person.

For the purpose of this regulation the terms "MRO material", "construction operation", "natural gasoline production", "transportation", "refining", and "marketing" have the same meaning as in Form WPB–743.

(b) Requesting priorities assistance for projects. Form WPB–3649.1 shall be used to request priorities assistance for construction operations (having a total material cost of more than $10,000 for any one complete operation) if the operation is in connection with natural gasoline production, transportation, refining, marketing, or the following special production operations:

Gas cycling operations for condensate recovery,
Gas desulphurization operations,
Pressure maintenance operations, or Any gas lift compression plant or field gas booster plant.

(c) Requesting priorities assistance for materials used in other operations. (1) Form WPB–743 shall be used to request priorities assistance for materials to be used in all operations not covered by Form WPB–3649.1. Specifically, Form WPB–743 shall be used to request priorities assistance for: (i) All MRO material; (ii) all material for use in production except for special production and natural gasoline production operations; and (iii) all other construction operations, including special production and natural gasoline production operations, if the total material cost for any one complete operation is $10,000 or less.

(2) Certain preference ratings and allotment symbols are authorized below for use in securing materials used for the operations covered by Form WPB–743. However, these preference ratings and allotment symbols may not be used to secure the items listed in Schedule I of this regulation. Schedule I items must be applied for specifically on Form WPB–743 and priorities assistance to get them will be assigned where necessary by specific authorization after approval of the application.

Form WPB–743 must also be used to list, in accordance with instructions from the Petroleum Administration for War, all items for which a preference rating assigned below has been applied.

(3) Except for the items listed on Schedule I of this regulation, an applicant may use the following preference ratings and allotment symbols to get necessary material for the operations covered by Form WPB–743. These ratings and symbols may be used, however, only after the applicant has received specific instructions from the Petroleum Administration for War as to the programs in which the material is to be used. Such instructions will be in accordance with programs approved by the Foreign Petroleum Requirements Committee or the War Production Board.

(i) To obtain MRO material or other material having a cost of no more than $500 for use in any single operation, the applicant may use the preference rating AA–1 and the appropriate allotment symbol.

This subparagraph does not apply to materials for service stations or retail outlets.

(ii) To obtain material for use in production (except in natural gasoline production or special production operations), the applicant may use the preference rating AA–2X and the appropriate allotment symbol.

(iii) To obtain material for use in a special production operation, or in natural gasoline production, transportation, refining, marketing, or to obtain MRO material for use in a service station or retail outlet, the applicant may use the preference rating AA–3 and the appropriate allotment symbol.

When using the preference rating assigned above, the applicant shall also include the appropriate allotment symbol (E or L) as directed.

(d) Priorities assistance specifically assigned. Where an applicant is not entitled to use the priorities assistance authorized in this regulation, one copy of Form WPB–743, Form WPB–3649.1 or other prescribed form will be returned to the applicant accompanied or followed by an authorization indicating the appropriate allotment number or symbol or the preference rating to be used by the applicant in securing delivery of those quantities of material approved on the form. Before using an allotment number or symbol or a preference rating so authorized, the applicant must first have received an export license, a statement of export clearance, or a statement of authority to export (or a copy of such document, as authorized by the issuing agency).

(e) Use of priorities assistance. (1) In order to use any allotment number or symbol or preference rating authorized pursuant to this regulation, the applicant must endorse upon or attach to each delivery order the allotment number or symbol and the preference rating so authorized, as well as a certification in substantially the following form signed manually or as provided in Priorities Regulation No. 7:

The undersigned purchaser certifies, subject to the penalties of section 35A of the United States Criminal Code, to the seller and to the War Production Board, that, to the best of his knowledge and belief, the undersigned is authorized under applicable War Production Board regulations or orders to place this delivery order, to receive the item(s) ordered for the purpose for which ordered, and to use any preference rating or allotment number or symbol which the undersigned has placed on this order.

(2) In ordering Class A products, where the supplier requires an allotment, the applicant must make an allotment as explained in CMP Regulation No. 1.

(f) Effect of revocation of export authority. If the export license, statement of export clearance, or statement of authority to export any material is revoked or denied, any allotment, allotment number or symbol, or preference rating authorized pursuant to this regulation shall be considered automatically revoked as regards delivery of such material to the applicant. The applicant shall then follow the rules of Priorities Regulation 1 and CMP Regulation 1 applicable to the cancellation or revocation of priorities assistance.

(g) Limitation on other forms of priorities assistance. No person to the extent that he is entitled to obtain an allotment, allotment number or symbol or a preference rating pursuant to this regulation or to apply for such on forms prescribed under this regulation shall use any form of priorities assistance otherwise granted. However, this provision shall not prevent the rerating of any delivery pursuant to applicable regulations or procedures or the use of priorities assistance otherwise granted, where specific directions to this effect have been issued.

(h) Applicability of other regulations. None of the provisions of CMP Regulation Nos. 2, 5, 5A, 6 or 7 (or the limitations incorporated in any CMP Regulation which otherwise would subject an applicant to the provisions of CMP Regulation Nos. 2, 5, 5A, 6 or 7) shall apply to an applicant to the extent that he is entitled to use Form WPB–743, Form WPB–3649.1, or other form prescribed pursuant to this regulation and no such applicant shall obtain any material under or be limited by the provisions of such regulations or limitations.

Issued this 21st day of September 1944.

WAR PRODUCTION BOARD,
By J. JOSEPH WHELAN,
Recording Secretary.

PART 944—REGULATIONS APPLICABLE TO THE OPERATION OF THE PRIORITIES SYSTEM

[Priorities Reg. 9, Direction 1]

PRIORITIES ASSISTANCE FOR THE FOREIGN PETROLEUM INDUSTRY

The following direction is issued pursuant to Priorities Regulation 9:

(a) Purpose of this direction. This direction covers the validity of priorities assistance which has been authorized to get material to be exported and used in petroleum operations outside of the United States, its territories or possessions, or the Dominion of Canada. These petroleum operations are known as the foreign petroleum industry.

(b) Validity of priorities assistance. Where priorities assistance to get material to be used in the foreign petroleum industry has been authorized pursuant to Priorities Regulation 9 or any other order or regulation of the War Production Board, but has not been used on a delivery order accepted or made the subject of a War Production Board scheduling direction at the end of six months from the date of issuance of the license or release certificate covering such material, such assistance shall be deemed revoked.

(c) Special provisions. The provisions of this direction do not apply to priorities assistance used on delivery orders accepted or made the subject of War Production Board scheduling directions at any time before September 25, 1944. Nothing in this direction is to be construed as invalidating any other limitations on the duration of priorities assistance contained in any other order, regulation or authorization issued by the War Production Board.

Issued this 21st day of September 1944.

PART 944—REGULATIONS APPLICABLE TO THE OPERATION OF THE PRIORITIES SYSTEM

§ 944.34 Priorities Regulation 13—(a) Purpose of this regulation. This regulation describes the rules under which materials may be sold by persons who are not in the regular business of selling such materials. While most sales of this kind will be sales of frozen, idle, or excess materials the regulation also covers any sale from inventory by such persons. For example, a person who has idle materials on hand because his business has been converted to war work, or because the business he used to carry on has been stopped or limited by War Production Board orders, or whose contract has been cancelled or changed or who cannot use the material for the purpose for which he got it, may sell off the idle or excess materials only under the rules of this regulation. If he follows this regulation he does not have to look at any other order or regulation. This regulation also controls all sales by Government Agencies, liquidation sales, bankruptcy sales, general auction sales, and other special sales, as defined in paragraph (b) (1). Transfers of materials from one plant or operating unit to another which is owned by the same person but which normally purchases separately are considered to be special sales.

(b) Special definitions used in this regulation. This regulation deals only with "special sales" of "materials". As used in the regulation, those terms have the following meanings:

(1) "Special sale" means a sale of a material or product by a person who does not, in the regular course of his business, sell it in that form. For example, if a manufacturer sells the raw material he has bought to use in making his regular product, it is a special sale because selling raw material is not his regular business. Or, if a contractor has bought building materials and equipment to build a building and cannot finish it and sells them, that is a special sale because his business is building houses, not selling lumber and nails and lighting fixtures. Liquidation sales by trustees in bankruptcy, receivers and other kinds of liquidators (unless they are continuing to operate a business) and sales by general auctioneers are special sales as that type of person is not considered to be regularly in the business of selling any particular products.

(2) "Material" means any commodity, equipment, accessory, part, assembly, or product of any kind in finished, semi-finished or raw material form.

(3) "Used materials" means any materials or products which have been put into actual use.

(4) Sales not covered by this regulation. There are six types of sales which are not covered by this regulation. They are the following:

(i) Sales of plant generated scrap meaning scrap which is generated in the course of manufacture or is the waste of industrial fabrication.

(ii) Sales of rationed products which are controlled by another Government Agency.

(iii) Sales of foods for humans or animals, medicines, tobacco, oils and fats, petroleum and petroleum products including natural and liquefied petroleum gases.

(iv) Sales of controlled materials acquired or produced by a controlled material producer for the purpose of further conversion into other controlled material forms.

(v) A sale of an entire business which is transferred as a going concern to a new owner who continues to operate it in the same or substantially the same form.

(vi) A sale made by a utility producer under Order U–1 or a petroleum operator under Order P–98–C.

(c) Kinds of special sales which may be made. If a person wants to make a "special sale" (as described above), the rules in this regulation apply and only these rules. He need not look at any other order or regulation, and these rules must be followed, no matter how the material was bought, and no matter what any other order or regulation provides. The types of special sales which may be made are the following:

(1) Materials and products not on List A. A holder may make a special sale of any material or product not on List A to any producer who makes such a product in the form in which the holder has it, or to a reprocessor, or to a wholesaler or retailer whose regular business is selling that sort of product. He may also sell it to a user, but the user may not use it for a purpose prohibited by War Production Board orders and regulations or he may sell it to a user who has been authorized by the War Production Board to use it for a particular purpose. Such sales may be made without requiring the buyer to apply or extend any preference rating.

(2) Materials and products on List A. If the material or product that the holder wants to sell is one of the materials or products listed on List A, the following are the only kinds of special sales that can be made.

(i) Special sales may be made in accordance with List A. That list has two columns showing classes of buyers who might want to buy. Opposite each item on the list in each column is shown whether, and under what conditions, sales can be made to the class of buyer described in the heading of the column.

(ii) A holder may sell any listed item freely to a producer or to a reprocessor unless a note in Column 4 states otherwise. A producer means any person who makes or produces the type of material or product which is being sold, and a reprocessor means any person who remakes, repairs or reworks new, rejected or second grade materials or products.

(iii) A holder may sell if he has been given permission by the War Production Board to make the particular sale. Form WPB–1161 (PD–470) should be used in applying for permission. It shows the information which is needed before permission can be given and it should be sent to the regional office of the War Production Board. If a note in List A states that another form is to be used, application should be made on that form.

(iv) A holder may sell freely to anyone if he has a total of not more than $100 worth of the particular material or product to be sold, unless it is one of the few materials or products for which special rules and amounts are stated in Column 4 of List A. In deciding how much he has and whether he may sell, a holder must count all he has of the same kind or type of material or product. In other words, the right to sell under this subparagraph depends upon the total value (at cost to holder) of the material or product the holder has, not on the quantity he may want to sell at any one time. A holder may treat the inventory of each of his separate plants and operating units separately under this subparagraph.

(v) If the material is copper, copper base alloy, aluminum or steel in a form described as a "controlled material" in CMP Regulation 1, the holder may sell it to a buyer who gives him an order bearing a CMP allotment symbol or number and this certification:

> The undersigned purchaser certifies that he is entitled under CMP regulations to place an authorized controlled material order for the above material.

Or the certification may be in the form set out in CMP Regulation 7 or in any other form which may be used in placing an authorized controlled material order. The buyer must charge material bought under this paragraph against his CMP allotment account unless Direction 1 to this regulation excuses him from doing so. If the material which the holder wants to sell is steel, he may also sell it to steel warehouses, dealers or distributors as defined in M–21–b–1 and M–21–b–2 on orders bearing the endorsements described in those orders.

(vi) Special permission to sell controlled materials. The War Production Board may give special permission to sell idle or excess controlled materials for any use which is permitted under War Production Board orders or regulations either to a person who has no allotment or to a person who already has an allotment and an authorized production schedule under the Controlled Material Plan. If this permission is given, the holder need not get from the buyer the certification provided in paragraph (c) (2) (v) above and if the buyer has an allotment he does not have to charge against his allotment account the amount of controlled materials bought under this special permission. The seller may apply for this permission in person or by writing, wiring or telephoning, giving full details about the size, shape, analysis, specifications and quantity of the material and the purpose for which it will be used. Requests for such permission should be directed to the regional office of the War Production Board for the region in which the material is located or to the appropriate materials division.

(3) Special orders. If the War Production Board, by an order or in any other way, has ruled that all persons engaged in a particular business may sell or exchange materials between themselves, they may do so.

(4) Sales to Government agencies. For the purpose of making a settlement of a Government contract surplus materials or products may be transferred freely from any subcontractor or prime contractor to a procuring agency or disposal agency of the Government, providing the procuring agency has so directed. However, if such material is later withdrawn from the contract settlement, its disposition is controlled by this regulation. A person may also sell freely to one of the following Government Corporations or to anyone buying as agent for one of them, even if the surplus materials or products are not involved in a contract settlement: Commodity Credit Corporation, Defense Supplies Corporation, Metals Reserve or Rubber Reserve Company.

(5) Used materials. Used materials may be sold freely to anyone unless there is a notation in List A restricting the sale of the particular used material which the holder wants to sell.

(6) Sales of materials or products as scrap. Unless a note in List A states to the contrary or that another order governs the sale, this paragraph permits the sale as scrap of obsolete, unusable, or not readily salable materials or products which will be used or consumed principally as scrap, although some part of the material or product may possibly be salvaged by the scrap buyer. However, if a contract between the seller and the buyer specifies that the particular material or product being sold as scrap must be used or disposed of as scrap, this regulation does not relieve the buyer from compliance with that condition.

(i) Unless a note in List A states to the contrary or that another order governs the sale, a holder may sell any such material or product as scrap without stripping, disassembling or breaking it up before sale. Such sales may be made either to any consumer of scrap to be used only as scrap, or to any person regularly engaged in the collection, disassembling, sorting and disposal of that kind of scrap material, primarily for remelt or other scrap use. Subsequent sales of any salvaged materials or products by such a scrap dealer are not covered by this regulation, but are subject to any War Production Board orders or regulations which apply to the distribution of the particular material.

(ii) The sale at low prices, even as low as scrap prices, of prime or off-grade materials or products for use or resale "as is" does not constitute a sale as scrap and such sales may not be made under this paragraph. Instead such a sale is subject to all the other rules of this regulation which apply to sales of the particular materials or products.

(d) Transfers of surplus Government owned materials or products. (1) May be made freely to the Government Disposal Agencies, and

(2) May be made freely between and within the War Department, Navy Department, Maritime Commission, War Shipping Administration, and the Defense Plant Corporation, and from the Government Disposal Agencies to any of the above, unless a note in Column 4 of List "A" indicates otherwise.

(e) Replacing material sold. If a person sells material under this regulation to someone who gives him a priority rating or a CMP allotment symbol or number, the seller cannot use this rating or allotment to replace the material he has sold. The effect of this rating or symbol or number stops when the seller receives it.

(f) Sales covered by this regulation. (1) This regulation applies only to "special sales" (as described in paragraph (b) (1)) and if the holder is regularly engaged in selling a material, a sale of it by him is not a special sale and he is governed by all orders and regulations of the War Production Board which apply to the material he is selling.

(2) Provisions in any orders or regulation which say that this regulation does not apply may be disregarded. To find the rules for making a special sale there is no need to refer to any orders or regulations other than Priorities Regulation 13.

(3) (i) The buyer may not violate any regulation or order controlling the quantity of material which he may buy or the amount of any product he may make or the use or disposition that he may make of any particular material. All the prohibitions in orders against the use of materials for particular purposes remain in effect.

(ii) Inventories. A person buying for use may receive any item of surplus materials or products if his total inventory of that item is or will by virtue of accepting such delivery be not in excess of his succeeding six months' requirements. This permits a person to exceed applicable inventory limits only if he acquires such excess under this regulation. This limitation does not apply to receipts of capital equipment. It also does not apply to persons buying for resale.

(iii) If any order or regulation provides that a buyer of material must make any report or furnish any information either to the War Production Board or to the seller, this regulation does not excuse him from these requirements.

(iv) If any holder of material knows that a person who wants to buy it will use it for a prohibited purpose or would have more of it than he is permitted to have, the sale cannot be made.

(g) Records. Any person making a sale under this regulation must keep sufficient records so that he can show that the sale was permitted under this regulation.

(h) Letters and questions. Any letters or questions about this regulation should be sent either to the War Production Board in Washington, marked "Ref: P. R. 13", or to any of the field offices of the War Production Board.

(i) Revisions of List A. List A attached to this regulation will be revised from time to time. A person wishing to sell material under this regulation should be sure that he has the list which is in effect at the time of the sale. Copies may be obtained from any field office of the War Production Board.

Issued this 21st day of September 1944.

LIST A

NOTE: List A Amended September 21, 1944.

Explanation of List A. Column (1) of List A lists the materials or products that are restricted under the regulation. This shows in some instances the class or group of materials and does not always list all the trade names and related materials.

Columns (2) and (3) each apply to a type of possible sale. Opposite each material or product in each column is shown the conditions under which a special sale of the particular material may be made to the person described in the heading of the column.

Column (2) refers to persons buying for uses permitted by War Production Board orders and regulations or for uses authorized by the War Production Board.

Column (3) refers to persons who are regularly engaged in distributing the material the holder has, like a dealer in chemicals or textiles. A dealer means any wholesaler or retailer whose regular business consists in whole or in part of the sale from stock or inventory of the particular materials or products either to industrial users or to other persons. It also includes persons who recondition or rebuild equipment and machinery for resale to industrial users. Such persons are not, however, relieved from compliance with any orders or regulations of the War Production Board which control the distribution of the material by them.

Column (4). The provisions in Column (4) applicable to the particular material or product must be followed.

If the list shows "No," it means that the holder cannot sell to the class of person mentioned in the column head without special permission of the War Production Board except when a note in Column (4) allows certain kinds of sales. Paragraph (c) (2) (iii) of the regulation tells how to get permission.

If the list shows "PR" followed by a letter and number, like "PR AA–5", it means that the holder can sell to anyone who has an AA–5 or higher priority rating which he has extended to the holder for the particular sale. This regulation does not in any way assign priority ratings.

If the list shows "W. O. P.", it means the holder can sell to the class of buyer listed at the head of the column without any priority rating or allocation or allotment being necessary.

If the list shows "X", it means that for the particular material or product the column in which it appears is not applicable.

List A is divided into four parts as follows:
Part I—Metals and Metallic Ores.
Part II—Chemicals.
Part III—Miscellaneous Materials.

SPOT AUTHORIZATIONS UNDER PRIORITIES REGULATION NO. 28

(a) A holder may make a special sale of copper, copper base alloy, aluminum or steel in a form described as a controlled material in CMP Regulation 1, to a buyer who gives him an order bearing a CMP allotment symbol whose initial letter is "Z". The buyer need not charge material bought under this paragraph against any CMP allotment account. No special permission from the War Production Board is required to make such a sale to a buyer who has been authorized to use a CMP allotment symbol whose initial letter is "Z".

(b) A holder may also make a special sale of a noncontrolled material or product which, pursuant to Priorities Regulation 13, may be sold to a user on a rating of AA-5, if the buyer furnishes an order bearing a CMP allotment symbol whose initial letter is "Z" which has been granted to him under Priorities Regulation 25.

(c) A production schedule authorized under Priorities Regulation 25 does not permit the person holding such a schedule to acquire materials or products which are limited under Priorities Regulation 13 to sales on ratings higher than AA-5 or which require special permission of the War Production Board. (Issued Aug. 30, 1944.)

PART 3175—REGULATIONS APPLICABLE TO THE CONTROLLED MATERIALS PLAN

SALES OF CONTROLLED MATERIALS BY WAREHOUSES AND DISTRIBUTORS

§ 3175.4 CMP Regulation 4—(a) Purpose and scope. This regulation describes the procedure to be followed by warehouses and distributors in delivering controlled materials from stock (including consigned stock) except that in the case of steel, deliveries from one distributor to another are governed by Orders M-21-b-1 and M-21-b-2.

Steel

(b) Definitions with respect to steel. The following definitions shall apply for the purpose of this regulation and for the purpose of any other CMP regulation unless otherwise indicated:

(1) "Steel" means carbon steel, alloy steel, and wrought iron, in the forms and shapes listed in Schedule I of CMP Regulation No. 1.

(2) "Distributor" means any person (including a warehouse, jobber, dealer or retailer) who is engaged in the business of regularly receiving steel into his stock for sale or resale in the form received or after performing such operations as cutting to length, shearing to size, torch cutting or burning to shape, sorting and grading, pipe threading, or corrugating or otherwise forming sheets for roofing and siding; but a person who,

in connection with any sale, bends, punches or performs any fabricating operation designed to prepare steel for final use or assembly shall not be deemed a distributor with respect to such sale.

(c) Rejection of orders. (1) A distributor must reject all orders except those which he is required or permitted to fill under paragraph (d).

(2) [Deleted Jan. 13, 1944.]

(3) A distributor must not accept an authorized controlled material order bearing a specific allotment number which requires a quarterly identification after the end of the quarter for which the allotment was issued, and he must not deliver any steel on such an order earlier than 15 days before the beginning of such period. However, he may deliver steel on an order properly accepted at any time during such quarter or any following quarter. For example, a distributor may accept an order bearing the allotment number N-1-4Q44 any time prior to January 1, 1945, but he may not deliver any material on such an order earlier than September 16, 1944. Orders bearing symbols which do not require a quarterly identification, such as MRO (see Interpretation 25 to CMP Regulation No. 1) are not subject to this provision.

(4) A distributor may reject any order for steel on which the customer does not specify immediate delivery. Even if he elects to accept an authorized controlled material order calling for future delivery, he is not allowed to set aside the steel covered by such order. He must deliver it on any order calling for immediate delivery that he is required to fill under paragraphs (d) (1), (2) or (3), and may deliver it on any order calling for immediate delivery that he is permitted to fill under paragraph (d) (4).

(5) A distributor may reject any order calling for the delivery of steel which he does not have in stock or which he does not know is in transit to his stock.

(6) A distributor may reject all or any part of an order which the War Production Board specifically authorizes him to reject. If a delivery would deplete his stock to a point where his function in the distribution of steel would be seriously impaired, he may apply to the War Production Board for authority to reject the order and may delay filling the order until his application is acted upon.

(d) Orders which must be filled. A distributor must fill the following kinds of orders unless he is required or permitted to reject them under paragraph (c):

(1) A distributor must fill all authorized controlled material orders except as provided in paragraph (m) (1).

(2) A distributor must fill orders for delivery to farmers as required by Priorities Regulation No. 19.

(3) A distributor must fill orders bearing preference ratings of AAA.

(4) A distributor may fill other orders as follows, but is not required to do so regardless of whether rated or not:

(i) Orders in amounts of $25 or less. No endorsement is required on such orders.

(ii) Orders identified by the symbol Z-1E as explained in paragraph (m).

[Note: Subdivision iii formerly ii, redesignated Sept. 21, 1944.]

(iii) Orders calling for delivery to one customer during any calendar quarter of not more than 10 tons of carbon steel, 1,000 pounds of stainless steel and 2 tons of other alloy steel, providing such deliveries of any one product group and type to one customer do not exceed the amounts shown below:

	Quantities in pounds per quarter unless otherwise stated
	Carbon (including wrought iron)	Stainless	Alloy (Other than stainless)
Tool steel, including drill rod	300	----	300
Mechanical tubing	1,000*	100*	300*
Wire rope and strand	300*	----	----
Music wire	300	----	----
All other steel products	20,000	1,000	4,000

*Feet per quarter.

Each order placed under this paragraph (d) (4) (iii) must be accompanied by or endorsed with both the standard form of certification in CMP Regulation No. 7 and the following sentence: "This order is placed under paragraph (d) (4) (iii) of CMP Regulation No. 4."

The purpose of this paragraph (d) (4) (iii) is to permit persons using small quantities of steel to obtain their requirements without the use of allotments; it is not to allow users of large quantities to obtain steel in addition to their purchases on authorized controlled material orders. Therefore, a person who buys any steel under this paragraph (d) (4) (iii) cannot receive any kind or type of steel from producers or distributors in any quarter in excess of the amounts shown in the above table whether it is received on authorized controlled material orders or otherwise. Consequently, in general, a person should plan to buy all his steel either under this paragraph or on authorized controlled material orders, but not both. Purchases of steel from persons other than producers or distributors do not affect the amount which can be bought under this paragraph. Such purchases are subject to the provisions of Priorities Regulation 13 and paragraph (u) of CMP Regulation No. 1.

Copper

(e) Definitions with respect to copper. The following definitions shall apply for the purpose of this regulation and for the purpose of any other CMP regulation unless otherwise indicated:

(1) "Copper wire mill product" means bare, insulated or armored wire or cable for electrical conduction made from copper or copper base alloy or copper-clad steel containing more than 20% copper by weight.

(2) "Brass mill product" means sheet, wire, rod or tube made from copper or copper base alloy. This does not include copper wire mill products.

(3) "Warehouse" means any industrial supplier, mill supplier, plumbing supply house, electrical wholesaler or other person engaged in the business of distributing brass mill products or copper wire mill products to industry or trade otherwise than as a controlled materials producer and includes warehouses owned by mills.

(4) "Item of copper wire mill product" means any wire or cable made from copper, copper base alloy or copper-clad steel containing more than 20% copper by weight for electrical conduction which is different from all other items of that form by reason of one or more differences of its specifications, such as size, alloy or insulation. Differences in temper or length do not differentiate items.

(5) "Item of brass mill product" means sheet, wire, rod or tube made from copper or copper base alloy, which is different from all other items of that form, by reason of one or more differences of its specifications, such as size, shape, gauge, thickness or alloy. Differences in temper or length do not differentiate items except in the case of copper and brass sheet, where differences in temper will constitute different items.

(6) "Warehouse stock" means brass mill or copper wire mill products physically located in warehouse inventories, whether owned or held on consignment by the warehouse.

(f) Delivery of brass mill or copper wire mill products—(1) Delivery from warehouse stock. (i) A warehouse shall fill authorized controlled material orders for brass mill or copper wire mill products, in accordance with this regulation, if it can fill the orders from its stock. In addition, a warehouse may fill orders identified by the symbol Z-1E, as explained in paragraph (m). In no case, however, may a warehouse fill an order for brass mill or copper wire mill products unless the purchaser has the right to accept delivery under the provisions of this paragraph (f) which limit the amount of brass mill and copper wire mill products which a purchaser may get from a warehouse. A warehouse is entitled to rely on a certificate furnished by any of its customers under paragraph (f) (1) (iv) of this regulation, unless it knows or has reason to believe the certificate to be false.

(ii) Beginning May 15, 1944 no person shall place orders for delivery from warehouse stock of any item of brass mill product to any one destination, during any calendar week which aggregates more than 500 pounds gross weight, or, effective immediately, for delivery, during any one calendar month, which aggregate more than 2,000 pounds gross weight and no person shall accept any delivery in excess of these amounts. However, the 500 pound limitation does not apply to a single continuous length of rod, tube, pipe, sheet or strip and neither the 500 pound nor the 2,000 pound limitation applies to condenser tubes or to the resale of brass mill products obtained by brass mill warehouses through an authorization issued by a Regional Office of the War Production Board or by the Copper Recovery Inventory Branch, War Production Board, Washington 25, D. C.

(iii) No person shall place orders for delivery from warehouse stock of any item of copper wire mill product to any one destination during any one calendar month, which aggregate more than 3,000 pounds copper content and no person shall accept any such delivery in excess of this amount, except that this limitation does not apply to the resale of copper wire mill products obtained by copper wire mill warehouses through an authorization issued by a Regional Office of the War Production Board or by the Copper Recovery Inventory Branch, War Production Board, Washington 25, D. C.

(iv) No person shall place an order under this paragraph (f) (1) and no warehouse shall accept an order unless it is accompanied by, or endorsed with, a certificate in the form provided in CMP Regulation No. 7 (or a certificate prescribed by any regulation or order of the War Production Board for use in placing an authorized controlled material order), signed manually or as provided in Priorities Regulation No. 7.

(2) Shipments direct to customer or to fill specific orders. If a warehouse wants to order material to fill a specific authorized controlled material order of a customer instead of filling it from stock, it may order the material either for direct shipment to the customer or for shipment via the warehouse, by placing on its order the customer's name and allotment number or symbol. Such an order is to be treated as an authorized controlled material order. The warehouse may not treat the delivery to the customer as made from stock and may not request a replacement. However, in the case of brass mill products, a warehouse may order from another warehouse only if it does not have the material in inventory and needs it for immediate delivery to a customer on an authorized controlled material order. It must state these facts on its order.

(3) Rejection of orders. (i) A warehouse must not fill any order for brass mill or copper wire mill products except those which it is required or permitted to fill under paragraphs (f) (1) and (f) (2) above.

(ii) A warehouse must not deliver any brass mill or copper wire mill product on an authorized controlled material order except in the quarter for which the allotment appearing on the order is valid. Orders bearing symbols such as "MRO" or "SO" which do not have to bear any quarterly identification may be filled during any quarter, but such orders must indicate when delivery is required if for other than immediate delivery.

(iii) A warehouse may reject any order calling for immediate delivery of brass mill or copper wire mill products which it does not have in stock or know to be in transit to its stock.

(iv) A warehouse may reject an order calling for future delivery. If it elects to accept the order, it must not set aside or hold any material to fill it.

Aluminum

(g) Definitions with respect to aluminum. The following definitions shall apply for the purpose of this regulation and for the purpose of any other CMP Regulation unless otherwise indicated:

(1) "Aluminum" means aluminum in any of the forms and shapes constituting controlled material as defined in CMP Regulation No. 1.

(2) "Distributor" means any person who has received or proposes to receive physical delivery of aluminum into his stock for sale or resale in the same form, or after performing such operations as cutting to length, shearing to size, sorting and grading.

(h) (1) Deliveries of aluminum by distributors. Each distributor shall, to the extent of his available stock, fill authorized controlled material orders, orders bearing the symbol AM, and orders which he has been specifically directed in writing by the War Production Board to fill, and he may fill orders identified by the symbol Z–1E as explained in paragraph (m) (i) except that he may reject any such order calling for delivery at any one time, to any one person at any one destination, of more than 2,000 lbs. of any gage, alloy and size of aluminum sheet, or more than 900 lbs. of any alloy, shape and size of aluminum wire rod or bar, or more than 600 lbs. of any alloy, size or shape of aluminum tubing, extrusions or structural shapes and (ii) except that he also may reject any order from another distributor.

(2) No distributor shall deliver any aluminum except to fill an authorized controlled material order or pursuant to a specific direction of the War Production Board.

(3) The restrictions of this regulation do not apply to aluminum powder, flake, pigment, or paste delivered for the purpose of making paint, ink, or other coating or liquid welding compound. Such aluminum powder, flake, pigment or paste may be delivered by a distributor on rated or unrated purchase orders subject to the provisions of Priorities Regulation No. 1.

General Provisions Applicable to Steel, Brass Mill Products, Copper Wire Mill Products and Aluminum

(i) Directions to distributors and warehouses. Each distributor and warehouse shall comply with such directions as may be issued from time to time by the War Production Board with respect to making or withholding deliveries of steel, brass mill products, copper wire mill products or aluminum, and with respect to the earmarking of stocks of such material.

(j) Placement of authorized controlled material orders. A delivery order for steel, brass mill products, copper wire mill products or aluminum, shall be deemed an authorized controlled material order, if but only if,

(1) It is specifically designated as an authorized controlled material order by any regulation or order of the War Production Board; or

(2) It is endorsed with the appropriate certification and allotment number or symbol in the way prescribed by paragraph (s) (3) of CMP Regulation No. 1.

(3) A delivery order for steel, brass mill products, copper wire mill products or aluminum, placed with a distributor or warehouse shall be considered as calling for immediate delivery unless the order specifically provides otherwise.

(k) Verbal delivery orders. Any delivery order requiring shipment within seven days may be placed verbally or by telephone by stating to the distributor or warehouse the substance of the information required by this regulation, Provided, That the person placing the order furnishes to the distributor or warehouse, within fifteen days after placing the same, written confirmation of the order complying with the requirements of this regulation. In case of failure to receive written confirmation within fifteen days, the distributor or warehouse shall not accept any other order from, or deliver any additional material of any kind to, the purchaser until such written confirmation is furnished. On or before the twentieth day of each month any distributor or warehouse who has received in the prior month a delivery order by telephone, shall notify the appropriate Regional Compliance Office of the War Production Board, of any case in which a purchaser has failed to furnish to him the written confirmation when due.

(l) Special provisions with respect to AAA orders. Notwithstanding the foregoing provisions of this regulation, an authorized controlled material order placed with a distributor or warehouse bearing a rating of AAA shall be filled in preference to any other authorized controlled material orders regardless of time of receipt.

(m) Special treatment of "Z" orders—(1) Authorized controlled material orders. A distributor or warehouse must not fill any order identified by a CMP allotment symbol whose initial letter is "Z" until he has filled all other orders which he has received which he is required to fill under this regulation and which call for delivery of the same items within the next 30 days. In addition, a copper wire mill warehouse may not deliver in any month on "Z" orders more pounds of copper wire than 10% of the amount he delivered during the previous month on all orders.

(2) Treatment of Z–1 orders identified by the letter "E". Orders bearing the allotment symbol Z–1E (which are not authorized controlled material orders) may be placed with distributors and warehouses for certain controlled materials in their stocks. A distributor or warehouse who receives such orders may fill them, but he is not required to do so. If he elects to fill such orders he may do so only in accordance with the following:

(i) A steel or aluminum distributor or brass mill warehouse, acting as agent for the Metals Reserve Company, may deliver on Z–1E orders without limit any controlled materials owned by the Metals Reserve Company which he receives into his stock, and

(ii) A steel distributor may deliver any steel products from his stock on Z–1E orders, but he may not use such a delivery to support a stock replacement order placed with a producer or another distributor, and

(iii) A copper warehouse or aluminum distributor may sell in any three-month period a quantity of controlled materials equal to the poundage purchased by him in the preceding three-month period from consumers under the provisions of Priorities Regulation 13, or a quantity equal to the quantity purchased in the current month, whichever is greater, and

(iv) An aluminum distributor may sell items which have been in his stock for 45 days and which he has not been able to deliver on other orders permitted by this regulation.

(3) How a consumer places a Z–1E order. A consumer with an authorized production schedule identified by a CMP allotment symbol Z–1 who does not have an allotment or who does not wish to use it, may place orders on a distributor or warehouse for the type of controlled material described above, but must not use the symbol Z–1 without adding the letter "E". The letter "E" is added to identify the purchase as being made out of "excess" stock in a warehouse, and thus to indicate that the purchaser's allotment account does not need to be charged. If he places only the symbol "Z–1" on his order without adding the "E", it is an authorized controlled material order, and must be charged against his allotment account in accordance with CMP Regulation No. 1. A consumer may also obtain steel without using his allotment in accordance with paragraph (d) (4) (i) and (d) (4) (iii), but if he does so, he must not use either the symbol Z–1 or Z–1E on his order.

[NOTE: Paragraph (n) formerly (m) redesignated Sept. 21, 1944.]

(n) Communications. All communications concerning this regulation should be addressed to the War Production Board, Washington 25, D. C., Ref: CMP Regulation No. 4 (specify whether steel, copper or aluminum).

Issued this 21st day of September 1944.

DISTRIBUTORS OF AUTOMOTIVE REPLACEMENT PARTS

The definitions of "distributor" and "warehouse" appearing in paragraphs (b) (2) and (c) (3) of CMP Regulation No. 4 are not deemed to include persons engaged solely in the business of distributing automotive replacement parts. Consequently, such persons may sell, for use as automotive replacement parts, such items as bulk or spooled primary and spark plug wire, battery cables and magnet wire without reference to the terms of CMP Regulation No. 4, but subject to the provisions of General Limitation Order L–158 and other applicable regulations or orders (Issued Feb. 27, 1943).

PART 3288—PLUMBING AND HEATING EQUIPMENT

[General Limitation Order L–79, as Amended Sept. 21, 1944]

DISTRIBUTION OF PLUMBING, HEATING AND COOKING EQUIPMENT

The fulfillment of requirements for the defense of the United States has created a shortage in the supply of certain critical materials used in the production of plumbing, heating and cooking equipment for defense, for private account and for export; and the following order is deemed necessary and appropriate in the public interest and to promote the national defense.

§ 3288.31 General Limitation Order L–79—(a) What this order does. The purpose of this order is to conserve the supply and direct the distribution of plumbing, cooking and heating equipment by preventing the sale of certain essential items on List A except for necessary replacements, or on rated orders. These are items, the production of which is restricted, and which can be made available to essential users only. The order provides a rating to enable sellers to get these items for necessary replacement. It permits other items of plumbing and heating equipment to be bought by sellers on unrated orders without restriction but provides a preference rating to enable sellers to buy these non-restricted items when a rating is needed. No preference ratings are assigned to consumers and deliveries to consumers for replacement and repair do not have to be on rated orders. It must be noted, however, that deliveries of certain parts for plumbing and heating equipment are also subject to applicable provisions of other limitation orders.[1] The order supersedes the previous version of L–79, as well as General Preference Order P–84.

(b) Assignment of preference ratings. Preference rating AA–3 is assigned to any seller to enable him to get the following:

(1) Equipment shown in List A, including repair parts.

(2) Repair parts only for items on List B.

(3) All other equipment, material and parts which are used to supply, store and heat water, to cook food (except as excluded below), to remove waste matter and water borne waste, to treat waste matter chemically, and to heat buildings (except as excluded below), including electric heat controls.

Any rating under this paragraph (b) cannot be used, however, to get equipment specifically designed for industrial processing, fire protection, the production or transmission of power, or for use by a public utility; equipment, other than water heaters, using electricity as fuel; heat exchangers subject to L–123; domestic water systems as covered by L–257 domestic cooking appliances and domestic heating stoves as defined in L–23–c; liquefied petroleum gas equipment as defined in L–86; fans, blowers and exhausters as covered by L–123 except those on List A of this order (L–79); steel or wrought iron pipe or steel sheets; industrial and domestic sump pumps; equipment specifically designed for refrigerating or dehumidifying; or portable items such as pans, domestic stove lid lifters and domestic stove pokers which are not designed to be built into or fastened to the building in which they are used. Directions will from time to time be issued specifying items which are subject to this paragraph (b) and items which are excluded.

(c) Exception. No rating is assigned to any delivery to which a rating is assigned by CMP Regulation 9A.

(d) Inventory restrictions on sellers. (1) A seller who is a repair man as defined in CMP Regulation 9A may not accept delivery of any item of parts or materials obtained by applying a rating under this order if his inventory of that item of parts or materials is or would by accepting delivery become larger than he needs to continue his repair and maintenance services for a 60-day period, according to his current method of operation. However, if the supply of any item which he has on hand is less than the permitted amount, he may accept delivery of the smallest commercial amount of that item which his distributor normally sells, even if that will increase his supply beyond the amount specified.

(2) A seller who is not a repair man as defined in CMP Regulation 9A is subject to the limitation of inventory prescribed in Order L–63.

(e) Up-rating. In the case of ratings applied or extended by sellers under Order P–84 prior to its revocation, deliveries may be re-rated in accordance with the provisions of Priorities Regulation No. 12. However, any person with whom such an order was placed is authorized to treat it as re-rated without requiring any notice or certificate to be furnished to him by the seller: Provided, That any manufacturer or seller who re-rates any orders placed with him under this paragraph must so re-rate all orders placed with him which can be re-rated.

(f) Restrictions on deliveries of items on List A. No seller may sell or deliver to a consumer any equipment included on List A except:

(1) [Deleted July 26, 1944.]

(2) Equipment which is delivered to fill a rated order.

(3) When the delivery is to a consumer for installation to replace exist-

[1] Other orders of the War Production Board and of the Petroleum Administration for War restrict deliveries of gas and fuel oil for newly installed equipment using those fuels. These orders should be consulted before any installation of equipment is made.

ing equipment which is worn out, damaged beyond repair or destroyed, but not to replace useable equipment or to make a substitution which would provide more extensive facilities than are necessary to replace the part or parts worn out, damaged or destroyed.

(g) Restrictions on sale and delivery of equipment using gas as fuel. In those areas where the use of gas is restricted by War Production Board orders, no seller may sell or deliver to a consumer any equipment using gas as fuel when the installation of such equipment will increase the potential demand for gas (manufacturer's hourly input rating) unless a letter has first been obtained from the Utility Company which will deliver the gas to the consumer stating that it is authorized to provide the gas necessary to operate the equipment. However, the restrictions of this paragraph do not apply to gas fired domestic water heating equipment for a residence.

(h) When a consumer needs a preference rating and how he gets it. Consumers are not assigned ratings by this order and will not need ratings unless they want to buy items on List A for purposes other than replacement. When a rating is needed, application may be made as follows:

(1) For residential use. If the equipment is to be used for residential purposes, construction or otherwise, Form WPB–2896 should be filed with the nearest Federal Housing Administration field office.

(2) For commercial and industrial use. If the equipment is to be used for commercial or industrial purposes and is construction of a type which is restricted under Limitation Order L–41, Form WPB–617 should be filed with the nearest War Production Board field office. If not restricted under Limitation Order L–41, then Form WPB–1319 should be filed with the nearest War Production Board field office.

(3) For farm use. If the equipment is to be used for farm purposes (including farm dwellings), and is construction of a type which is restricted under Limitation Order L–41, Form WPB–617 should be filed with the County Agricultural Conservation Committee. If not restricted under Limitation Order L–41, then Form WPB–1319 should be filed with the nearest War Production Board field office.

(4) For utilities use. If the equipment is to be used by a utility furnishing telephone, telegraph, electric, gas, water or central steam heating service for use by the public, Form WPB–2774 should be filed with the War Production Board, Washington 25, D. C. (For utility MRO and minor plant additions applicable utilities orders should be followed).

(i) Consumer's certificates. No seller may deliver an item on List A to fill a consumer's unrated order unless he obtains a certificate in substantially the following form:

I need the item included in this purchase to replace equipment worn out, damaged beyond repair, or destroyed. I will not use it to replace useable equipment or to make a substitution which would provide more extensive facilities than are necessary to replace the parts which are worn out, damaged, or destroyed.

Address of installation.....

Address .....

Any certification is a representation to the War Production Board as well as to the seller. No one may deliver relying on a certification being true if he knows or should know it is false, but anyone who reasonably relies on the truth of a certificate is not to be held responsible if it turns out to be false. No one shall make a false statement in a certification. Sellers shall retain certificates in their files for two years for inspection by WPB representatives.

(j) Salvage. No person may install equipment on List A for replacement unless he takes any replaced metal parts or equipment, not coated with a fused or nonmetallic surface, and arranges for its further use, or turns it in for salvage to any authorized scrap metal dealer within thirty days after the replacement. This requirement does not mean that the installer is entitled to take old equipment without the owner's consent or without crediting him with its value.

(k) Records. All persons affected by this order shall keep and preserve for not less than two years accurate and complete records concerning inventories and sales.

(l) Audit and inspection. All records required to be kept by this order shall, upon request, be submitted to audit and inspection by duly authorized representatives of the War Production Board.

(m) Violations and false statements. Any person who wilfully violates any provision of this order, or who, in connection with this order, wilfully conceals a material fact, or furnishes false information to any department or agency of the United States is guilty of a crime, and upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment or both. In addition, any such person may be prohibited from making or obtaining further deliveries of, or from processing or using, material under priority control and may be deprived of priorities assistance.

(n) Applicability of regulations. All persons and transactions affected by this order are subject to all applicable provisions of the regulations of the War Production Board, as amended from time to time.

(o) Applicability of other orders. Insofar as any other orders heretofore or hereafter issued by the War Production Board limit the production, delivery or use of any plumbing, heating or cooking equipment to a greater extent than the restrictions imposed by this order, the restrictions of such other orders shall govern.

(p) Appeals. Any person affected by this order may appeal from its provisions by filing Form WPB 1477 (formerly PD–500) with a field office of the War Production Board.

(q) Communications. All reports to be filed and other communications concerning this order, except appeals, shall be addressed to the War Production Board, Plumbing and Heating Division, Washington 25, D. C., Ref: L–79.

(r) Definitions. For the purposes of this order:

(1) "Seller" means any person who buys plumbing, heating, or cooking equipment for resale, whether or not he makes the installation. A manufacturer who sells directly to the consumer is to be considered a seller with respect to those sales.

(2) "Consumer" means any person who buys plumbing, heating, or cooking equipment for installation or use on premises owned or occupied by him.

Recording Secretary.

INTERPRETATION 1

NOTE: Interpretation 1 is obsolete.

INTERPRETATION 2

Office of Price Administration requirements not affected. Question has been raised as to whether this order dispenses with the necessity of conforming to the requirements of O. P. A. Ration Order 9–A.

The words "without restriction" as used in L–79 refer only to restrictions placed by the War Production Board, and Order L–79 is not intended in any way to affect rationing or other requirements of the Office of Price Administration or any other agency. (Issued Feb. 29, 1944.)

INTERPRETATION 3

SUBSTITUTION REQUIRING CHANGE OF DISTRIBUTION SYSTEM PROHIBITED

The restrictions of paragraph (f) (3) of Limitation Order L–79 prohibit the substitution of one type of heating system for another (e. g. cast iron heating boiler for heating furnace) if it will require the change of a useable distribution system. (Issued Apr. 13, 1944.)

Cotton and Naval Stores Exchange shall:

(1) Records. Keep records showing as precisely as possible the basis upon which he determined maximum prices for his sales of gum rosin and shall preserve such records for examination by the Office of Price Administration for so long as the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, remains in effect.

(2) Reports. File on or before October 20, 1944, with the Chemicals and Drugs Price Branch, Office of Price Administration, Washington 25, D. C., a statement containing:

(i) A short description of his gum rosin business including the classes of persons from whom he buys and the classes of persons to whom he sells; the extent he is currently processing oleoresin into gum rosin, and the proportion of oleoresin processed which he produces himself.

(ii) His maximum prices for sales of each grade of gum rosin to each class of purchasers for sales to whom he can establish a maximum price under section 11 (b) (1). For each maximum price listed, the sale on which it is based should be given, including the name of the purchaser, the date of the sale, the grade and quantity sold, and the conditions of sale.

(iii) All his customary allowances, discounts, and other price differentials.

(d) Such persons shall submit such other reports to the Office of Price Administration and keep such other records in addition to or in place of the records and reports required in paragraphs (a), (b) and (c) of this section as the Office of Price Administration may from time to time require, subject to the approval of the Bureau of the Budget in accordance with the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

SEC. 6. Evasion. Price limitations set forth in this regulation shall not be evaded, whether by direct or indirect methods, in connection with any offer, solicitation, agreement, sale, delivery, purchase or receipt of, or relating to gum rosin, alone or in conjunction with any other commodity, or by way of commission, service, transportation, or other charge, discount, premium, or other privilege, or other trade understanding, or by transactions with or through the agency of subsidiaries or affiliates or otherwise.

SEC. 8. Licensing. The provisions of Licensing Order No. 1 [1] licensing all persons who make sales under price control, are applicable to all sellers subject to this regulation. A seller's license may be suspended for violations of the license or one or more applicable price schedules or regulations. A person whose license is suspended may not, during the period of suspension, make any sale for which his license has been suspended.

[1] 8 F.R. 13240.

SEC. 9. Petitions for amendment. Any person seeking an amendment to any provision of this regulation may file a petition for amendment in accordance with the provisions of Revised Procedural Regulation No. 1.[1]

SEC. 10. Definitions. (a) As used in this regulation, the term:

"Base period" means the period January 1, 1944, to June 30, 1944, inclusive.

"Gum rosin" means the vitreous transparent or transiucent brittle mass congealed from the molten condition remaining after the extraction of gum spirits of turpentine in the distillation of oleoresin exuded from the living pine tree.

"Grade" refers to the grade as established by the Naval Stores Act of 1923 (42 Stat. 1435; 7 USC. secs. 91–99) and the regulations of the Secretary of Agriculture issued thereunder.

"Purchaser of the same class" refers to the practice adopted by the seller in setting different prices for gum rosin for sales to different purchasers or kinds of purchasers (for example, manufacturer, wholesaler, jobber, retailer, government agency, public institution, individual consumer) or for purchasers located in different areas or for different quantities or in different containers or under different conditions of sale.

"Closest competitor" means that seller selling gum rosin under substantially the same conditions who is in close competition with you and is located nearest to you.

(b) Unless the context otherwise requires, the definitions set forth in section 302 of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, shall apply to other terms used in this regulation.

SEC. 11. Maximum prices for gum rosin.—(a) Sales on the Savannah, Georgia, Cotton and Naval Stores Exchange. Maximum prices for sales of gum rosin on the Savannah, Georgia, Cotton and Naval Stores Exchange shall be:

(b) Sales other than on the Savannah, Georgia, Cotton and Naval Stores Exchange. For sales other than on the Savannah, Georgia, Cotton and Naval Stores Exchange you are to determine your maximum price by reference to the maximum prices for sales on that Exchange. To find your maximum price per 100 pounds net for sale of any grade to any class of purchasers you proceed as explained below. This maximum price applies at a point in accordance with your customary practice. As used in this paragraph (b), "differential" means a dollar and cent difference.

(1) If, during the base period, January 1, 1944, to June 30, 1944, inclusive, you made a sale of the same grade of gum rosin to the same class of purchasers, you find your maximum price by adding to or subtracting from the maximum price per 100 pounds net established in (a) above for sales of the same grade on the Savannah Exchange your base period differential. This differential is the most favorable differential from the price for that grade listed on the Savannah Exchange which you received on any sale of the same grade to a purchaser of the same class during the base period.

You are considered to have made a sale during the base period only if:

(i) During that period you entered into a firm contract for a sale at a price specified in the contract and have actually made delivery (whether in the base period or later) under the contract since the contract was made firm. In such a case, the differential from the price on the Savannah Exchange which is appliable to the transaction is the difference between the price specified in the contract and the price listed for the same grade on the Savannah Exchange on the day on which the Exchange was open for business next preceding the day on which the contract of sale was made firm.

(ii) During the base period you made a delivery under a contract of sale entered into during or prior to the base period which provided that the price should be based on a specified differential from the Savannah Exchange price. In such a case, the differential from the Savannah price which is to be used is the differential specified in the contract of sale.

Examples: During the base period you made firm a contract of sale for K grade rosin at $3.30 per 100 pounds net which was 3 cents per 100 pounds net below the price per 100 pounds net listed on the Savannah Exchange for K grade on the day preceding that on which the contract was made firm. During the base period you also made firm a contract of sale for K grade to a purchaser of the same class at $3.25 per 100 pounds net which was 2 cents per 100 pounds net higher than the price per 100 pounds net listed on the Savannah Exchange for K grade on the preceding day. Your base period differential to be applied to a sale of K grade to a purchaser of the same class is, therefore, 2 cents per 100 pounds net premium and your maximum price for K grade to that class of purchaser is $5.61+.02 or $5.63 per 100 pounds net.

During the base period you made deliveries of K grade rosin to the same class of purchasers under two contracts providing that the price should be a specified differential from the Savannah Exchange price. On deliveries during the base period under the first contract you received the specified differential of 5 cents under the Savannah Exchange price; on deliveries during the base period under the second contract you received the specified differential of 2 cents under the Savannah price. Your base period differential to that class of purchaser for K grade is, therefore, 2 cents per 100 pounds net discount and your maximum price for K grade to that class of purchaser is $5.61−.02 or $5.59 per 100 pounds net.

(2) If during the base period your only sales of the same grade of rosin were made to a different class of purchasers, you find your maximum price by first determining your maximum price according to (1) above for sales to the different class of purchasers, and then adding to or subtracting from that maximum price your customary differential between the two classes of purchasers.

Example: In the base period your only sales of K grade were in bags, less than carload. For such sales your maximum price determined according to (1) above is $5.41 per 100 pounds net. You now wish to find your maximum price for sales in drum carloads. Customarily you charge 10 cents per 100 pounds net more for sales in drums than for sales in bags, and 6 cents per 100 pounds net less for carload than for less than carload sales. Your maximum price for drum carload sales of K grade is $5.41+.10−.05 or $5.46 per 100 pounds net.

(3) If during the base period you did not make a sale of the same grade of rosin, you find your maximum price by first determining your maximum price according to (1) and (2) above for sales to the same class of purchasers of the most nearly similar grade which you delivered during the base period and adding to or subtracting from this maximum price the differential between the Savannah Exchange maximum prices for these grades in paragraph (a) above.

Example: During the base period you made sales of only M and K grades. You now wish to make a sale of WW. The most nearly similar grade of which you made a sale in the base period is M. Your maximum price to a particular class of purchasers for M grade according to (1) and (2) above is $5.59. The maximum price for M in paragraph (a) is $5.79, for WW is $6.31. The differential is a premium of $.59 and your maximum price for WW is $5.59+$.52 or $6.11 per 100 pounds net.

(4) If you cannot determine your maximum price according to (1), (2) or (3) above, your maximum price for sales of any grade to any class of purchasers shall be the maximum price determined under (1), (2) or (3) above by your closest competitor for sales of the same grade of rosin to the same class of purchasers.

(5) If you cannot determine your maximum price according to (1), (2), (3) or (4) above, your maximum price shall be the maximum price authorized by the Office of Price Administration in response to an application therefor filed by you and in line with the level of maximum prices established by this regulation.

Applications for the establishment of such a maximum price shall be submitted by registered mail to the Chemicals and Drugs Price Branch, Office of Price Administration, Washington 25, D. C., prior to sale, and shall be accompanied by the following information:

(i) A statement of the reasons why a maximum price cannot be established under (1), (2), (3) or (4) above.

(ii) A short description of the applicant's gum rosin business including the classes of persons from whom he buys and the classes of person to whom he sells; the extent he is currently processing oleoresin into gum rosin, and the proportion of oleoresin processed which he produces himself.

(iii) A short description of the transactions for which and class of purchasers for sales to whom a maximum price is proposed.

(iv) The proposed maximum price.

(v) An explanation of how the proposed price was determined.

Sales may be made at such proposed price after the date of mailing such application subject, however, to approval by the Office of Price Administration. If, at the expiration of 20 days from the date of mailing the application (or all additional information which may have been requested), the seller has not been advised by the Office of Price Administration of its disapproval of the proposed maximum price, such proposed price may be considered as authorized. In the event of any modification of a proposed price within the 20-day period, refund shall be made accordingly.

The Price Administrator may, at any time, by order, disapprove or modify any maximum price established under this regulation; and may, either in connection with applications under this subparagraph (5) or otherwise, issue orders establishing maximum prices or pricing methods for sales or resales of gum rosin subject to this regulation.

Effective date. This regulation shall become effective September 20, 1944.

NOTE: All record keeping and reporting requirements of this regulation have been approved by the Bureau of the Budget in accordance with the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

Issued this 20th day of September 1944.

EASTERN RAILROAD TIES

Second Revised Maximum Price Regulation No. 216 is redesignated Third Revised Maximum Price Regulation 216 and is revised and amended to read as follows:

In the judgment of the Price Administrator, the maximum prices established by this regulation are and will be generally fair and equitable and will effectuate the purposes of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, and Executive Orders 9250 and 9328. So far as practicable, the Price Administrator has advised and consulted with representative members of the industry which will be affected by this regulation.

Such specifications and standards as are used in this regulation were, prior to such use, in general use in the industry affected.

SECTION 1. Sales of Eastern railroad ties at higher than maximum prices prohibited. (a) On and after September 26, 1944, regardless of any contract or other obligation, no person shall sell or deliver, and no person shall buy or receive in the course of trade or business, any Eastern railroad ties covered by this regulation at prices higher than the maximum prices fixed by this regulation, and no person shall agree, offer, or attempt to do any of these things.

(b) Prices lower than the maximum prices may, of course, be charged and paid.

SEC. 2. Coverage of the regulation. (a) This regulation covers all sales and purchases of railroad cross ties and switch ties, produced from any species in that part of the United States east of a line approximating the one-hundredth meridian, except North Dakota and South Dakota. Bridge ties and crossing timbers are not covered, but are subject to the appropriate lumber price regulation.

The price tables in Section 15 cover certain "listed" species and definite producing zone boundaries.

(b) Definitions. (1) "Cross tie" means a hewn or sawn forest product of specified dimension suitable for use in supporting the rails of railroad tracks. "Switch tie" means a hewn or sawn forest product of specified dimension suitable for use in supporting a switch in a railroad track.

(2) "Size", sometimes referred to as "grade", of any Eastern railroad tie, means the dimensions of a cross tie or switch tie as established by the American Railway Engineering Association. The following is a summary of the principal provisions on dimension specifications:

*Copies may be obtained from the Office of Price Administration.

(i) Length. Standard-gauge railroad ties shall be 8 feet, 8 feet 6 inches, or 9 feet long.

(ii) Width and thickness. Ties shall measure as follows throughout both sections between 20 inches and 40 inches from the middle of the tie:

Size	Sawed or hewed top, bottom, and sides	Sawed or hewed top and bottom
1	6 inches thick by 8 inches wide on top.	6 inches thick by 8 inches wide on top.
2	6 inches thick by 7 inches wide on top.	6 inches thick by 7 inches wide on top.
3	6 inches thick by 8 inches wide on top.	[6 inches thick by 8 inches wide on top. 7 inches thick by 7 inches wide on top.
4	7 inches thick by 8 inches wide on top.	7 inches thick by 8 inches wide on top.
5	7 inches thick by 9 inches wide on top.	7 inches thick by 9 inches wide on top.

1. Where the buyer requires 8 inches through the body of the tie in size 1 or 2, these sizes must be furnished at no increase over maximum prices listed.

2. Railways which specify both 6 inch by 8 inch and 7 inch by 7 inch ties, in size 3, sawed or hewed on top and bottom only, and which desire to separate the 6 inch from the 7 inch ties will designate the 7 inch by 7 inch as size 3A.

(3) "SR" means a serviceable reject cross tie or switch tie, hewn or sawn, which does not meet the tie specifications of the American Railway Engineering Association, and which, because of defects which are not such as to impair the strength of the tie for limited use, is not a first quality tie.

(4) "Cull" means a cross tie or switch tie which, because of defects, is not suitable for use under a railroad track.

(5) "Class T" cross ties and switch ties embrace the following species:

(i) Group Ta: Ash, hickory, "sap" black locust, honey locust, oak, and "sap" black walnut.

(ii) Group Tb: "Sap" cedar, "sap" cypress, hemlock, "sap" larch, "sap" pine, and spruce.

(iii) Group Tc: Beech, birch, cherry, gum, and hard maple.

(iv) Group Td: "Sap" catalpa, "sap" chestnut, elm, hackberry, magnolia, soft maple, "sap" mulberry, poplar, "sap" sassafras, sycamore, and white walnut.

(6) "Normal loading-out point" means the siding or point on a railroad, or the barge landing at which the railroad ties may be sold and to which the railroad ties can be most cheaply transported from the point of production for shipment by rail, raft, or barge.

SEC. 3. Basic maximum prices. The maximum prices for Eastern cross ties and switch ties are set out in section 15. These maximum prices are for switch or cross ties manufactured in accordance with the specifications of the American Railway Engineering Association. It is expected that switch or cross ties not meeting these specifications in every detail will be priced correspondingly lower.

The maximum producer's price which may be charged or paid shall be the price established for the zone in which the "normal loading-out point" of the material is located, subject only to additions for transportation permitted by section 4.

SEC. 4. Transportation addition. Transportation from the mill or point of production to the "normal loading-out point" must, in every instance, be provided on the seller's account. Rail, barge and towing charges paid by the seller for transportation beyond the normal loading-out point may, in every case, be added. Trucking charges may be added only when delivery is made by the seller to a destination which is not a loading-out point for railroad ties. Where such delivery is made the charge must be reduced by the cost of trucking to the seller's normal loading-out point. All additions for transportation must be shown separately on the invoice.

(a) Common or contract carrier. The appropriate published rate times the actual weight is the proper transportation charge. The charge for transportation shall be evened out to the nearest quarter-dollar per M'BM or quarter-cent per piece, whichever is applicable.

(b) Private truck. The seller shall apply under section 7 for the proper addition.

(c) Averaging-out and buying in the round. (1) When a single order requires quotations of a single flat delivered price per tie and fulfillment of the order contemplates delivery with a variation in tie prices and/or a variation in freight rates, the seller may use a flat average delivered price but must show on each invoice that the particular shipment is part of a larger order for which a reconciliation invoice will be furnished.

Upon completion of the order the seller must render a final invoice showing the individual prices separately, the amount shipped from each loading-out point, the freight charge for each shipment, and reconciliation of the total amount so computed with the agreed delivered selling prices and also with the maximum prices permitted by this regulation. Final payment and all necessary adjustments between buyer and seller are to be made upon the final reconciliation. Failure to make a reconciliation invoice within 30 days of completion of the order for which an average price was quoted is as much a violation of the regulation as selling at an over-ceiling price.

(2) Where a straight average price is charged (known as "buying in the round") for cross ties of more than one size, the maximum price shall be that of the lowest-priced size.

SEC. 5. Treated products. (a) The maximum prices for Eastern railroad ties preservatively treated by pressure process are established by Maximum Price Regulation 491.[1]

[1] 8 F.R. 15594, 9 F.R. 8182, 9955.

(b) The maximum price for any Eastern railroad ties preservatively treated by non-pressure methods shall be the maximum price established by the General Maximum Price Regulation[8] for each seller plus or minus an amount to cover any increased or decreased untreated cost resulting from the maximum prices established by this regulation. This amount shall be determined by each seller in the following manner:

Determine the difference between the highest price f. o. b. loading-out point, paid in March 1942 by this seller of treated ties and the maximum price established in this regulation for the same size and grade of untreated ties. If the buying price is increased by this regulation, add the difference to the seller's established price under the General Maximum Price Regulation for the treated ties. If the buying price is decreased by this regulation, subtract the difference from the seller's established price under the General Maximum Price Regulation for the treated ties. (If the seller of a treated tie did not buy in March 1942, he should use his buying price in the first month prior to March 1942 in which he purchased the untreated tie.

SEC. 6. Tie contractor's addition. (a) An addition of $0.20 per tie may be made to the maximum prices specified in section 15 by all persons who have registered as tie contractors.

(b) Registered contractors. Any person who has been authorized to act as a tie contractor prior to August 1, 1944, must file a request for registration with the Lumber Branch of the Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C., before November 1, 1944.

(c) The Lumber Branch of the Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C., may by letter or telegram authorize any person not registered as a tie contractor upon presentation of proof that the granting of the authorization will supply a service needed by tie users by increasing production and availability of railroad ties in the area covered by this regulation.

SEC. 7. Special pricing. If a seller wishes to sell a specification of Eastern Railroad Ties not specifically priced in this regulation, or wishes to make changes for extras not specifically provided for, he shall apply to the Lumber Branch, Office of Price Administration Washington 25, D. C. for approval of a maximum price. He must provide the following information.

(a) The requested prices;

(b) A complete description of the item for which price approval is desired;

(1) If a specification other than A. R. E. A., he shall furnish a copy of the specification.

(2) If any other extra is to be priced, he shall furnish a description of the extra for which an addition is requested.

(c) The price differential between the item to be priced and the most comparable item priced in the regulation, which existed in October 1941 or the first month preceding October 1941 in which both items were sold. The differential should be developed from the seller's own records, or if that is not possible, from the experience of other buyers and sellers.

(d) If no price differential exists, a detailed analysis of the comparative costs of supplying the two items shall be furnished.

As soon as the request has been filed quotations and deliveries may be made at the requested price, but final payment may not be made until a price has been approved by the Office of Price Administration. Such approvals may be made by letter or telegram.

SEC. 8. Adjustable pricing. Any person may agree to sell at a price which can be increased up to the maximum price in effect at the time of shipment; but no person may, unless authorized by the Office of Price Administration, deliver or agree to deliver at prices to be adjusted upward in accordance with action taken by the Office of Price Administration after shipment. Such authorization may be given when a request for a change in the applicable maximum price is necessary to promote distribution or production and it will not interfere with the purposes of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended. The authorization may be given by the Administrator or by any official of the Office of Price Administration having authority to act upon the pending request for a change in price or to give the authorization.

The authorization will be given by order, except that it may be given by letter or telegram when the contemplated revision will be the granting of an individual application for adjustment.

SEC. 9. Exports and imports. (a) The maximum price for export sales of Eastern railroad ties is governed by the Second Revised Maximum Export Price Regulation.[9]

(b) For railroad cross ties produced in Canada or Mexico and imported at points in "Eastern" territory in the United States, the maximum price is the price "f. o. b. normal loading-out point" established in this regulation for the zone in which the port of entry is located, and such port of entry shall be regarded as the "normal loading-out point". Railroad ties of Canadian or Mexican origin entered at points in "western" territory are subject to Maximum Price Regulation 556.[10]

SEC. 10. Records. All sellers of Eastern Railroad ties must keep records which will show a complete description of the item sold, the names and address of the buyer, the date of the sale, and the price. Buyers must keep similar records, including the names and addresses of the seller. These records must be kept for any month in which the seller or buyer sold or bought $1,000.00 worth of Eastern Railroad ties. These records must be kept for inspection by the Office of Price Administration for the duration of the Price Control Act or for two years, whichever is the shorter.

SEC. 11. Applications for adjustment and petitions for amendment—(a) Government contracts. See Procedural Regulation No. 6[11] for adjustment provisions on certain government contracts or subcontracts.

(b) Petitions for amendment. Any person seeking an amendment of any provision of this regulation may file a petition for amendment in accordance with the provisions of Revised Procedural Regulation No. 1,[12] issued by the Office of Price Administration.

SEC. 12. Prohibited practices—(a) General. Any practice which is a device to get the effect of a higher-than-ceiling price without actually raising the dollar-and-cents price is as much a violation of this regulation as an outright over-ceiling price. This applies to devices making use of commissions, services, transportation arrangements, premiums, special privileges, tying agreements, trade understandings, and the like. Sellers must maintain cash discounts and credit terms no less favorable to buyers than the cash discounts and credit terms they allowed on October 1, 1941, except that a discount longer than 2 percent is not regarded as a cash discount under this rule.

(b) Specific practices. The following are among the specific practices prohibited:

(1) Refusing to sell on a loading-out point basis and insisting on selling on a delivered basis.

(2) Quoting a gross price above the maximum price, even if accompanied by a discount the effect of which is to bring the net price below the maximum.

(3) Making the buyer take something he does not want in order to get what he does want.

(4) Selling or buying material under and according to the provisions of this regulation to be converted into products suitable for uses other than those set out in section 2 (b), "definitions."

(c) Purchasing commissions. No commission on Eastern railroad cross ties may be paid by contractors or users unless all of the following conditions are met:

(1) The person receiving the commission is a full time employee carried on the payroll of the contractor or user.

(2) The money used in purchasing railroad ties is supplied by the contractor or user.

(3) The employee's compensation is not based on the result of final inspection of railroad ties by the user.

(4) The person receiving the commission is not a producer of railroad ties or a tie contractor.

(5) The commission or bonus is not greater than 10 cents per tie.

(1) The permission, if granted, will allow completion of the contract within 60 days from the effective date of the action setting up the new ceilings.

(2) The existence of a "firm contract" must be shown by the seller's submitting a copy of formal contract or copies of written order and acceptance covering specific items, quantities, and prices.

(3) The application must show that the items covered by the contract were actually being produced and had not been shipped on the effective date of the amendment which changes the maximum price.

(4) The seller must state in his application—and the permission, if granted, will be so limited—that all prices shown in the contract will be adhered to, even though the maximum price on some items included therein may have been increased by the amendment.

(5) Applications must be sent to the Lumber Branch, Office of Price Administration, at Washington, D. C. The Lumber Branch may grant or deny such applications by letter or telegram.

Note that the seller must apply for the special permission covered in this paragraph, and he may not go ahead on the basis of the contract prices unless and until he has received the authorization to do so.

SEC. 2. Coverage of the regulation. (a) This regulation covers all sales and purchases of wooden mine materials and industrial blocking produced in that part of the United States east of a line approximating the one hundredth meridian except North Dakota and South Dakota. Mine car lumber, mine shaft guides, and brattice boards are not covered, but are subject to the appropriate lumber price regulations. Production zones are defined in the heading of each price table in section 14.

(b) Definitions. (1) "Wooden mine materials" means any ties, switch ties, cross bars, cribbing, lagging, post caps, wedges, or pit posts used in mines.

(2) "Industrial blocking" means mixed hardwoods that are sawn to specified sizes and of a grade meeting the requirements of steel mills and like users, for bracing and blocking their products in shipment.

(3) "Standard open pit mine ties" means ties 8' in length, manufactured from woods-run timber 8" or larger in top diameter. "Small" open pit mine ties are the same except that they are manufactured from timber 7" to 8" in top diameter.

(4) "Normal loading-out point" means the siding or point on a railroad at which wooden mine materials and industrial blocking may be sold and to which the forest products can be most cheaply transported from the point of production for shipment by rail.

SEC. 3. Basic maximum prices. The maximum prices for Eastern wooden mine materials and industrial blocking are set out in section 14.

SEC. 4. Transportation addition. The transportation charges set forth below may be added to the maximum "normal loading-out point" price when the seller makes delivery. Transportation from the mill or point of production to the "normal loading-out point" must, in every instance, be provided on the seller's account. Rail charges paid by the seller for transportation beyond the loading-out point may, in every case, be added, except that the case of pit posts, props and split or round lagging, the only permissible addition is the amount by which the actual freight charges paid exceed the rate of 15 cents per 100 pounds. Transportation additions for open pit mine ties delivered to mines in Zone 5 are set out in footnote 1 to Table 5 (c).

All additions for transportation must be shown separately on the invoice.

(a) Common or contract carrier. When estimated weights are used, the appropriate published rate times the estimated weight is the proper transportation charge, even though the estimated weights may be higher than actual. Estimated weights higher than those set forth in section 14 may not be used.

The charge for transportation shall be evened out to the nearest quarter-dollar per M'BM, or quarter-cent per piece, whichever is applicable.

(b) Private truck. (1) When shipment is by truck owned or controlled by the seller, the maximum permissible addition (on hauls involving any point outside metropolitan areas) shall be computed as 5 cents per 100 pounds for hauls not over 10 miles; 7 cents per 100 pounds for more than 10 but not over 20 miles; 9 cents per 100 pounds for more than 20 but not over 30 miles, and on hauls of more than 30 miles, for each mile over 30 two-tenths of a cent per 100 pounds to be added to the 30 mile charge. No addition is allowed for the return trip. In the case of poles and piling only, if the order is for less than a truck load a minimum charge for 10,000 pounds may be made.

(2) A "metropolitan area" includes all territory within 10 miles of the city limits of any city having a population of 250,000 or more according to the census of 1940. On shipments by private truck entirely within a metropolitan area, the amount added for transportation may not be more than the published motor common carrier rate for such hauls times the estimated weights or other unit of measure used. If there is no published rate, then the actual cost of trucking may be added, that is, the seller's out-of-pocket expense in making delivery.

SEC. 5. Treated products. (a) The maximum prices for Eastern wooden mine materials and industrial blocking preservatively treated by pressure process are established by Maximum Price Regulation No. 491.[1]

(b) The maximum price for any Eastern wooden mine material and industrial blocking preservatively treated by non-pressure methods shall be the maximum price established by the General Maximum Price Regulation[2] for each seller plus or minus an amount to cover any increased or decreased untreated cost resulting from the maximum prices established by this regulation. This amount shall be determined by each seller in the following manner:

Determine the difference between the highest untreated price f. o. b. loading-out point, paid in March 1942 by this seller of treated products and the maximum price established in this regulation for the same size and grade of untreated product. If the buying price is increased by this regulation, add the difference to the seller's established price under the General Maximum Price Regulation for the treated product. If the buying price is decreased by this regulation, subtract the difference from the seller's established price under the General Maximum Price Regulation for the treated product. (If the seller of a treated product did not buy in March 1942, he should use his buying price in the first month prior to March 1942 in which he purchased the untreated product.)

SEC. 6. Special pricing. If a seller wishes to sell a specification of Eastern Wooden Mine Materials and Industrial Blocking not specifically priced in this regulation, or wishes to make changes for extras not specifically provided for, he shall apply to the Lumber Branch, Office of Price Administration, Washington 25, D. C., for approval of a maximum price. He must provide the following information:

(a) The requested price;

(b) A complete description of the item for which price approval is desired;

(1) If a specification other than those provided by the regulation, he shall furnish a copy of the specification.

(2) If any other extra is to be priced, he shall furnish a description of the extra for which an addition is requested.

(c) The price differential between the item to be priced and the most comparable item priced in the regulation, which existed in October 1941 or the first month preceding October 1941 in which both items were sold. The differential should be developed from the seller's own records, or if that is not possible, from the experience of other buyers and sellers.

(d) If no price differential exists, a detailed analysis of the comparative costs of supplying the two items shall be furnished.

As soon as the request has been filed quotations and deliveries may be made at the requested price, but final payment may not be made until a price has been approved by the Office of Price Administration. Such approvals may be made by letter or telegram.

SEC. 7. Adjustable pricing. Any person may agree to sell at a price which can be increased up to the maximum price in effect at the time of shipment; but no person may, unless authorized by the Office of Price Administration, deliver or agree to deliver at prices to be adjusted upward in accordance with action taken by the Office of Price Administration after shipment. Such authorization may be given when a request for a change in the applicable maximum price is necessary to promote distribution or production and it will not interfere with the purposes of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended. The authorization may be given by the Administrator or by any official of the Office of Price Administration having authority to act upon the pending request for a change in price or to give the authorization.

The authorization will be given by order except that it may be given by letter or telegram when the contemplated revision will be the granting of an individual application for adjustment.

SEC. 8. Exports and imports. (a) The maximum price for export sales of Eastern wooden mine materials and industrial blocking is governed by the Second Revised Maximum Export Price Regulation.[3]

(b) For wooden mine materials and industrial blocking produced in Canada or Mexico and imported at points in "Eastern" territory in the United States, the Maximum price is the price "f. o. b. normal loading-out point" established in this regulation for the zone in which the port of entry is located, and such port of entry shall be regarded as the "normal loading-out point". Wooden mine materials and industrial blocking of Canadian or Mexican origin entered at points in "Western" territory are subject to Maximum Price Regulation 556.[4]

SEC. 9. Records. All sellers of eastern wooden mine material and industrial blocking must keep records which will show a complete description of the item sold, the name and address of the buyer, the date of the sale, and the price. Buyers must keep similar records, including the names and addresses of the seller. These records must be kept for any month in which the seller or buyer sold or bought $500.00 worth of eastern wooden mine material and industrial blocking. These records must be kept for inspection by the Office of Price Administration for the duration of the Price Control Act or for two years, whichever is the shorter.

SEC. 10. Applications for adjustment and petitions for amendment—(a) Government contracts. See Procedural Regulation No. 6[5] for adjustment provisions on certain Government contracts or sub-contracts.

(b) Petitions for amendment. Any person seeking an amendment of any provision of this regulation may file a petition for amendment in accordance with the provisions of Revised Procedural Regulation No. 1,[6] issued by the Office of Price Administration.

SEC. 11. Prohibited practices—(a) General. Any practice which is a device to get the effect of a higher-than-ceiling price without actually raising the dollar-and-cents price is as much a violation of this regulation as an outright over-ceiling price. This applies to devices making use of commissions, services, transportation arrangements, premiums, special privileges, tying agreements, trade understandings, and the like. Sellers must maintain cash discounts and credit terms no less favorable to buyers than the cash discounts and credit terms they allowed on October 1, 1941, except that a discount larger than 2 percent is not regarded as a cash discount under this rule.

(b) Specific practices. The following are among the specific practices prohibited:

(1) Refusing to sell on a loading-out point basis and insisting on selling on a delivered basis.

(2) Quoting a gross price above the maximum price, even if accompanied by a discount the effect of which is to bring the net price below the maximum.

(3) Making the buyer take something he does not want in order to get what he does want.

(c) Purchasing commissions. It is unlawful for any person to charge, receive or pay a commission for the service of procuring, buying, selling, or locating Eastern wooden mine materials or industrial blocking.

SEC. 12. Enforcement. Persons violating any provision of this regulation are subject to the criminal penalties, civil enforcement actions, suits for treble damages and proceedings for revocation of licenses provided for by the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended.

SEC. 13. Licensing. The provisions of Licensing Order No. 1,[7] licensing all persons who make sales under price control, are applicable to all sellers subject to this regulation. A seller's license may be suspended for violations of the license of one or more applicable price schedules or regulations. A person whose license is suspended may not, during the period of suspension, make any sale for which his license has been suspended.

SEC. 14. Maximum prices for Eastern wooden mine materials and industrial blocking. The maximum prices, except for pit posts and round or split lagging, shown in this section, are f. o. b. cars at the railroad loading-out point which is the "normal loading-out point" as defined in section 2(b)(4).

PART 1426—WOOD PRESERVATION AND PRIMARY FOREST PRODUCTS

NORTHERN WHITE CEDAR POLES AND PILING

In the judgment of the Price Administrator, the maximum prices established by this regulation are and will be generally fair and equitable and will effectuate the purposes of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, and Executive Orders 9250 and 9328. So far as practicable, the Price Administrator has advised and consulted with representative members of the industry which will be affected by this regulation.

Such specifications and standards as are used in this regulation were, prior to such use, in general use in the industry affected.

A statement of the considerations involved in the issuance of this regulation, issued simultaneously herewith, has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.*

AUTHORITY: Secs. 1 to 14, inclusive, (§ 1426.-260) issued under 56 Stat. 23, 765; 57 Stat. 566; Pub. Law 383, 78th Cong.; E.O. 9250, 7 F.R. 7871; E.O. 9328, 8 F.R. 4681.

SECTION 1. Sales of Northern White Cedar poles and piling at higher than maximum prices prohibited. (a) On and after September 26, 1944, regardless of any contract or other obligation except as provided in paragraph (c) of this section, no person shall sell or deliver, and no person shall buy or receive in the course of trade or business, any Northern White Cedar poles and piling covered by this regulation at prices higher than the maximum prices fixed by this regulation, and no person shall agree, offer, or attempt to do any of these things.

(b) Prices lower than the maximum prices, may, of course, be charged and paid.

(c) In any case where a maximum price having once been established in this regulation is reduced by subsequent amendment, sellers who have entered into firm contracts on the basis of earlier ceilings may apply for special permission to complete shipment under such firm contracts without regard to the new ceiling under the following rules and conditions:

(1) The permission, if granted, will allow completion of the contract within 60 days from the effective date of the action setting up the new ceilings.

(2) The existence of a "firm contract" must be shown by the sellers submitting a copy of formal contract or copies of written order and acceptance covering specific items, quantities, and prices.

(3) The application must show that the items covered by the contract were actually being produced and had not been shipped on the effective date of the amendment which changes the maximum price.

(4) The seller must state in his application—and the permission, if granted, will be so limited—that all prices shown in the contract will be adhered to, even though the maximum price on some items included therein may have been increased by the amendment.

(5) Applications must be sent to the Lumber Branch, Office of Price Administration, at Washington, D. C. The Lumber Branch may grant or deny such applications by letter or telegram.

Note that the seller must apply for the special permission covered in this paragraph, and he may not go ahead on the basis of the contract prices unless and until he has received the authorization to do so.

SEC. 2. Coverage of the regulation. (a) This regulation covers all sales and purchases of Northern White Cedar (thuja occidentalis) poles and piling produced in that part of the United States east of a line approximating the one hundredth meridian except North Dakota and South Dakota. The principal production zone is defined in Section 14, Table 1.

(b) Definitions. (1) "Pole" means any round peeled or unpeeled section of a tree, longer than 14 feet, suitable for use to support transmission or communication lines at varying heights above the ground.

(2) "Piling" means the same as "pole" except that it must be suited for driving in the ground to form foundation for construction such as wharves, bulkheads, buildings, and the like.

(3) "Loading-out point" means the point or siding on a railroad where the poles or piling are or normally would be loaded for shipment by rail.

SEC. 3. Basic maximum prices. The maximum prices for Northern White Cedar poles and piling are set out in section 14.

SEC. 4. Transportation addition. Transportation from the point of production to the railroad loading-out point must, in every instance, be provided on the seller's account. Rail charges paid by the seller for transportation beyond the loading-out point may, in every case, be added. If the seller finds that by making transportation additions it is more profitable to sell at a loading-out point other than the one nearest to his point of production he has wrongly applied this section. All additions for transportation must be shown separately on the invoice.

(a) Common or contract carrier. When estimated weights are used, the appropriate published rate times the estimated weight is the proper transportation charge, even though the estimated weights may be higher than actual. Estimated weights must be taken for the exact type of product actually ordered.

(b) Private truck. (1) When shipment is by truck owned or controlled by the seller, the maximum permissible addition (on hauls involving any point outside metropolitan areas) shall be computed as 5 cents per 100 pounds for hauls not over 10 miles; 7 cents per 100 pounds for more than 10 but not over 20 miles; 9 cents per 100 pounds for more than 20 but not over 30 miles; and on hauls of more than 30 miles, for each mile over 30 two-tenths of a cent per 100 pounds to be added to the 30 mile charge. No addition is allowed for the return trip. If the order is for less than a truck load a minimum charge for 10,000 pounds may be made.

(2) A "metropolitan area" includes all territory within 10 miles of the city limits of any city having a population of 250,000 or more according to the census of 1940. On shipments by private truck entirely within a metropolitan area, the amount added for transportation may not be more than the published motor common carrier rate for such hauls times the estimated weights. If there is no published rate, then the actual cost of trucking may be added, that is, the seller's out-of-pocket expense in making delivery.

(c) Basing point. In the case of Northern White Cedar poles or piling produced in Michigan, Minnesota, Wisconsin or imported from Canada and entering the United States at points in the above named states, the transportation addition may be computed as the estimated weights shown in the table in Section 14 times the rail freight rate from Gemmel, Minnesota.

SEC. 5. Treated products. (a) The maximum prices for Northern White Cedar poles and piling preservatively treated by pressure process are established by Maximum Price Regulation No. 491.[1]

(b) The maximum price for Northern White Cedar poles and piling preservatively treated by non-pressure methods (except as otherwise provided herein in Table 2) shall be the maximum price established by the General Maximum Price Regulation [2] for each seller plus or minus an amount to cover any increased or decreased untreated cost resulting from the maximum prices established by this regulation. This amount shall be determined by each seller in the following manner:

Determine the difference between the highest untreated price f. o. b. loading-out point, paid in March 1942 by this seller of treated products and the maximum price established in this regulation for the same class and grade of untreated product. If the buying price is increased by this regulation, add the difference to the seller's established price under the General Maximum Price Regulation for the treated product. If the buying price is decreased by this regulation, subtract the difference from the seller's established price under the General Maximum Price Regulation for the treated product. (If the seller of a treated product did not buy in March 1942, he should use his buying price in the first month prior to March 1942 in which he purchased the untreated product.)

SEC. 6. Special pricing. If a seller wishes to sell a specification of Northern White Cedar poles not specifically priced in this regulation or wishes to make charges for extras not specifically provided for, he shall apply to the Lumber Branch, Office of Price Administration, Washington 25, D. C., for approval of a maximum price. He must provide the following information.

(a) The requested price.

(b) A complete description of the item for which a price approval is desired.

(1) If a specification other than ASA is to be priced, he shall furnish a copy of the specification.

(2) If any other extra is to be priced he shall furnish a description of the extra for which an addition is requested.

(c) The price differential between the item to be priced and the most comparable item priced in the regulation, which existed in October 1941 or the first month preceding October 1941 in which both items were sold. The differential should be developed from the seller's own records, or if that is not possible, from the experience of other buyers and sellers.

(d) If no price differential existed, a detailed analysis of comparative costs of supplying the two items shall be furnished.

As soon as the request has been filed, quotations and deliveries may be made at the requested price, but final payment may not be made until the price has been approved by the Office of Price Administration. Such approvals may be made by letter or telegram.

SEC. 7. Adjustable pricing. Any person may agree to sell at a price which can be increased up to the maximum price in effect at the time of shipment; but no person may, unless authorized by the Office of Price Administration deliver or agree to deliver at prices to be adjusted upward in accordance with action taken by the Office of Price Administration after shipment. Such authorization may be given when a request for a change in the applicable maximum price is necessary to promote distribution or production and it will not interfere with the purposes of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended. The authorization may be given by the Administrator or by any official of the Office of Price Administration having authority to act upon the pending request for a change in price or to give the authorization.

The authorization will be given by order, except that it may be given by letter or telegram when the contemplated revision will be the granting of an individual application for adjustment.

SEC. 8. Exports and imports. (a) The maximum price for export sales of Northern White Cedar poles and piling is governed by the Second Revised Maximum Export Price Regulation.[3]

(b) For Northern White Cedar poles and piling produced in Canada and imported at points in "Eastern" territory in the United States, the basic maximum prices is the price f. o. b. loading-out point (or basing-point) established in this regulation for the area in which the port of entry is located. For purposes of figuring transportation additions, such port of entry (or basing-point) shall be regarded as the "loading-out point."

SEC. 9. Records. All sellers of Northern White Cedar poles and piling products must keep records which will show a complete description of the item sold, the name and address of the buyer, the date of the sale, and the price. Buyers must keep similar records, including the name and address of the seller. These records must be kept for any month in which the seller or buyer sold or bought $500.00 worth of Northern White Cedar poles and piling. These records must be kept for inspection by the Office of Price Administration for the duration of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942 or for two years, whichever is the shorter.

SEC. 10. Applications for adjustment and petitions for amendment.—(a) Government contracts. See Procedural Regulations No. 6 [4] for adjustment provisions on certain government contracts or sub-contracts.

(b) Petitions for amendment. Any person seeking an amendment of any provision of this regulation may file a petition for amendment in accordance with the provisions of Revised Procedural Regulation No. 1,[5] issued by the Office of Price Administration.

SEC. 11. Prohibited practices—(a) General. Any practice which is a device to get the effect of a higher-than-ceiling price without actually raising the dollar-and-cents price is as much a violation of this regulation as an outright over-ceiling price. This applies to devices making use of commissions, services, transportation arrangements, premiums, special privileges, tying agreements, trade understandings, and the like. Sellers must maintain cash discounts and credit terms no less favorable to buyers than the cash discounts and credit terms they allowed on October 1, 1941, except that a discount longer than 2 percent is not regarded as a cash discount under this rule.

(b) Specific practices. The following are among the specific practices prohibited.

(1) Refusing to sell on a loading-out point basis and insisting on selling on a delivered basis.

(2) Quoting a gross price above the maximum price, even if accompanied by a discount the effect of which is to bring the net price below the maximum.

(3) Making the buyer take something he does not want in order to get what he does want.

(4) Paying a commission for the service of procuring, buying, selling, or locating Northern White Cedar poles and piling or for any related service if the commission plus the purchase price results in a total payment by the buyer which is higher than the maximum price of the products.

SEC. 12. Enforcement. Persons violating any provision of this regulation are subject to the criminal penalties, civil enforcement actions, suits for treble damages, and proceedings for revocation of licenses provided for by the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended.

SEC. 13. Licensing. The provisions of Licensing Order No. 1,[6] licensing all persons who make sales under price control, are applicable to all sellers subject to this regulation. A seller's license may be suspended for violations of the license or of one or more applicable price schedules or regulations. A person whose license is suspended may not, during the period of suspension, make any sale for which his license has been suspended.

SEC. 14. Maximum prices for poles and piling.

On all sales of White Cedar Poles produced in any area other than that described in the heading of this table, the maximum prices in this table may be increased 15%.

Notes Applying to Table 1:

1. Piling. The maximum price for White Cedar piling shall be the price for the closest equivalent A. S. A. size pole in the same length.

2. Cut back allowance. When requirements of the buyer exceed the available supply of the seller, for one or more classes or lengths of poles for delivery required, the seller may cut back the most similar Class pole in the five foot longer length and may charge the maximum price for the class and length pole actually used. The additions for transportation, treatment, processing, etc., on such cut-back poles, shall be those additions applicable to the class and length pole ordered by the buyer, plus an addition for inbound freight computed at the difference in estimated weights times the freight rate to the concentration yards. No addition may be made for the labor in such cutting back operations. The seller shall keep a record of such sales and show this charge as a separate item on the invoice.

3. Inspection service. On shipments where the buyer requests special inspection service, furnished by an independent inspection agency, an addition may be made to cover the actual cost of such service. This charge shall be shown separately on the invoice.

4. Less than carload sales. On sales by established concentration, distribution or treating plant yards of less than carload minimum weight as established by railroad tariffs and when the invoice value at the maximum prices for the untreated poles or other round material does not exceed $250.00, the seller may add a service charge of not more than 25 percent of the total invoice value of the treated or untreated material not including transportation, but including the treating and processing additions in Table 2. The transportation addition on "less than carload" sales must not exceed that permitted in section 4 for transportation from the point of origin to the concentration, distribution or treating plant yard from which the sale is made. This service charge may be made only on sales f. o. b. seller's yard, with transportation out-bound for the buyer's account.

5. Branding and marking. If required by the buyer, the manufacturer's brand showing the year mark, class and length of pole must be branded on the face of treated poles including butt treated at no extra charge. For any additional branding or marking on treated poles including butt treated, and for all branding on untreated poles, an addition of not more than 7½¢ may be made for each additional branding or marking operation required by the buyer and performed with one iron.

6. Untreated poles from treating plants. On shipments from treating plant yards of untreated poles the seller may add a charge of not more than 7½¢ per cwt. times the estimated weight for that length and size in the appropriate table.

7. Storage. When the buyer requires storage of treated poles for a minimum of 30 days until released for shipment as required, the seller may add a yarding charge of not more than 5 cents per cwt. times the estimated weight for the same class and length in the appropriate table.

8. Specifications not priced. For any specifications of pole not priced in this table a maximum price addition may be determined in accordance with section 6.

Chapter I—Interstate Commerce Commission

REDUCTION OF FREE TIME ON LESS-THAN-CARLOAD FREIGHT AT MEXICAN BORDER POINTS

At a session of the Interstate Commerce Commission, Division 3, held at its office in Washington, D. C., on the 18th day of September, A. D. 1944.

It appearing, that the detention of less-than-carload freight in railroad cars and freight houses, due to customs clearance and other reasons, originating at points in, or moving through the United States has resulted in serious congestion at Mexican border crossings in Arizona and Texas; in the opinion of the Commission an emergency exists requiring immediate action to prevent further congestion of less-than-carload traffic, it is ordered, that:

(a) Free time on less-than-carload freight at Mexican border points reduced. The operation of Rule 14 of Texas Lines' Tariff No. 25-K, Agent Ira D. Dodge I.C.C. No. 569, Item No. 700 of Association of American Railroads' Tariff No. 4-X, Agent B. T. Jones' I.C.C. No. 3815 and all other tariffs are hereby suspended insofar as they authorize or provide free time in excess of three days (72 hours) at Nogales, Arizona, Brownsville, Eagle Pass, El Paso, Presidio or Laredo, Texas, for shipment of less-than-carload freight consigned or reconsigned for export.

(b) Application. This order shall apply on the less-than-carload freight described herein at or arriving at Nogales, Arizona, Brownsville, Eagle Pass, El Paso, Presidio or Laredo, Texas, on or after the effective date hereof.

(c) Announcement of suspension. Each railroad, or its agent, shall publish, file, and post a supplement to each of its tariffs affected hereby, announcing the suspension of any provisions in conflict with this order and establishing the provisions herein required. (40 Stat. 101, sec. 402, 41 Stat. 476, sec. 4, 54 Stat. 899; 49 U.S.C. 1 (10)-(17))

It is further ordered, That this order shall become effective at 12:01 a. m., October 1, 1944; that a copy of this order and direction shall be served upon the Association of American Railroads, Car Service Division, as agent of the railroads subscribing to the car service and per diem agreement under the terms of that agreement; and that notice of this order shall be given to the general public by depositing a copy in the office of the Secretary of the Commission at Washington, D. FEDERAL COMMUNICATIONS COMMISSION.

[Docket No. 6651]

ALLOCATION OF FREQUENCIES TO NON-GOVERNMENTAL SERVICES

NOTICE OF HEARING

In the matter of allocation of frequencies to the various classes of non-governmental services in the radio spectrum from 10 kilocycles to 30,000,000 kilocycles.

Notice is hereby given of the order in which the Commission will receive evidence concerning the various services. Because of the difficulty of securing hotel and railroad reservations the Commission is endeavoring to estimate when each of the particular services will be reached. It should be emphasized, however, that it is impossible to fortell accurately in advance just when one phase of the hearing will end and another begin and all dates used are at best only approximate. However, every effort will be made to adhere to the schedule as closely as possible.

The hearings will open on September 28 at 10:30 a. m. at the Interdepartmental Auditorium. For the first three days of the hearing, September 28, 29 and 30, general information and data will be presented. The hearing will open with testimony by members of the Commission's staff concerning material which has been assembled concerning the effects of bursts, sporadic E transmission, and other propagation data about the very high frequency band. This will be followed by a statement of Dr. W. R. G. Baker, Chairman of the Radio Technical Planning Board. When Dr. Baker has completed his statement, chairman of Panels 4 through 9 and 11 through 13 of the Radio Technical Planning Board will present brief statements concerning the recommendations of their panels. Then the chairmen of Panel 1 and Panel 2 will submit their panels' reports.

The Commission will then proceed to consider the various services in the order listed below. In considering each service, the Commission will first hear testimony from the RTPB witnesses for the service in question and will then receive evidence from all other interested persons. For convenience in estimating the time to be consumed by the various services they have been divided into four groups and the time expected to be consumed by each group is set forth in the table below. (The topic number in the following table refers to the numerical designation of the services as set forth in public notice of August 17, 1944 (9 F.R. 10271)).

ORDER OF SERVICES

	GROUP I
8	Fixed Public Service (other than Alaska).	October 2, 4, 5, 6, 7.

4	Television
5	Facsimile Broadcast
7	Other broadcast services
	GROUP III

Topic No.	Services	Estimated Date
13	Industrial, Scientific and Medical Services.	October 25, 26, 27, 28, 30.
17	New Radio Services

Upon the completion of all this testimony, the Commission will again receive evidence from the chairmen of Panels 1 and 2 of the RTPB concerning the recommendation they have to make for over-all allocation in light of the evidence adduced at the hearing. The Commission at that time will also receive evidence from any other person or group that has recommendations to make concerning over-all allocation. It is estimated that this phase of the hearing will commence November 1.

Many questions have been raised concerning the September 20 date specified in the Commission's order for the filing of exhibits. These letters indicate that in many instances it is impossible to comply with the September 20 deadline. Because of these difficulties, the Commission will receive exhibits which have not been filed by September 20. However, it is requested that five copies of these exhibits be submitted to the Commission as soon as possible. This request applies to all exhibits which it is contemplated will be used at the hearing.

By the Commission.

WILLMARK SERVICE SYSTEM, INC. AND DALE SYSTEM, INC.

AUTHORIZATION TO OBTAIN RATION BOOKS FOR EMPLOYEES

Administrative Exception Order No. 1 under Revised Ration Order 13, Administrative Exception Order No. 3 under Revised Ration Order 16, Administrative Exception Order No. 1 under General Ration Order 12, Administrative Exception Order No. 5 under Ration Order 17, and Administrative Exception Order No. 1 under General Ration Order 14 are revised and amended to read as follows:

The Willmark Service System, Inc., and Dale System, Incorporated, are business enterprises engaged in rendering services to clients, consisting principally of owners of retail stores, to test the efficiency and honesty of the client's salesclerks. The method used involves the making of a complete purchase of an article and observing the actions of the salesclerk in the course of the transaction. The article purchased is later returned to the owner of the store for refund, at the same or another establishment of the client, in a way to prevent revealing to the client's employees the identity of the individual making the test. These corporations, through their employees, normally make a substantial number of test purchases of shoes, processed foods and foods covered by Revised Ration Order 16 each year. They request authority to secure ration currency to enable them to continue to make test purchases of such foods and shoes in the course of their business.

The granting of the requests in these and all similar cases would not defeat or impair the effectiveness or the policy of these ration orders because it would not increase the quantity of foods and shoes withdrawn from civilian supply.

It is hereby ordered, That the applicants, Willmark Service System, Inc., of 250 West 57th Street, New York, N. Y., and Dale System, Incorporated, of 1776 Broadway, New York, N. Y., are authorized to receive from the Deputy Administrator in Charge of Rationing, Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C., War Ration Books Three and Four which their employees may use to make purchases of shoes, processed foods and foods covered by Revised Ration Order 16 in the manner permitted by Ration Order 17,[1] Revised Ration Order 13,[2] and Revised Ration Order 16,[3] respectively. The Deputy Administrator in Charge of Rationing shall determine the number of War Ration Books Three or Four to be issued to each applicant.

Each applicant must comply with the following requirements:

Foods. The applicant must open a processed foods ration bank account and a meat and fats ration bank account in accordance with the provisions of Revised General Ration Order 34.[4] As soon as practicable after making a purchase of foods covered by Revised Ration Orders 13 or 16 the applicant shall return the foods to the client from whom the rationed commodity was purchased. However, the applicant need not return foods which have spoiled. Upon the return of the foods, the client shall issue to the applicant a ration check drawn on its appropriate bank account, for the points represented by the stamps given for the foods. The applicant shall deposit in its processed foods ration bank account all such ration checks received upon the return of processed foods to the client, and shall deposit in its meat and fats ration bank account all such ration checks received from the return of foods covered by Revised Ration Order 16 to the client. The applicant shall not use the War Ration Book Four issued to it under this order to acquire processed foods or foods covered by Revised Ration Order 16 from anyone who does not have a ration bank account under the ration order covering the particular food acquired. Between the first and tenth days of each month, the applicant shall submit a report to the Deputy Administrator in Charge of Rationing, Office of Price Administration, Washington, 25, D. C. The report shall contain the following information with respect to the applicant's operations during the preceding month, stated separately for processed foods and separately for foods covered by Revised Ration Order 16:

(1) The number of points spent;

(2) The number of points received as refunds on foods returned;

(3) The point value of any foods on hand at the end of the month;

(4) The point value of any foods spoiled and no longer salable;

(5) The number of points represented by the tokens and validated stamps which the applicant has on hand at the end of the month;

(6) The balance in its ration bank account at the end of the month.

The applicant must attach to its report for each month a ration check (payable to the Office of Price Administration) drawn on the appropriate ration bank account, for the points received for all processed foods or meat and fats which it was required to return to its clients during that month. The applicants and each of their clients shall keep complete records of the transactions entered into under these orders and the records shall show separately with respect to processed foods and foods covered by Revised Ration Order 16, the points received, the foods purchased and returned, the ration checks issued, and the date of each transaction.

Shoes. Each applicant may use the currently valid war Ration Shoe Stamps contained in War Ration Books No. Three to make test purchases of shoes from clients. If the currently valid shoe stamps contained in War Ration Books No. Three are not sufficient to enable the applicant to make the desired number of test purchases, such applicant may apply to the Director of the Miscellaneous Products Rationing Division, Office of Price Administration, Washington 25, D. C., for a supply of special shoe stamps, which may be used as a revolving fund to make purchases of shoes from clients in the manner permitted by Ration Order 17. The amount of special shoe stamps to be issued to an applicant shall be determined by the Director of the Miscellaneous Products Rationing Division.

As soon as practical after making a purchase of shoes the applicant shall return them unused to the client from whom they were acquired and receive special shoe stamps or a ration check for the number of pairs returned. To facilitate the handling of ration checks received from its clients, the applicant is authorized to open a shoe ration bank account or accounts, in the manner permitted by Revised General Ration Order 3A, and to obtain further supplies of special shoe stamps from a local Board in exchange for a ration check drawn to the account of the Office of Price Administration. The number and location of the shoe ration bank accounts shall be determined by the Director of the Miscellaneous Products Rationing Division, Office of Price Administration, Washington 25, D. C.

Within 15 days after the date on which each new war ration shoe stamp becomes valid for shoes, the applicant shall submit a report to the Director of Miscellaneous Products Rationing Division, Office of Price Administration, Washington 25, D. C. The report shall cover the period including the first date on which the previous war ration shoe stamp became valid for shoes to the date on which the new war ration shoe stamp became valid for shoes. The report shall contain the following information:

(1) The number of war ration shoe stamps and the number of special shoe stamps received under this order;

(2) The amount of valid shoe ration currency on hand or on deposit and the number of pairs of ration shoes on hand;

(3) The amount of ration currency, if any, which has expired; and

(4) An estimate of the amount of shoe ration currency which will be required during the following six months.

All expired currency shall be surrendered with the report. Upon receiving the report, the Director of the Miscellaneous Products Rationing Division may require the surrender of any shoe ration currency above the needs of the applicant.

No stamps in War Ration Book Three or Four, other than those which have been or shall be made valid for the purchase of shoes, processed foods or foods covered by Revised Ration Order 16 shall be used by the applicant. Those stamps which may not be used by any person for the acquisition of any rationed product shall be retained in the War Ration Book Three or in War Ration Book Four, as the case may be, and must be returned to the Office of Price Administration on demand. Those which may be used by consumers to acquire a rationed product other than foods covered by Revised Ration Orders 13 and 16 or shoes covered by Ration Order 17 shall, if they have already been validated, or, if not, as soon as they are validated, be deposited in a ration bank account for that product which the applicant must open. Between the 1st and 10th days of each month, the applicant must issue and send to the Deputy Administrator in Charge of Rationing a ration check drawn against each such account for the stamps required to be deposited in such account during the preceding month.

It is hereby further ordered, That any other person similarly situated may be authorized on similar conditions to open ration bank accounts and to be issued War Ration Books Three or Four. Such authority may be granted in writing by the Deputy Administrator in Charge of Rationing, Office of Price Administration, Washington, 25, D. C.

This order shall become effective September 21, 1944.

MINIMUM WARTIME WORKWEEK

Designation of the Joliet-Kankakee, Illinois Labor Market Area as subject to Executive Order No. 9301.

By virtue of the authority vested in me as Regional Manpower Director of Region VI by § 903.2 of War Manpower Commission Regulation No. 3, "Minimum Wartime Weekweek of 48 Hours", and having found that such action will aid in alleviating labor shortages which are impeding the war effort, I hereby designate the Joliet-Kankakee Labor Market Area as subject to the provisions of Executive Order No. 9301.

1. For the purposes of this designation, the Joliet-Kankakee Labor Market Area shall include:

The counties of: Grundy, Kankakee and Will (except that portion of Steger that lies within Will County).

2. The effective date of this designation is October 15, 1944.

3. Not later than the effective date, each employer in the designated areas shall, in accordance with War Manpower Commission Regulation No. 3:

(a) Extend to a minimum wartime workweek of 48 hours, the workweek of any of his workers whose workweek can be so extended without involving the release of any worker;

(b) If extension of the workweek of any of his workers to a minimum wartime workweek of 48 hours would involve the release of any workers, submit to the Area Manpower Director the number and occupational classification of the workers whose release would be involved, together with proposed schedules for their release, and thereafter extend such workweek when and as directed in schedule authorized by the War Manpower Commission;

(c) File an application for a minimum wartime workweek of less than 48 hours for those workers engaged in employment in which the employer claims that a workweek of 48 hours would be impracticable in view of the nature of the operations, would not contribute to the reduction of labor requirements, or would conflict with any Federal, State or local law or regulation limiting hours of work.

"Minimum wartime workweek" as used in this order means a workweek of 48 hours, except in cases where a workweek of 48 hours (a) would be impracticable in view of the nature of the operations, (b) would not contribute to the reduction of labor requirements, or (c) would conflict with any Federal, State or local law or regulation limiting hours of work. In such cases, "minimum wartime workweek" means the greatest number of hours (less than 48) feasible in the light of the nature of the operations, the reduction of labor requirements or the applicable Federal, State and local law or regulation, as the case may be.

Date of issuance: September 2, 1944.

ASSIGNMENT OF CLAIMS AGAINST AGENTS

STATEMENT OF POLICY

Whereas the Administrator, War Shipping Administration, has determined that adequate provision exists for prompt payment under all contracts executed by agents of the War Shipping Administration in behalf of the Administrator, and that therefore it is unnecessary for contractors to make assignments of claims arising under such contracts; and

Whereas the Administrator has further determined that such assignments of claims against agents are likely to involve undue complications of a fiscal, accounting and legal nature;

Now, therefore, the Administrator, War Shipping Administration, has determined that it is inconsistent with the policies of the Administration to permit contractors to assign any claims arising under contracts executed in behalf of the Administrator by agents of the War Shipping Administration, including job orders under master forms of contract. All such contractors are put on notice that the Administrator will not acknowledge or approve any such assignments.

Washington, Saturday, September 23, 1944

Regulations

TITLE 6—AGRICULTURAL CREDIT

Chapter I—Farm Credit Administration

PART 11—NATIONAL FARM LOAN ASSOCIATIONS

CLASSIFICATION OF ASSOCIATIONS; RETIREMENT OF STOCK UPON REPAYMENT OF LOANS

Part 11 of Title 6, Code of Federal Regulations is hereby amended as follows:

Present §§ 11.392 to 11.395, inclusive, are revoked and new §§ 11.65, 11.392, and 11.393 are added to read as follows:

§ 11.65 Classification of associations. The banks shall review periodically the financial condition of each association, and each completed compartment formed under the provisions of section 25 (b) of the Farm Credit Act of 1937 (12 U.S.C. 724), to determine whether its capital stock is impaired or unimpaired. For this purpose, the stock of an association shall be considered impaired if the total of its liabilities (including estimated losses on contingent liabilities) and capital stock is in excess of its total assets and such excess may not reasonably be regarded, under all the circumstances, as negligible in amount or percentage, as apparent rather than real, or as temporary only.

§ 11.392 Disposition of stock proceeds where association stock is unimpaired. When a mortgage loan through an association with unimpaired stock is paid in full, the bank shall retire its stock outstanding in connection with such loan and shall pay its par value in cash to the association. Upon the retirement of the bank stock, the association shall retire its stock outstanding in connection with such loan and shall pay the full proceeds thereof, less the amount of any claim of the association which may properly be offset against such stock proceeds, to the owner of, or the holder of a valid assignment of the beneficial interest in, such stock. The bank may, however, pursuant to a general resolution adopted by its board of directors and approved by the Farm Credit Administration, retire its stock and, with the consent of the association, credit an amount equal to the par value thereof as a last payment on the retiring borrower's loan. Before crediting stock of an unimpaired association to the retiring borrower's loan, the bank shall have satisfactory evidence that the person paying off the loan either owns, or holds a valid assignment of the beneficial interest in, stock issued by the association in connection with such loan and the association does not have a valid claim which properly may be offset against the proceeds of such stock upon its retirement.

§ 11.393 Disposition of stock proceeds where association stock is impaired. When a mortgage loan through an association with impaired stock is paid in full, the bank shall retire its stock outstanding in connection with such loan, and, if the association is indebted to the bank, it may retain the full amount of the proceeds of such stock and apply it as a credit on such indebtedness or it may pay to the association from the proceeds of such retired stock an amount sufficient to permit the association to make settlements pursuant to conservatorship proceedings, under section 29 of the Federal Farm Loan Act as amended, in which case any balance of such proceeds shall be retained by the bank and applied as a credit on the indebtedness of the association to it. Upon the retirement of the bank stock the association shall retire its stock outstanding in connection with such loan, and, unless it has been through conservatorship as provided in said section 29, it shall not make any payments to its retired shareholders of record or their heirs or assigns until it has paid, or made adequate provision for paying, its indebtedness to its creditors and has sufficient funds available to make a distribution among its retired shareholders or their heirs or assigns on a pro rata basis. Except where settlement is made pursuant to conservatorship proceedings, an association with impaired stock shall issue to each retiring shareholder, or his heirs or assigns, a certificate which recites, in effect, that the holder of the certificate is entitled to share in the distribution of any assets of the association which is

GROSS PLUMBING & RUBBER CO.

Louis Gross, Samuel Gross, Philip Gross, Harold Gross, and Edward Barr are partners engaged in the business of being wholesale hardware supply dealers under the name of Gross Plumbing & Rubber Company at 808 North Third Street, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania. Between June 15 and December 15, 1943, they consumed rubber or synthetic rubber in the manufacture of 6,000 gross sink stoppers and consumed 1370 pounds of rubber or synthetic rubber in the manufacture of rubber mats, in violation of Rubber Order R-1. Between December 11, 1942, and November 2, 1943, they overextended and made unauthorized extension of preference ratings on orders calling for the delivery of numerous articles, in violation of Priorities Regulation 3. Between September 27 and December 4, 1943, they delivered 160 stoves and 65 water heaters on unrated orders in violation of General Limitation Order L-79. On October 12, 1943, they ordered 500 rolls of friction tape and 102 dozen pairs of rubber gloves and applied to the order the MRO preference rating AA-5 and the certificate of CMP Regulation 5; in fact, these articles were for resale and were not for their own maintenance, repair, or operating supplies, and the application of the rating was in violation of CMP Regulation 5, and the execution of the certificates constituted false representation to the War Production Board. From October 1, 1942, to April 1, 1944, they failed to keep proper records as required by Priorities Regulation 1.

Lewis Gross, Samuel Gross, Philip Gross, Harold Gross, and Edward Barr were aware of Rubber Order R-1, Priorities Regulation 3, General Limitation Order L-79, and CMP Regulation 5, and these violations were deliberate. These violations have diverted critical materials to uses not authorized by the War Production Board and have interfered with the controls established by the War Production Board over the distribution of scarce materials, and they have hampered and impeded the war effort of the United States of America. In view of the foregoing, it is hereby ordered that:

§ 1010.621 Suspension Order No. S-621. (a) Deliveries of material to Louis Gross, Samuel Gross, Philip Gross, Harold Gross, and Edward Barr, whether doing business as Gross Plumbing & Rubber Company or otherwise, their and its successors or assigns, shall not be accorded priority over deliveries under any other contract or order and no preference rating shall be assigned, applied or extended to such deliveries by means of preference rating certificates, preference rating orders, general preference orders or any other orders or regulations of the War Production Board, unless hereafter specifically authorized in writing by the War Production Board.

(b) No allocation, including allotments, shall be made to Louis Gross, Samuel Gross, Philip Gross, Harold Gross, and Edward Barr, whether doing business as Gross Plumbing & Rubber Company or otherwise, their and its successors or assigns, of any material or product the supply or distribution of which is governed by any order or regulation of the War Production Board, unless hereafter specifically authorized in writing by the War Production Board.

(c) Nothing contained in this order shall be deemed to relieve Louis Gross, Samuel Gross, Philip Gross, Harold Gross, and Edward Barr, whether doing business as Gross Plumbing & Rubber Company or otherwise, their and its successors or assigns, from any restriction, prohibition, or provision contained in any other order or regulation of the War Production Board, except insofar as the same may be inconsistent with the provisions hereof.

(d) This order shall take effect on September 21, 1944, and shall continue in effect until December 31, 1944.

Issued this 14th day of September 1944.

WAR PRODUCTION BOARD,
By J. JOSEPH WHELAN,
Recording Secretary.

PART 1010—SUSPENSION ORDERS

CLINTON LOCK CO.

Clinton Lock Company, 78 Third Avenue North, Clinton, Iowa, is an Iowa corporation engaged in the manufacture of door locks and builders' hardware. Its products are distributed through jobbers. During the fourth quarter of 1943 and the first quarter of 1944, the corporation applied the allotment symbols W-1 and W-2 to twenty-five purchase orders for controlled materials consisting of 154,457 pounds of carbon steel and 5,489 pounds of brass. During this period, the corporation did not have any allotment of controlled materials, nor was it authorized to apply these allotment symbols to such purchase orders. The unauthorized application of these allotment symbols and the obtaining of deliveries of the foregoing amounts of controlled materials were in violation of CMP Regulation 1. In addition, the corporation failed to keep and preserve accurate and complete records of inventories of materials and of details of transactions in those materials, in violation of Priorities Regulation 1. These actions constituted grossly negligent violations of the provisions of CMP Regulation 1 and Priorities Regulation 1. These violations have diverted critical materials to uses not authorized by the War Production Board, and have hampered and impeded the war effort of the United States. In view of the foregoing, it is hereby ordered, that:

§ 1010.623 Suspension order No. S-623. (a) During the fourth quarter of 1944, the Clinton Lock Company's allotments of carbon steel and copper base alloy shall be and are hereby reduced to 66⅔% of the amount of such carbon steel and copper base alloy allotted to it for such quarter.

(b) Clinton Lock Company shall cancel immediately all allotments of controlled materials which it has made to persons supplying it with Class A Products under the Controlled Materials Plan, except to the extent permitted by this order.

PART 921—ALUMINUM AND MAGNESIUM

ALUMINUM SCRAP

The fulfillment of requirements for the defense of the United States has created a shortage in the supply of aluminum scrap, for defense, for private account and for export; and the following order is deemed necessary and appropriate in the public interest and to promote the national defense:

§ 921.6 Supplementary Order M-1-d—(a) Definition. For the purposes of this order "aluminum scrap" means all materials or objects which are the waste or by-product of industrial fabrication, or which have been discarded on account of obsolescence, failure or other reason, the principal ingredient of which by either weight or volume is metallic aluminum; and shall include all types and grades of aluminum residues, such as drosses, skimmings, fines, grindings, sawings and buffings: Provided, That the recoverable metallic aluminum content, as determined by the fire assay or other method of comparable efficiency, constitutes 50% or more by weight of such residues.

(b) Special directions. The War Production Board may issue special directions with respect to the use, receipt, delivery and segregation of aluminum scrap.

(c) Records. Each person who participates in any transaction involving aluminum scrap shall keep and preserve for at least two years complete and accurate records as to all such transactions. These records shall be subject to inspection by the War Production Board.

(d) Reports. (1) Any person generating 10,000 pounds or more of scrap in a plant in any month shall file a report for that plant covering the month on Form WPB-817 with the Aluminum and Magnesium Division. The report shall be filed by the fifteenth day of the month following the month covered by the report. This provision does not apply to scrap generated in the course of producing aluminum in controlled material form.

(2) Any person who melts aluminum scrap into ingot and who delivers some or all of the ingot to other persons, shall file reports on Form WPB-554 monthly with the Aluminum and Magnesium Division by the fifteenth day of the month following the month covered by the report. This is the form filed by aluminum smelters and producers of ingot.

(3) Any person who uses 2000 pounds or more of aluminum scrap in any month for the production of any aluminum product in controlled material form[1] and who is not required to file Form WPB-554 under paragraph (d) (2), shall file with the Aluminum and Magnesium Division a report on Form WPB-2685 covering that month. This report shall be filed by the tenth day of the month following the month covered by the report. This is the form filed by aluminum foundries, powder mills, and wrought product mills.

(4) All persons regularly engaged in the business of buying and selling aluminum scrap (dealers) shall file Form WPB-202 with the Bureau of Mines, College Park, Maryland, by the tenth day of each month or such other reports as the War Production Board may require.

(e) Addressing of communications. All reports and other communications filed pursuant to this order or concerning the subject matter hereof, with the exception of the report on Form WPB-202, should be addressed to: War Production Board, Aluminum and Magnesium Division, Washington 25, D. C., Reference M-1-d.

(f) Violations. Any person who wilfully violates any provisions of this order, or who, in connection with this order, wilfully conceals a material fact or furnishes false information to any department or agency of the United States, is guilty of a crime, and, upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment. In addition, any such person may be prohibited from making or obtaining further deliveries of, or from processing or using, material under priority control and may be deprived of priorities assistance.

NOTE: The reporting provisions of this order have been approved by the Bureau of the Budget pursuant to the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

[Limitation Order L-341, Direction 1]

RECEIPT OF COMMERCIAL MOTORS IN THE FOURTH QUARTER OF 1944

The following direction is issued pursuant to Limitation Order L-341:

This direction applies only to persons who are required by Order L-341 to file applications on Form WPB-3825 for receipt of commercial motors in the fourth quarter of 1944. If you apply for and receive authorization and direction on Form WPB-3825 showing the quantities of commercial motors which you are permitted to receive during the fourth calendar quarter of 1944, the following rules apply:

1. Deliveries to you which you have shown as "Required" on your WPB-3825 application may be received during the fourth quarter of 1944, unless a different quantity is indicated in the column headed "Authorized", in which event you may not receive quantities in excess of those so indicated.

2. If the quantities authorized are greater than the quantities promised by your suppliers, you may notify the suppliers as to the quantities you have been authorized to receive (although this, of course, does not permit you to receive more than the aggregate quantities permitted by other orders or regulations, or preference ratings which you are otherwise permitted to apply or extend.) If the supplier or suppliers, listed on your WPB-3825 application, are unable to meet your requirements for the quantities authorized over and above those promised, you may secure such additional motors, if possible, from other suppliers.

3. If the quantities authorized are less than the quantities which you have ordered or been promised, you must reduce, postpone or cancel your orders to the extent necessary to bring your receipts during the quarter within the quantities authorized.

4. In some instances there may be two or more suppliers of a particular rating of motor, the authorized delivery of which is lower than the manufacturers' promises. In such cases it may be left to your choice to select those suppliers who shall be asked to reduce their deliveries to you, and as an indication that the choice is left to you, the several suppliers of a particular motor will be bracketed into one authorization in the "Authorization" column, or by other suitable means. Within ten days after receipt of authorization and direction on Form WPB-3825 you shall notify your supplier, or suppliers, to reduce their deliveries to you to the extent required by the authorization and direction and a copy of your notification(s) should be sent to the Fractional Horsepower Motor Section, General Industrial Equipment Division, War Production Board, Washington 25, D. C. The notification should mention not only your purchase order number, but also the motor horsepower and speed and the "B" product code number to which the reduced authorization applies.

5. In the event that you fail to receive delivery of the authorized quantities of the authorized quantities of specific ratings of motors during the quarter covered by the authorization, the deficiency may be received during a succeeding calendar quarter, in addition to that authorized on your subsequent application for the succeeding quarter or quarters, only if this is specifically authorized on the subsequent application, and should be explained under "Remarks."

Any questions concerning this direction should be directed to the Fractional Horsepower Motor Section, General Industrial Equipment Division, War Production Board, Washington 25, D. C.

(15) "Authorized controlled material order" means any delivery order for any controlled material as such (as distinct from a product containing controlled material) which is placed pursuant to an allotment as provided in paragraph (s) of this regulation or which is specifically designated to be such an order by any regulation or order of the War Production Board.

GENERAL ALLOTMENT PROCEDURE

(c) This paragraph explains the general allotment procedure.

Allotments by Requirements Committee to Claimant Agencies

(1) The Requirements Committee of the War Production Board will distribute the available supply of controlled materials by making allotments to the Claimant Agencies or Industry Divisions for each quarter, designating the amount of each form of controlled material available, during the quarter, to each Claimant Agency or Industry Division for allotment to its prime and secondary consumers.

Allotments by Claimant Agencies to Prime Consumers Producing Class A Products

(2) Each Claimant Agency will distribute the allotments received by it by making further allotments to the prime consumers who produce Class A products for it. Such allotments will designate the amount of each form of controlled material available to each such prime consumer, during the quarter, for use by it or allotment to the secondary consumers producing Class A products as parts or sub-assemblies for it. A prime consumer producing Class A products for several Claimant Agencies shall obtain separate allotments from each. A Claimant Agency, may, in particular cases, make allotments through an Industry Division.

Allotments by Industry Divisions to producers of Class B products

(3) Unless otherwise specifically directed, allotments to producers of Class B products will be made only by Industry Divisions, both in the case of Class B products which are end-products and in the case of Class B products which are incorporated in other products whether Class A or Class B. Allotments made by the Requirements Committee may be made available to the Industry Divisions for this purpose by the Claimant Agencies. Each Industry Division will make allotments to the prime consumers producing Class B products under its jurisdiction. In addition, allotments for products for which application may be made under Priorities Regulation 25, will be made by the Field Offices of the War Production Board. Such allotments will designate the amount of each form of controlled material available to each such prime consumer, during the quarter, for use by it or allotment to secondary consumers producing Class A products for it. A manufacturer of several Class B products coming under the jurisdiction of different Industry Divisions shall obtain separate allotments from each. A consumer producing Class B products is always a prime consumer with respect to such production.

Allotments by Prime and Secondary Consumers

(4) Each prime consumer receiving an allotment may use that portion of the allotment which he requires to obtain controlled materials as such for his authorized production schedule, and shall allot the remainder to his secondary consumers producing Class A products for him, to cover their requirements for controlled materials. Allotments by secondary consumers to secondary consumers supplying them may be made in the same fashion. A secondary consumer producing Class A products for several other consumers shall obtain separate allotments from each.

Advance Allotments

(5) Advance allotments by Claimant Agencies or Industry Divisions to prime consumers may be made within specified limits before receipt of allotments from the Requirements Committee in order to assure fulfillment of long term programs and schedules. Prime consumers receiving such advance allotments may, in turn, make allotments to their secondary consumers, and secondary consumers may make further allotments, in the same manner as in the case of ordinary allotments, but no consumer shall make any allotment in advance of receiving his own allotment.

Allotment Numbers

(6) (i) Allotments to prime consumers shall usually be identified by allotment numbers consisting of a Claimant Agency letter symbol and seven digits. This seven-digit allotment number is known as a: "Full CMP allotment number." The Claimant Agency symbol is indicated after the name of each Agency in paragraph (b) (4) of this regulation. The first four digits identify the authorized program of the Claimant Agency. The next three digits identify the authorized production schedule of the prime consumer. The numerical identification of months and quarters as previously required is abolished. Allotments must show the quarter for which the allotment is valid—for example, "3rd quarter 1943" instead of "19". This may be abbreviated as "3Q43" and should appear immediately following the allotment number. Orders for controlled materials must indicate the month delivery is required instead of a month number—for example, "July, 1943." The change from the numerical system shall take effect on July 1, 1943, but shall not apply to orders placed, or allotments made, before then.

(ii) Allotments to secondary consumers shall be identified by a CMP allotment symbol consisting only of a major program identification. The major program identification shall consist of the Claimant Agency letter symbol followed by the first digit only of the program number (omitting the last three digits of the program number and the entire schedule number). For example, in the case of an allotment to a prime consumer for the third quarter of 1943, designated W-2345-687, the allotment to a secondary consumer will be simply W-2-3Q43 denoting an allotment for major program number 2 of the War Department for delivery of controlled materials in the third quarter of 1943. The term "abbreviated allotment number" will no longer be used. Instead, the term "CMP allotment symbol" will include an abbreviated allotment number, as well as any other symbol (such as, "MRO") which is so designated by any War Production Board order or regulation.

BILLS OF MATERIALS AND APPLICATIONS FOR ALLOTMENTS

(d) This paragraph explains the use of bills of materials, applications for allotments and other information, in making allotments.

General

(1) The basis for an allotment to a consumer shall be his actual requirements for controlled materials in connection with the fulfillment of an authorized production schedule. The production schedule shall be authorized as provided in paragraph (n) of this regulation. Information as to requirements shall be in the form of a bill of materials, an application for allotment and/or other information as provided below in this paragraph (d).

Bills of Materials

(2) A bill of materials shows the amounts of controlled materials required by a consumer and his secondary consumers, irrespective of time of delivery and inventory, for production of one unit or a specified number of units of his product. Bills of materials shall be prepared in the manner specified in "General Instructions on Bills of Materials," on forms CMP-1, CMP-2 and CMP-3 or on such other forms as may be prescribed. No consumer shall be required to furnish a bill of materials on any form which is not officially prescribed (as indicated by a Bureau of Budget number), but in cases where another form is in use which gives the same information as the official form, the Claimant Agency, Industry Division or consumer to whom a bill of materials is to be furnished may accept it on such other form.

Application for Allotment

(3) An application for allotment shows the aggregate amount of each form of controlled material required (after taking inventories into account to the extent required by CMP Regulation No. 2) by a consumer and his secondary consumers during each quarter for his entire production of a specified product or class of products for the same customer, in the case of Class A products, or for all customers (unless otherwise directed) in the case of Class B products. Applications are to be made by manufacturers of Class A products on Form CMP-4A as issued by the appropriate Claimant Agency, and by manufacturers of Class B products on Form CMP-4B as issued by the War Production Board, Form WPB-4000 (for production under Priorities Regulation 25) or on such other forms as may be prescribed. Allotments are to be made on a quarterly basis and applications for allotments are also to be made on a quarterly basis, in lieu of a monthly basis as originally prescribed, except as may otherwise be required in any allotment or by the applicable application form.

Class B Components Not Included

(4) A bill of materials or application for allotment shall not include controlled materials required for manufacture of Class B products which will be incorporated in the product with respect to which the bill of material or application is submitted, although information as to the number or value of such Class B products is to be given in bills of materials to the extent required by the instructions.

MRO Excluded

(5) Requirements for maintenance, repair or operating supplies shall not be included in bills of materials or applications for allotment. Requirements for such purposes are to be obtained separately as provided in CMP Regulation No. 5, CMP Regulation No. 5 A and orders in the P and U series.

Where and When to File

(6) Bills of materials and applications for allotments shall be filed with the Claimant Agency, Industry Division or other consumer by whom the allotment is to be made, as indicated in paragraph (c) of this regulation. Bills of materials shall be filed only when and as called for by such Claimant Agency, Industry Division or other consumer. Manufacturers of Class A products shall file applications for allotments only when and as called for by the Claimant Agency or other consumer for whom they make their products. Manufacturers of Class B products who will require controlled materials from controlled materials producers (or whose secondary consumers will require the same) must file applications for allotments on Form CMP–4B by such date as may be designated or approved by the appropriate Industry Division (or in special cases by a Claimant Agency). Those manufacturers of Class B products who will obtain their requirements of controlled materials entirely from warehouses or retailers, and whose secondary consumers will do the same, need not file any applications for allotments. Procedures for obtaining controlled materials from warehouses or retailers, and limitations on the amount which may be obtained are provided in CMP Regulation No. 4. Manufacturers of Class A products who sell them for use as maintenance, repair or operating supplies, or deliver them to distributors, shall obtain allotments on Form CMP–4B as provided in paragraph (k–1) of this regulation.

Additional Information

(7) Each person making an allotment may require such other information in lieu of, or in addition to, a bill of materials or application for allotment as is required to enable him to make the allotment requested or to furnish any bill of materials, application for allotment or other information that may be required of him. If the consumer from whom such other information is requested is of the opinion that compliance with such request would be unreasonably burdensome he may appeal for relief as provided in paragraph (z) of this regulation.

Waiver

(8) Any consumer making an allotment may waive the furnishing of a bill of materials or application for allotment, or both, if he has other information as to actual requirements of his secondary consumers (taking into account the inventory restrictions of CMP Regulation No. 2) which is sufficiently accurate and detailed to enable him to make the allotment and to furnish any bill of materials, application for allotment or other information that may be required of him.

RESPONSIBILITY FOR STATEMENTS OF REQUIREMENTS

(e) (1) The furnishing of any bill of materials, application for allotment or other information as to requirements by a consumer, shall constitute a representation by him to the person to whom it is furnished, to the appropriate Claimant Agency and to the War Production Board, that the statements contained therein are complete and accurate, to the best of his knowledge and belief, not only with respect to such consumer's own requirements but also with respect to those of his secondary consumers.

(2) Any person who ascertains that he has substantially overstated (whether by inadvertence or otherwise) his requirements, or those of his secondary consumers, for any form of controlled material, shall immediately report such error to the person to whom the statement of requirements was furnished. If he has already received an allotment based on such overstatement, he shall immediately cancel or reduce the same (or an equivalent amount of other allotments received for the same authorized production schedule) to the extent of such excess, and report such cancellation or reduction to the person from whom the allotment was received; or if he is unable for any reason to make such cancellation, he shall immediately make a full report to the person from whom he received the allotment, and shall send a copy of such report to the appropriate Claimant Agency or Industry Division, if the allotment was received from another consumer.

(3) If any consumer receives any statement of requirements which he knows or has reason to believe to be substantially excessive (whether by inadvertence or otherwise), he shall withhold any allotment based thereon (either entirely or in an amount sufficient to correct the maximum excess) until satisfied that the statement is not excessive or that it has been appropriately modified. If unable to obtain sufficient information or an appropriate modification, he shall promptly report the matter to the appropriate Claimant Agency or Industry Division. Failure to withhold allotments or to make such report shall be deemed participation in the offense.

(4) If, after making any allotment, a consumer ascertains or has reason to believe that the allotment was substantially in excess of actual requirements, he shall either (i) correct the excess by cancelling or reducing the allotment or other allotments made by him to the same consumer, or (ii) report the matter promptly to the appropriate Claimant Agency or Industry Division. Failure to make such correction or report shall be deemed participation in the offense.

(5) An inadvertent overstatement of requirements shall be deemed substantially excessive for purposes of subparagraphs (2), (3), and (4) of this paragraph (e) if, but only if, it exceeds actual requirements by either (i) one-third or more of actual requirements or (ii) the minimum mill quantity specified in Schedule IV attached, whichever is less.

FORMS IN WHICH ALLOTMENTS MADE

(f) Each allotment, whether made by a Claimant Agency, an Industry Division or a prime or a secondary consumer, shall specify the form of the controlled material allotted. Allotments of steel shall be in terms of (1) carbon steel (including wrought iron) and (2) alloy steel, without further breakdown. Allotments of aluminum will be in terms of "aluminum", without any breakdown, instead of the breakdown formerly provided into nine forms and shapes. Allotments of copper shall be broken down as indicated in Schedule I. A consumer may make allotments only in the same forms of controlled materials in which he has received his allotment, except that a consumer may, if he desires, break allotments of aluminum down into the forms and shapes formerly provided. In such a case, however, the person receiving the allotment may ignore the breakdown and may treat it as though made in terms of "aluminum".

ALLOTMENTS BY CONSUMERS

(g) (1) No consumer shall make any allotment in an amount which exceeds the related allotment received by him, after deducting all other allotments made by him and all orders for controlled materials placed by him pursuant to his related allotment.

(2) No consumer shall make any allotment in excess of the amount required, to the best of his knowledge and belief, to fulfill the related authorized production schedule of the secondary consumer to whom the allotment is made (including the schedules of any secondary consumers supplying the latter).

(3) No consumer shall make any allotment for the production of Class B products and no person shall accept any allotment from a consumer for the production of Class B products, except as permitted by Direction 36 to CMP Regulation No. 1.

(4) No consumer who has received his allotment for an authorized production schedule shall place any delivery order (other than small orders placed pursuant to paragraph (l) of this regulation) for any Class A product required to fulfill said schedule, unless concurrently therewith, he makes an allotment to the person with whom the order is placed, in the amount required by such person to fill said order (taking such person's inventory into account to the extent required by CMP Regulation No. 2); however, if he purchases a Class A product which has been manufactured under the provisions of paragraph (k–1) of this regulation, he need make no allotment for such product.

(5) Paragraph (g) (4) does not apply in the case of any order for a Class A product required to fill an authorized production schedule identified by a CMP allotment symbol Z–1. However, in such a case, the manufacturer of the Class A product may reject the order, whether the order is rated or not, if an allotment is not made, or controlled materials furnished, in an amount required to fill the order (taking his inventory into account to the extent required by CMP Regulation 2).

METHODS OF ALLOTMENT

(h) (1) A consumer may make an allotment to his secondary consumer on such form (including Form CMP–5 set forth in Schedule II) as may be prescribed for the purpose. Allotments may be made by telegraphing the information required by the appropriate form and confirming the same with such form.

2. Every consumer shall place on each allotment made by him the CMP allotment symbol which is on the related allotment received by him, and shall indicate the quarter for which the allotment is valid, except that if the full allotment number described in subdivision (i) of paragraph (c) (6) of this regulation is on the allotment received by him, he need only place on related allotments made by him the CMP allotment symbol described in subdivision (ii) of paragraph (c) (6). If a consumer places a delivery order for which he has made an allotment by separate instrument, he shall place the appropriate number on said order, and shall indicate the quarter for which the allotment is valid.

METHOD OF CANCELLING OR REDUCING ALLOTMENTS

(i) A person who has made an allotment may cancel or reduce the same by notice in writing to the person to whom it was made. A person who has received an allotment may cancel or reduce the same by making an appropriate notation thereon and notifying the person from whom he received it. In either case, if an allotment received by a person is cancelled he must cancel all allotments which he has made, and all authorized controlled material orders which he has placed, on the basis of the allotment; and, if an allotment received by a person is reduced, he must cancel or reduce allotments which he has made, or authorized controlled material orders which he has placed, to the extent that the same exceed his allotment as reduced. If such cancellation or reduction is not practicable, he may make equivalent cancellations or reductions with respect to other allotments received by him for the same production schedule. Where such course of action is not practicable he may use or dispose of controlled materials or Class A products which he gets with an allotment in the way explained in paragraph (u) of this regulation. If at the time an authorized controlled material order is cancelled pursuant to this paragraph, the consumer would be entitled to receive the controlled material because of the provisions of paragraphs (c) (2) and (c) (4) of CMP Regulation No. 2, the allotment has been used and may not be returned, or used for another purpose, irrespective of whether the order is in fact cancelled or not.

ASSIGNMENT OF ALLOTMENTS

(j) (1) No consumer shall transfer or assign any allotment in any way unless:

(i) Delivery orders placed with him, in connection with which the allotment was made to him, have been transferred or assigned to another consumer;

(ii) The authorized production schedules of the respective consumers have been duly adjusted; and

(iii) The transfer or assignment is approved in writing by the person who made the allotment.

(2) Transfers or assignments of allotments may be made without complying with paragraph (j) (1) of this regulation in connection with the transfer or assignment of a business as a going concern where the transferee continues to operate substantially the same business in the same plant and where he uses substantially the same trade-mark or trade name. The transferee may use the allotment and ratings of the transferor but the transferee must notify the War Production Board Ref: CMP Division of the details of the transaction, giving the names of the persons involved and furnishing one extra copy of such notification for each authorized production schedule that he has received from the War Production Board.

GROUPING OF ALLOTMENTS AND SCHEDULES BY MAJOR PROGRAMS

(k) A consumer operating under several authorized production schedules may combine in a single allotment to a secondary consumer requirements for any number of different production schedules which are identified by the same CMP allotment symbol as provided in paragraph (c) (6) (ii), and he may authorize a single production schedule for the secondary consumer in connection with such allotment. If the secondary consumer has filed separate applications, and the consumer making the allotment acts on such applications separately, the secondary consumer may nevertheless treat such allotments and authorized production schedules bearing the same major program number as a single allotment and a single authorized production schedule.

CLASS A PRODUCTS TREATED AS CLASS B PRODUCTS

(k–1) (1) A distributor of Class A products who receives physical delivery thereof may, unless otherwise specifically ordered, buy and sell the same without making or receiving allotments. A manufacturer of Class A products selling them directly or indirectly to such distributors may obtain an allotment for such manufacture from the appropriate Industry Division pursuant to application on Form CMP–4B in the same manner as if they were Class B products. If physical delivery is made directly by the manufacturer to a distributor's customer, the latter (unless he is also a distributor) shall make an allotment directly to the manufacturer in the same manner and subject to the same conditions as if the distributor had no part in the transaction.

(2) A manufacturer of Class A products who sells them for use as maintenance, repair or operating supplies (except items directly purchased and programmed by a Claimant Agency) shall, unless otherwise specifically ordered, obtain allotments for such manufacture in the same manner as provided in subparagraph (1) of this paragraph (k–1) for delivery to distributors. Applications pursuant to said subparagraph (1) and this subparagraph (2) may be combined in a single application on Form CMP–4B.

(3) A manufacturer who also sells purchased Class A products to round out his line, which do not represent more than 10% of his total sales, shall be deemed the manufacturer of such products and not a distributor for purposes of this paragraph (k–1).

(4) A manufacturer of a Class A product for which application may be made under Priorities Regulation 25, may obtain his allotment pursuant to application under that Regulation to the Field Offices of the War Production Board.

(5) A Class A product for which allotments are made directly by the War Production Board under this paragraph (k–1) shall be treated in all respects as a Class B product for the purpose of this regulation.

SMALL ORDER PROCEDURE

(l) This paragraph explains how orders for Class A products requiring small quantities of controlled materials may be placed without making an allotment.

Definition of Small Order

(1) A "small order" for purposes of this regulation is a delivery order for a Class A product placed with a manufacturer where the amount of any controlled material required to fill the order does not exceed the following:

Carbon steel (including wrought iron) and alloy steel	10 tons.
Copper wire mill and brass mill products	1,000 lbs.
Copper and copper base alloy foundry products	300 lbs.
Aluminum	2,000 lbs.

The small order procedure may not be used to get from all suppliers more of the same Class A product for use in the same authorized production schedule during the same calendar quarter than can be made out of the quantities of controlled materials shown above. A person may place small orders for delivery in any one calendar quarter for any number of different Class A products, provided the quantities of controlled materials for each Class A product are within these limits.

(2) A Class A product is considered different from another Class A product if it differs from the other product by reason of one or more of its specifications such as width, thickness, temper, alloy, finish, and the like. A person must not, however, vary a minor specification just for the purpose of using the small order procedure. For example, if a person is purchasing several different kinds of springs, he may treat each different type or size of spring as a separate Class A product, and orders placed for each type or size which require controlled materials for their production within the quantity limits specified in paragraph (1) above constitute small orders, but he must not vary the specifications of the springs just to be able to place small orders.

Persons Entitled to Use the Small Order Procedure

(3) Only a prime consumer who has received an authorized production schedule from a Claimant Agency or the War Production Board, or a secondary consumer who has received an authorized production schedule from a prime consumer or from another secondary consumer, can use the small order procedure to get Class A products needed as production material to fill the authorized production schedule. A Claimant Agency may use the small order procedure to purchase Class A products for its own use.

How to Place Small Orders for Class A Products

(4) A person placing a small order does not have to make an allotment and therefore does not have to show any allotment number or quarterly designation on his order. He must endorse his order with the symbol SO, the preference rating assigned his production schedule, and either the certification set out in CMP Regulation No. 7 or the one set out in CMP Regulation No. 3. Since he does not make an allotment he does not have to account for controlled materials purchased to fill the order and does not need to make any deduction from his own allotment. A person, in filing an application for allotments, need make no adjustment for controlled materials needed to make Class A products which he may buy under the small order procedure.

(5) Where a person places orders for a particular Class A product under the small order procedure believing his total requirements for the product during the quarter will be within the small order limits and later discovers that, due to circumstances he could not reasonably have foreseen, his total requirements for the product during the quarter will not be within the small order limits, he may still use the small order procedure, but must charge his allotment account with the total quantity of controlled materials needed to fill all orders for the product to be delivered in the quarter. However, if he does not have enough controlled materials in his allotment account to cover all of his orders for the product, he must not use the small order procedure to buy the additional quantity, but may apply for an allotment to make up the difference.

How to Obtain Production Materials to Fill Small Orders

(6) A manufacturer of Class A products who receives small orders may get controlled materials needed to fill them by endorsing his purchase orders for controlled materials with the allotment symbol SO and the certification set out in paragraph (s) (3) of this regulation or the certification set out in CMP Regulation No. 7. An order so endorsed is an authorized controlled material order. The manufacturer does not have to show any quarterly designation, or preference rating on the order. He must show the date or month when he needs to have the controlled material delivered to him either for the production of the product ordered under the small order procedure or to replace in inventory controlled material so used. If a manufacturer uses controlled materials from inventory in filling small orders, he may place authorized controlled material orders, endorsed with the SO symbol, calling for delivery of controlled materials after the small orders were delivered to his customer. He may use the SO symbol and extend his customers' ratings to get Class A products needed to fill small orders. A manufacturer of Class A products may, in buying controlled materials or Class A products to be used in filling small orders for his product, combine the requirements to fill all small orders received by him. Where, in combining requirements for Class A products to fill small orders, the total amount of controlled materials required for their production is greater than the amounts shown in subparagraph (1) above, he should let his supplier know that this results from combining requirements, by endorsing on his order a statement substantially as follows:

The Class A products covered by this purchase order represent the combined requirements to fill SO orders received by me.

(7) Materials other than controlled materials, and Class B products required to fill small orders may be purchased subject to the same limits as apply to an authorized production schedule, that is they may only be ordered for delivery at the time and in the quantities necessary to meet the delivery dates specified on the small orders, subject to the inventory limits set forth in Priorities Regulation No. 1. The rating applied to deliveries of Class A products covered by a small order may be used to buy Class A products, Class B products and materials other than controlled materials, needed to fill the order. The symbol SO must be endorsed together with the rating on all orders for such production materials.

(8) If a customer placing a small order makes an allotment to cover it instead of using the symbol SO, the manufacturer who receives the order may treat the order as a small order just as though it had been endorsed with the symbol SO and no allotment had been made. He must not, however, use the allotment in such a case. In other words, a manufacturer of a Class A product receiving an allotment of controlled materials which is within the small order controlled material quantity limits has the option of either using the allotment and allotment number, or the small order procedure, but not both. A manufacturer who receives a small allotment which he chooses to treat as a small order, does not have to return the allotment or keep any record of its receipt.

Production Records

(9) A manufacturer of Class A products must keep records which will show the amount of controlled materials ordered by the use of the SO symbol, and his production records must be accurate enough to show that the quantity of Class A products produced to fill small orders is reasonably related to the amount of controlled materials bought by the use of the SO symbol.

Bill of Materials Not Required

(10) A manufacturer of a Class A product does not have to furnish his customer with a bill of materials, application for allotment, or equivalent information as to the amount of controlled materials needed to fill any particular small order. He must, however, if requested, tell his customer the number of units of the Class A product ordered which he can manufacture within the limits of the quantities of controlled materials set forth in subparagraph (1) above, or he must, at the option of his customer, inform the customer that the amount of each controlled material needed to fill the order is within the permitted small order limits.

RELATIONSHIP BETWEEN ALLOTMENTS AND PRODUCTION SCHEDULES

(m) Every allotment made by a consumer must include or be accompanied by authorization of a production schedule with respect to the products to be supplied to him, and no consumer shall authorize a production schedule for a secondary consumer unless he concurrently allots the controlled materials required to fulfill the schedule; provided, however, that this paragraph shall not apply to any delivery order bearing a symbol (such as a small order bearing the symbol SO) which may be placed without making an allotment as expressly permitted by any regulation or order of the War Production Board. Also it is not necessary to make an allotment when authorizing a production schedule identified by the CMP allotment symbol Z–1.

MANNER OF AUTHORIZING PRODUCTION SCHEDULES

(n) (1) A production schedule for each prime consumer producing a Class A product shall be authorized by the appropriate Claimant Agency on such form as may be prescribed. A Claimant Agency may, in particular cases, authorize a production schedule through an Industry Division.

(2) A production schedule for each secondary consumer producing a Class A product shall be authorized by the consumer for whom such Class A product is to be produced, on such form as may be prescribed; provided, however, that the delivery date specified on a delivery order shall constitute an authorization of the minimum production schedule required to permit delivery on such date.

(3) A production schedule for each consumer producing a Class B product shall be authorized by the appropriate Industry Division (or in special cases by a Claimant Agency) on such form as may be prescribed.

(4) A consumer receiving allotments from several persons shall obtain separate authorized production schedules from each.

(5) Prior to authorizing a production schedule, a Claimant Agency, Industry Division or consumer may furnish a tentative production schedule to be used as a basis in submitting requirements, but such action shall not constitute authorization of a schedule.

(6) A consumer ordering Class A products to fill an authorized production schedule identified by the CMP allotment symbol Z–1 must authorize a production schedule in the manner described in this paragraph (n) even though no allotment is made with the schedule. In such a case, the quarterly identification described in paragraph (c) (6) (i) need not be used. Such quarterly identification must, however, be used in any case where an allotment is made for such schedule.

AUTHORIZED PRODUCTION SCHEDULES MUST BE FILLED

(o) (1) Each consumer receiving an authorized production schedule shall fulfill the same unless prevented by circumstances beyond his control, except that a manufacturer of Class B products need not produce more than required to fill orders bearing preference ratings.

(2) No consumer who has received an authorized production schedule shall exceed such schedule in any month, except that (i) a deficiency in meeting an authorized production schedule during any month may be made up in any subsequent month or months, (ii) production authorized for any month may be completed at any time after the 15th of the preceding month and, (iii) where a delivery order calls for deliveries, on several dates, of Class A products in quantities which are less than the minimum practicable production quantity, and compliance with monthly production schedules would result in substantial interruption of production and consequent interference with production to fill other delivery orders, the consumer may produce (and his customer may order and receive) at one time the minimum practicable quantity which may be made without such interference. A person shall be deemed to exceed an authorized production schedule if his completion of finished products exceeds the limits authorized, or if his rate of fabricating, assembling, or otherwise processing, or acquiring raw materials or parts, exceeds the practicable working minimum required to meet the authorized production schedule.

(3) [Deleted October 4, 1943]

PROTECTION OF CLASS A PRODUCT SCHEDULES

(p) (1) No person shall accept an allotment for the manufacture of a Class A product, regardless of the accompanying preference rating, if he does not expect to be able to fulfill the related authorized production schedule, subject to unexpected contingencies and to any period of grace which may be specified by the person who offers the allotment and the authorized schedule.

(2) No person who has accepted an allotment and an authorized production schedule for a Class A product shall thereafter accept any delivery order (except an order rated AAA) for any Class A, Class B or other product manufactured by him, regardless of the accompanying preference rating or allotment number or symbol, unless he expects that, subject to unexpected contingencies, he can fill the order without interfering with the fulfillment of such previously accepted authorized production schedule.

(3) A person making Class B products to fill unrated or low rated orders must accept higher rated orders to the extent and subject to the exceptions provided in Priorities Regulation No. 1, unless he is also making a Class A product on an authorized production schedule, with which such higher rated orders would interfere contrary to the provisions of subparagraph (2) above.

(4) If a person whose allotment or delivery order is rejected pursuant to this paragraph (p) is unable to find another supplier who is in a position to accept it, he should report the facts to the appropriate Claimant Agency or Industry Division. The War Production Board (or the appropriate Claimant Agency, if only orders bearing its symbol are involved, or if all Claimant Agencies concerned have stipulated a single Claimant Agency for the purpose) may make exceptions to the provisions of this paragraph (p) where necessary to assure the filling of orders bearing high preference ratings.

(5) The provisions of Priorities Regulation No. 1 with respect to the acceptance and filling of rated orders and the sequence of deliveries shall remain applicable except as otherwise specifically provided in this regulation, CMP Regulation No. 3, or any other applicable regulation or order of the War Production Board.

RECONCILIATION OF CONFLICTING SCHEDULES

(q) In any case where, for any reason, a manufacturer of Class A or Class B products is unable to fulfill conflicting authorized production schedules which he has accepted from different persons, he shall immediately report to the appropriate Industry Division for directions, except that such report shall be made to a Claimant Agency if all conflicting schedules bear its symbol or if all Claimant Agencies whose schedules conflict have stipulated a single Claimant Agency for such purposes. (See Interpretation No. 15 to CMP Regulation No. 1.)

ALTERNATIVE PROCEDURE FOR SIMULTANEOUS ALLOTMENTS

(r) A prime or secondary consumer who has several secondary consumers in different degrees of remoteness and finds it impracticable to determine the exact allotments to be made to each of his immediate secondary consumers, for their needs and those of their secondary consumers, may, at his option, make simultaneous direct allotments to each secondary consumer, of all degrees of remoteness, by adopting the following procedure:

(1) The consumer who is to make the allotment (hereafter in this paragraph (r) called the originating consumer) shall maintain a complete list of all secondary consumers making Class A products for incorporation in his product. He shall keep this list current at all times by requiring each of his immediate secondary consumers to report promptly to him any change with respect to the source of each secondary consumer's Class A purchased products.

(2) Immediately upon receiving an allotment, the originating consumer shall notify each secondary consumer on the list (either directly or through intervening secondary consumers) of the authorized schedule for which the allotment has been made to him. Such notice shall not include an allotment number. It shall identify the product to be delivered by the secondary consumer to whom the notice is sent and state the quantity to be delivered and the time when delivery is required.

(3) Promptly upon receipt of such preliminary notice, each secondary consumer shall report to the originating consumer directly (not through intervening secondary consumers), the amount of each form of controlled material required by him each month in order to make the deliveries indicated. Each such secondary consumer shall include only his own requirements of controlled materials, not those of his secondary consumers. No form is prescribed for such statement.

(4) The originating consumer shall then determine the total requirements of all his secondary consumers under the schedule, checking the list to make certain that a preliminary statement of requirements has been received from each secondary consumer.

(5) If such summary shows that the aggregate requirements of the originating consumer and all his secondary consumers for each form of controlled material do not exceed the allotment made to him for the schedule he may then allot directly to each secondary consumer on the list the amount indicated in the preliminary statement of requirements. No form is prescribed for such allotment, and it may be made by telegram, but it must include the allotment number required by paragraph (c) (6) (ii) of this regulation and must show the quarter for which the allotment is valid, and a statement substantially as follows: "This allotment is made in accordance with the alternative procedure for simultaneous allotments provided in paragraph (r) of CMP Regulation No. 1." Such allotment shall constitute authorization of a production schedule for the secondary consumer in the amount specified in the notice sent to him pursuant to subparagraph (2) of this paragraph (r). If aggregate requirements do not exceed his allotment, the originating consumer shall be under no obligation to check the accuracy of the preliminary statements received from his secondary consumers before making allotments to them, but otherwise he and his secondary consumers shall remain subject to the provisions of paragraph (e) of this regulation regarding responsibility for statements of requirements.

(6) If the summary shows that the aggregate requirements of the originating consumer and all his secondary consumers exceed the allotment made to him with respect to any form of controlled material, the originating consumer shall not make any allotment or place any authorized controlled material order for the production schedule covered by his allotment until and unless:

(i) Requirements have been revised by himself or by one or more of his secondary consumers to the extent necessary to eliminate such excess, or

(ii) With the express permission of the appropriate Claimant Agency or Industry Division after he has reported the facts to it, he withholds an amount sufficient to cover all adjustments which must be made in the requirements of his secondary consumers in order to bring them within his allotment.

HOW TO PLACE ORDERS WITH CONTROLLED MATERIALS PRODUCERS

(s) (1) A delivery order placed with a controlled materials producer for controlled material shall be deemed an authorized controlled material order if, but only if, it complies with the provisions of this paragraph (s) or is specifically designated as an authorized controlled material order by any regulation or order of the War Production Board.

(2) A consumer who has received an allotment may place an authorized controlled material order with any controlled materials producer, unless otherwise specifically directed. An allotment to a prime consumer may include a direction to place delivery orders for controlled materials with one or more designated controlled materials producers. In such event the consumer shall use the allotment only to obtain controlled materials from the designated controlled materials producer or producers or to make allotments to secondary consumers, designating therein only producers named in the allotment received by him. Except as required by the allotment which he has received, no consumer shall impose any such restriction in any allotment made by him.

(3) Every authorized controlled material order must be identified by an endorsement including an allotment number or symbol. Unless another form of endorsement is specifically prescribed by an applicable order or regulation of the War Production Board, such endorsement shall be in substantially the following form (or in the form prescribed in CMP Regulation No. 7), signed manually or as provided in Priorities Regulation No. 7:

The undersigned certifies, subject to the criminal penalties of section 35 (A) of the U. S. Criminal Code, that he has received an allotment or allotments of controlled materials (or delivery orders not requiring allotments) authorizing him, pursuant to CMP Regulation No. 1, to place an authorized controlled material order in the amount herein indicated for delivery in the month specified, and that he is authorized to use the allotment number _____

The allotment number included in such endorsement shall be the CMP allotment symbol prescribed by paragraph (c) (6) (ii) of this regulation. Each such order must indicate a specific delivery month in the quarter for which the allotment is valid and need not show the month number as originally prescribed. For example, if a consumer receives an allotment bearing the number W-2-3Q43 and places an authorized controlled material order calling for delivery in August, 1943, the order shall bear the number W-2-3Q43. An authorized controlled material order placed under paragraph (l) of this regulation, relating to small orders, should be endorsed in the way described in paragraph (l) (6) of this regulation.

(4) A delivery order for controlled material must be in sufficient detail to permit entry on mill schedules and must be received by the controlled materials producer at such time in advance as is specified in Schedule III attached, or at such later time as the controlled materials producer may find it practicable to accept the same, provided that no controlled materials producer shall discriminate between customers in rejecting or accepting late orders.

(5) [Deleted October 4, 1943. Obsolete.]

(6) [Deleted Sept. 17, 1943.]

(7) No person shall place an authorized controlled material order unless the amount of controlled material ordered is within the related allotment received by him, after deducting all allotments made by him and all orders for the controlled material placed by him pursuant to the same allotment, or unless he is expressly authorized to place such an order by any applicable regulation or order of the War Production Board.

RESTRICTIONS ON PLACING AUTHORIZED CONTROLLED MATERIAL ORDERS

(s-1) In no event shall a consumer request delivery of any controlled material in a greater amount or on an earlier date than required to fill his authorized production schedule, or in an amount so large or on a date so early that receipt of such amount on the requested date would result in his having an inventory of controlled materials in excess of the limitations prescribed by CMP Regulation No. 2 or by any other applicable regulation or order of the War Production Board. No consumer shall, however, be required by the provisions of this paragraph (s-1) to reduce a delivery order below the minimum mill quantity specified in Schedule IV. This paragraph (s-1) does not change the restrictions of CMP Regulation No. 2 relating to the acceptance of delivery of controlled material.

CONTROLLED MATERIALS PRODUCERS

(t) This paragraph deals with the obligations of controlled materials producers under the Controlled Materials Plan.

Production Directives

(1) Each controlled materials producer shall comply with such production directives as may be issued from time to time by the War Production Board.

Acceptance and Rejection of Orders

(2) A controlled materials producer shall accept authorized controlled material orders in the order in which received by him except:

(i) He may reject orders for less than the minimum mill quantities specified in Schedule IV attached, but shall not discriminate between customers in rejecting or accepting such orders.

(ii) In any case where he is of the opinion that the filling of the order would substantially reduce his over-all production owing to the large or small size of the order, unusual specifications, or otherwise, he shall apply to the appropriate Controlled Materials Division. The War Production Board may direct that the order be placed with another supplier or take other appropriate action.

(iii) He shall refuse any order for shipment of any product in any month if such order, together with all his authorized controlled material orders already on hand for delivery during that month and any orders carried over from the preceding month, plus such amounts as he may be directed by the War Production Board to deliver or set aside for delivery to warehouses or nonintegrated mills or otherwise, total 110% of the production of such product specified in his production directive, or, if no production directive is currently in effect with respect to such product, total 105% of his expected production. As soon as such limits of 110% and 105% respectively have been reached, each controlled materials producer shall promptly notify the appropriate Controlled Materials Division in writing, unless he has received contrary instructions from the War Production Board. However, if he has accepted authorized controlled material orders identified by a CMP allotment symbol whose initial letter is Z, he must remove the "Z" order from his schedule if later authorized controlled material orders or orders specifically authorized by the War Production Board are received, to the extent required by Direction 54.

(iv) He shall reject orders to the extent required by specific direction of the War Production Board.

(3) A controlled materials producer must reject any new order for any controlled material unless he is permitted to fill it under this paragraph. A controlled materials producer shall not deliver any controlled material except to fill:

(i) An authorized controlled material order;

NOTE: Paragraph (t) (3) (i) relating to sample orders revoked April 11, 1944. Persons desiring controlled materials for testing and experimental purposes may obtain them under the provisions of Order P-43.

(iii) An order which he is authorized or required to fill by any written direction of the War Production Board.

(iv) An order for steel which a distributor would be authorized to fill under paragraph (d) (4) of CMP Regulation No. 4, when the order is filled only from mill stock and the producer customarily sells steel from his own stock.

If a controlled materials producer takes controlled materials which he has produced and processes them into a form other than a controlled materials form, such processing shall be considered a delivery for the purposes of this paragraph (t). In addition, if a controlled materials producer takes aluminum produced by him and processes it into certain other forms of controlled material as provided in Direction 8 under this regulation, delivery for such processing (or such processing if there is actually no delivery) shall also be considered a delivery for the purposes of this paragraph (t).

Time for Delivery—Postponed Deliveries

(4) A controlled materials producer shall make delivery on each authorized controlled material order as close to the requested delivery date as is practicable in view of the need for maximum production and compliance with production schedules. He may make delivery during the 15 days prior to the requested delivery month, but not before then, provided such delivery does not interfere with delivery on authorized controlled material orders calling for shipment in such preceding month, or earlier months and provided production to meet such delivery would not violate any production directive. Special rules regarding the postponement of delivery on authorized controlled material orders identified by a CMP allotment symbol whose initial letter is "Z" are explained in Direction 54. If a producer, after accepting an order within the limits of paragraph (t) (2) (iii) finds that, due to contingencies which he could not reasonably have foreseen, he is obliged to postpone the delivery date, he must promptly advise his customer of the approximate date when delivery can be scheduled, and keep his customer advised of any changes in that date. Delivery of any such carry-over order for steel or copper must be scheduled and made in preference to any order for similar material originally scheduled for a later month. The time of production and delivery of any such carry-over order for aluminum is covered in Direction No. 23 to this regulation. When the new date for delivery on a carry-over order falls within a later quarter than that indicated on the original order, the producer must make delivery on the basis of the original order even if that order shows that the allotment was valid for a quarter earlier than the one in which delivery is actually to be made. When directed by the War Production Board, a controlled materials producer must promptly notify the appropriate Controlled Materials Division of all carry-over orders on his books, giving allotment numbers, names of customers and material covered by the carry-over orders.

Tentative Acceptance of Authorized Controlled Material Orders

(5) If a producer is unable to accept an order for the month requested because of the restrictions of paragraph (t) (2) (iii), but has open space available in either of the two following months, the producer must accept and schedule the order for delivery as early as possible in either of the two following months and must promptly notify the customer of the proposed delivery date and tell him that the order has been accepted subject to written confirmation within seven days. If the customer does not have written confirmation of the new delivery date in the producer's hands within seven days after the date on which the notice of tentative acceptance was sent, the producer must cancel the order. If the new delivery date falls within a later quarter than that shown on the original authorized controlled material order the confirmation has no effect unless it is accompanied by the customer's certification that he has an allotment valid for the new quarter, in which case the customer must charge the order against that allotment. The confirmation and certification may be by letter or telegram. If made by letter, the letter must be signed by a person authorized to sign the form of certification required on authorized controlled material orders and if made by telegram a copy must be signed by such a person and held in the customer's file.

Directions by the War Production Board

(6) All directions to controlled materials producers affecting production and distribution of controlled materials shall be issued by the War Production Board.

Commercial Tolerances

(7) If the controlled material delivered pursuant to an authorized controlled material order varies from the exact amount specified in the authorized controlled material order, the making and acceptance of such delivery shall not be deemed a violation of this regulation or any other CMP Regulation by the controlled materials producer or his customer, provided such variation does not exceed the commercially recognized shipping tolerance, or allowance for excess or shortage.

Authorized Controlled Material Order Is Not an Allotment

(8) An authorized controlled material order shall not constitute an allotment of controlled material to the controlled materials producer with whom it is placed. If a controlled materials producer requires delivery of controlled materials from other controlled materials producers, to be processed by him and sold to his customers in another form or shape constituting a controlled material, such delivery may be made or accepted only pursuant to a specific direction as provided in subparagraph (3) (iii) of this paragraph (t) or pursuant to allotment as provided in CMP Regulation No. 8. Specific instructions will inform a controlled materials producer whether to apply for a direction by letter or for an allotment pursuant to CMP Regulation No. 8.

RESTRICTIONS ON USE OF ALLOTMENTS AND MATERIALS

(u) This paragraph explains the restrictions on the use of allotments and controlled materials or Class A products obtained with an allotment.

Use of Allotments

(1) A consumer must not use an allotment to buy any controlled materials or Class A products except (i) what he needs to fill the authorized production schedule for which the allotment was made or (ii) what he needs to fill any of his other authorized production schedules, within the same plant or operating unit, which bear the same Claimant Agency letter symbol, or (iii) to replace in inventory controlled materials or Class A products used to fill any of such authorized production schedules. The symbols W and O are considered the same Claimant Agency letter symbol for purposes of this paragraph. However, each of the other letter symbols are considered separate Claimant Agency letter symbols. In no case may a consumer use an allotment for any purpose which would interfere with filling the schedule for which the allotment was made. Where an allotment made for one schedule is used in filling another schedule in the same plant or operating unit and identified by the same Claimant Agency letter symbol, no charge need be made against the allotment account of the second schedule, but an appropriate record must be made, on the allotment accounts or otherwise, describing the circumstances.

Return of Allotments

(2) If a consumer's needs for a controlled material or Class A product are reduced before he has ordered or received delivery of them and he does not need to use his allotment for another one of his authorized production schedules bearing the same Claimant Agency letter symbol, or for inventory replacement, as permitted in subparagraph (1) above, he must immediately return the allotment as explained in paragraph (w). If he has already placed authorized controlled material orders or made allotments on the basis of his allotment at the time he learns of the reduction in his needs, he must cancel them. If it is too late to cancel the orders, he may receive delivery of the controlled materials and Class A products, in which case his use of them is covered by subparagraph (3) below.

Use of Materials and Products Obtained With Allotments

(3) If a consumer has received physical delivery of controlled materials or Class A products pursuant to an allotment, he may use them for the same purposes for which he is permitted to use the allotment as provided in subparagraph (1) above. Also, if it develops, after he has actually received delivery, or when it is too late to prevent delivery, that he does not need them for a purpose permitted under subparagraph (1) above he may (i) sell them under Priorities Regulation No. 13, relating to sales of idle or excess stocks, or under WPB Directive 16, relating to aircraft inventory transfers, or (ii) use them on any of his other authorized production schedules having an unused allotment big enough to cover the amount of materials involved. If he uses the materials on another authorized production schedule he must, unless the second schedule is filled in the same plant or operating unit and is identified by the same Claimant Agency letter symbol, charge the quantity transferred from the first schedule against the allotment account of the second schedule and an appropriate record must be made, on the allotment accounts or otherwise, describing the circumstances, or (iii) he may use them to fill an authorized production schedule identified by the CMP allotment symbol Z–1 without charge to his allotment account for such schedule.

Specific Instructions

(4) If, before using or selling controlled materials or Class A products in a way permitted by this paragraph (u), the consumer receives directions from the War Production Board as to disposition or use of the same, he must comply with such directions. Also, he must comply with any directions he receives from a Claimant Agency with respect to his use of controlled materials or Class A products which he got by use of an allotment from that Claimant Agency, in any program of the same Claimant Agency, or with respect to their sale to any other person for use in a program of the same Claimant Agency, subject always to whatever rights he may have to reimbursement.

Common Inventories

(5) A consumer need not segregate inventories of controlled materials or Class A products which he gets by use of his allotments, even though different allotment numbers are used in ordering them, nor does he have to earmark them for a particular schedule. Although a consumer must charge the appropriate allotment account when placing an authorized controlled material order or making an allotment, he may keep all controlled materials and Class A products received in a common inventory and in withdrawing from inventory he does not have to charge the withdrawal against the allotment account. A consumer who is operating under several authorized production schedules need not maintain separate records of the production obtained from the allotment received for each schedule if the records which he normally keeps show that his use of material for his respective schedules is substantially proportionate to the amounts of material allotted for each and that his aggregate production of any product does not exceed the aggregate of the production schedules authorized for that product.

ADJUSTMENTS FOR PURCHASES UNDER PRIORITIES REGULATION 13

(v) A consumer must charge his allotment account with the amount of materials acquired under Priorities Regulation 13 unless that regulation says he does not have to do so.

WHAT TO DO IF REQUIREMENTS CHANGE

(w) This paragraph explains what to do if requirements increase or decrease.

Supplementary Applications

(1) If a consumer's requirements for controlled materials or Class A products needed to fill a schedule are increased after he receives his allotment, he may apply for an additional allotment to the person who made the allotment for that schedule.

Periodic Check-up on Allotments and Return of Excess

(2) As explained in paragraph (e), if a consumer finds that he has been allotted substantially more than he needs, he must return the excess. As of the first of each month, each consumer must check up on his anticipated requirements for the quarter and determine whether he has been allotted substantially more than he anticipates he needs. If he has, he must return the excess by the tenth of the month. He need not take a physical inventory for this purpose, but must merely check up on the effect of known changes in his requirements or errors which he has discovered in his statement of requirements. As of the end of each quarter, he must determine whether he has used his entire allotment by placing authorized controlled material orders or making allotments to his secondary consumers and, if he has any excess, however small, he must return it by the tenth day after the close of the quarter.

To Whom Returns Made—Form CMP–32

(3) The return of an unneeded allotment must be made to the person from whom the allotment was received. The return of unused allotment balances to be made within ten days after the end of the quarter must be made to the Claimant Agency or Industry Division originating the allotment. Form CMP–32, available at all War Production Board offices, should be used for this purpose, but if it is impractical to get this form, the return may be made by letter. Attention is called to Direction No. 26 to CMP Regulation No. 1, which explains when allotments may be returned by a secondary consumer directly to a Claimant Agency or Industry Division rather than to the person making the allotment. The Direction also gives the addresses to which returns to Claimant Agencies or the War Production Board should be sent.

OTHER WAR PRODUCTION BOARD REGULATIONS AND ORDERS

(x) Nothing in this regulation (or any other CMP regulation) shall be construed to relieve any person from complying with any applicable priorities regulation or any order of the War Production Board (including orders in the "E", "L," "M" and "P" series). In case compliance by any person with the provisions of any such regulation or order would prevent fulfillment of an authorized production schedule, he should immediately report the matter to the appropriate Industry Division, and to the Claimant Agency whose schedule is affected. The War Production Board will thereupon take such action as is deemed appropriate, but unless and until otherwise expressly authorized or directed by the War Production Board, such person shall comply with the provisions of such regulation or order.

RECORDS AND REPORTS

(y) (1) Each consumer making or receiving any allotment of controlled materials shall maintain at his regular place of business accurate records of all allotments received, of procurement pursuant to all allotments, and of the subdivision of all allotments among his direct secondary consumers. Such records shall be kept separately by CMP allotment symbols, as provided in paragraph (c) (6) (ii) of this regulation, and shall include separate entries under each number for each customer, Claimant Agency or Industry Division from whom allotments are received under such number.

(2) Each controlled materials producer shall report to the appropriate Controlled Materials Division, on the forms and for the periods prescribed, such information on production, consumption and distribution of controlled materials as may be prescribed by the War Production Board.

(3) Each prime or secondary consumer and each controlled materials producer shall retain for two years at his regular place of business all documents on which he relies as entitling him to make or receive an allotment or to deliver or accept delivery of controlled materials or Class A products, segregated and available for inspection by representatives of the War Production Board, or Claimant Agencies, or filed in such manner that they can be readily segregated and made available for such inspection.

APPEALS AND APPLICATIONS FOR RELIEF

(z) (1) Any person who is subject to any requirement of any regulation, direction, order or other action under the Controlled Materials Plan, may appeal for relief by filing a letter in triplicate with the appropriate authority specified below in this paragraph (z), setting forth the pertinent facts and the reasons why such person considers that he is entitled to relief.

(2) Except as provided in subparagraphs (3) and (4) of this paragraph (z) or as otherwise specifically directed, an appeal by a producer of Class A products should be filed with the appropriate Claimant Agency, and an appeal by a producer of Class B products should be filed with the appropriate Industry Division, unless the matter affects only production schedules of a single Claimant Agency or where a single Claimant Agency has been stipulated for the purpose by all Claimant Agencies whose schedules are affected, in which case the appeal should be filed with such Claimant Agency.

(3) An appeal concerning the operations of a controlled materials producer (whether filed by such producer, by a consumer, or by a Claimant Agency) should be filed with the appropriate Controlled Materials Division.

(4) A producer of Class B products may apply for permission to be treated as a producer of Class A products. A producer of Class A products making a large variety of items which are sold to many customers and whose allotments originate from several Claimant Agencies, may make application to be treated as a producer of Class B products, but such permission will not be granted with reference to component parts or subassemblies, unless the necessary adjustments in bills of materials which include such component parts or sub-assemblies can be made without difficulty. Application for reclassification should be filed with the CMP Division, War Production Board, Washington, D. C., and may be filed either directly by the producer or by a Claimant Agency on his behalf.

(5) In case of any disagreement between any persons as to the interpretation of any provisions of this regulation or any other regulation, direction, or order under the Controlled Materials Plan, the matter should be referred to the CMP Division, War Production Board, Washington 25, D. C.

PENALTIES

(aa) Any person who willfully purports to make any allotment of controlled materials or to place authorized controlled material orders in excess of the amount allotted to him, or violates any other provision of this regulation, or any other regulation, direction or order under the Controlled Materials Plan, or who knowingly or willfully makes any false or fraudulent statement or representation with respect to requirements for controlled materials or in any other matter under the jurisdiction of any agency of the United States under the Controlled Materials Plan, is guilty of a crime and, upon conviction, may be punished by a fine up to $10,000 or by imprisonment or both. In addition, any such person may be prohibited from making or obtaining further deliveries or allotments of controlled material or from making or obtaining any further deliveries of or from processing or using, any material under priorities control, and may be deprived of priorities assistance.

Issued this 22d day of September 1944.

WAR PRODUCTION BOARD,

Recording Secretary.

SCHEDULE II—SHORT FORM OF ALLOTMENT

Allotment number	Controlled Material Products allotted

INSTRUCTIONS FOR USE OF SHORT FORM OF ALLOTMENT—FORM CMP–5

The above short form of allotment may be used by any consumer for the purpose of making an allotment to a secondary consumer producing Class A products for him. The short form of allotment must be either placed on or physically attached to the delivery order calling for delivery of the Class A products. If it is attached the delivery order number or other identification must be indicated on the form.

The form must be followed by the signature of an authorized official of the consumer making the allotment, but need not be separately signed if it is placed on the delivery order in such a position that the signature of the delivery order by such an authorized official clearly applies to the allotment as well as to the order itself.

The size of the form may be varied, but all information called for by the form must be supplied and the general arrangement and wording of the form must be followed.

Under the heading "Controlled Material Products Allotted" the person making the allotment must designate the forms which are allotted. These must be shown in the breakdown prescribed in Schedule I of CMP Regulation No. 1, and must be within the allotments received by such consumer for the same forms. Additional columns may be added depending on the number of forms of controlled material allotted. A sample form follows:

Allotment number	Controlled Material Products allotted
	Carbon steel	Copper base alloy seamless tube and pipe	Copper sheets and strip	Aluminum castings

All forms and shapes	45

Where no time is specified in Schedule III for placing orders for a particular form or shape of controlled material, the time for placing such orders shall be subject to agreement between the consumer and the controlled materials producer: Provided, That no producer shall discriminate between consumers in the acceptance of orders. In the event of any disagreement, the matter should be referred to the appropriate Controlled Materials Division.

INTERPRETATION 1—DISCRIMINATION

Questions have arisen as to what constitutes discrimination between customers within the meaning of paragraphs (a) (4) and (b) (2) (i) of CMP Regulation No. 1. These provisions prohibit producers of controlled materials from discriminating between customers in rejecting or accepting orders which are filed later than the prescribed time or which call for deliveries of less than the minimum mill quantities. These provisions mean that, in similar situations, different customers must receive similar treatment. A controlled materials producer who has rejected a late order or small order from one customer, is not prohibited from accepting such an order from another customer if the difference in treatment of the two orders is based in good faith on differences in the practicability of filling the orders in view of the nature of the material ordered, the condition of the production schedule at the time the orders are received, or similar factors. (Issued March 8, 1943.)

INTERPRETATION 2—PROHIBITION AGAINST DUPLICATING ORDERS

The question has been raised as to whether a consumer may place authorized controlled material orders or make allotments exceeding in the aggregate the total amount of his allotment if he intends to cancel the excess before delivery.

Under CMP Regulation No. 1 a consumer is prohibited from duplicating authorized controlled material orders or allotments even though he intends to cancel or reduce his delivery orders to the allotted amount prior to delivery. (Issued March 22, 1943.)

INTERPRETATION 3—CONTROLLED MATERIALS FOR USE IN METAL GUNS, WIRE STITCHERS, ETC.

A manufacturer of equipment who also sells controlled materials merely for use in the operation of such equipment may include such controlled materials in his application for allotment as manufacturer of the equipment, but such requirements must be separately indicated. For example, a manufacturer of a metal gun or a wire stitcher who sells rod or wire for use with his product (whether he makes such sales with the product or separately) may include his requirements for such rod or wire in his application for controlled materials needed to manufacture the gun or stitcher, but he should indicate separately on his application or in an attached note the amount of controlled material required for such purposes as distinct from the manufacture of the gun or stitcher. (Issued April 5, 1943.)

INTERPRETATION 4—"SAME CLASS A PRODUCT" AS USED IN PARAGRAPH (1) (2)

INTERPRETATION 5 AS AMENDED—CONVERSION OF ORDERS NOT RETROACTIVE

NOTE: Deleted Oct. 4, 1943. See Interpretation 22—Rejection of Orders.

INTERPRETATION 6 AS AMENDED—ALLOTMENTS NOT REQUIRED IN ORDERING CLASS A PRODUCTS IN CERTAIN CASES

NOTE: Deleted Feb. 2, 1944. Obsolete.

INTERPRETATION 7—CLASS A REPAIR PARTS

(a) A manufacturer of Class A products who sells them for use as maintenance, repair or operating supplies is required to obtain an allotment for their manufacture from the appropriate Industry Division pursuant to application on Form CMP-4B, except where they are directly purchased and programmed by a Claimant Agency—(paragraphs (d) (6) and (k-1) (2) of CMP Regulation No. 1). Such items, with the exception noted, are handled exactly as though they were Class B products. A manufacturer is therefore prohibited by paragraph (g) (3) of CMP Regulation No. 1 from accepting an allotment from his customer, and his customer is prohibited by the same paragraph from making an allotment, for their manufacture. A variation from this rule is indicated in paragraph (b) of this interpretation.

(b) In some cases manufacturers buy class A parts such as springs, screw machine parts and stampings, for incorporation in their products and also resell some of the parts as repair parts. In such cases, if it is impracticable for the manufacturer of the part to segregate those sold for resale as repair parts from those sold for production, he should secure an allotment from his customer covering his requirements for the manufacture of both. For example, a manufacturer of electric motors (a Class B product) purchases screw machine parts (a Class A product) from another manufacturer. He uses some of the screw machine parts for building motors and resells others as repair parts. He normally orders the screw machine parts without distinction as between those which he needs for production or for resale. The motor manufacturer should make an allotment to the manufacturer of the screw machine parts to cover all the parts purchased from him. (Issued May 20, 1943.)

INTERPRETATION 8

PERIOD DURING WHICH ALLOTMENT VALID (REVISED)

(a) An allotment of controlled materials under the Controlled Materials Plan is only valid for the quarter (or other specifically designated period) for which it is made as indicated in the allotment certificate. An allotment which is valid for one quarter cannot be used for placing authorized controlled material orders calling for delivery in any other quarter.

(b) A consumer in placing an order for a controlled material must specify the month in which delivery is requested and the requested delivery month must be within the quarter for which the allotment is valid. Controlled materials producers are required to make delivery as close to the requested delivery date as is practicable and are prohibited from accepting authorized controlled material orders in excess of a specified percentage of their production directive or expected production as provided in paragraph (t) (2) (iii) of CMP Regulation No. 1.

(c) If a controlled materials producer is unable to accept an authorized controlled material order for delivery during the delivery month specified, and delivery is required in that month, the consumer may appeal, either directly or through his Claimant Agency or Industry Division, to the appropriate Controlled Materials Division for relief.

(d) The rules governing postponed deliveries of steel or copper are set out in paragraph (t) (4) of the regulation and those governing postponed deliveries of aluminum are covered in Direction No. 23 to the regulation. Rules governing the tentative acceptance of authorized controlled material orders are set out in paragraph (t) (3) of the regulation. The rules on these subjects as stated in paragraphs (c), (e) and (f) of the interpretation before this revision are obsolete. [Issued Feb. 2, 1944.]

INTERPRETATION 9—ALLOTMENTS FOR MINIMUM PRODUCTION QUANTITIES

(a) Paragraph (c) (2) (iii) of CMP Regulation No. 1 permits a manufacturer to exceed his authorized production schedule "where a delivery order calls for delivery, in successive months, of Class A products in quantities which are less than the minimum practicable production quantity, and compliance with monthly production schedules would result in substantial interruption of production and consequent interference with production to fill other delivery orders." In such a case the manufacturer may "produce (and his customer may order) in the first month, the minimum practicable quantity which may be made without such interference."

(b) A manufacturer is entitled to apply for (and his customer is entitled to make) an allotment during a single quarter of the quantity of controlled materials required to produce a minimum practicable production quantity even though the customer's requirements for the finished product may run over several quarters.

In illustration of the above, a customer's requirements of screw machine parts for the third and fourth quarters of 1943 constitutes a minimum practicable production quantity. The manufacturer of the screw machine parts may apply for an allotment for the third quarter of 1943 of all of the controlled materials required to produce the parts. The customer should include the quantity in his application for an allotment and if an allotment is made to him, he should make a third quarter allotment to the screw machine manufacturer for the entire quantity, and should charge the total quantity so allotted to his third quarter allotment account. (Issued June 11, 1943.)

INTERPRETATION 10—CHANGES MADE BY CUSTOMERS IN ORDERS PLACED WITH PRODUCERS

(a) This interpretation deals with the procedure to be followed when a customer, having placed an authorized controlled material order with a producer, wishes to make changes in that order.

(b) The general rule is that any change in a customer's order constitutes a cancellation of the earlier order and must be considered as a new order received on the date of the change, if (but only if) the change necessitates alteration of the producers' production schedule to a point which would interfere with production. For example:

(1) The mere substitution of one allotment number for another which does not require alteration of the producer's schedule is not considered to constitute the placing of a new order. The customer must, of course, have an allotment identified by the substituted allotment number to support the change.

(2) A change in shipping destination does not constitute the placing of a new order.

(3) An increase in the total amount ordered constitutes the placing of a new order to the extent of the increase.

(4) An advancement or deferment of delivery, when made by the customer, will constitute entry of a new order.

(5) A reduction in the total amount ordered will presumably not require a change in the producer's schedule and will not constitute a new order. Of course, if the quantity is reduced below a minimum mill quantity, the producer may reject the order and remove it from his schedule, as provided in paragraph (t) (2) (i) of CMP Regulation No. 1, though he must not discriminate between customers in so doing.

(6) When the customer directs the producer to hold or suspend production on an order, without specifying a new delivery date, the order will not be considered as on a producer's books for the purpose of determining his obligation to accept other orders. When the customer instructs the producer to reinstate a suspended order, it shall be considered a new order as of the date of such instruction.

(7) Where minor variations in size, shape, gauge, etc., are requested by the customer and can be arranged by the producer without interfering with his production, such changes do not constitute a new order.

(c) In the case of changes which constitute a new order under this interpretation, the acceptance or rejection of the new order and its place on the producer's schedule shall be governed by conditions existing at the time the changes are received.

(d) This interpretation, as amended, supersedes Interpretation 12 of CMP Regulation No. 1 and CMPL letter 414, which are hereby revoked. (Issued Jan. 10, 1944.)

INTERPRETATION 11—USE OF ALLOTMENTS TO REPLENISH INVENTORY

(a) An allotment may be used to replace in inventory controlled materials used to manufacture the product for which the allotment was made. This is specifically covered in paragraph (u) (1) (iii) of CMP Regulation No. 1 [§ 3175.1]. It is not necessary for a manufacturer to delay production until he receives delivery of controlled materials ordered on the basis of the allotment.

(b) A manufacturer of Class A products need not accept an order unless he receives an allotment of enough controlled materials for its manufacture even though he has enough in inventory to fill the order. However, if his inventory is excessive (more than a practicable working minimum or the limit specified in CMP Regulation No. 2) he must fill the order out of the excess. This follows from the fact that he must take inventories into account in applying for an allotment. (However, see Direction 27—Right To Specify Allotment Quarter).

(c) It is not necessary that the quarter for which an allotment is made and the quarter in which delivery of the Class A product is to be made be the same. The allotment may be for an earlier or a later quarter depending on when the manufacturer needs the allotment.

In illustration of the above, the X Company receives an order on July 1, 1943, calling for delivery of 100 transmission assemblies on September 1, 1943. Ten tons of carbon steel and two tons of alloy steel are required to fill the order. The X Company has a sufficient quantity of steel on hand to fill the order but it is, nevertheless, entitled to an allotment of ten tons of carbon steel and two tons of alloy steel from its customer, assuming its inventory is not more than a practicable working minimum or the limit specified in CMP Regulation No. 2. The X Company may fill the order from stock on hand and obtain a fourth quarter allotment which it may use to replenish its inventory. If, in the above case, the X Company did not have controlled materials on hand to fill the order it would not be able to accept the order for delivery on September 1, 1943. If the date for delivery of the Class A products were changed to February 1, 1944, the allotment quarter would precede the quarter in which delivery of the product would be made. (Issued July 14, 1943.)

INTERPRETATION 12—REDUCTION OF QUANTITY ORDERED DOES NOT CONSTITUTE PLACING OF NEW ORDER

INTERPRETATION 13—ALLOTMENT PROCEDURE DETERMINES CLASSIFICATION OF PRODUCT IN CERTAIN CASES

(a) When the B product allotment procedure is followed in making allotments for the manufacture of a Class A product, all of the provisions of CMP regulations governing B products apply. A good example of this is Class A repair parts which are handled on the B product basis. Under paragraph (p) of CMP-1 (§ 3175.1), an order for a Class A product, once accepted, cannot be displaced by an order received at a later time even though the later order bears a higher preference rating. However, if the product is a Class A repair part which is handled on a Class B basis, this provision does not apply. Paragraph (g) (3) provides that no consumer may make an allotment for the production of Class B products. In the case of a Class A repair part which is handled on a Class B basis, this provision does apply.

(b) On the other hand, when the A product allotment procedure is followed for making allotments for the manufacture of a Class B product, all of the provisions of CMP regulations governing A products apply. In such a case, the provision of paragraph (p) mentioned above does apply, and the provision of paragraph (g) (3) does not apply. (Issued Aug. 16, 1943.)

INTERPRETATION 14—USE OF QUARTERLY IDENTIFICATION

(a) It is not necessary to show the quarterly identification in rating orders for B components or other production materials, other than controlled materials. For example, "Preference rating AA-1, Allotment number W-1" is sufficient. Where an A product is ordered requiring an allotment, the quarterly identification must, of course, be shown.

(b) The quarterly identification, showing the quarter for which an allotment is valid, must be shown on all authorized controlled material orders, except as described in paragraph (c) below, and on all allotments, immediately following the abbreviated allotment number—for example, W-1-3Q43. The abbreviated allotment number is the same thing as the major program number, that is, the Claimant Agency symbol followed by the first digit of the program number. In the case of an allotment to a prime consumer designated W-1234-567, the abbreviated allotment number is W-1. The quarterly identification is not a part of the allotment number.

(c) It is not necessary to show any quarterly identification on orders for controlled materials where they are being bought under a blanket symbol (such as the MRO symbol assigned by CMP Regulation No. 5) where the use of the symbol is not limited to any particular quarter. This is also true in the case of orders bearing the SO symbol. (Issued Aug. 23, 1943.)

INTERPRETATION 15—CONFLICT IN PRODUCTION SCHEDULES OF CLASS A CIVILIAN TYPE END PRODUCTS

(a) Paragraph (q) of CMP Regulation No. 1 provides that where a manufacturer discovers a conflict between accepted production schedules received from different persons, he should report the matter to the appropriate Industry Division (or Claimant Agency under certain circumstances) for instructions.

(b) Under the provisions of this paragraph, a manufacturer of a Class A Civilian Type End Product who has received allotments and an authorized production schedule from various Claimant Agencies and from an Industry Division of the War Production Board, and who discovers, because of labor shortage, lack of capacity, delays in delivery of material, or other causes, that he is unable to meet all authorized production schedules, should report the details of this conflict to the appropriate Industry Division so it can furnish directions. (Issued Aug. 28, 1943.)

INTERPRETATION 16—FURNISHING MATERIALS TO SUBCONTRACTORS

(a) Instead of making an allotment of controlled material to a manufacturer of Class A products, a manufacturer operating under the Controlled Materials Plan may use any of the following alternatives with the consent of his supplier:

(1) He may sell the material to his supplier from his own inventory.

(2) He may furnish the material to his supplier on toll or processing agreement, retaining title in himself.

(3) He may place an authorized controlled material order for delivery to himself and trans-ship the material to his supplier, either by sale or under toll or processing agreement.

(4) He may place an authorized controlled material order for delivery direct to the supplier.

(b) In each of the above cases, the customer does not make any allotment, and the supplier does not have to keep any allotment records. The supplier must, however, keep sufficiently accurate records to show that he is using the material for the purpose for which it was received. The customer furnishing the material includes it in his own requirements in the same way as if he were going to allot it, and he may not furnish it to his supplier except under conditions where he could make an allotment under CMP Regulation No. 1.

(c) The making of allotments by customers to suppliers of Class B products is forbidden by paragraph (g) of CMP Regulation 1, since these allotments are made directly to the Class B producers by the War Production Board and duplicating allotments would make inaccurate the Board's figures as to requirements and supply. For the same reason, a customer may not furnish any controlled material to the producer of a Class B products in any of the ways mentioned in paragraph (a) above without getting special permission from the War Production Board. (Issued Sept. 11, 1943.)

INTERPRETATION 17—COPPER FLAKE POWDER

NOTE: Deleted Feb. 2, 1944. Obsolete.

INTERPRETATION 18—ANALYSIS OF ORDERS BY CLAIMANT AGENCY SYMBOLS—SECTION A OF FORM CMP-4B

(a) A person applying for an allotment on FORM CMP-4B is required to show in Section A of the form an analysis of his orders or shipments by Claimant Agency symbols. The applicant must analyze his orders on the basis of the Claimant Agency symbols appearing on his customers' orders. Where no Claimant Agency symbol appears on a customer's order, the order must be reported under "unidentified".

(b) An applicant must not, in any case, attempt to trace the ultimate end-use of his product for the purpose of filling out Section A of Form CMP-4B. For example, if he receives an order with a preference rating bearing the symbol "B-1", he should report this under the symbol "B" even if he knows that that particular order is for a component of a product that eventually will be sold to the Navy. Or, if he receives an order with a preference rating but no Claimant Agency symbol, he should report this under "unidentified", even if he knows that that particular order is for a component of a product that eventually will be sold to the Navy.

(c) A person who receives a rated order must accept and fill it in accordance with Priorities Regulation No. 1 whether it is identified by a Claimant Agency symbol or not. He does not have the right to assume that his customer is required to show a symbol on his order since in many cases it is not necessary to show a Claimant Agency symbol in applying or extending a rating. There is no reason, however, why a person should not inform his customers of the provisions of paragraph (f) of CMP Regulation No. 3 (see Interpretation No. 3 to CMP Regulation No. 3) and paragraph (s) of CMP Regulation No. 6 which require the compulsory use of Claimant Agency symbols for purposes of identification on certain rated orders. (Issued Sept. 14, 1943.)

INTERPRETATION 19—PROPER ALLOTMENT NUMBER MUST BE USED IN IDENTIFYING ORDERS

(a) A manufacturer of a Class B product, in ordering production materials (whether controlled materials, Class A or B products, or other materials and products) needed to make the Class B product, must not use the allotment number appearing on orders placed with him by his customers. This is true because a person may use only the allotment number which appears on the allotment made to him with his authorized production schedule. Thus a manufacturer of a Class B product, such as electric motor controls, receives an allotment of controlled material and a preference rating from the War Production Board which, in the case of electric motor controls, will be identified by the allotment number J-9. When he orders the production material he needs to make electric motor controls, he will use the symbol J-9 on his orders. Orders for electric motor controls from his customers will bear such allotment symbols as B-4, W-3, G-6, U-1, etc. The electric motor control manufacturer may not use these symbols on his own orders for production materials for the manufacture of electric motor controls.

(b) On the other hand, a manufacturer of a Class A product receives his allotments from his customers and therefore uses the allotment numbers appearing on his customers' orders when he orders materials needed to make the Class A product. Thus, a manufacturer of a Class A product who receives an order from a customer and an allotment identified by the allotment number O-6 will use the allotment number O-6 in placing his orders for production materials needed to fill the order.

(c) An allotment number or symbol alone never constitutes an allotment of controlled materials. In making an allotment a consumer must specify the controlled material and the exact quantity allotted. Attention is called to the fact that under paragraph (f) of CMP Regulation No. 1, allotments of controlled material must be made only in the form and shape in which they are allotted to the consumer. (Issued Oct. 8, 1943.)

INTERPRETATION 20—PROCURING CLAIMANT AGENCIES

(a) The "procuring" Claimant Agencies under the Controlled Materials Plan are:

(1) War Department (including Ordnance).
(2) Navy Department.
(3) Maritime Commission.
(4) Aircraft Resources Control Office.
(5) Foreign Economic Administration.

(b) The other Claimant Agencies are sometimes referred to as "non-procuring" Claimant Agencies. (Issued Oct. 26, 1943.)

INTERPRETATION 21—TEMPORARY LOANS

(a) Paragraph (u) of CMP Regulation No. 1 (§ 3175.1), which places restrictions on the use of controlled materials and Class A products obtained pursuant to an allotment, does not forbid a short term "loan" of controlled materials or Class A products to another manufacturer for his use in filling an authorized production schedule. Whenever a loan is made, the consumer must make certain that the material loaned will be returned to him when he needs it. A loan for more than three months would generally be considered equivalent to a transfer of the materials and therefore unauthorized except as provided in paragraph (u). A consumer must never make such a loan when lending the material would prevent fulfillment of the consumer's authorized production schedule.

(b) A consumer borrowing controlled materials or Class A products does not have to reduce his allotment account under paragraph (v) of the regulation, relating to adjustments on account of controlled materials or Class A products obtained without use of allotments, since the loan is made on a temporary basis and he must be in a position to use his allotment to return, in kind, the material borrowed.

(c) Full records of the loan transaction must be kept by both persons lending and persons borrowing. (Issued Nov. 3, 1943.)

INTERPRETATION 22—REJECTION OF ORDERS

(a) Paragraph (t) (3) of CMP Regulation No. 1 [§ 3175.1] requires a controlled materials producer to reject any order other than an authorized controlled material order, a sample order or an order which he is required or authorized to fill by the War Production Board. This provision does not require a producer to refuse to receive a piece of paper on which an order is written. It does require the producer to refuse to fill an order or schedule it unless it is an order which he is specifically authorized to fill. The order must be specifically rejected and the producer may either return the paper on which the order is written or file it, as he sees fit. In any case he must let his customer know that he cannot schedule the order and that his customer should not expect delivery against it.

(b) Customers who place with a producer orders which the latter is prohibited from filling cause an unnecessary increase in the volume of paper work. It is therefore suggested that purchasers should refrain from placing unauthorized orders, even if they intend to validate the orders later.

(c) While the placing of a delivery order before an allotment is received is discouraged, it is recognized that in certain cases customers will find it necessary to place orders before they have received their allotments. This may happen, for example, in the case of long-term contracts extending beyond the period for which advance allotments have been made. In such a case, a delivery order may be converted into an authorized controlled material order either by furnishing a copy of the order conforming to the requirements of paragraph (s) of the regulation or by furnishing, in writing, the requisite information clearly identifying the order and bearing the certification required by subparagraph (3) of paragraph (s). Such an order must be treated as an authorized controlled material order as of the date on which the necessary information and certificate (including the allotment number) are received by the producer. (Issued Nov. 10, 1943.)

INTERPRETATION 23

Definition of steel. The word "steel" as used in CMP regulations has the same meaning as "steel" as defined in Order M-21, as amended from time to time, except that it includes only those forms and shapes listed in Schedule I of CMP Regulation No. 1. [Issued Aug. 4, 1944.]

INTERPRETATION 24

RECORDS OF EXPORTERS

Paragraph (y) (3) of CMP Regulation No. 1 requires each prime consumer to retain for two years all documents on which he relies as entitling him to make or receive an allotment or to deliver or accept delivery of controlled materials or Class A products. The Foreign Economic Administration and its predecessors, the Board of Economic Warfare and the Office of Economic Warfare, have since the institution of the Controlled Materials Plan made allotments of controlled materials to exporters for export by endorsing appropriate legends upon export licenses. The original of every export license, however, is required by other Government regulations to be surrendered to export officials at the time of shipment. Consequently, persons who receive their assignments and preference ratings on export licenses are not in a position to retain the original of the export license, and thus are not required to do so by paragraph (y) (3) except only in those cases where other Government regulations do not require the surrender to the Government of the documents referred to. [Issued April 18, 1944.]

INTERPRETATION 25

ALLOTMENT SYMBOLS THAT DO NOT REQUIRE QUARTERLY IDENTIFICATION

Paragraph (s) of CMP Regulation No. 1 explains that in placing an authorized controlled material order the quarterly identification (which is explained in paragraph (c) (6) (i)), must be added. In certain cases, where allotments are not made, a consumer is entitled to place an authorized controlled material order without using the quarterly identification. However, in such a case, the order must still bear the requested delivery date. A list of the symbols which can be used to place an authorized controlled material order without the quarterly identification, the purpose for which such symbols are used, and the related order follows:

PART 3294—IRON AND STEEL PRODUCTION

[General Preference Order M-21-b-2, Direction 4]

STEEL PRODUCTS FOR DISASTER RELIEF

This following direction is issued pursuant to General Preference Order M-21-b-2.

(a) What this direction does. The purpose of this direction is to set forth the procedure under the Controlled Materials Plan which has been worked out by the War Production Board with the American Red Cross to provide steel products for local relief from disasters, such as floods, tornadoes, etc., which cause considerable damage to property.

(b) Action to be taken by the War Production Board and the American Red Cross. The War Production Board each quarter, through the Office of Civilian Requirements, will set aside a tonnage of steel to meet disaster relief requirements. In the event of a disaster, the American Red Cross will estimate the amount of steel products not available locally which are needed to provide relief for the community. The American Red Cross will then apply to the Office of Civilian Requirements of the War Production Board for an allotment of steel sufficient to provide the necessary relief. If the appeal is granted, the War Production Board will issue an allotment to the American Red Cross bearing the CMP symbol V-2 and a quarterly identification. The American Red Cross will then divide its allotment among distributors serving the affected area in proportion to the respective needs of each.

(c) Action to be taken by a steel distributor. Each steel distributor receiving a portion of this allotment should immediately place orders for the steel products he needs for disaster relief with producers or other distributors for shipment to his stock bearing the certification authorized by CMP Regulation No. 7 and, in addition, the following:

CMP Allotment No. V-2 (and quarterly identification) For Disaster Relief.

Any steel products ordered pursuant to such an allotment may be ordered by the distributor for shipment to his stock, notwithstanding the requirements of paragraph (c) in each of General Preference Orders M-21-b-1 and M-21-b-2. When the steel for disaster relief has been received by a distributor, it must be sold by him to consumers in accordance with the provisions of CMP Regulation No. 4, or to other distributors as directed by the American Red Cross. The sales of any material which was obtained by a distributor by use of the V-2 allotment, however, may not thereafter be used by him to support a stock replacement order on a producer or another distributor.

(d) Treatment of a distributor's disaster relief orders by a supplier. A producer who receives an order for steel products from a distributor certified in the manner outlined in paragraph (c) must accept such an order for the earliest possible delivery by deferring deliveries on distributor's regular stock replacement orders to the extent necessary. Such an order, however, must not delay deliveries on other authorized controlled material orders. A distributor who receives an order for steel products from another distributor certified in the manner outlined in paragraph (c) must accept such an order and fill it immediately from his stock if the material is available, or he must arrange for direct shipment of the order from a producer in the manner prescribed by paragraph (d) of Orders M–21–b–1 or M–21–b–2.

Issued this 22d day of September 1944.

By J. JOSEPH WHELAN,
Recording Secretary.

PART 3270—CONTAINERS

[Conservation Order M–81, as Amended Sept. 22, 1944]

CANS

§ 3270.31 Conservation Order M–81—(a) Prohibitions on purchase, acceptance and use of cans. No person shall purchase, accept delivery of or use any can for any other purpose than for packing a product listed in a schedule attached to this order.

(b) Restrictions on purchase, acceptance and use of cans. No person shall, during any calendar year (or any seasonal year when packing quota is based on a seasonal year in the schedules), purchase, accept delivery of or use for packing any product which is listed in a schedule attached to this order, more cans than his packing quota for that product. However, jobbers or retailers may obtain and sell cans in conformity with the provisions of this order.

(c) Restrictions on cans for War Shipping Administration. No person shall sell or deliver any product packed in cans for use on vessels under the direction of the War Shipping Administration unless authorization to acquire the cans has been obtained on Form WPB 646 (formerly PD–300).

(d) Restrictions on cans made of waste. Attention is called to the fact that cans made of waste are covered by the provisions of this order. Cans made of waste, as defined in this order, may only be used as follows:

1. For packing any product for which tinplate, terneplate or blackplate is specified as can materials in this order. Usage of such cans by a packer must be charged to his quota for the product.

2. As permitted in paragraph (k) (4) of this order.

3. Pursuant to the grant of an appeal.

(e) Restrictions on can material and sizes. No person shall purchase, accept delivery of or use for packing any listed product, cans made of any kind of plate or of any size except those permitted for that product in the schedules of this order. He may, however, use a can larger than the largest permitted size for packing a listed product. Wherever the can size is specified by weight, the weight referred to shall be net weight of the contents of the can.

When tinplate is specified for the manufacture of cans for packing a particular product, the coating indicated represents the maximum weight of tin coating per single base box. The term "0.50 tinplate" or "0.75 tinplate" wherever used in this order includes menders arising in the production of such tinplate which have been hot-dipped with a maximum tin coating of 1.25 pounds per base box, and hot-dipped waste-waste. When SCMT is specified, special coated manufacturers' terneplate is referred to.

(f) Prohibition against repacking. No product packed in a can shall be repacked for sale in a can or any other container by the same or different person in the same or different form except to the extent specifically permitted in the schedules attached to this order or pursuant to Order L–103–b.

(g) Prohibition against packing dried or frozen fruits or vegetables. No dried or frozen fruits or vegetables shall be packed in a can except to the extent specifically permitted in the schedules attached to this order.

(h) Restrictions on food packing. The foods listed in Schedules I and II are limited to those which are intended and suitable for human consumption. Canning of foods for animals and pets is not permitted.

Restrictions on Manufacture, Sale and Delivery

(i) General restriction. No person shall manufacture, sell or deliver any cans which he knows, or has reason to believe, will be accepted or used in violation of any prohibition or restriction of this order.

(j) Certificate. No person shall manufacture, sell or deliver any cans except under a purchase order or contract validated by a delivery to him of a purchaser's certificate, signed manually by the purchaser as provided in Priorities Regulation No. 7. This certificate shall be in substantially the form attached hereto as Exhibit A. This certificate, once filed by a purchaser with a supplier, covers all future deliveries to him from that supplier. No certificate shall be required from a retailer who buys for resale, or from persons purchasing from retailers.

(j–1) (1) Sales to jobbers. During any calendar year no manufacturer shall sell or deliver more flaring and straight-sided cans, (measured by area of plate used) made to hold approximately 50 lbs. of lard or shortening, to jobbers than he delivered to jobbers during 1941.

(2) Sales by jobbers. No jobber shall knowingly sell or deliver any cans, as defined in this order, to be used as trash cans, garbage cans or for utility purposes.

Exceptions

(k) Exceptions to restrictions on purchase, acceptance or use. The restrictions imposed by this order shall not apply to the purchase, acceptance of delivery or use of the following cans:

(1) Cans (other than for samples distributed for the purpose of advertising or promoting the sale of a product) for packing any product which is not to be sold in the same or different form. The exception granted by this subparagraph (1) shall not apply to (i) the can size and material restrictions when the cans are purchased by federal or state institutions to be packed for their own consumption and (ii) the can material for lard or shortening cans. Such cans may only be made of blackplate.

(2) [Deleted Sept. 22, 1944.]

(3) Fibre cans with ends made of sheets recovered from used cans. Permission to accept delivery of used cans or sheets recovered from used cans for this purpose must be obtained under Conservation Order M–325.

(4) Fibre cans with ends made of waste or blackplate rejects.

(5) Cans for packing any products not listed in Schedules I or II attached to this order when such cans are to be delivered either (a) packed or empty to the Army, Navy, Marine Corps, Maritime Commission or War Shipping Administration of the United States (including persons operating vessels for such Commission or Administration for use thereon), pursuant to a letter of intent approved by or a purchase order or contract negotiated for or with any of these agencies, or (b) to other persons pursuant to authorization by the Maritime Commission under Form WPB 646 (formerly PD–300).

(6) Cans made of aluminum.

(l) Inventory exceptions—(1) Schedules I and II. The restrictions concerning can materials and sizes contained in paragraph (e) shall not apply to cans made of tinplate which was either in process at the tin mill, in the inventory of the tin mill for the account of the manufacturer, or in the inventory of the can manufacturer, on or before January 3, 1944, for packing products listed in Schedules I or II.

(2) Schedule III. The restrictions concerning can materials and sizes contained in paragraph (e) shall not apply to cans made of terneplate or blackplate which was either in process at the tin mill, in the inventory of the tin mill for the account of the manufacturer, or in the inventory of the can manufacturer, on or before January 3, 1944 for packing products listed in Schedule III.

(3) Change of specifications. Whenever the size and can material specifications for a product are changed by amendment, a can manufacturer must continue to manufacture, sell and deliver cans for that product in accordance with the superseded specifications (before making any cans conforming to the new specifications) as long as there is available to him plate made for that product which was in process at the tin mill, in the inventory of the tin mill for his account, or in his inventory, on the date of the change. Packers of that product must accept and use (within quota) such cans for packing that product.

(m) Small user. Nothing in this order shall prohibit any person, who, during the calendar year 1942, used cans requiring for their manufacture less than 25 base boxes from purchasing, accepting delivery of, or using during any subsequent calendar year without restriction an aggregate of cans requiring for their manufacture not more than 25 base boxes. However, if he uses the cans to pack a product listed in the schedules of this order, he must conform to the provisions of Paragraph (e) relative to sizes and can material.
